4-Point Expansion

Vote Saturday on School Plans

Voters in Arlington Heights School District 25 will decide Saturday on the board of education's four-point school expansion proposal at a cost of $1,330,000.

The four points are:

1—Building at new junior high school on a site at Thomas Street and State Road at a cost of $875,000.

2—Building a new elementary school at Dunton Avenue and Cypress Street in the south part of the district at a cost of $275,000.

3—Remodeling Wilson School and providing site improvements, including better access, at a cost of $50,000.

4—Buying a 20-acre site for a future fourth junior high school in the far north part of the district at a cost of $130,000.

The polls will be open Saturday from 12 noon to 7 p.m. at the following schools: Dryden, North, Ridge, Wilson, Kensington, Park, Westgate, and Windsor.

Persons do not have to register to vote in school elections.

The board of education has predicted that the proposed bond issue would cost about $9 a year to a home owner whose property was assessed at $10,000, assuming there is no increase in assessed valuation.

However, the board points out that total assessed valuation increased more than $8 million dollars last year, and such increases can be expected to continue, lowering the cost of the bond issue to the individual.

The district already owns the sites for Thomas Junior High and Dunton Schools.

In each case, the first phase of the buildings is proposed.

The proposed Thomas building would house 540 students in the first phase, and could be expanded for 900 students.

The proposed Dunton school would have seven rooms, but could be expanded to either 12 or 18 classrooms, if the need came.

The school board has been guided in its planning by reports of Northwestern University educators. The board points out that Northwestern predictions of school needs have been accurate in the past.

OK STOP SIGNS POLICY

Editor's Column

STUART R. PADDOCK

We hobnobbed a bit with society royalty at the opening of the Chicago Lyric Opera season last Friday. Along with a whole lot of other commoners, we were interested sightseers as the exquisitely-attired women and their husbands with silk hats, opera capes, white ties and tails, entered the lobby of the Civic Opera House.

We noted they courted the attention of the society reporters and cameramen. The ladies were all smiles but to us the men appeared to be bored by the whole showing. Perhaps they were thinking about the high price they had paid to occupy their boxes on opening night.

Armed with opera glasses, we took to the elevators to sit with those who are just lovers of opera and did not have the $40-$75 charged for choice seats on opening night.

Especially important to residents of Palatine and Schaumburg Townships is the High School District 211 bond issue election Saturday. The young people here today are entitled to the kind of education that will insure able, honest office holders of tomorrow.

As the years progress, the greater part of that bond issue will be paid by them. Let us give them access to the intelligent training that will enable them to direct the destinies of the future.

It may be hard on our pocketbooks to build those school buildings but they must be built. As intelligent people we must not shirk our duties to our school children of today. Our young people are depending upon us to vote right.

John Reddy, news editor of the Palatine Enterprise, came home from Chicago last Thursday with a substantial check and considerable professional honor—all because his wife recognized the worth of her husband's work!

She had insisted that John enter his recent series of articles, "Transurbia," in a national contest for outstanding [illegible] achievement in the field of transportation. Editor [illegible] won the weekly newspaper category; representatives of the Plainfield, N. J., Courier-News and Saturday Evening Post won the daily and magazine classes.

The cash award received by each was larger than that given to many Pulitzer Prize winners. The prize also included $500 scholarships to be awarded by the winners. Reddy is sending his to the University of Illinois.

We were proud of John's series when it appeared in Paddock Publications earlier this year—and we're even prouder that others agree with our estimate of his effort.

The new village of Inverness is faced with its first problem, and it is a real one. The office of County Clerk Edward Barrett says that the extension of a village tax for this year would upset its tax department procedures. Inverness turns to the state statute which says that the second Tuesday is the zero-hour for acceptance of tax levies by municipalities and school boards.

Mandamus proceedings have been started. Will the judges who will hear the case be influenced by the claim of the county clerk that its acceptance will interfere with efficient and economical operation of his office?

If the county clerk appeals an adverse decision to him, Inverness knows it may be too late for an extension of 1963 taxes, which the village needs if it provides municipal services the coming year.

We hear a lot of talk about the need of our municipalities for industry. A special section of this week's edition shows what the Village of Elk Grove is doing about it. We cannot document how the many new industries were secured, but it's proof of what good organization can mean.

Board Debates Special Study

Arlington Heights now has a policy on stop signs, although not all members of the village board agree that it is the right one.

Trustees approved Monday a report by a three-member committee on the stop sign subject, with Trustee William E. Moore voting "No."

Village President John G. Woods also spoke against the proposed policy, causing Trustee Eugene Schlickman to say that under Roberts' rules of order Woods should designate a president pro tem and then join the debate from a trustee's chair.

THE POLICY will take effect slowly, because the first stage is the accumulation of data on traffic volume, accidents, and other criteria established by the policy. This task has been assigned to the village engineering department.

Presumably, after data is accumulated on intersections, stop signs will either be removed or be added. The board will get a report in six months.

The committee report stated that there are too many stop signs.

"Too often, the demands of citizens have caused the installation of stop signs in an attempt to reduce traffic speeds."

THIS SENTENCE was the one that particularly aroused the opposition of President Woods and Trustee Moore.

"I know that a stop sign slows me down," Woods declared. "We don't have enough money to hire police to enforce the speed laws on every street."

Trustee Moore, who reported that his child had been hit by an automobile, said, "I am not in sympathy with the motorist who is inconvenienced by having to stop. If stop signs slow down some of these 'nuts,' I am in favor of them."

Trustee Schlickman, who was on the committee together with Trustees Samuel Witt and Justin A. Nelson, said, "The committee accepts the idea of stop signs in residential neighborhoods."

Trustee William E. Sauer objected to the discussion taking a form which would put a trustee who wanted to reduce the number of signs as "favoring death and destruction."

SAUER SAID he thought the village had too many stop signs, which are "ineffectual when used to that extent" and are "failing to accomplish what they are trying to do."

The report said that the village has stop signs at 240 intersections, with 111 of them one-way stops, 84 two-way stops, 3 three-way stops, 41 four-way stops, and 1 six-way stop.

"Traffic flow is impeded and the effectiveness of justified stops may be hampered by many stops which are not justified."

THE REPORT relied heavily on the experience of the Village of Skokie. Schlickman gave three reasons for this: Skokie is one of the few municipalities which have criteria for installing stop signs; the village manager, Bernard L. Marsh, is a traffic specialist, and Skokie also has a full-time traffic engineer.

Among other things, the report suggested, that "yield" signs could replace some stop signs, and that four-way stops should be used sparingly.

THIS MAP PINPOINTS the location of stop signs in Arlington Heights. Two hundred and forty intersections have one or more stop signs, and one has six. Lt. Ray Jahnke, head of the police traffic detail, is spotting one of the four pins at Euclid Street and Dryden Avenue.

A Herald Editorial

Good Schools Earn Votes

The Herald recommends a "Yes" vote in Saturday's bond referendum for elementary schools.

A majority of Arlington Heights voters in past referendums have decided for reasonably small class sizes, acquisition of sites at economical prices in advance of urgent need, and for a school system equal to the best in comparable suburban communities.

As a result, Arlington Heights has acquired a reputation for good schools.

The board of education has made a good factual case for each of the four items included in Saturday's vote.

In terms of dollars and cents, the load to the individual taxpayer will not be great, because the district in the past has already gone to the 5 per cent limit on bonded debt which is allowed.

Consequently, the new proposals necessarily follow increases in assessed valuation in the district and retirement of old bonds.

Also, in terms of dollars and cents, the reputation of Arlington Heights schools adds to property values. That good reputation should be maintained, because it is worth a lot — and not just in terms of money. That is why a "Yes" vote is recommended.

Szabo to Hospital; His Wife Collapses

Laslo Szabo, 29, of 726 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights, who was charged with battery and rape by two different women, has agreed to enter a mental hospital.

In view of this, the state's attorney has agreed to strike the complaints against him, provided that they will be reinstated if Szabo leaves the hospital.

The decisions were reached Wednesday morning in the courtroom of Police Magistrate Robert C. Buckley.

AFTER THE verdict and after Szabo was led from the courtroom, Judge Buckley asked Mrs. Szabo to come to the bench so that he could explain the actions.

On her way to the bench, Mrs. Szabo collapsed and fell to the floor, repeating, "I want to see my husband. I want to see my husband."

She was carried from the courtroom by policemen, and was given a chance to see her husband before he was taken from the building.

No Leaf Fires

Burning leaves on streets and sidewalks is unlawful, Arlington Heights police reminded residents this week. The fires may damage the pavement, they explained.

'Wiener Wagon'

The "Wiener Wagon" of Oscar Mayer Co. will visit Lamar's Foods, 403 S. State Road, at 10 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 20. "Little Oscar" of television fame will give out wiener whistles and entertain the children.

Deadline Saturday

Fun, Prizes Planned For Local Homemaker

With the deadline for entering the Suburban Homemaker of the Year contest only three days away, the list of fun and prizes for the Arlington Heights winner grows longer and more exciting each day.

Not only will some local woman win the honor of being named the Suburban Homemaker from Arlington Heights, but she will also receive a $100 savings bond from Paddock Publications, a trophy and certificate from the Suburban Press Foundation, Inc. and gifts from seven local merchants.

SHE WILL receive a $50 gift certificate from Arlington Furniture; a $5 gift certificate from the Emerald Shop; a gift of perfume from Harris Pharmacy; a $10 gift certificate from Charles Klehm & Son Nursery; a clock radio from Landwehr's TV; a $25 gift certificate from Schneller Furniture and a copy of the new Better Homes and Garden Book "Money Management for Your Family." She will also receive a copy of "The Master Chef's Outdoor Grill Cookbook" from Paddock Publications.

These gifts and the silver trophy will be presented to the Arlington Heights winner and the winners in other Paddock Publications areas Wednesday Oct. 31 at a local award ceremony to be held in the YMCA.

THEN, ON Thursday, Nov. 15 the winner, along with other local and national winners will be guests at the local award ceremony and luncheon in the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel. At this time one woman will be chosen to represent the nation as the National Suburban Homemaker of the Year and to receive the award from Peggy Wood, noted actress of stage and TV fame.

The honor of being named the national winner will also carry with it the reward of $5,000 in cash.

THAT EVENING, the Arlington Heights winner and her husband will have a night on the town. They will attend a dinner-theater party which will include the performance of "Mary, Mary" and overnight accommodations at the Blackstone.

Complete details of the award ceremony and plans for the evening are in today's issue of The Herald in The Suburban Living, Especially for Women, section.

Entries are coming in from every section of the village. Some have been sent in by young children, husbands, friends, neighbors and groups of friends and neighbors.

ENTRY BLANKS are to be accompanied by a list of facts about the contestant. The facts need not be written in any particular style, but should include answers to some of the questions on the entry blank.

Entry blanks can be obtained at any of the stores of participating merchants. They must be mailed by midnight, Saturday, Oct. 20.

Village Postpones Rezoning Decision

The Arlington Heights Village Board is going to take a second look before it rezones the northeast corner of Euclid Street and Dunton Avenue from single-family to two-family use.

The decision came Monday when the rezoning ordinance which Village Atty. Jack Siegel had been instructed to prepare came up for consideration.

TRUSTEE NORVAL Stephens, who had objected Oct. 1 to the rezoning, asked that further consideration be given, and the board agreed, although Trustee William J. Moore said he did not Stephens and Trustee William E. Sauer were named as a committee to examine the question. believe new light would be shed on the situation.

Stephens said the introduction of multi-family zoning north of Euclid Avenue should be the subject of a comprehensive look, instead of a random action to rezone a single lot.

To Discuss Teen Center

Plans for a teen center project will be discussed at a meeting at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Building.

The project, which is the brainchild of the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club, has been discussed by the newly organized Arlington Heights Community Council, and endorsed by the council.

Mrs. Donald Carrara, youth program chairman of the Junior Woman's Club, has invited all organizations and interested individuals to attend, saying that the project "will require the experience, cooperation and assistance of every organization in the community."

Arlington Heights Man

Survives Oxford Riot

by BOB CUMMINS

An Arlington Heights man who is a United States deputy marshal came back from Oxford, Miss., last week with his gas mask canister perforated with buckshot.

He is Frank Lude, 1005 N. Race Ave.

Lude is one of 220 marshals specially trained to deal with riots and mobs. All were sent to the University of Mississippi during the trouble over admission of Negro student James Meredith.

LUDE AND HIS mates went to Millington Naval Air Base near Memphis as the storm clouds gathered over the Ole Miss campus.

On the critical Sunday, they moved into Oxford, to the accompaniment of jeers and curses. ("Some of the words I never heard before," Lude reported.)

The marshals, hoping things would blow over, were stationed near the Lyceum Building, one of the main campus structures.

The crowd gathered in the big park opposite, noisy and insulting, and soon outnumbered the marshals, 2,500 to 700.

"When some Army trucks pulled up in front of us," Lude said, "kids started to throw burning newspapers to set fire to the tarps of the trucks. One of them cut the valve stems of the tires. They discharged a fire extinguisher on the driver. They threw bottles and bricks.

Arlington Merchants Help To Celebrate Homecoming

Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce members are helping the high school to celebrate its annual Homecoming.

To launch the big weekend, the students are celebrating Color Day today (Thursday). The merchants are displaying American flags, and marking special sales items with red and white tags, the school colors.

Merchants are also providing their customers with red and white Cardinal pennants and red and white megaphones, bearing the exhortation "Go Cards Go!"

ANY PENNANTS and megaphones not distributed by Friday evening will be taken to the football field and given to fans attending the homecoming game with Glenbard West.

A grand climax to the merchants' Homecoming activities will be a twist contest from 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday on Vail between Dunton and Davis.

The Vibratones band will play, and Delores Eiler, Arlington Heights dance instructor, and June Rold, dance teacher in Des Plaines, will be the judges.

Merchandise certificates will be given as prizes in each of three age groups.

MERCHANTS taking part in the Homecoming activities are: A & B Shoes, 5 E. Campbell; Anderson's Dream Age Fashions, 25 W. Davis; Arlington Auto Wash, Euclid at Northwest Highway; Arlington Florist, 200 N. Dunton; Arlington Furniture, 211 S. State Road; Ben Franklin Store, 9 W. Campbell; Bowen Hardware, 121 E. Davis.

Also, Community Camera, 114 N. Evergreen; Cunningham-Reilly, 45 S. Dunton; Emerald Shop, 10 N. Dunton; Gieseke's Store, 105 E. Davis; Harris Pharmacy, 20 S. Dunton; Landwehr TV, 218 N. Dunton; Lorraine-Anne Shop, 18 W. Campbell.

Also, Mueller's Stationery, 13 E. Campbell; The Paint Spot, 11 W. Davis; Persin & Robbin, 24 S. Dunton; J. Svoboda Sons, 12 S. Dunton, and Todd's Shoes, 20 E. Northwest Hwy. (AF BASEBALL BALLOONS will decorate the Amvets Hall at 141 S. Milwaukee, Wheeling, when the Arlington Heights Little League holds its dance, beginning at 9 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20. The Little League sponsors both baseball and football. Blowing up two of the balloons are John Ewalt and Greg Harris, both Little Leaguers themselves. (AF

Approve Purchase

Aerial Ladder Truck Slated

An aerial ladder truck will be bought for the Arlington Heights fire department at a cost of $53,417, village trustees decided Monday.

Trustee Eugene Schlickman opposed the purchase, although he was not present at the meeting to vote. He stated his opinion in a memorandum read by Village President John G. Woods.

Fire Chief Harvey Carothers answered questions by trustees. Carothers said the aerial ladder truck would replace the hook-and-ladder truck, which is 25 years old.

CHIEF Carothers said the hook - and - ladder truck would be sold, probably to some fire department which is just beginning.

Trustee Schlickman, in his memo, had asked what evidence of need existed for the aerial ladder truck. He questioned the cost, and asked if each neighboring village could afford a piece of equipment that was infrequently used.

He implied that Northwest Suburban communities could jointly buy an aerial ladder truck.

Chief Carothers said Mount Prospect has such a truck, which can be sent to Arlington Heights under the mutual aid pact, providing there is not a fire at the same time in Mount Prospect.

CAROTHERS also said there are many buildings in Arlington Heights where an aerial ladder truck would be needed in case of fire, including Northwest Community Hospital, several business buildings in the downtown area, and the upper parts of several churches.

He added that acquisition of the truck was recommended by the Cook County Inspection Bureau, arm of the insurance companies, whose recommendations determine insurance rates.

"Glenview was saved recently by its aerial ladder truck, which put out a fire which might have destroyed the downtown business district," the chief added.

Award Contract For Street Work

The contract for surfacing Dryden Avenue between Euclid and Oakton, and a portion of Oakton Street, was awarded to Rock Road Construction Co. Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

The Rock Road bid of $8,793.75 was low among three. The other bids were $9,620 by Allied Asphalt Paving Co. and $10,804 by Arcole-Midwest Corp.

AF Alternate

Charles Vlcek, 832 N. Salem, Arlington Heights is second alternate for appointment to the Air Force Academy on the list of appointments to military academies announced last Friday by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

It's Homecoming Time at Arlington!

Arlington High School students this week were constructing floats and preparing for the annual Homecoming festivities this weekend.

Following the coronation of royalty Friday afternoon, the teen-agers will stir up some town enthusiasm with a parade scheduled to begin at 2:30 p.m.

A football double-header with Glenbard Friday night and a Homecoming dance Saturday night will climax the week's activities.

ARLINGTON Heights Chamber of Commerce and merchants are pitching in by providing red and white Cardinal pennants and megaphones, and sponsoring a twist contest Saturday afternoon.

Friday's parade will begin at the high school and travel along Euclid to Vail, south on Vail to Sigwalt, east on Sigwalt to Evergreen, north on Evergreen to Miner, west on Miner to Dunton, north on Dunton to Euclid, and west on Euclid to school.

Along with the floats, which will follow a "New Frontier" theme, the Queen and her court will be features of the parade.

CANDIDATES for the throne are Jean Cashion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cashion, 628 S. State; Laurel Grey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Grey, 817 N. Yale; Margo Hauff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hauff, 924 N. Highland; Joan Kastning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Kastning, 507 N. Pine; and Linda Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams, 901 N. Beverly.

King candidates are Dan Bedford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bedford, 1302 W. Sigwalt; Denny Fitz-Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fitz-Patrick, 901 S. Dunton; Charles Close, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Close, 534 S. Bristol; Fred Ball, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ball, 454 Banbury; and Ken Layden, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kendall Layden, 830 E. Fairview.

A PEP ASSEMBLY will follow Friday's parade, and the football action will begin with a frosh-soph clash at 6 p.m. on the Arlington field, followed by a varsity game.

Saturday night's dance is open to Arlington High School alumni as well as present students and their dates.

$9 Million Excess

County Tries to Curb Budget

Cook County Board President Seymour Simon, D-Chicago, warned his contemporaries Tuesday that they faced "the most difficult budget the board has ever got up."

His remarks followed a rejection of all preliminary 1963 county budget requests from 46 offices and departments by Charles R. Hodgman, deputy controller and budget director, because they exceeded anticipated revenue by almost $9 million.

Hodgman Monday requested department heads to submit requests no higher than their 1962 appropriations.

Simon said the two increased costs the board had to contend with were the increase in election expenses caused by the accelerated growth of the county and the paying of nurses for a full year instead of on a half-year basis.

THE COUNTY Hospital and the Cook County School of Nursing have asked for a combined increase of nearly $2,500,000.

Simon, however, said that the treasurer's office is reducing its number of employes. Additional savings of $11,000 a month will be secured, he said, by eliminating the Veterans Assistance Program, which duplicates the work of the Cook County Public Aid Commission, it is maintained.

Hodgman also outlined how difficult it would be to tailor 1963 requests to 1962 budget requirements. He noted that there will be 17 new Superior Court judges to provide for, in addition to a new 540-bed addition to Oak Forest Hospital, which opens next month, and for which $1,353,440 is asked to operate it.

The budget requests Hodgman rejected Monday amounted to $86,425,000. Revenue is anticipated to reach $81,176,000 in 1963.

LABOR UNIONS are also asking for about a five per cent wage increase for the county's 4,000 unionized employes, and are moving to raise pay for some 7,000 non-union employes. The proposals would hike the budget by $2,400,000.

Commissioner Charles F. Chaplin, R-Northbrook, asked Hodgman at the Tuesday board meeting if the county either didn't have to reject the increased budget or "ask for an increase in the tax rate from the state legislature?"

"We hope to lower the requests so we don't have to go to the legislature," Hodgman replied. The controller said that there were accounts now dormant eschewed from the balance of the 1962 budget.

The 1962 budget reached an all-time high of $84,542,000, and because this is an election year, the tax rate is 26 cents per $100 assessed valuation instead of the non-election year rate of 22 cents. While part of this money is earmarked for election costs, the county will still receive a windfall of approximately $4,350,000 for other 1962 purposes under the higher rate.

"THE ESCHEWED money is in the nature of a windfall, but this doesn't mean it should be spent," Simon declared. "This isn't a question of closing the door to revenue from possible other sources," he said in answer to Chaplin's question.

He also chided Chaplin for addressing his question to Hodgman as "a non-political figure."

"In serving as the president of the county board, I'm supposed to do a job for the people of this county. I realize we're approaching election time. But it's difficult to operate if you raise the inference of political motives involved."

Chaplin said he attempted to avoid political implications by asking his question of a civil servant like Hodgman.

Chaplin also asked if it was customary for incumbent candidates running for reelection to put in for budget requests for the coming year, and Hodgman replied that it was because money had to be obligated for the coming year. He added if a new office holder is elected, he will come in with the retiring incumbent and submit his views on budgetary matters. (B8

Children Entertained By Teens

The Talented Teens Club of Arlington Heights gave a performance Sunday afternoon at the Mt. St. Joseph Home for the Mentally Retarded Children in Lake Zurich.

The show, directed by Mrs. May, was done in costume and based on nursery rhyme characters.

THE JUNIOR Chamber of Commerce of Chicago is sponsoring 17 Halloween parties for the orphanages in Chicago and the Arlington Heights Talented Teens will perform for two of these homes on Oct. 27. The club members will also appear in Orland Park on Oct. 26 to do a variety show at the nike base.

All Talented Teens are invited to join, and may call 253-5064 for further information.

IEA Meeting Is Today

Teachers Tackling 'Major' Problems

Sanctions or strikes.

Teacher ethics for school, home and community.

Professional standards and conduct for educators.

Collective bargaining vs. professional negotiations.

These are some of the major topics to be tackled by leaders of Section 1, Lake Shore Division, Illinois Education Association (IEA) today, Thursday, at the Golden Acres Country Club, Schaumburg.

Under pressure from the American Federation of Teachers in organizing educators the National Education Association (NEA) at its annual convention adopted a new "broad" view in championing teachers' rights and promoting "dynamic, independent local associations."

THE SUCCESS of the New York City AFT strike and collective bargaining negotiations this year were major stimulants to the new "active" NEA attitude.

As an outgrowth of the NEA convention, local educational association leaders are being asked to discuss and make recommendations for a proposed NEA Basic Code of Ethics for the Education Profession. The meeting Thursday will deal with the proposed code.

Local recommendations will be considered by the state IEA early in November, with a national NEA meeting on ethics set for Nov. 29 - Dec. 1.

THE ILLINOIS proposed code of ethics differs from that of the national group. Comments on the two codes are being sought so that a uniform national code can be developed.

Section 1 of the Lake Shore Division, IEA, includes schools in Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine and Schaumburg Townships.

Small discussion groups will delve into the "controversial issues" of professional negotiations and sanctions, according to a Section 1 spokesman.

THESE DISCUSSIONS will point out the differences between the NEA approved professional negotiations and sanctions and the AFT attitude on collective bargaining and strikes.

Probable questions to be discussed, spokesmen indicated, will be "How do professional negotiations and collective bargaining differ?" "Do teachers have the right to strike, and, if so, should they?" "Can sanctions be an effective tool of a professional organization?" and "Which is better — Sanctions or Strikes?"

The topics all deal with how teachers should act, spokesmen stressed.

LOCAL TEACHER concern about active educational organization is stimulated by nearby suburban AFT union locals in Niles Township, Maywood and Cicero.

Further interest in teacher organizations, professional negotiations and sanctions has been sparked by the slated appearance of Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary, California Teachers Association, and vice chairman-elect, Educational Policies Commission, NEA, in Evanston on Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Corey spearheaded the resolution on professional negotiations and sanctions at the NEA convention this year. The sanctions resolution received overwhelming approval.

COREY POINTED out at the convention that "teachers no longer accept the concept that those who serve children must be subservient or that devotion demands obsequiousness."

He stressed it seemed clear "that when boards of education refuse to make concessions, teacher organizations must have some weapon by which unsatisfactory conditions may be dramatically appealed to public opinion, the ultimate arbiter."

Convention discussion indicated "sanctions" might extend to boycott action by local, state and national associations whose members would be asked not to accept employment if a school district offered only substandard conditions.

IT WAS pointed out teachers might withhold their services before a school year opened without striking and without injury to pupils involved in a teacher strike.

The program featuring Corey is sponsored by Section 3, Lake Shore Division, IEA. The meeting will be held in Evanston High School Auditorium at 4:15 p.m.

New Math Is Subject for PTA Meeting

"Getting Acquainted with the New Method of Learning Math" will be the topic of the Tuesday, Oct. 23, meeting of the Euclid School PTA.

Miss Lucy Driscoll, assistant superintendent Cook County schools, will be the speaker. Miss Driscoll received her bachelor and master degrees from the University of Iowa and has had teaching experience at all levels.

She is currently teaching graduate students for the National College of Education in Evanston, in extension courses.

THE MEETING will be held at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium. Refreshments will be provided by second grade mothers.

An orientation tea for room mothers was held in the school Wednesday, Oct. 10. Mrs. Richard Aylward, room mother chairman, planned the tea to acquaint the mothers with their duties. They also met briefly with the teachers and plans for room parties were made. (ACM

Jaycees Sign Up 12 New Members

The Arlington Heights Jaycees orientation meeting for all new members, held last week, told the history, purpose and organization of the Jaycees.

Also included in the program was a discussion of the functions of various committees within the Arlington Heights chapter and of several upcoming community projects of which the new members were invited to take part.

Paul Gustafson, president of the Arlington Heights chapter, welcomed the following new members:

The next orientation meeting for new members will be held on Nov. 14 at 7:15 p.m. at the Colt Restaurant.

Following the orientation, a board of directors meeting was held where the progress of various projects was discussed.

Among these projects are the annual Christmas tree sales and the sponsorship of the Sea Scout unit which was undertaken several months ago.

THE NEXT REGULAR meeting of the chapter will be held Wednesday, Oct. 24, at the Colt Restaurant.

The main feature of the program will be a pro and con discussion on the proposed Blue Ballot amendment. Village Trustees Eugene Schlickman and William J. Moore will speak pro and con respectively on the amendment. (A

BGA Rates Rumsfeld As 'Well Qualified'

Donald Rumsfeld, Republican candidate for Congress in the 13th District, has been rated "well qualified" by the Better Government Association.

In the BGA announcement, pointed out was Rumsfeld's previous Washington experience as an "asset to his potential effectiveness as a Congressman."

Rumsfeld served as aide to former U. S. Rep. David Dennison, R-Ohio, and to U. S. Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich.

THE BETTER Government Association, a non-partisan organization comprised of representatives from both major political parties, endorses no political candidates.

It does, however, to fulfill its function of promoting better government, examine the personal qualifications of candidates — character, background, ability, training and experience — and rate them accordingly for the benefit of the voters.

A number of other organizations and groups have expressed support for Rumsfeld. They include the Americans for Constitutional Action and local organizations of leading doctors and lawyers.

A COMMITTEE of physicians from the 13th District, after interviewing both Congressional candidates, has also endorsed Rumsfeld.

Dr. J. Ernest Breed, Wilmette, spokesman for the group, stated in a letter sent to the doctors in the District:

"The unanimous opinion of the committee was that Donald Rumsfeld would be the better Congressman as he is well informed, has had Washington experience, and would stand firm against the gradual socialization of our country, including the practice of medicine."

MORE THAN 130 attorneys residing in the 13th District have put their names on a statement expressing approval of the Republican nominee. From the western townships of the District, they include:

Richard A. Cowen, Rolland A. Franzen, Thomas Hanlon, Thomas J. Houser, Willis J. Jensen, John F. White and John G. Woods of Arlington Heights; and Harold O. Fichte of Prospect Heights.

Others are Eugene T. Devitt, Elgin; John H. Bickley, Jr., Raymond H. Stevenson, and Edward C. Hofert, Mount Prospect.

Anyone interested in the working for Rumsfeld may call Thomas W. Novotny, western townships chairman for the Rumsfeld for Congress Committee, at CL 5-3494.

REBELLIOUS: opposing authority. "We must overcome the rebellious faction in our organization."

BRUSQUELY; abruptly, in manner. (Pronounce first syllable to rhyme with "rusk"). "He shook hands brusquely, and walked away."

HOYDENISH; having the roughness of a rude, bold girl. "The girl's manners are hoydenish."

INEVITABLE; admitting of no evasion; unavoidable. "The result of such action was inevitable."

SEMBLANCE; resemblance; likeness; appearance; similarity. "There was a semblance of order emerging from the chaos." (A-14

Plan Group Proposes Compromise for Lots

A third plan commission hearing last week on rezoning the northeast corner of the spacious Sherwood subdivision in Arlington Heights brought forth a proposal which may win general acceptance.

As the hands of the clock moved close to midnight, Chairman Harold E. Carlson proposed that eight lots fronting on Thomas Street be zoned R-2 as requested by M. Wrobel, builder, but that the remaining portion of Wrobel's land be kept as R-1, which requires 15,000 square feet of lot area and 100 feet of frontage at the building line.

THE COMMISSION adopted Carlson's recommendation and will send it on to the village board.

George Shapiro, attorney for Wrobel, said this week that the Carlson plan had been given to Wrobel's engineer to prepare cost data on needed improvements. Shapiro said the engineer's figures would determine whether or not Wrobel was happy with the plan.

Sherwood Improvement Association members, who turned out again in large numbers last week, seemed fairly well satisfied. There was some talk that variations would be better than rezoning for the eight lots on Thomas Street, but this would require an entirely new hearing before the Zoning Board of Appeals, whose action could not be predicted.

A FEATURE of the hearing last Wednesday was the cross-examination of Wrobel's attorney, Shapiro, by Francis Sully, attorney for the home owners. After Shapiro took the oath and the witness's chair, Sully fired some sharp questions that caused sparks to fly.

The new evidence that Sully promised to introduce when the village board sent the case back to the plan commission Oct. 1 was produced by Charles H. Wilson, realtor.

WILSON'S testimony contradicted some of that given by Richard Manke, another Arlington Heights real estate man, who had appeared as an expert witness in behalf of Wrobel.

The gist of Wilson's testimony was that large R-1 lots in Sherwood could be developed and sold at a profit.

The Sherwood subdivision is bounded by Thomas, Kennicott, Oakton and Yale. (AF

Postal Annex To Open

A postal carrier station annex is expected to open Nov. 1 at 311 S. State Rd., Arlington Heights, and result in improved postal operations, according to Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

The department will sign a five-year lease for the quarters with Martin Mosvold and S. M. Berntson, 5455 W. Belmont Ave., Chicago.

THE ANNEX contains 4,293 square feet and will have heat, water, sewerage, service power and air conditioning.

The post office department's capital investment is limited substantially to postal equipment, while the building remains under private ownership, with the owner paying local real estate taxes.

"This formula," Day said, "utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise for needed postal buildings."

To Sponsor Nativity

Arlington Heights will have a nativity scene on display at a prominent location this coming Christmas season.

Thirteen local businesses have joined to contribute $1,300 to purchase the nativity scene.

THE LOCATION has not yet been decided, according to Joe Schneller, who was active in raising the purchase funds.

Businesses which contributed were: Bill Cook Buick, Dryden Cleaners, Heller Lumber, Edwin H. Meyer Contractors, Charles Wilson Realtors, Arlington Heights Federal Savings, Schneller Furniture Co., Parkway Liquors, The Bank of Arlington Heights, Webber Paint Co., Harris Pharmacy, Radio Station WNWC, and Paddock Publications. Suburb Man Serves As Oxford Marshal

The state police stood by laughing."

FINALLY, Lude's squad leader gave the order to use tear gas. That was when a brick hit Lude and knocked him down.

Then the group leader (there are four squads in a group) gave the signal to "hold it" by holding his arms over his head. Then he was knocked down by a brick, too.

Then the marshals fired their tear gas.

According to Lude, the battle see-sawed for about two hours. About that time, General Edwin Walker entered the picture. Lude said he could hear him instructing the rioters what to do.

AS THE TEAR gas supplies ran low, persons in the mob began firing .22 calibre rifles and shotguns. It was then the buckshot riddled Lude's gas mask canister.

"By about 3 a.m. we were getting a little desperate," Lude continued. "The Mississippi National Guard came, but they had no weapons, and were no help.

"Then at about 3 a.m. the 101st Airborne Division arrived. They were a beautiful sight to see, with their bayonets," Lude recalled enthusiastically.

But the battle wasn't over. Students threw railroad ties on Army jeeps. They put bricks on the gas pedals of cars, and aimed the cars at the marshals.

BY THIS TIME there were about 200 diehards. At sunrise, the fighting was over.

"It looked like a battlefield," Lude said. "There was burning gasoline, broken bottles, bricks, burned cars."

The rest of Lude's stay in Mississippi centered around the processing of persons arrested in connection with the rioting.

Lude expects to return soon to take his turn in guarding Meredith as he goes to and from classes.

THE EXPERIENCE was not Lude's first in civil rights actions in the South.

A year ago last April he was sent to Montgomery, Ala., in connection with the ban against segregation in interstate bus transportation.

Last September he was in New Orleans when grade schools were integrated.

Now he is back on his job in the Federal Courts in Chicago. But he fully expects, in his own words, "to hear the bugles blowing again."

Craft Class Offered at Both Parks

Making beautiful gifts, decorations, and table settings for the holidays will be the theme and goal for the Arlington Heights Park District's Holiday Crafts program.

Because of overflowing interest in last year's program, the Park District is offering the class at both Recreation and Pioneer Park fieldhouses. The class has also been extended from 5 to 7 weeks so instruction could be offered in both Thanksgiving and Christmas craft.

CLASSES will meet at Recreation Park on Mondays, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., starting Oct. 29. Pioneer Park classes will be held on Fridays 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., starting Nov. 2.

Iterested persons are asked not to delay registering as classes are expected to fill up fast. They should call CL 3-0620 to sign up. (A

Editor's Column

We spent last weekend on a delayed trip to view the fall colorings at the Mississippi Palisades, Galena, and southern Wisconsin. We discovered there were other people from home doing the same thing when at the adjoining table in Galena, we found Rev. and Mrs. C. Stewart.

We renewed our acquaintance with Mrs. William F. McCaughey, whose late husband was the architect on a number of our local schools. His hobby during his lifetime was water colors, some of which she is ready to offer for sale.

It was also our first visit to Mineral Point, Wis., where we found stone houses constructed by the Cornwall miners 125 years ago. We especially enjoyed the Cornish food, which is the only menu served at the Pendarvis House.

We regard voter approval of the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment as the most important item in the Nov. 6 election. It is certainly more important than any individual candidates, since their term of office is relatively short compared to the future decades which will be influenced by this measure.

Both parties have recognized the need for court reform and have officially endorsed the Blue Ballot. Its approval will improve the administration and quality of justice, increase the efficiency of our courts, and result in savings to the taxpayer.

Service Says:

Chicken and Bacon 'Buys'

Chicken and bacon are among this week's best food buys, according to the Family Food Fund.

But prices will vary greatly from store to store in the Chicago area, which means that the wise shopper may have to look around a bit for the best bargains, advises the Confidential Consumer Advisory Service which went this week to homes of persons enrolled in the Family Food Fund Protection Plan.

The price-spread in bacon can be as much as 20 cents a pound from one store to another. Top grade bacons will be ranging from 49 cents to 69 cents a pound while the second line brands can be found from lows of 39 cents to highs of 59 cents.

A SIMILAR situation exists with fryers. Some stores are holding out for 37 cents to 41 cents a pound. Yet fryers will be on sale in other stores for 27 cents a pound, the Family Food Fund service points out.

The service also predicts that turkey prices will be higher this year. At present, the price range is from 39-49 cents a pound, with some stores putting the higher prices on all birds regardless of size or class.

Consumer resistance is developing. Although prices can be expected to drop later, it's a pretty safe bet that your holiday turkey will cost about 6 cents a pound more this year than last, the Family Food Fund asserts.

THE CONFIDENTIAL Consumer Advisory Service also gives tips about top values this week in beef, pork and lamb. It reveals the best retail buys in vegetables, fruits and canned goods, and it warns of increases in the price of lettuce.

In a story of special interest to mothers, the Family Food Fund advises that it could be dangerous to believe vitamin pills can help everyone who is tired or doesn't feel good. Such beliefs can be dangerous, especially if the symptoms are caused by a disease or internal disorders.

Still another feature of this week's service is a report that points out the current advertising battle between vegetable fats and animal fats is just that — an advertising battle. Until more positive research results are available, rely on your physician instead of the ads for dietary advice.

L. B. OVERBY, president of Family Food Fund, said the consumer service is available free to families who register the breadwinner in the insurance plan.

"This service is indicative of the tremendous values offered by the Family Food Fund — high monthly benefits at an extremely modest cost," he said.

ON TV TUBES

by ED LANDWEHR

The best tube testers cannot simulate the overall condition of your TV set. Often certain tubes test weak but remain that way through years of good TV operation. It's a waste of money to replace them. And then, a tube could test good and be the culprit that causes all your trouble.

For example, you don't keep replacing tires on an auto wheel that is running lopsided. You must correct the wheel deficiency and save your tires.

Is there anything that is causing the TV tube to wear out besides the normal operation?

This question is anwered at LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, because we have the electronic tools and experience to find out. It means that you save money in the long run and have the finest TV viewing possible. Phone CLearbrook 5-0700 and let us prove it.

Rumsfeld Honored at Reception Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. W. Richard Impey, 632 Bristol, Arlington Heights, entertained supporters of Republican Congressional nominee Donald Rumsfeld Saturday.

Impey, finance chairman for the Rumsfeld campaign in the western townships, invited contributors to the Rumsfeld campaign fund to meet and talk with the candidate.

This Saturday Rumsfeld will join State Sen. John Graham, R-3, in meeting the voters in their homes in a "door-to-door" campaign in Palatine Township. That evening Rumsfeld will attend the Schaumburg Township Regular Republican dance at the Golden Acres Country Club.

ON SUNDAY, the candidate will attend a coffee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lynch, 62 Springingsguth Road, Weathersfield, Schaumburg. He will then go on to another coffee at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Hawkes, 411 N. Carlyle, Arlington Heights.

On Tuesday, Oct. 23, he will be back in Schaumburg for a coffee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Corsello, 16 Kingston Lane, Weathersfield, Schaumburg.

Republicans in Barrington Township will hear Rumsfeld speak in their headquarters, 110 S. Hough Barrington, at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Oct. 24. After that he will join U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and other GOP candidates at an Elk Grove Township Rally at the Northwestern Suburban YMCA, 300 Northwest Hwy., Des Plaines.

IN A NEWS release this week Rumsfeld cited the establishment of the Soviet base in Cuba as an example of the results to be expected from the Democratic Administration's "policy of hesitation and indecision."

"We cannot afford an unrealistic foreign policy of timidity and vacillation," he said.

"The backdown in Laos has left us with a so-called 'neutralist' government there. And then there is the Berlin Wall. Every time free nations hesitate or show indecision in defense of freedom, the communists gain ground."

For 1976

Chicago Delegation Seeks World's Fair

(UPI)—A group of Chicagoans who hope to bring a world's fair and the olympics to Chicago in 1976 left this morning for the Seattle World's Fair.

The 39-member "Committee of '76" will attend three days of working sessions with the fair's administration. Already eight years old, the committee is planning 14 years in the future for the two events in celebration of the United State's 200th birthday.

The Committee will "get busy on the site selection immediately following our return from Seattle," Committee President Samuel Young said.

YOUNG SAID Chicago's easy accessibility is the major selling point. The committee also spoke of Chicago's central location, status as rail capital of the country, air facilities and focal point of a national highway web.

Hotel and motel facilities in Chicago appear abundant, he said, when compared with other metropolitan areas.

Young said the two previous world expositions held in Chicago, the World Columbian Exposition held in 1893 and the "Century of Progress" World Fair held in 1933-34, stimulated business and provided employment.

THE 1976 Fair plan has been endorsed by the city council, Cook County and the state legislature.

Among those who joined the committee were Secretary of State Charles Carpentier; Lloyd Wendt, editor-in-chief, Chicago's American; Maurice Fischer, city editor of the Chicago Daily News; Col. Jack Reilly, representing Mayor Richard J. Daley; Dr. C. F. Wilson, counsul general of Canada; and R. G. Liebenow, president of the board of trade.

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

AGGRANDIZEMENT: act or result of being made great in power. "The king sought only the aggrandizement of himself and his family."

Isn't it time to stand firm?

Every time our Government hesitates, shows indecision in defense of freedom, the communists gain ground. As in Laos, Berlin, and Cuba.

Our objective must be victory in the cold war through the active protection of freedom.

We should demonstrate clearly our determination and ability to defend freedom as we did in Lebanon and Quemoy.

We must not let our sincere desire for world peace obscure the fact that we are confronted with a deadly enemy—sworn to destroy our way of life. In this regard, there must be no disarmament agreement without adequate inspection.

We should spare no reasonable effort to achieve world peace through the United Nations. But, where communist aggression is not halted by this means, we should step forward through our Free World alliances, or, if necessary, alone.

As your Congressman, I will work hard to accomplish these and other things which people in the 13th District want done.

Donald Rumsfeld

Donald Rumsfeld worked in Washington, D. C., with two Republican Congressmen, David Dennison (Ohio) and Robert P. Griffin (Michigan, co-author of the Landrum-Griffin Labor Law).

Rumsfeld, a former Navy Pilot, is fortunate to have had this experience with Congressmen, learning to evaluate and move legislation forward, and working with the many departments and agencies of the Federal Government.

Westby Is Named to New Post

GEORGE WESTBY

George Westby, director of public relations for Illinois Lutheran Welfare Association since 1956, has been named assistant to the Executive Secretary of the Board of Social Ministry, the Lutheran Church in America.

He will assume his new duties on November 1, at the church's headquarters, 231 Madison Ave. New York.

Westby is a graduate of Luther College, Decorah, Iowa and also has his Master's Degree from the State University of Iowa. He is a member of Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights, Illinois Synod, LCA. He is treasurer of the Arlington Heights Garden Club.

BEFORE coming to Illinois Mr. Westby had served as director of Lutheran Welfare Service of Northwest Ohio and also the Iowa Lutheran Welfare Society. He is a charter member of the National Association of Social Workers.

He will remain at their home at 219 N. Brighton Place, Arlington Heights until they complete arrangements for their new residence in the New York area. Mr. and Mrs. Westby have one son, Russell, a teacher in the Chicago Public Schools. His wife, Ann, is a teacher in the Mount Prospect Schools. They live at 421 N. Hicks, Palatine.

Utilize 'Prevention' To Fight Delinquency

Delinquency prevention activities in suburban communities show a noticeable increase, according to Anthony Sorrentino, supervisor of the Cook County unit of the Illinois Youth Commission's division of community services.

Speaking before members of the community services advisory board at a meeting in the Sherman House Oct. 4, Sorrentino listed eight suburban groups which have recently affiliated with the Youth Commission, and told of plans in progress for developing similar committees in ten other communities.

Local youth commissions have been set up as municipal agencies in Rolling Meadows, Midlothian, Harwood Heights and Oak Lawn.

ROLLING Meadows also has a citizens group organized to combat delinquency, as have Hillside, Hodgkins and the newly formed Cook County Federation of Community Committees.

All the committees have a working relationship with the IYC and are receiving technical assistance from the staff of the Cook County unit, the supervisor reported. This phase of the operation is directed by Joseph P. Giunta, assigned to the Commission's district office in Rolling Meadows.

Plans to organize similar committees or commissions are now under way in Chicago Ridge, Des Plaines, Hoffman Estates, Justice, Lansing, Norridge, Palatine, Skokie, Streamwood and Morton Grove.

EXPANSION of the delinquency prevention program into the outlying towns and villages is a comparatively recent innovation, said Sorrentino.

"Until recently, there has been a vacuum in the area of delinquency prevention services in the suburbs," he said. "The fact that these towns account for only 10 per cent of the Cook County commitments to the Youth Commission doesn't mean they have no delinquency.

"Most of their juvenile cases are handled locally and don't result in court action.

"Without minimizing the problem in Chicago, we must recognize that there is much delinquency in the suburbs, and much work to be done."

SORRENTINO pointed to a stepped-up training program, aimed at helping lay leaders and police juvenile officers, as evidence of the Commission's attack on delinquency from another approach.

In cooperation with DePaul University, a series of three-day delinquency control institutes, leading to a diploma for those completing the course, will be offered to juvenile officers in Cook and surrounding counties.

The beginning course will be held Oct. 24-26 in the Boy Scout management training center at Hinsdale. (B8

'Old Timers Night' Slated by Legion

World War I veterans will get special recognition at "Old Timers Night" to be held by Merle Guild Post 208 of the American Legion at its clubhouse at 121 N. Douglas Ave., Arlington Heights, beginning at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 23.

Featured on the program will be the Broadway dance team of Robert Higgins, 2200 Heron Ct., Rolling Meadows, and Arman Ferrarra, 638 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights.

ALSO STARRED is the Hawaiian hula chorus line composed of Steve Bratko, Ed Cronin, Bill Payne, Bill Oas and Stan Mensching.

Community singing will be led by Les Griffith. Master of ceremonies will be Bill Groh. The chief chef will be Fred Hauth.

A movie, "The Life of General Pershing," will be shown.

Approximately 30 members of the post are World War I veterans.

"It is the Arlington Heights American Legion's program not to forget those who have served their country," a post statement declared. (A

Crusader Vows 'War' on Crime Syndicate

GOP Sheriff Candidate

Suburban Sin Spots Target of Ogilvie

Republican Richard B. Ogilvie is determined—if elected as Cook County Sheriff on Nov. 6—to take immediate steps to clean up the "Glitter Gulch" developing on Mannheim Road between Lake Street and O'Hare Field.

"Crime operations have been curtailed some along Mannheim Road because the election is so close," Ogilvie told Paddock editors last week.

"Informants tell me that the word is out to close down. Anything going on now is on a 'sneak" basis."

THE GOP candidate cited specifically Louie's Fun Lounge, reported to be a meeting place for homosexuals, located in the 2300 block on Mannheim.

"This place is operated by Lewis Gauger, sometimes known as Gages," Ogilvie said. "It's a syndicate-controlled place. Huge profits are realized from selling cheap bottled beer for $1 each and from selling to juveniles."

He said the 30-day period between election day and the day the new sheriff is sworn in will be a "wide open period" of crime on Mannheim Road.

"YOU HAVE NO idea how much money the Fun Lounge type of place can take in 30 days," Ogilvie commented. "And we never really know who the money is going to.

"We do know, however, that this is a crime syndicate place. There isn't any money-making crime venture the syndicate isn't involved in. The syndicate is able to discipline."

Ogilvie porposes drying up the Mannheim Road crime spots by enforcing the law, making arrests, busting up contraband gambling devices, and seeing to it that prosecution is followed to the maximum.

"AS IT STANDS now," Ogilvie said, "the office of Sheriff of Cook County is just a political football. Until this situation is corrected, Cook County will remain under the heel of organized crime."

He pointed out that there are plenty of statutes on the books to use against organized crime, and that the thing to do is begin to enforce the law. (B8

Watchdog Role for Sheriff

"I would have a great interest in illegal activities should any be uncovered in the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago or anywhere else,". declared Richard B. Ogilvie last week.

The Republican candidate for Cook County Sheriff said he plans to have 20 or more detectives on his staff who would split their work in prosecuting organized crime and probing into irregularities similar to these uncovered recently on Sanitary District property.

"We'll not hesitate to check into anything we consider illegitimate," Ogilvie said.

Ogilvie Confident Of Nov. 6 Victory

by BRUCE LADD

Richard B. Ogilvie, Republican candidate for Cook County Sheriff, has one overriding ambition: to be "the best sheriff this county has ever had."

And the stocky, 39-year-old crime fighter thinks he'll have the opportunity to make good.

"I understand the bookmakers are rating me an 8-5 favorite," Ogilvie smiled. "I'm not positive of the exact odds, but just as sure as I'm sitting here I'm going to win."

The candidate, who looks more like a college professor than a long-time foe of the crime syndiate, was interviewed last week by Paddock Publications' news editors.

He attributed his confidence in victory to an upsurge in voter interest in the Republican party, to the "tax issue," and to the anti-crime connotation of the Ogilvie name.

HE PREDICTED U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., will win re-election by 500,000 votes.

"The principal issue in my campaign is simply the charmed life led by the crime syndicate in Chicago," Ogilvie explained. "This situation goes way back to Prohibition days.

"Chicago's reputation across the world as 'the Gangster City' is due to the political climate which has existed so long here. The only way to stop the crime syndicate is to dry up its sources of income.

"Removing syndicate leaders has never ccomplished anything. When a top hood goes to jail, someone else takes over. We've got to hit at the bottom of the orgnization where the money is taken in."

OGILVIE, A graduate of Yale University and a World War II combat tank commander, was credited last year with winning the government's income tax case against gang chief Tony Accardo. A higher court has since reversed Accardo's conviction.

"The case against Accardo was solid," Oglivie said. "It's strange what charmed lives such men as Accardo lead when they get into the courts."

While working as a special investigator for the U. S. Atty. General from 1958 to 1961, Ogilvie became well acquainted with the structure of the crime syndicate.

"It (syndicate) is like a corporation," he pointed out. "It has separate operations in vice, gambling, 'juice' (loans at exorbitant interest rates) and virtually everything else of a criminal nature where a profit can be derived.

"GAMBLING IN this area takes in $2 billion annually, with $900 million coming from the policy (nickel, dime wagering) wheels.

"In Chicago, policy workers are at it 364 days of the year. On the 365th day — election day — they're out working for the party that allows them to operate."

Ogilvie alleged that U. S. Rep. William Dawson, D-1st, is the "most powerful man in the Democratic party" in Chicago, and that he (Dawson) "protects" the policy operation on the city's south side.

In answer to a statement that in the past neither Republican nor Democratic sheriffs have been able to noticeably curtail crime in Cook County, Ogilvie stated:

"I'M GOING TO make such a record in this office that there can be no question that I'm a Republican.

"Nobody asked me to run for office. I made up my own mind. And I've made it clear to the Cook County Republican Central Committee that I'm not taking political appointees.

"A sheriff has to be unencumbered from obligations and independent of political persuasions or forces on the outside. I'm running for office without any ties whatsoever."

Ogilvie commented on other matters affecting the sheriff's office as follows:

—CIVIL SERVICE. "There's a question as to whether it's legally possible short of a constitutional amendment, but I'm in favor of it. I plan to have my own, self-imposed merit system for all officers.

—Policing unincorporated areas. "We may need to add a number of squad cars. Also, there will be better radio work and the cars will be kept out in the county rather than sitting at the station waiting for a complaint to come in."

—Curfew law. "The curfew can be endorced by example. I think if most kids know what the score is they'll obey the law."

—Youth. "It's imperative that we close the places where kids are encouraged to buy liquor."

—COOPERATION with State's Attorney. "I'm going to assume Mr. (Daniel) Ward meant it when he took the oath of office."

—Democratic monopoly. "Law enforcement agencies from the federal units down to the county police are controlled by the Democrats. There are no checks on the police and there should be."

—Prosecution. "If we get any fooling around in prosecuting offenders, somebody's going to be blasted."

When asked how long it would take him to start action on police matters he considers serious, Ogilvie said, "I don't want to tip my hand, but I think we'll be making a splash within the first 30 days."

HE NOTED THAT he intends to enforce the laws on the playing of Bingo.

"Priorities have to be assigned," he said. "First comes cleaning up the tavern situation as applies to juveniles. Then we'll hit vice and gambling."

He said the nucleus of his sheriff's force will be made up of federal agents, and that he is going to encourage suburban policemen to come into county police work.

With respect to Democratic candidate Roswell Spencer's campaign reliance on his (Spencer's) FBI experience, Ogilvie observed, "My opponent misconceives the function of the office. The sheriff's office is one that sets policy.

"I DOUBT IF my opponent would criticize J. Edgar Hoover, Robert Kennedy or Theodore Roosevelt — all of whom had very little crime-solving experience."

In addition to serving as special investigator for the U. S. Atty. General as head of the midwest office of the Special Group on Organized Crime, Ogilvie was an Assistant U. S. Attorney in the Criminal Division of the Justice Department and a Special Assistant U. S. Attorney to investigate vote frauds arising in Chicago out of the 1954 election.

He is holder of an LLB degree from Kent College of Law and was admitted to the Illinois Bar in 1950.

Ogilvie was severely injured during World War II when an exploding shell from a German 88 tore the left side of his face and lodged in back of his neck. The shell left him with a permanent scar.

He lives with his wife and 7-year-old daughter in Northfield.

'Blue Ballot' Will Save Money: Prof

Prof. William M. Trumbull of Northwestern University College of Law told a meeting of the Northwest Suburban Bar Association last week that the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment will probably save the taxpayers of Illinois up to $1,000,000 a year.

Prof. Trumbull has been a member of the Joint Committee on Judicial Article since 1951. The committee was appointed by the Illinois State and Chicago Bar Associations to study and develop reform of the judicial system.

In discussing savings possible for the taxpayer, Prof. Trumbull pointed out that the consolidation of the clerk's offices of the multiple courts now existing will produce a "substantial savings in space, printing and equipment cost, not to mention the reduction of payrolls.

HE ALSO referred to the fact that special judicial elections held under the present system are "wasteful and very expensive." Under the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment, judicial elections will take place at the time of general elections in November.

Inquiries to the office of the County Clerk of Cook County have revealed an estimate of the cost of such special judicial elections at a minimum of $175 per precinct. There are about 5,000 precincts in Cook County, and, therefore, a conservative estimate of the cost of each such special election under the present system is about $875,000 in Cook County alone, Trumbull said.

In urging support for the amendment, Prof. Trumbull commented that large numbers of people decry what they feel is a growing trend toward undue centralization of power, and suggested that one of the best ways for people to combat such centralization is to work diligently to improve and modernize state government.

THE NORTHWEST Suburban Bar Association, before whom Prof. Trumbull was speaking, has long been on record as endorsing the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment. Speakers of the association's speakers bureau on Judicial Reform have been discussing the Blue Ballot before civic, church and service groups throughout the northwest suburbs for the past several months.

Any groups desiring to present a discussion of the amendment to their membership are invited to contact the association's Judicial Reform chairman, John F. White, at CL 5-9646 or 332-0913.

Namesakes May Get Together Friday

Namesakes may get together Friday when 101 members of the Professional and Business Men's Committee for John (A.) Kennedy fete their choice for U. S. Congress at a reception from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in Chicago.

That's the afternoon President John (F.) Kennedy arrives to campaign for members of the Democratic ticket.

His attendance at the reception is deemed "possible to probable" by informed campaign aides. In any event, guests are assured of U. S. Sen. Paul H. Douglas' presence as honored guest.

INVITATIONS were mailed this week to 13th District residents by members of the committee. Heading up the reception are John C. Mullen of Wilmette and George D. Sullivan Jr. of Skokie, from whom tickets may be obtained.

Following is a partial list of current campaign engagements of John A. Kennedy in the area:

Thursday, Oct. 18, will find Kennedy at the home Mrs. William Milam, 23 Briarwood, Streamwood at 9:30 a.m.

ON SUNDAY, Oct. 21, he attends a 5 p.m. cocktail party of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 601 N. Main St., Mount Prospect.

At 7:45 that evening he will be featured guest at a Volunteers Rally in Rolling Meadows Headquarters. (B-8

OPEN LETTER TO ALL REPUBLICANS IN WHEELING TOWNSHIP

Dear Fellow Republicans:

If you are an interested Republican voter, please be aware of the fact that the Republican Party has a real chance to win on November 6 -- not only at the state level, but also in Cook County.

We can win if we work hard enough to turn out a maximum vote in the suburbs.

We need your vote. And we also need a few hours of your time. If you are willing to telephone, type, run errands, baby-sit, watch at the polls, or be of other service, just cut out and mail the coupon below to me.

It's up to YOU in '62.

Sincerely,
Thomas J. Houser

Today's Agriculture

by: CARL F. MEES

We have been reading a great deal lately about the danger involved when chemicals are carelessly used. I would be the first to agree that great care should be exercised when applying any kinds of chemicals whether they be pesticides, fungicides or herbicides.

It should be clearly understood that anything can be misused. To paraphrase Congressman Miller (who sponsored the amendment to the Pure Food Law which prescribes permissible, safe pesticide residues on food), "there is no harmless material, there are merely harmless ways of using materials."

Salt, although necessary to health, as we well know, if substituted for dextrose in a baby's formula will and has caused infant deaths. As a practical matter, a couple of tablespoons of salt is a common emetic. Aspirin carries with it little of the potential of strychnine, yet in one year the misuse of aspirin and aspirin-like products alone will account for almost the same number of deaths as do the misuses of all pesticides put together.

Dr. Wayland J. Hayes, the country's foremost medical authority on poisons, speaking for the United States Public Health Service stated:

"For over 20 years, the death rate in the United States associated with accidental poisoning by solids and liquids has varied from 0.8 to 1.2 per 100,000 population. In recent years, it has usually been 0.9 per 100,000 population.

"This represents a considerable improvement over rates of 3.4 to 5.2 recorded between 1900 and 1909. Conley reported that 7.8 per cent to 12.8 per cent of poisoning cases each year from 1946 to 1955 were caused by pesticides. The value found by Short in an especially careful study of the 1956 statistics fell within this range.

"Thus, the death rate from pesticides in the United States is approximately 0.09 per 100,000. Of the 152 deaths caused by all pesticides in 1956, 104 were caused by compounds introduced before DDT-54 attributed to arsenic alone. Only 35 deaths definitely were associated with new synthetic compounds, although some of the 13 other deaths caused by unidentified pesticides were probably caused by synthetics. Of the 35 deaths, 16 were caused by organic phosphorus insecticides.

"During 1956, children up through the age of 9 years accounted for 94 deaths from pesticides (62 per cent); 78, or just over one-half of the total number, were in children 3 years old or younger. These figures, similar to those reported by Conley for 1946 to 1955, suggest that it is most important to consider poisoning in connection with children and important to consider the older pesticides, as well as the newer ones, in every case of suspected poisoning."

Let's take just three examples, even though many more can be cited.

1. Successful production of potatoes has depended on chemical pesticides since 1870. Spreading across the U. S. at the rate of 85 miles per year, the Colorado potato beetle decimated the crop until Paris Green checked it. Without pesticides the potato crop also is subject to the same late bright that caused the notorious famine of 1845 in Ireland.

2. Tick-borne diseases have been reduced and their fatality rate lowered in the U.S. by inoculation, antibiotic drugs, insecticides (against ticks) and rodenticides (against rats and other rodent reservoirs). Yet cases — and deaths — still occur. At least five men working at eradicating spotted-fever ticks and host animals in the West have themselves been stricken with the disease and died. The fever has spread across the country, and the dog tick has become a vector.

Typhus, with a mortality rate as high as 70 per cent and for which no successful treatment is known, has been controlled in the U.S. largely by insecticide eradication of body lice. At least 2[illegible] kinds of fleas living on rats and wild rodents can transmit bubonic plague — the "black death" — and large areas of the U.S. are endemic (rodents and fleas there are infested).

3. Insects take a $500,000,000 annual toll of food and fiber in storage and transit, even with controls used now. Rats ruin up to $2 billion worth of food each year, are carriers of at least six diseases, and have attacked — and killed — many humans.

The one chemical, DDT, has been in for much discussion, since it has been used as an insecticide. Some present the argument that it kills insects, birds and other forms of wildlife. This may be true, but E. F. Knipling, Agricultural Research Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture presents the other side of the picture. He says, "To my knowledge not one death (excluding accidental deaths) or serious illness has been caused among the people exposed to the insecticide (DDT) in connection with the control of insects . . . I estimate that no less than 5,000,000 lives have been saved; no less than 100,000,000 illnesses have been prevented, through the use of DDT for controlling malaria, typhus, dysentery and many other diseases. Recommend Payment For Birth Control

(UPI) — The medical advisor committee to the Illinois Public Aid Commission (IPAC) has recommended that the commission pay for birth control services by physicians when performed for welfare recipients.

The proposal, advanced by IPAC Chairman Arnold H. Maremont, is opposed by spokesmen for the Roman Catholic Chicago Archdiocese.

The committee, in a closed meeting at Springfield Saturday, unanimously approved a resolution "that the commission be urged to adopt a policy of providing payments for preventive medical services not provided by public health departments, including family planning."

THE CHICATO Roman Catholic Archdiocese's Cana Conference, which deals with matters of marriage and family life issued a statement earlier this month which said IPAC payment for birth control information and devices could lead to state control over sterilization and mercy killing.

The commission was scheduled to act on the proposal at its next regular monthly meeting, three days after the Nov. 6 election. (B8

Kennedy Denounces Opponent's Stand

The Democratic candidate for Congress in the 13th District last week denounced his Republican opponent's stand on the foreign trade bill as "a shocking display of economic naivete."

Speaking at a dinner in Glenview, Democrat John A. Kennedy of Winnetka lashed at Republican Donald Rumsfeld of Glenview, saying:

"On Sept. 28, my opponent told Evanston Chamber of Commerce that he 'seriously questioned the unbelievable authority given to the President and his cabinet,' although he 'supported the bill in principle.'

"IS IT possible that my opponent fails to realize that Presidential discretion is the heart of the new trade bill? It is the basic reason that trade authorities have hailed its passage as a tremendous step forward.

"Mr. Rumsfeld's opposition to the central feature of the trade bill can mean only one of two things; either he doesn't understand the issue, or he is willing to sacrifice national economic interests for the sake of campaign fireworks.

"How can he contend that he supports the bill 'in principle,' when he obviously has failed to grasp the principle, which is Presidential discretion?"

CONCLUDED Kennedy: "The trade bill was supported by the major business groups and an overwhelming group of citizens' organizations and newspapers.

"My opponent's stand once again puts him beyond the pale of constructive political thought in either party."

Kennedy and Rumsfeld seek to succeed U. S. Rep. Marguerite Stitt Church of Evanston, R-13th, who is retiring at the end of her term in January.

Ron Oas Is Elected Explorer Chairman

Teenage representatives of 10 Explorer (Scout) Posts in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Elk Grove Village met last week to elect new officers and plan main activities for the coming year.

Elected chairman of the Explorer's cabinet was Ron Oas, 621 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, member of Post 32, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church.

New vice chairmen are Robert Roth, 537 S. Chestnut, of Post 57, sponsored by the South Junior High PTA, and James Smith, 221 Wilshire Lane, Post 7, Arlington Heights Lions Club, both of Arlington Heights.

LARRY WRIGHT, 1304 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, also of Post 32, will serve as district representative on the Senior Girl Scout - Explorer Coordinating Committee.

High school age membership in the Blackhawk Scouting District has increased by 112 per cent in the past 18 months. Among the reasons is the wide selection of Explorer Posts with a specialty.

Post 32 concentrates its program on high adventure trips, while Post 57 works on rifle marksmanship and is currently the champion team of the Northwest Suburban Council. Post 7's specialty is assisting Scoutmasters in training junior leaders.

THE BOYS in Post 36 spend their time on canoeing and take a canoe trip to Canada each year. Post 51 is known as the District Service post, assisting commissioners and committeemen in conducting all district events. Post 55 is a camping group, while Post 135 specializes in camping and radar.

A sea-going post, Explorer Ship 150, is now getting under way with its own boat and will study seamanship during the winter months. Post 165 is devoted to fishing of all kinds.

Still looking for a special calling of its own is a brand new Post, No. 223, sponsored by Mount Prospect's South Church —Community Baptist. And Senior Scout Troop 323, sponsored by Mount Prospect's American Legion Post, is a fast-paced group restricted in membership to boys of high school age.

JOINT events are scheduled by these posts three times a year. These are a social evening with dates or in conjunction with Senior Campfire or Girl Scout units; a winter campout; and a weekend either at Great Lakes Naval Training Station or on a college campus.

High school age boys who would be interested in joining an Explorer Post can call the Blackhawk District Scout Executive at 299-5505 for further information. Previous Boy Scout membership is not required; over 20 per cent of the current membership were not Scouts. (B-8

Aids Oxygen Chamber

United Fund Grant Help to Hospital

A grant of $10,000 from the United Fund of Park Ridge in 1961 was credited as being of great assistance in carrying on studies with the small experimental high-pressure oxygen chamber by a spokesman for Lutheran General Hospital this week.

The special chamber figured in the news recently when it kept tiny eight-week-old Daniel Harrison from death for a probable three-week period.

The baby died last week Wednesday. Death was attributed to "heart failure," for which the baby was admitted to the hospital in critical condition on Sept. 25. The child was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison, 4425 N. Marmora Ave., Chicago.

HOSPITAL officials said they believed the treatment in the oxygen chamber—the first ever attempted for a case of this type—delayed the infant's death by "at least two and possibly three weeks."

A post mortem examination revealed an abnormality of the blood vessels leaving the heart, which would not have been correctible by surgery.

Another infant, a three-month-old "blue baby" flown from New York, underwent treatment in the hospital's hyperbaric oxygen tank and subsequent surgery last week. Both the high-pressure oxygen treatment and the surgical correction of the heart abnormality have been successful, one of the attending physicians said.

The special high-pressure oxygen chamber was built in collaboration with the Borg-Warner Corporation research center, Des Plaines. (B-8

MOUNT PROSPECT

Mrs. Denna Purvine of the Arlington District Council gave an informative demonstration on the use of Indian symbols at the recent Mount Prospect leaders meeting. She gave leaders not only a better understanding of the use of symbols in the Camp Fire program, but suggestions on presenting them to the girls. Leaders are looking forward to her return at the November leaders meeting with suggestions and aids on ceremonials.

Blue Bird Costume Day will be celebrated Oct. 17 with all Blue Birds wearing their costumes to school.

Tuesday, Sept. 25, girls of the leaders, Mrs. Jeanne Mathews and Mrs. Geraldine Childers, were shown authentic Camp Fire songs and games by two mothers of the Tan-Nah-Zu-Ga-To-Ma group.

To fulfill a rank requirement for Fire Maker, Marilyn Frohberg and Lynn Petersen from Mrs. Betty Petersen and Mrs. Helen Showers' group, taught the girls a spiritual, "Noah and the Ark," a humorous "Pajamas" song and an Indian canoe paddling song.

The girls then played "Pass the Shoes" and "Gossips," and an impressive few minutes were spent as the two girls explained the honor beads and symbols which adorn their Camp Fire boleros.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

To-He-Cum Camp Fire Girls went to Busse Woods, along with their families, Sept. 29, at 8:30 a.m. They were planning to fulfill requirement one in Wood Gatherer's Rank, during the day. The girls cooked breakfast and served it to their mothers and dads. At 10 a.m. they dismissed and then, the girls only met at Karen Markstrom's house for a lunch cook - out, where half of the group cooked lunch of hot-dogs and tossed salad.

From there they potted a dozen plants at Susan Ken-dall's house. Felt butterflies had been made at a previous meeting, and they, too, were put into the pots which were delivered to Magnus Farm. After returning to Kendall's, they prepared a dinner of spaghetti, salad and baked apples. To-He-Cums are sixth graders at South junior High school; Mrs. George Kendall is guardian and Mrs. Don Hodges, co-guardian.

THE CAMP Fire benefit performance at the Ice Follies is Sunday Oct. 28 at 6 p.m. Jo Ann Whittier, CL 3-6225 can be contacted for information. (B9 RANDHURST IS presenting the first auto show in the nation to feature 1963 model cars. Record crowds have thronged the mall of Randhurst, Mount Prospect, for the showing which has been extended through October 21. (B8

Randhurst Auto Show Heldover to Sunday

The fall colors of nature are in bloom inside as well as outside of Randhurst in Mount Prospect as the colorful new 1963 autos compliment the colorful landscape of the countryside.

The first 1963 auto show in the country as well as the first major area show ever held, the present Randhurst show is being held over through Sunday, Oct. 21, due to the trmendous response from the public, according to Charles MacKenzie, Randhurst promotion manager.

THE SHOW features 54 models of most 1963 American-made autos. They are displayed in the mall of Randhurst where the public is able to inspect each detail of each new car.

"Even though most of the new cars on display were sold almost immediately after the show opened Oct. 18," MacKenzie said, "The 11 dealers from the area are anxious to cooperate by keeping the show open for the convenience and pleasure of the shoppers."

MacKenzie reported people have come from many miles to see the cars.

ALSO COMPLIMENTING the auto show is a one-man art show in Randhurst. The show is a prelude for the Autumn Art Exhibit to be held in Randhurst Oct. 26, 27 and 28. Artists from the entire area, Chicago and even neighboring states will take part in the exhibit.

At the present time an artist from Pigeon Ford, Tenn. has a number of his oil and water color paintings on display. They are scenic paintings of the countryside of the Smoky Mountains.

Also exhibiting at Randhurst at the present time is Ed Olson, also of Tennessee who is a portrait copper artist. (B8

SUSIE SCOUT Says

Betty Winsell CLearbrook 5-3868

NORTHWEST ARLINGTON

Twenty - five Girl Scouts from Troop 294 spent a beautiful weekend at Camp Pine in Tamarack cabin Sept. 28, 29 and 30. The scouts kept busy cooking all meals out-of-doors and conducted their "Scouts Own" around the Saturday evening campfire. Many outdoor programs were carried out, and the girls benefited greatly from the assistance of Sandy "Buff" Johnson, Senior Girl Scout.

Along with work on second and first class, the scouts partially completed their troop backyard Camper proficiency badge. Accompanying the scouts were Mrs. Douglas Bondy, troop mother; Mrs. Cobert Miller, troop committee chairman; and Mrs. John Skelly, troop leader.

ROLLING MEADOWS

Combined Troops 111 and 357, under leadership of Mrs. Edward Goldacker and Mrs. Arthur Mueller, are holding their general meetings the first and third Mondays of each month from 4 to 6 p.m. in Carl Sandburg School. High school girls interested in Senior Scouting are invited to join this group, whose officers are Diane Smith, patrol leader; Mary Berendt, Assistant patrol leader; Carol Wiborg, scribe; Beverly Mueller, treasurer. Senior planning board representatives are Mary Berendt and Beverly Mueller.

The eighth grade patrol has Pam Bull as patrol leader; Joy Wittrock, Assistant patrol leader; Diana Manteufel, scribe; Linda Ulreich, treasurer. Junior High Planning Board members are Diana Manteufel, Karen Grunwald, Pam Bull and Linda Ulreich.

A Court of Honor was held on Oct. 8 when the scouts discussed plans to go horseback riding on Oct. 27.

SEPT. 29 Senior Scouts Beverly Mueller, Sue Jacobsen and Linda Lenz assisted the handicapped children to swim at Northwest Suburban YMCA. Along to observe were Pam Bull, Linda Ulreich, Diane Smith and Mary Berendt, who hope to assist in the near future.

Troop 633 held its first official Court of Awards Tuesday evening. Since November of last year the Intermediates have been working on second class. Receiving awards were Janice Booth, Peggy Dorwick, Lynda Ervin, Georgia Fackler, Linda Ferguson, Deborah Little, Chris McEvilly, Anita Mueller, Ellyn Placek, Sharon Ulreich, Trina Urban, Jackie Weir, Cathi Winsell and Marilyn Van Horn.

The Adventurer badge was awarded to Cathi Winsell, Deb Little and Peg Dorwick for activities carried out at Camp Hickory Hill this summer.

Troop 754 had a progressive hobo hike on Oct. 6. The girls stopped for goodies at the homes of Mrs. Paul Fackler, Mrs. H. Mehn, Mrs. A. Drager, Mrs. E. Troutman and Mrs. C. Lebben. Lunch was enjoyed in the home of Mrs. W. Young, 3900 Eagle Lane. Highlight of the program was the presence of "Mutt" Dorwick, "Beatnick" Mueller, "Blue Jay" Placek and "Dopey Jo" Winsell who came to teach the Brownies songs and games which they had learned at camp. Beer Motors Tells Plan For Auction

Beer Motors, Oakton and Mount Prospect Road, Des Plaines, distributors of industrial equipment, announced this week it will discontinue the farm implement portion of its business in favor of expanding its industrial sales and service.

"In keeping with the industrial development trend in our trade area," a firm spokesman said, "we will offer all of our farm, surplus utility and industrial equipment to be sold at auction Oct. 28."

The auction will take place on the company lot at Oakton and Mount Prospect Road at Noon on Sunday, Oct. 28. An advertisement in next week's editions of Paddock Publications will give complete details.

Tri-Hi-Y Dates Back To 1920's

The Northwest Suburban YMCA radio program, on WNWC between 4:30 - 4:45 p.m., will be conducted today, Thursday, by Helen Coryell, women and girls' program director. Interviews with the Tri-Hi-Y club officers will be featured.

Questions on club programming and activities will be answered by the Mainliners from Des Plaines, the Prospect Hi-Lighters from Mount Prospect and the A-Hye'ers from Arlington Heights.

Tri-Hi-Y is a club program of the YMCA for girls of high school age. Dating back to the post-World War I period, the group now has over 120 clubs with a claimed membership in excess of 3,000.

BASED ON THE purpose of creating, maintaining and extending throughout the home, school and community the highest standards of Christian character, the Tri-Hi-Y practice their slogan of pure thoughts, pure words and pure action. Educational, social, physical, service and worship are the five areas on which their program is based.

Openings for new members and adult leaders are available. Miss Coryell at the YMCA, 296-3376, will be happy to talk with anyone interested in joining or serving this group. (B-8

Lecture on Love Set for Tuesday

A public lecture on the demand of love in an atomic age will be given in Barrington Tuesday, Oct. 23, by Martin Broones of Beverly Hills, Cal.

He will speak at 8 p.m. in the First Church of Christ, 421 E. Main St. There is no admission charge.

Broones is a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

A native of New York City, Broones was educated at Columbia University and later studied musical composition under John Ireland of the Royal College of Music in London.

Besides composing many sacred songs and musical scores for light operas, he organized and was director of the first music department in motion picture industry—for Metro Goldwyn Mayer Studios in Hollywood. He subsequently became a producer of motion pictures and radio programs.

'Laymen's Day' To Be Observed In Arlington

Laymen's Day will be observed Sunday, Oct. 21, at First Methodist Church, Arlington Heights.

Howard Redding, a member of the church, will be the speaker, using as his topic "God's Trust In Us." He teaches the high school group in the church school and is a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University.

Other laymen taking part in the services, which will be held at 9 and 11 a.m., are: Fred Steingraber, Paul Peale, Jay King and Millard Yount.

Marvin Prellberg Sr. is the Lay Leader of the church. (A

Fred Heuer Drives His '27 Reo and Loves It

From the Era of 'Tin Lizzy' Fame

by JOHN REDDY

Occasionally one will hear an old timer refer to the early days of the auto world with the phrase, "the era of the tin lizzies."

In Palatine, however, there lives a man who swears by the early Michigan automotive products — and he doesn't use the phrase, "tin lizzy."

He is Fred Heuer, 18 W. Johnson St. who lives with his wife, Alma.

Together, the Heuer's have four vehicles housed in two garages at their Johnson Street residence.

The pride and joy is the 1927 Reo sedan. Heuer uses that to traverse back and forth to the 86-acre family farm that he worked up until a year ago. The farm is situated at Algonquin Road and Illinois 53.

"He likes to drive it because it is built with such heavy steel that he feels safe in it," says Alma.

HEUER, WHO HAS used the Reo to haul farm equipment and as many as two wagons full of corn from the fields, declared, "That's a good car—they don't make them like that any more."

What makes Heuer's Reo somewhat different than if someone else had it is the fact that he's owned the machine since before it was actually assembled.

Heuer and two friends drove to Lansing, Michigan in 1927 to purchase new cars. The Wolverine model for Heuer was not finished when they arrived. As he waited, he watched as workmen applied the heavy metal body to the chassis. When the assembling was completed, Heuer drove the approximately 300 mile trip back in 12 hours, averaging 25 m.p.h.

THE VEHICLE has the same paint today as it did when the Palatine farmer drove it from its birth place.

The Reo firm doesn't make automobiles anymore, just trucks, which prompts Heuer to quip: "they made them too good, they last too long."

Heuer, who dodges revealing his age by retorting simply that he was old enough to drive in 1912—when he owned a Model T Ford, must take much of the credit for the longevity of the car—and his other three vehicles.

FOR BESIDES owning the Reo, which he drives regularly, Heuer possesses a red, 1933 Diamond T ton and a half truck, a 1927 Model A Ford and a 1941 Pontiac—all of which are almost like new.

And Heuer does his own maintenance. Not once has any of the vehicles been in a garage for repairs.

Replacing parts hasn't seemed to bother the pioneer motorist. Once recently, a clutch went out and he was able to pick up the necessary part at an auto supply firm in Chicago.

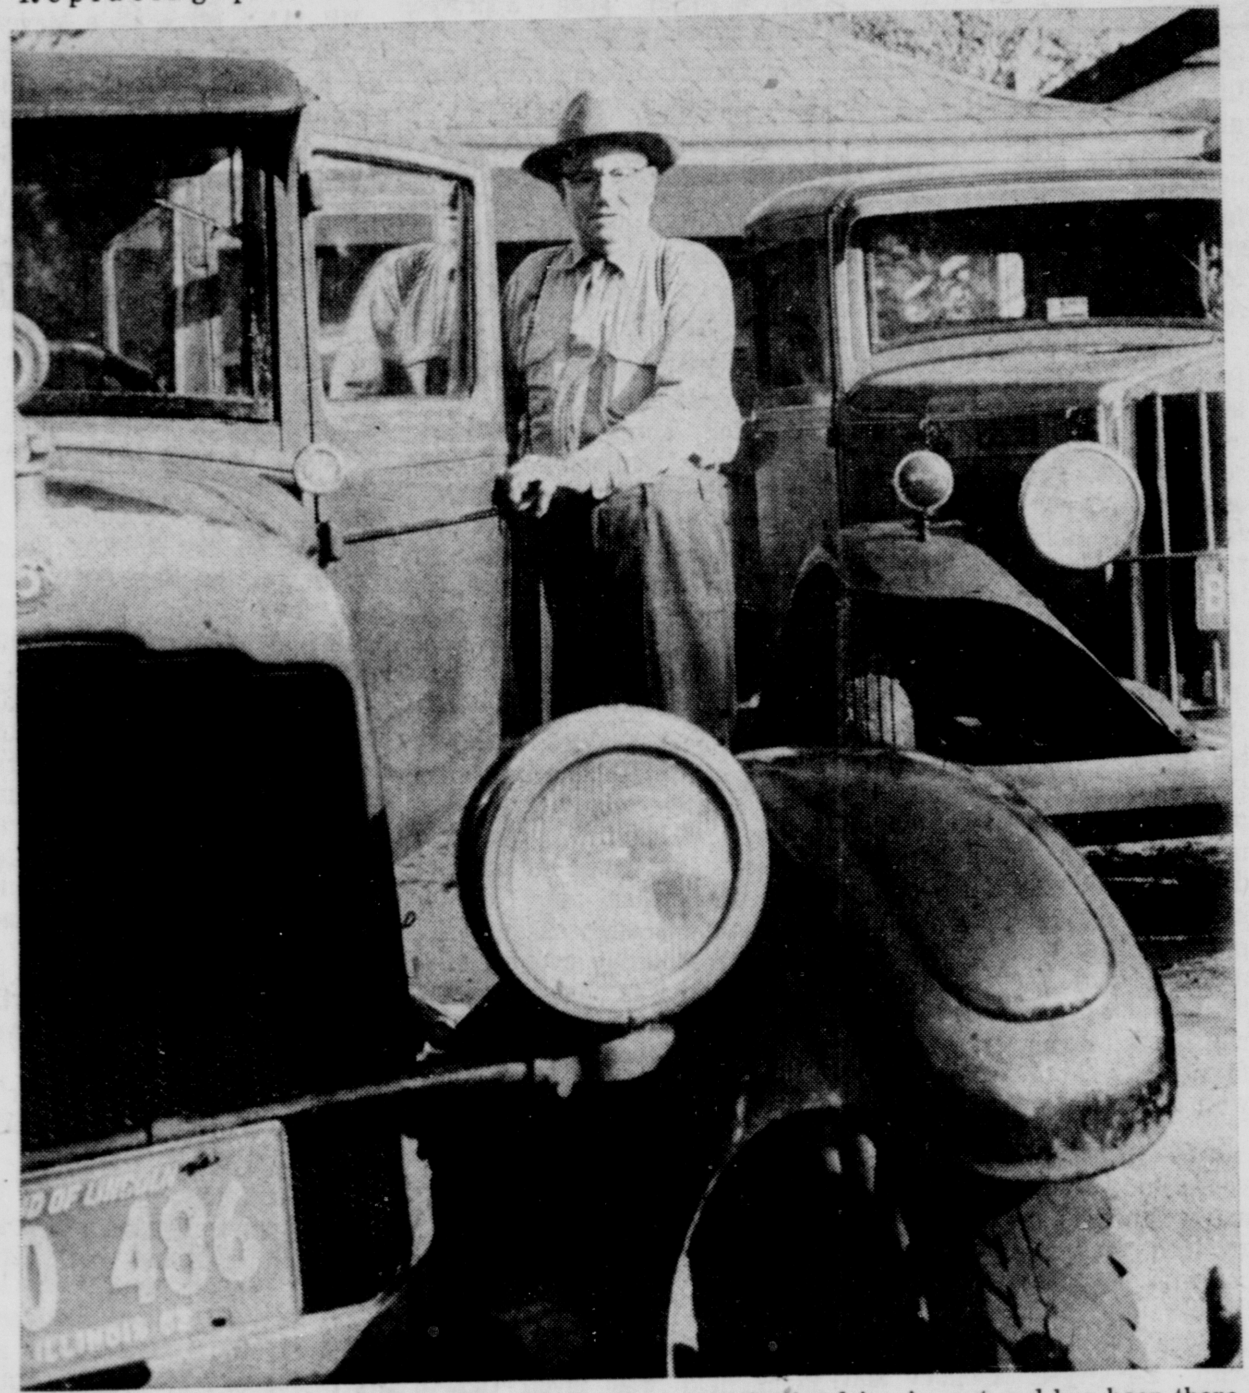
WHENEVER HEUER pulls into a parking stall, he generally becomes the topic of conversation. He constantly gets offers from auto enthusiasts who would like to purchase his equipment.

But, he smiles, "I don't want to sell."

The cars are almost as clean and as solid as when they were new.

The Reo, with its 25 horse power engine, has about 39,000 miles on it. The Model A Ford, which Heuer no longer drives, but which is in excellent condition, has about 75,000 miles.

Yet the Sunday car is the 1941 Pontiac. It is in better condition than most month old cars on the road today. "Each car did me good service," Heuer says. (B8



PROUD OWNER of four "like-new" vehicles is Fred Heuer, 18 W. Johnson St., Palatine. Heuer watched this 1927 Reo, left, proceed along the production line. When it came off he got in the driver's seat and has been there ever since. Car at right is a 1927 Ford. Heuer also has a 1933 Diamond T. Truck and a 1941 Pontiac. All are in operating condition.

Pancake Day Set For 'Y' Saturday

Aunt Jemima Pancake Day at the Northwest Suburban YMCA has been set for Saturday between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Continuous hot food service will be available during these hours in the Y's all-purpose room.

Live musical entertainment will be presented at half hour periods throughout the day.

MARILYN McCARTNEY

Talent will include participants from the Art Van Damme Studio and other local children with summer radio experience.

Tickets are available from members of the Women's Auxiliary and at the main desk at the Y.

THIS WEEK the YMCA radio interview show will broadcast "live" between 4:30 and 5 p.m. Featured guests will include the Des Plaines director of civil defense, Mrs. Gene Tarbert, who will discuss local civil defense plans.

Jack Callahan, staff announcer at WMAQ, will comment on the average citizen's participation in community affairs.

Of particular interest to the ladies will be an interview with William McCartney of the William Camlyn Cosmetics Co. and his wife, Marilyn, one of Chicago's top models. (B8

Delay Judo Opening by One Week

Arlington Heights Park District judo instruction has been delayed one week in order to get enough to hold the classes.

The starting date is now planned for Monday Oct. 22 at Recreation Park fieldhouse.

The course consists of eight one hour classes for $4. Fifth through eighth grade boys meet at 7 p.m., women and girls self-defense at 8 p.m., and men and high school boys at 9 p.m.

Persons are asked to call CL 3-0620 so that class sizes can be determined. (A

Kitchen Extension Phone

Old Mr. Boston
ENGLISH MARKET
DISTILLED DRY GIN

OLD Mr. BOSTON

YOU'RE MAKING A BIG MISTAKE IF YOU'RE NOT DRINKING 80 PROOF GIN!

If you think higher proof means higher quality — that's a mistake.

If you think you have to pay more money to get a better gin — that's a mistake.

If you think the gin most Englishmen drink is more than 80 proof — that's a mistake.

You should know, to begin with, that America is practically the only civilized country in the world that drinks high-proof gin. The British, who perfected gin, know that gin has an ideal taste and flavor balance, and they prefer it at milder, smoother 80 proof. Here's the whole story:

80 PROOF GIN TASTES BETTER
"Proof" is no measure of quality. It's a measure of alcohol content alone. (100 proof means 50% alcohol.) Alcohol itself has no flavor. The pleasant taste of gin comes entirely from the herbs with which it's distilled.

The best test of gin is to drink it straight or on-the-rocks. You'll find 80 proof gin has the big taste advantage of 80 proof mildness — with the same full flavor of higher proof gins.

80 PROOF GIN COSTS LESS
Gins are taxed by the U.S. on their proof or alcohol content, only. The lower the proof — the lower the taxes, and the lower the cost to you. When you buy an imported label, you add the cost of shipping and duties. That pushes the price even higher, without giving you 80 proof quality.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER MARTINIS
It makes them extra dry, as you like them, but not extra strong. Twenty years ago, the 3-to-1 Martini was standard. Today, with the trend to dryer Martinis, they're made 6-, 7-, even 8-to-1. As a result the modern Martini has climbed from a smooth 76.5 proof to an overwhelming 84 proof! Solution? Mix with 80 proof gin. It gives you the same full, dry gin flavor, but it returns the Martini to its original, more moderate proof.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER TALL DRINKS
When you mix a tall drink, like a collins or a gin 'n tonic, you dilute the strength of the gin "to taste." You also mix for balance of flavor. 80 proof gin will give you better balance. You don't have to drown it to drink it.

HOW TO MAKE DRY MARTINIS MAKE MORE SENSE

Using Standard 36 Proof Dry Vermouth	Using 90 Proof Dry Gin	Using 80 Proof Dry Gin (or Vodka)
3 — to — 1 (Traditional)	76.5 Proof	69.0 Proof
5 — to — 1 (Dry)	81.0 Proof	72.6 Proof
8 — to — 1 (Extra Dry)	84.0 Proof	75.1 Proof

(The "standard" proof for today's bottled Martinis is a moderate 67.5 proof!)

OLD MR. BOSTON IS THE FINEST GIN YOU CAN BUY
It's vacuum distilled at an unusually low temperature in special glass-lined stills. Only at such a low temperature, is it possible to capture the most delicate essence of the herbs. This is one reason for Old Mr. Boston's flavor distinction. It is America's first and largest-selling 80 proof Dry Gin!

Easy-Going Schedule Marks Indian Summer Activities

The local social pace slowed a little the past week, probably because of an Indian Summer so warm that everyone had spring fever. Weekend trips were invented for just this kind of weather and they were part of an easy-going schedule that prevailed temporarily in Arlington Heights.

Sidelights
Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

Former Arlington Heighters, the Robert Sweet family now of Springfield, came back for an "old home week" visit over the weekend. They were guests in the Earl Schmidt home, 724 S. Chestnut, and also enjoyed seeing other one-time neighbors Saturday and Sunday. Included in the weekend fun was Mrs. Schmidt's mother, Mrs. Beckman, who is here from Waco, Texas for an indefinite stay.

The Quentin Nagel family, 717 S. Chestnut, drove to Hobart, Ind., Sunday to spend the day with Mrs. Nagel's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Niksch, and they almost didn't get back. A gasoline-truck explosion and fire literally melted an overpass on Kingery expressway, an integral part of their route home.

HERE FOR THE weekend from Milwaukee were Mr. and Mrs. Nick Musich, guests of their son, Jack, and his family, 403 N. Chestnut. Puns, intentional or otherwise, are almost impossible to avoid in reporting on the Musichs since they are all music-lovers and Jack has been active with the barbershop quartet singers for several years.

The weekend schedule included, as it often does, the quartet of Musichs hearing a musical show that featured a barbershop quartet. The senior Mr. and Mrs. Musich have an October wedding anniversary, their 35th, and a dinner-out advance celebration with their son and his wife preceded the musical part of Saturday evening.

A locally popular visitor from South America, Vicente Vallejo of Cali, Colombia, left here yesterday after a 10-day visit with his daughter and her family, the Cornelius McShanes, 1008 W. Miner. Mr. Vallejo met many of his daughter's neighborhood friends during a visit here last year and he was enthusiastically welcomed by them when he returned early this month. He also made a few new friends. Most remarkable, handsome and captivating of them all was his grandson Dennis McShane, born Aug. 4.

During Vallejo's stay, neighbors of his daughter, the R. M. LeMeilleurs, welcomed Mrs. LeMeilleur's mother, Mrs. Margaret Cunningham of Houston and her brother, Fred of Greenville, Texas, and all were entertained at impromptu get-togethers in the neighborhood. Fred returned to Texas late last week and his mother will remain here for an extended visit.

SUNDAY the McShane family with Mr. Vallejo and the LeMeilleurs with Mrs. Cunningham were guests at a party for the visitors, given by Mrs. LeMeilleur's sister - in - law, Mrs. Ruth Cunningham of Palatine. With them were Cunningham family friends, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bizet and Betty, who will leave here soon for their winter home in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Otto, 204 N. Patton, hosted a pre-dance cocktail party for 10 Saturday night, then with their guests attended the Cotillion dance. Part two of the gala evening, an after - the - dance get - together, also found its way to 204 N. Patton.

Among other pre-Cotillion cocktail parties enjoyed by local couples Saturday night was the one given by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crise, 1010 N. Belmont, who entertained 20 Cotillion-member friends.

MR. AND MRS. Howard Lips, 711 N. Evergreen, the David Brookes, 315 S. Harvard, and the Jim Moores, 713 N. Evergreen, returned last Tuesday evening from a week in the Moores' summer cottage in a remote and especially scenic part of Minnesota, near Nevis. With them were Mrs. Moore's sister and brother-in-law, the Howard Mandelcoes of Chicago. They report good fishing and weather so fine that, like this autumn's color festival, existing words can't do it justice.

The Lips' daughters have all begun new phases in their future careers, Judy in a West Hartford, Conn. school where she's starting a teaching vocation; Sue as a freshman in the Grant Hospital School of Nursing in Chicago and Nancy in St. Luke-Presbyterian Hospital where she is a nurse-intern in her final year of study.

RECENT weekend visitors here were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lisec and children of Indianapolis. The family now includes O. T. Lisec III, a new-born son, who was baptized in the Faith Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights the Sunday of their visit here. A family celebration of the occasion was held after church in the home of the infant's grandparents, the Frank Leths, 503 S. Evergreen.

The party also included "Teddy's" namesake grandfather, O. T. Lisec Sr., and his great - grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. August Schulenberg, all of Arlington Heights.

A baby shower for Mrs. Richard Ellefsen was given last Friday evening by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Irving Ellefsen, 1221 S. Prairie, who was assisted by her sister, Mrs. Robert Michaelson. Sixteen friends and relatives gathered to shower the guest(s)-of-honor with baby gifts intended for use at 707 E. Lincoln early next month.

Mrs. Michaelson and her sister greeted their brother, Charles Simons, at O'Hare airport last Tuesday night, a little more than 12 hours after he disembarked from a troop ship in New York. Charles, just plain "mister" as of Tuesday morning, had been serving in France and the coming holidays will mark three years since the family last saw him. He is now with his parents in Long Lake.

BONNIE CLAUSING was 12-years-old a week ago today and celebrated the last of her pre-teen years with a slumber party in her home, 913 S. Vail. Bonnie and her four guests, Candice Gerts, Candice Luerssen, Beverly Mueller and Debby Harth, are students in St. Peter Lutheran School where there was no school next day because of a teachers' meeting.

It was therefore mutually agreed that to sleep would be a waste of time at the slumber party, so the quintet of gigglers didn't. They did nibble, giggle and play records, sometimes managing to do all three at once.

Sunday Bonnie received the good wishes of 12 local family members at a birthday dinner party in her home.

Kathy Joyce was 13 Oct. 13 and had — yep — 13 guests at her evening birthday party in the Joyce home, 42 N. Walnut. There were games, dancing and lots of teen - ager - approved birthday refreshments.

Another October birthday girl, Janice Muench, turned 12 Tuesday and had an after-school bowling party with a few girl friends. After-bowling refreshments in the Muench home, 124 S. Ridge, put a full and happy ending on the sprightly party.

THE PRE-NUPTIAL party whirl ended last Friday evening for autumn bride-elect, Miss Jane Bedingfield, daughter of the Victor Bedingfields, 612 N. Dunton. A surprise shower that evening was given by Mrs. Lawrence Slavik of Chicago, aunt of the groom-to-be, Ronald Stavoe of Fox River Grove.

Assisting Mrs. Slavik was Mrs. Eugene Cialone, a family friend of Crystal Lake. Thirty friends and relatives of the groom and his family gathered in the Slavik home to surprise Miss Bedingfield and shower her with miscellaneous gifts.

Last Wednesday evening Miss Bedingfield was honored by fellow Westgate School teachers and other school personnel at a successfully plotted surprise party in the home of Mrs. Allan Lawson, 233 S. Highland. Co-conspirators Mrs. Roger Lindskoog and Mrs. Peter Olberg assisted Mrs. Lawson and with their 25 guests, showered the bride-to-be with personal gifts.

THE FIRST shower for Miss Bedingfield was given Oct. 3 by Mrs. Robert C. Hey, 441 S. Highland, who was hostess to 15 friends of the bride and her family. The bride-to-be was notified of this gathering, the better to guarantee her coming, and she was amply surprised and delighted with an array of miscellaneous gifts.

Miss Bedingfield and Mr. Stavoe will be married Saturday and Rev. Birger Dahl, former pastor of the Arlington Heights Methodist Church, will come here from his present pastorate in Aurora to perform the ceremony. The wedding will be held in the sanctuary of the Evangelical Free Church, which served the Methodist congregation when Rev. Dahl was pastor here.

MR. AND MRS. Dale Meyer, 11 E. Miner, entertained im-911 E. Miner, entertained immediate family members Sunday in celebration of their first wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hirons, 1020 N. Chestnut, spent Sunday in Dubuque, where, on the Loras College campus, Parents Day festivities were planned by the students. Their son, Jerry, and several other young men arranged for a reunion dinner for their parents in a picturesque Swiss chalet, the highlight of the day's business.

Hedda Hopper told a local boy to get the hair out of his eyes, then lavishly praised his piano-playing at a GOP political rally in Medinah Temple a week ago Tuesday night. "Talented Teens" performer Kim Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmidt, 1221 N. Dunton, shared the entertainment spotlight with comedian Henny Youngman, Count Basie and his band and other talented teens.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Firth of Kansas City arrived in Arlington Heights Friday for a weekend visit with the former's sister and the family, the E. Allen Kovars, 431 S. Windsor.

Mr. Firth left Monday for a business trip to Mexico and Mrs. Firth will continue her visit here for another week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, 211 S. Stratford, entertained at a pre-concert buffet supper Sunday for 30 members of the Community Concert Association. Co-hosts with the Sullivans were Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Ewing and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Shuart.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kline, 114 S. Brighton, returned Saturday from a 3-week vacation in Europe, during which they motored through Germany, France and Italy. An interesting sidelight of their stay in Germany was attending the Oktober Fest, an annual celebration in Munich.

MR. AND MRS. George H. Jirgal, 428 S. Windsor, spent the weekend in Madison, Saturday. They joined Madison friends, including the Edward Ledwedges and the James Joyces, for dinner, after which they attended the Notre Dame-Wisconsin football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. R. Rogozinski, 1219 Woodford, entertained at a dinner party Saturday. Guests included the Robert Beckers, Paul Colianis, J. G. Johnsons and the Stephen Jurcos.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Carey, 103 S. Derbyshire, spent the past weekend in Minneapolis, where they joined long -time friends to attend the Minnesota Vikings-Chicago Bears football game.

Miss Barbara Hawkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hawkey, 310 S. Windsor, marked her 17th birthday Oct. 12 at a family dinner party.

Mrs. John W. Schaff, 515 E. Rockwell, gave an afternoon tea and farewell party last Thursday in honor of Mrs. Douglas Schinke, who will soon be moving to California. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Schaff were Mrs. Stephen Jurco and Mrs. Z. R. Rogozinski.

MR. AND MRS. Harry L. Wickstrom, 527 S. Dryden, and their two children recently flew to Nashville for a 3-day visit with Mr. Wickstrom's sister and family, the William DePriests.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hermes entertained Saturday at a cocktail party for 20 couples in their home, 717 Mayfair, before attending the Cotillion Club dinner dance at Inverness Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Housenecht, 510 Mayfair, and son, Billy, went to Milwaukee, Sunday for their annual dinner date with former Appleton, Wis. nieghbors, Mr. and Mrs. David Prosser and their son, Hugh.

MISS FRANCES McGrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGrath, 206 E. Rockwell came home for a surprise weekend visit from Ottumwa Heights College in Ottumwa, Iowa.

Miss Vicki Machin, a freshman at Bradley University in Peoria, came home for a weekend with her parents, the V. Machins, 534 S. Beverly.

It was Parents Day in several area schools and colleges over the weekend and among the Scharsdale residents attending were the Theodore W. Kleisners 602 E. Park. They spent Sunday at Loras College in Dubuque, where their eldest son, Ted, is a freshman. Included in the Parent's Day program was a buffet luncheon and reception, at which parents met members of the faculty and then a narrated river boat trip on the Mississippi.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Kleisner were their twin sons, Jack and Jim.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson, 645 S. Belmont, and their daughter, Ridgely, drove to Delafield, Wis., over the weekend to visit their son, Bruce, at St. John's Military Academy. A full program for the weekend included the dedication of Cord Hall, a new science building given by members of the Cord family, a football game and a banquet for the dads.

Bruce, a newcomer at the academy this fall, has become a member of the choir, and is pitcher for the soft ball team.

Other weekend visitors at St. John's Military Academy were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. George Scaeffer.

MR. AND MRS. Donald Strathearn, 720 Bristol, were in Brookfield, Wis., Sunday to attend the confirmation of their nephew, Greg Brown. Following the confirmation was a buffet supper at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Norman 634 S. Dryden, returned Friday from a week's business and pleasure trip to Toronto. Making the Park Royal hotel their headquarters, they explored points of interest and the city's many fine restaurants.

Mrs. Eldon P. Bacon of Glendale, Calif. is here visiting her niece and family, the William Werners, 415 S. Beverly, and her sister, Mrs. Daniel Kissam of Deerfield. (A

VIRGINIA TERRACE

October's bright blue weather unfolds as a welcome mat for several new Terrace residents. . .

Moving from Chicago's south side to 1114 N. Race are the Davies family, consisting of Edward and Carol, with daughter, Jean, 3½, and son, Todd, almost 2. Ed, sales finance director for Allstate Insurance at their home office in Skokie, enjoys hunting and fishing. While both enjoy bridge, Carol's pet home project is a 5-foot tile picture she is working on between moving - household - and-children - type chores.

A second welcome this week is a belated one, directed to Clayton and Beverly Bergdahl. They have been settled at 1426 N. Race for a month of so with Kathy, 5, in kindergarten at Patton School, Ricky, 3½, and Leslie Cricket, 1½. Although the Bergdahls are originally from Michigan, they moved here from Kokomo, when Clayton assumed his duties as merchandise manager at Shoppers World in Mount Prospect. Both the Bergdahls enjoy canasta, and Clayton emjoys skiing as a recreational pursuit, while Beverly is interested in dramatics and speech work. They have been attending the First Presbyterian Church in Arlington Heights.

RICKY, SON of Richard and Mary Soby, 1208 N. Chicago, recently celebrated his second birthday at a festive gathering complete with his aunt and neighbors.

Another family party was held in the Terrace on Oct. 12, when Laura, daughter of Joan and Frank Zaucha, 1409 N. Race, celebrated her third birthday.

Cathy and Bill Gunnison, Polly and George Herbert and Mary and Ray Funk recently joined forces for a night on the town, financed by their mutual (track) fund. After dinner at the Cape Cod Room in Chicago's Drake Hotel, they visited the Sahara Inn to see Patti Page.

A Saturday pizza-and-record-party was held last weekend on the occasion of Joyce Sadowski's 12th birthday. Hosted by her parents, Art and Jeanne, the guest list included Janet McGrath, Susan Rogers, Connie Kelehan, Mary Roth, Jo Anne Richardson and Patty Benson. The Sadowskis live at 1119 N. Wilke.

Last Wednesday John, son of Frank and Shirlee Pircher, 1330 N. Illinois, celebrated his second birthday with a luncheon attended by his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Rose Lay. Further social notes from the Pirchers report that son Frank had as his weekend guest a former Terrace playmate, Kenny Koser, now living in St. Charles. The boys enjoyed attending the Saturday matinee performance of "Robbers Three" at Miner Jr. High School.

THE COLORFUL Illinois countryside provided part of the reason Mina and Don Shields, 256 N. Race, and daughter, Susie, drove to Peoria last weekend. Visiting Mina's folks, the S. Cunifs, and her new niece, Robin Reinders, provided the rest of the incentive.

A "come-as-you-are" canasta was held last Thursday night in the home of Betty Cech, 1402 N. Chicago. Co-hosted by her neighbor Betty Sorensen, guests included former Terrace resident, June Visk, Joan Donath, Kay Mayer, Margaret Kneer, Jackie Kolinsky, Elnora Hubner, Giselle Poole, Jan Catherwood and Shirle Husted.

David and Donald, twin sons of Peggy and Bob MacMillan, 1220 N. Race, celebrated their second birthday last Tuesday with a family dinner attended by their grandparents, the Paul Wards of Milwaukee. A second celebration was held on Saturday, when their godmother, Miss Nancy Morgan of Milwaukee, attended a celebration dinner.

LAST WEEK Helen and Virgil Marienau, 1334 N. Illinois, returned from four days at Lake Lawn Lodge in Delavan, Wisc., where they spent their holiday swimming, golfing and loafing with longtime friends, Mr. and Mrs. Les Hengesch of Park Ridge. Shortly after their return son Dan was feted on the occasion of his 16th birthday with a family party attended by his grandparents, among other relatives.

Saturday afternoon Michael son of Charles and Diane Moser, 1418 N. Illinois, was feted on his ninth birthday. Party guests included John and Jamie Reinhardt, Eddie Liester, Mike Mullins, John and Francis Lilly and his cousin, "Spike" Kane of Wheeling.

The Illini annual homecoming game at Champaign was the destination for two Terrace alumni, Dorothy and Chuck Catlin, 1609 W. Olive, last weekend. Following the game, where the Catlins bravely watched Ohio State romp over their home team, they joined five other couples for a cider-and-doughnut - klatsch at the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity House.

Christine Adele, daughter of Jim and Janice Murphy, 1326 N. Chicago, was christened last Sunday afternoon in St. Matthew Roman Catholic Church by her godparents, Miss Arleen Zanetto of Melrose Park and Richard Pinkos of Mount Prospect, both of whom gave the day an unexpected collegiate air when they finished their celebration-dinner at Ray Ratigan's Restaurant in Kenosha and had to return to their respective campuses at Marquette and Northwestern.

A SIXTH BIRTHDAY party was held last Saturday afternoon in honor of Bobby, son of William and Lorraine Ninneman, 1212 N. Chicago. Guests enjoying the circus theme included Mike Herbert, Scott Narup, Nicky Caprara, John Noon, Greg Schafer and John Barbey of Palatine and two school friends.

Guests from Anderson, Ind., visiting Bob and Brenda Crawford, 1309 N. Chicago, last weekend were Brenda's brother and wife, the Jack Lopps. They drove up to see how the newcomer Crawfords had settled in their new Terrace home.

More out-of-town guests were Terrace-based last weekend when Fritz, son of Hugh and Phyllis Bredenbeck, 1706 W. Oakton, celebrated his third birthday. On hand were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bredenbeck of Cleveland, and two uncles, Ronald and Bill Johnson of Lindstrom, Minn.

When Steve, son of Phil and Dolores Bracht, 1337 N. Wilke, celebrated his fourth birthday last Tuesday, he included his nursery school friends in his gingerbread man treat, followed by a birthday luncheon at home with his playmate, Wayne Herndon.

More birthday news last Saturday when Andrea, daughter of Robert and Lorraine Twilling, 1227 N. Illinois, celebrated at home with a family party.

THE TERRACE bade farewell this week to Gary and Darlene Lichtblau who, with son, Kurt, left 1239 N. Illinois for Huntington, Long Island, N. Y.

Another group of youngsters who saw the production of "Robbers Three" were the birthday guests of Johnny, son of Paulin and John Noerenberg. 1235 N. Race, who was 11. Guests were Jimmy Gumz, Fritz Cotsakis, Bob Gunnison, George Herbert and Bob and Ronald Dolejs. Sunday Johnny was guest of honor at a family dinner party. Included were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lazuras Andrew, and his aunts and uncles, the Peter Christys and the Gus Andrews, all of Milwaukee, in addition to his great-uncle, Jim Andreou of New York City, with his godfather, Tom Fisekis of Chicago.

The beautiful weather prompted Vaneta and Ray Kellogg, 1341 N. Wilke, to host Jean's 10th birthday party at Deer Grove. Picnic guests included her brother, Whitney, Rhonda Hamza, Jackie and Jenny Rolfefson and Marcia Liester.

Saturday afternoon Roxanne, daughter of Bud and Marva Kuhl, 1518 N. Clarendon, celebrated her ninth birthday. Guests were Dawn Dolejs, Vicki and Kathy Schmidt, Loni Larson and some school friends.

Thursday evening William Neal, son of Dick and Ruth Randle, 1448 N. Yale, was feted on the occasion of his first birthday by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Randle of Chicago, plus his aunt and cousins, Mrs. Delores Woods, Maureen and Eva of Meadowdale. (A

HASBROOK HAPPENINGS

If the news this week seems a bit "racey," it's because it was compiled while your correspondent, husband, Jack, daughter, Lise, and Chief, the Staffordshire Terrier, made a flying trip via the turnpikes to Buffalo. En route the car's gas gauge developed the nasty habit of dropping, suddenly, from half-full to empty. This can be mightily disconcerting at 4 a.m. on a lonely road, even though you are quite certain there's still gasoline in the tank. Nothing else spectacular to report except that Western New York is much cooler than Illinois; there's a bumper crop of purple grapes hanging heavily on the hillside vineyards; throughway traffic is much lighter, and everywhere you look, the coloring is breathtaking.

Donna Ward, 1536 N. Kaspar, was 3 Oct. 12. Her Columbus Day birthday party guests were her brother, Greg, maternal grandmother, Mrs. R. B. Weaver of Niles, great grandmother, Mrs. J. Dorgan, Aunt "M" Moran, Aunt Jan Weaver and cousins, Bob, Kathy and John Weaver. Non-family guests were Val Zulli, Tom and Susan Taylor, Joyce Norman, Marianne Ohrstrom, Chip Hartigan, Jena Wittmeyer and Tim and Tom Blassey.

Another celebration, this time in the form of a dinner party from the paternal side of the family included her grandmother, Mrs. G. Ward, aunts and uncles, Joan Ward, Mike Ward, Katherine and Andy, and cousins, Karen, Andrea, John and Susan.

TED SHIELDS, 1536 Patton, celebrated his first birthday Sept. 21 with his parents, Anita and Allan.

Robbie Hetherington, son of Bob and Joan, 1540 Patton, had a fourth birthday party Sept. 28. His sister, Jennie, Steve Leonard, Sandy Williams, John Walsh, Jimmy Jassack, and Jody Haupt helped him dispose of cake and ice cream.

Kathy Walsh, 1542 N. Patton, daughter of Bob and Jane, celebrated her ninth birthday at a family party on Sept. 26. Then the following Friday she was guest of honor for "hamburgers with the works" dinner at Rapp's Restaurant. Four chums were there to celebrate with her.

Tom Nolan's fourth birthday party was held Oct. 7. On his guest list were Jimmy Ryan, Theresa Melroy, Bobby O'.. Brien, Beth Barratt, Matthew Kelly, Jami Ruggeri, Susan Slattery, Darrell Koelper, Julie Simpson, Nancy MacKimon and Jean and John Papineau. The gift that received the most "play" was Tom's new punching bag. The Nolans live at 821 Lynwood.

ANOTHER birthday party honored Theresa Melroy, 905 Lynwood, also 4. Her guests were Jimmy Ryan, Darrell and Jody Koelper, Beth Barratt, Tom Nolan and sister, Margaret Melroy.

Lorry and Don Christiansen recently drove to Escanaba, Mich., for a long weekend with relatives.

Don and Beverly Botefuhr, 1732 N. Walnut, celebrated their eighth wedding anniversary Oct. 9.

Lorraine Jassack, 1538 Patton, and her children, Jimmy and Nancy, are in Baltimore, Md., spending two weeks with Lorraine's brother, Richard Bigott and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kershner of Ironwood, Mich., were houseguests of their daughter, Jane, and son-in-law, Bob Walsh. Jane's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hubrich, Shorewood, Wis., drove down for a weekend visit with the rest of the family.

Carl and Pat Pasquale, 1805 N. Walnut, enjoyed a weekend in Beloit recently. They attended the 25th wedding anniversary party of friends.

Chairmen Ken and Judy Busse are busy with last minute preparations for the H.C.A.'s Nov. 3 dinner dance. Dubbed "Fall Fantasy - Internationale," it will be held at the International Motor Hotel.

Arlington Greens

The women's bridge group sponsored by the Arlington Greens Community Association met in the home of Mrs. A. J. Tomaso, 635 E. Clarendon, last Thursday evening. Top three scorers were Helen Burns, 3990; Mary McShane, 3950; and Ann McLean, 3450. Guest players for the evening were Dot Kalkhoff and Muriel Lett.

Names of the five families to receive turkeys this year were announced at the last meeting of the association. They are the Richard Evens, Robert Foremans, George Olsons, Ken Jahnkes and the Warren Grans.

Mrs. John Coward, 1142 N. Dryden, hosted members of her bridge group last Tuesday evening.

On Thursday Mrs. Coward joined the group of 100 former and present employees of C. & E. I. at a dinner party on Chicago's far south side. She was an overnight guest in the home of Mrs. Harry Brown in Brookfield.

THE OCTOBER meeting of the Pine Court Canasta Club was hosted by Mrs. Robert Foreman, 1111 N. Pine Court, last Wednesday evening. Taking home the prizes for the evening's efforts were Lil Woehlck and Sylvia Damiano.

Mrs. George Mahoney, 819 E. Olive, travelled by train to Ada, Okla. to visit her mother, Mrs. Ada Hemler. Her return home last Sunday evening ended the week's trip.

The Al Puccetti family, 1105 N. Douglas, motored downstate to Hillsboro for a weekend visit with the grandmother, Mrs. Johanna Puccetti, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mundell, 1123 N. Beverly Lane, hosted a dinner party last Saturday evening for the Ken Jennings, Don Schreiners and the George Robys.

THE MELVIN Weeg family, 1125 N. Beverly Lane, motored to Whitewater, Wis. for a Sunday visit with the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Weeg.

Madison, Wis. was where Mr. and Mrs. Olen Culpepper, 1112 N. Beverly Lane, enjoyed a weekend visit with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hines of Chicago. The foursome attended the Wisconsin-Notre Dame game.

Bruce Haldeman, 716 E .Oakton, joined 12 fellow employees last Thursday on a motor trip to Bull Shoals, Ark. Their 5-day stay at the fishing lodge ended early this week.

Tim Nagel, 1439 N. Hickory, celebrated his 10th birthday Oct. 7 with a family party. Joining them for the birthday cake and ice cream were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kostelny of Chicago, and the Mel Stiers, aunt and uncle, also of Hickory Meadows.

WEEKEND GUEST of Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, 901 E. Thomas, was Mrs. Lewis Lloyd of Oak Hill, Ohio, who is visiting relatives in the area.

Among the models at the Hairdressers Association luncheon and fashion show on Monday at Villa Venice were Mrs. Stew Sage, 700 E. Oakton, Mrs. Ray Thorsen, 661 E. Clarendon, and Mrs. Walford Lewis, 801 E. Thomas Street.

Meeting of the Canasta Club sponsored by the Hickory Meadows Civic Association was postponed and will be held Oct. 24. Ladies interested in participating are invited to call Mrs. Delores Schoville, hostess for this gathering. (A

Eastwood Events

His whole second grade class at Windsor School shared in Ken Behm's birthday party Saturday. All 25 of his classmates had a wonderful afternoon out at Arcadia Farms enjoying a hot-dog luncheon followed by pony rides. The party was a belated one since Kenny's actual birthdate is Aug. 26, but he chose to delay celebrating until his classmates could join in. Ken's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Behm, 202 N. Lincoln Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mell have been taking advantage of the Indian summer weather to visit nearby friends and relatives. Recently they weekended in Niles, Mich., and this past week they visited with Mrs. Mell's mother in Danville.

House guest in the Mell home is Miss Erna Petersen. Miss Petersen's profession as a cosmetician takes her all about the country and she returns home for vacations. At the present time she is employed at Randhurst, and while Chicago is her home, the Mells' hospitality and their proximity to Randhurst outweighed the adage of "no place like home." Miss Petersen and her profession were featured in a Tribune article in last Monday's newspaper.

TRIPLE BIRTHDAYS in Mrs. Stewart Schultz' family furnished the occasion this past weekend for a family get-together. On consecutive days—Oct. 16, 17, 18—her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Pamperien, and her nephew, Christopher Yoder, celebrate their birthdays, but since Chris is 13 and school is more important than parties just now, the affair was held Saturday in the Pamperien home in LaGrange. Pam's sister, Mrs. O. B. Yoder and Chris, who had come from their home in Davenport for the event, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Schultz at 211 N. Lincoln Lane.

On their way to St. John's Episcopal Church a week ago Sunday Mrs. Bruce McBride and her daughters, Cassandra and Kathleen, were in an auto accident at the corner of Miner and Prindle. While their car was a total loss, fortunately, the girls just suffered bad bruises and are completely recovered. Mrs. McBride's injuries were a bit more serious and she is still convalescing from an injured neck and pulled muscles. Best wishes are sent to her for a fast recovery.

While new neighbors, the D. L. Sweeney family at 603 E. Euclid Ave. are new to the Eastwood area, they are not strangers to Arlington Heights, having lived for the past 2½ years in the countryside just outside the village limits. Mr. Sweeney served as president of the Arlington Heights Jaycees last year. The four youngsters in the Sweeney household are David, Bruce and Barbara, who attend Miner School and Christie, a student at Windsor School.

LAST SATURDAY the Sweeneys met many of their immediate Douglas Avenue neighbors at a coffee given by Mrs. Pate Hutchens of 610 N. Douglas.

Mr. Carlman of 311 N. Lincoln Lane, who was in Ottawa, Canada on business last week, returned home in time to attend the birthday celebration of his neighbor, Bill Kasper, Saturday night. The celebrating took place at the Kasper residence, and besides the Carlmans, Mr. and Mrs. George Brinke were guests for the evening of cards and refreshments.

Caroline Neas, a freshman at the University of Illinois is finding college life thrilling and exciting. A week ago Wednesday she was pledged into Delta Zeta sorority, and she is working in the makeup crew of "JB" which will be given at the university next month.

Congratulations are extended to Dennis Fitz-Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Fitz-Patrick, 319 N. Beverly Lane, who was named as a candidate for Arlington homecoming king at a presentation assembly Tuesday morning at Arlington High School. (A

Q. Since I have just broken my engagement, what do I do about gifts that I have received from friends and relatives? Should I return them, and explain the reasons for breaking my engagement?

A. You may return the gifts, but it is not at all necessary to explain your broken engagement. Simply say it has been ended by mutual consent.

Q. Is it considered a mark of delicacy or propriety to leave a little food on your plate at the end of a meal?

A. At one time this was thought the right thing to do—but now it's considered sheer waste. We do not leave food on our plates unless we really cannot eat it. It is, however, polite to leave something on the serving platter, since someone else might possibly want another helping.

N.W. Suburb Program

War and Peace Issues To be Aired by Panel

The morality of war and how political parties would achieve world peace are the dual topics to be aired in a panel discussion set for this coming Sunday night in the Arlington High School Little Theatre.

The program will begin at 8 p.m., and will be divided into two parts. The first portion of the program will be a panel discussion between representatives of the Republican and Democratic parties and Voters for Peace on "How would your party approach international tensions and the achievement of world peace."

MODERATING the panel will be the Rev. Dr. Martin E. Marty, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Holy Spirit in Elk Grove Village. Rev. Marty, an author and associate editor of the Christian Century magazine, was recently selected by Life magazine as one of the 100 outstanding young men in the nation.

A second panel discussion on the "Morality of Nuclear Testing and War" will be participated in by three clergymen, and the first panel will be invited to contribute to this portion of the program.

Joining Rev. Marty in the first 45 minutes of the program will be Tyler Thompson, state chairman of the American Civil Liberties Union who will represent the Democratic party; Edward B. Simon, Republican candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction for Cook County; and Richard Mandel, an attorney and former vice chairman of the Chicago Human Relations Commission, who will voice the opinions of Voters for Peace.

Thompson, a professor of philosophy of religion at the Garrett Theological Seminary at Northwestern University, ran for Congress against Congresswoman Marguerite Stitt Church, R-Evanston. Simon, who is opposing incumbent Cook County School Superintendent Nobel J. Puffer, is a resident of Evanston.

Sponsoring the program is the Northwest Suburban Citizens Organization, cooperating with Turn Toward Peace (TTP).

PANELISTS FOR the second part of the discussion are Rev. William McGill, executive director of the Chicago Lighthouse for the Blind and former pastor of the Community Presbyterian Church of Wheeling; Rabbi Hillel Gamoran of the Beth Tikvah Congregation in Elk Grove and Hoffman Estates; Rev. Robert Klepper of the Prospect Heights Community Church, and Rev. Marty.

The first part of the program will include an opening five to seven-minute statement by political party representatives, followed by a 20 to 30-minute discussion among the participants.

The second part of the program will begin with questions directed by the moderator to the clergymen. (A

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM RIDGE PARK

Dad's day at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., will find William Hannum driving down to enjoy the weekend with Mark, now a freshman. With Jim taking part in homecoming activities here, Mrs. Hannum has decided to stay and settle back into routine. She's been gone for three weeks, visiting her father in Sioux Falls, S. D., and reports that he is much improved. The Hannums live at 1020 N. Fernandez.

Two second grade classes at Ridge School enjoyed treats Monday as twins Sharen and Karen, daughters of the Lenn Sundquists, 807 N. Fernandez, became 7. Sharen took hers to Miss Dixon's room and Karen to Mrs. Fuller's. For the Sundquists, the birthday was only the latest in a series. The twins' grandfather, Harold Sundquist of Chicago, shares their birthday, and they joined him there for a family party. Sunday the girls, Corrine and Ricky traveled to Silver Lake, Wis., for the birthday of their other grandfather, Arthur Behnke. Mrs. Sundquist also joined birthday festivities, as hers was the 12th.

VISITORS AT the Warren Johnston home, 728 N. Fernandez, this weekend included Mrs. Johnston's mother and sister, Mrs. Doris Havener and Miss Betty Havener. Mr. Johnston's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Deal of DePue, also joined the family get-together.

A choo choo train cake highlighted birthday celebrations for Larry Kay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kay, 1008 N. Kaspar. Larry, who carried treats to Mrs. Kinney's room Tuesday on his actual birthday, began his partying the previous Saturday, when Cary Howes, Steve Snap, Rebecca Petersen, Debby Wiegel, Laura Sylvester, Colleen Jones, Bruce Reiter and Stevie and Margie Kay joined him for cake and games. Sunday relatives gathered for supper to honor him. Present were Larry's great grandmother, Mrs. Frances Piner, and grandparents, the Anthony Piners, all of Algonquin, his other grandmother, Mrs. Monica Kay of Chicago, and aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Charles Piner of Meadowdale.

Ridge Park bridge players are needed. Another couple to replace one soon to move is wanted for a once-a-month get-together. Mrs. Ed Law, 824 N. Salem, hopes any interested couple will contact her at CL 5-4290.

THE LAWS recently visited their son, Ralph, now a freshman at Northern Illinois, DeKalb. Friday Ralph came home to pick up several friends. They drove back Saturday to watch former AHS star Bork in football at NI's homecoming game, arriving in time for Ralph to participate in Saturday's cross-country meet with three schools. Ralph has now won his letter in cross country. He returned to Arlington Saturday evening, with his dad driving him back to school the next day.

Family reunions have kept Mrs. Arthur Hughes, 647 N. Kaspar, busy. Returning home in time for Dee Dee's coming birthday, she spent a week and a half in Eau Claire with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Lawrence. She brought the Hughes' older daughter, Carolyn, home for a 5-day visit. Carolyn, who attends high school in Eau Claire, returned Sunday. The Lawrences joined Betty's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Papenfus of Sheboygan, here recently for a short visit.

Neighborhood children from Ridge Park and Winston Park will join a backyard birthday celebration Friday for Christopher Bone, son of the David Bones, 704 N. Salem. Christopher, who's been counting fingers and toes till his sixth birthday, plans to try out the games he's learning in first grade. With the homecoming parade across the street, he's expecting an exciting day. Susan, Paul, David and Lisa Christine of Palatine will attend, giving the latest reports on the number of bricks laid so far on the Bones' new home. Still ahead for Dave and Jan in one wild day next week are a wedding anniversary, third son's birthday and the cat's birthday—all celebrated the same day.

NEWCOMERS to Ridge Park are the W. John Rowe family, now living at 1111 W. Oakton. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe, Cathy, 11, and Tom, 8, moved from Evanston into the former Robert Hoffman home. The Hoffmans are living on the south side of town while waiting for their new home to be completed. Mr. Rowe is the new assistant principal at Arlington High School.

Political meetings have kept Mrs. Herbert Koeneman busy. Tuesday she attended a luncheon for candidates, last week the 13th district candidates were honored at another luncheon, and Saturday she plans to attend a dinner with her husband.

Illness kept David Hugg, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Hugg, 1007 N. Chicago, home on his eighth birthday last Thursday. He returned to school this week, though, recovered from tonsillitis. David and his family are looking forward to their proposed birthday treat excursion to the Museum of Science and Industry. Also ahead for them is a visit from Mrs. Hugg's brother and family. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fox and their new baby, Chip, are expected shortly. They're moving from Minneapolis to the East, and will stay with the Huggs en route.

Hostess at an Indian Summer coffee and small get-together Monday was Liz Oertel, 708 N Salem. Among her guests were Joanie Oertel, Julia Thompson, Jan Bone, Delores Niell, Virginia Bartik, Peggy Cooper, Nancy Miller and one of Mrs. Miller's friends, both of Highwood. (A

PARENT TEACHER NEWS

MINER

Panel members from the math department will head the Oct. 23 PTA meeting. Following their discussion, there will be a "live" student demonstration showing principles in practice. Teachers will answer questions on the "new math" during the coffee hour.

School Principal C. F. Raasch will introduce the staff and refreshments will be served by mothers of Sections 7-4, 7-5, 7-6 and 7-7.

Miner PTA will have a skate and boot sale Oct. 27 from 10 a.m. until noon. Boots and skates for the sale are to be brought to the school Thursday, Oct. 25 and Friday, Oct. 26, from 8 to 9 a.m. All articles are to be marked plainly with name, address and price expected. The PTA keeps 2 per cent of each sale and the balance will be set aside for each "seller," to be picked up by 1 p.m. that afternoon.

Miner Bundle Days will be Oct. 18 and 19. All usable, clean clothing should be brought to the school and will be given to the needy children in America and around the world.

October is PTA membership month and a membership representatives will be on hand to take new memberships at the October meeting.

Dick Peterson, Judi Murray Top Qualifying Action

Qualifying rounds in the Northwest Suburban BPA Individual Match Game and All-Star Elimination tournament were concluded last week at Bud Miller's Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling.

Dick Peterson of Lake Forest Bowling Lanes led the men with a hefty 1682 total and Judi Murray of the Bowlarium in North Chicago paced the women with an 811.

Semi-final rounds will be held this weekend, Oct. 20-21, at Jeffery Lanes. The top 32 men will shoot another eight games Saturday evening starting at 7 o'clock.

AFTER THESE games the top 16 will return Sunday at 3:30 p.m. for another eight games. The top eight then will qualify for the finals to be held the following weekend.

In the women's division the 16 leaders will shoot six games on Saturday starting at 4:15 p.m. with the top eight returning Sunday at 1 p.m. for another six games. The four leaders after these games will roll in the finals on the following weekend.

Area qualifiers in the men's division include Chuck Gibson of Jeffery Lanes (1635), Bill Radunz of Arlington Lanes (1609), Bili Harris of Jeffery Lanes (1608), John Randolph of Casares Pro Bowl (1603), Cas Dewitz of Pro Bowl (1568), and Warren Olson of Gunnell's Lanes (1563).

Winnie Lohse (728) and Vi Douglas (712) of Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine are the only women qualifiers from the Paddock Publications area.

Q. My husband and I dine out with another couple occasionally, and neither of the men likes to dance. Would it be all right for me and the other woman to dance together?

A. Teenaged girls may do this, but not mature, married women!

Report by Director

Tell Progress of Hospital Council In Chicago Area

More than 300 hospital administrators, and supporters, community leaders, commercial and industrial heads and members of the press last week heard Dr. Karl S. Klicka, executive director, report on the activities and progress of the Hospital Planning Council for Metropolitan Chicago.

The report came at the annual meeting of the group.

The council is a non-profit corporation composed of leading business, health and charitable organizations. Organized four years ago, the council seeks to achieve an integrated, adequate and efficient hospital system in the Metropolitan Chicago area.

THE COUNCIL actively works to achieve needed hospital facilities where a shortage is verified by research studies, and attempts to discourage unneeded hospital development where adequate hospital facilities are available.

During the past four years the council has reviewed 87 proposals from existing hospitals involving plans for expansion, renovation, abandonment or relocation. A total of 54 programs advocating the establishment of new hospitals has been studied.

In his report, Dr. Klicka called attention to a new development in the field of hospital expansion. This is a procedure by which hospitals that are in fact profit-making are made to appear as if they are voluntary and charitable institutions.

HE STATED that this pseudo-voluntary type of hospital organization is so insidious in its operation and has such serious disadvantages for the community, a full disclosure of its dangers is imperative.

Dr. Klicka listed the following serious faults of the pseudo-voluntary type of hospital:

1. The profit nature of the hospital is hidden and the community is led into believing that the primary motivation is community service rather than personal gain.

2. The quality of medical care suffers in pseudo-voluntary hospitals.

3. ERECTION OF proprietary pseudo-voluntary hospitals deprive a community of the opportunity to obtain Hill-Burton Grants for the construction of genuine not-for-profit hospitals.

4. Emphasis on profit rather than community service, leads to inadequate facilities and minimum rather than maximum standards. The profit incentive leads to lack of proper staffing.

Last week, Dr. Klicka spoke before the Barrington Rotary Club on the problem of pseudo-voluntary hospitals. A new hospital has been proposed in the Palatine-Barrington area which may fit into this category.

DR. KLICKA did not discuss the new hospital, but reminded the Rotarians that both Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights and Sherman Hospital in Elgin had major expansion programs underway. He noted that added facilities could be expected soon at St. Joseph Hospital, Elgin.

The Northbrook Village board last week, as a direct result of testimony given by Dr. Klicka, turned down a pseudo-voluntary hospital request for rezoning and a special use permit.

At the annual meeting Dr. Klicka noted that the council had encouraged 54 hospitals to proceed with their plans for expansion, relocation or renovation of the 87 proposals submitted.

OF THE 54 programs for new hospitals, 18 were for voluntary non-profit hospitals and 36 were for proprietary hospitals. The council endorsed seven of the programs for new voluntary hospitals and discouraged nine of the proposals. Presently, two of the proposals continue under study, he said.

The Hospital Planning Council opposed 32 of the 36 proposals for new proprietary hospitals. The construction of these new hospitals was not recommended, either because their beds were not needed or they did not meet the criteria established by the council for hospitals in the metropolitan Chicago area. Fall Production

Arlington Dramatists In 'Ring Round Moon'

Arlington High School dramatists are aiming a second "moon shot" at their audience when the fall play is staged Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings, Nov. 1-3.

The performances will mark the second time Director Douglas K. Murphy has offered Jean Anouilh's "Ring Round the Moon" at Arlington.

It wasn't because the first shot missed, Murphy points out. Actually his group will be trying to duplicate the "hit" made when the play was presented in April, 1957.

Murphy feels the play is worth repeating.

BESIDES THE challenge of 11 large roles, the comedy, adapted by Christopher Fry, represents what Murphy considers "the best drama being written today."

The play, which has been described as a "charade with music" because all but the opening of the play takes place at an elaborate ball, has a 1912 setting and features extremely wealthy French characters.

A sort of Pygmalion plot is set in motion when Hugo, one of a set of twins portrayed by senior Charles Vlcek, invites a beautiful but naive commoner to his country estate in order to peeve the wealthy ladies.

"THERE'S NOT a straight character in the play, no all-knowing individual with a realistic view of life," Murphy informs. "Even the beautiful guest, Isabelle, is convinced that wealth is synonymous with happiness and acts a part in order to woo her wealthy host."

Murphy points out that while Anouilh definitely has a message in his play, it isn't necessary to "get" it in order to enjoy "Ring Round the Moon."

Most of the play's humor is a result of the underlying ideas, as developed through dialogue and situation. "Although some of the play's action hints at seriousness, Anouilh never strays from humor," Murphy adds.

CHRISTOPHER Fry's adaptation, first presented in London in 1950, has, through language, made the original gayer and lighter, according to Murphy.

Cast members are Charles Vlcek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vlcek, 832 N. Salem (Hugo and Frederic); Lynne Broderick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Broderick, 610 S. Belmont (Isabelle); Suzanne Katovich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Katovich, 728 N. Dunton (Madame Desmermortes).

Others are Mary Jane Heberling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Heberling, 819 W. Fairview (Capulet); Charles King, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold King, 350 S. Burton Place; Richard Hawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robret C. Hawley, 45 S. Ridge; and Marti Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Watson, 3202 St. James, Rolling Meadows.

JANE SAUER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Sauer, 1215 Watling Rd.; Claude La Rose Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude La Rose Sr., 611 E. Grove; Georganne Sedor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Sedor, 909 N. Walnut; and Donald DePollo, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. DePollo.

Carol Auer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Auer, 740 S. Evergreen; Jan Unander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Unander, 824 S. Vail; Jim Kendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Kendrick, 921 S. Beverly; and Bill Simon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Simon, 1701 N. Rand.

EMPHASIZING A POINT with a gesture is Judge George L. Quilici of Cook County Superior Court who recently addressed a meeting of Wheeling Township Regular Democratic Organization at the headquarters in Arlington Heights. Judge Quilici is a Democratic candidate in the Nov. 6 election. (ACM

Republican Club Bylaws To Be Topic

The Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club will hold its monthly meeting tonight, Thursday, at the VFW Hall, Yale Avenue and Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, at 8 p.m.

The meeting will be devoted to revision of present bylaws.

Mrs. Frank Kolerus, president, stresses the need of volunteers for poll watchers and challengers for the coming Nov. 6 election.

Anyone wishing to help in this undertaking is asked to contact her at CL 5-0629.

THE CLUB, in cooperation with other Wheeling GOP organizations, is presenting Candidates' Night at the Prospect High School Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Raymond Stevenson, program committee chairman, announces that the main speaker of the evening will be U.S. Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen.

Republican candidates for federal, state, and county offices will be introduced at the rally. (ACM

Open House Slated For Parents Here

An open house for parents of Arlington High students to meet with the teachers and learn about the curriculum has been so well attended in the past that the executive board of the Teacher-Parent Council has arranged for two separate sessions, according to Charles Ewart, information officer.

Thursday, Oct. 25, the parents of juniors and seniors will attend Open House, at 8 p.m., in the boys' gym. The first meeting was held Oct. 17, for the parents of freshmen and sophomores.

Bruno W. Waara, new principal of Arlington High School, indicated that he hoped as many parents as possible would attend these open houses. He stated that the faculty felt that a better job of getting acquainted could be accomplished by having two separate sessions.

THE OPEN house begins with a short meeting of all members in the boys' gym. The entrance is on N. Ridge Ave. All parents of students at Arlington are automatically made members of the Teacher-Parent Council.

Beginning at 8:15 p.m., parents will follow the daily schedule of their son or daughter. They will visit the same classrooms and hear the teacher outline the scope and objective of each course.

The student's day — for parents only — is finished in one hour and twenty-three minutes, at 9:38 p.m. Parents and teachers then meet in the school cafeteria for refreshments.

HERE, THE teachers remain in specially marked sections so that each parent can easily find the instructors by department.

The Faculty welcomes this opportunity to discuss the progess of each student in a private interview, according to Waara.

Parents should obtain the daily schedule, including room numbers, from their son or daughter and bring it to the Open House.

Bells for the first class will ring promptly at the end of the opening session at 8 p.m.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is it still considered proper for a man to ask permission to smoke when he is with a group of women who he knows do not smoke?

A. Yes, this is still the courteous and thoughtful thing to do.

Q. Is it considered proper to use a "pusher" at the dinner table — a bread crust or the knife to help push the food onto the fork?

A. Yes, and there is no better "pusher" than a piece of bread. Lacking this, the knife is also correct — provided it is used properly. Use the tip of the knife to guide and hold each mouthful for the fork to lift.

Wheeling GOP Backs 'Candidates' Night'

U.S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and other Republican candidates for election Nov. 6 will be guests of honor on Wednesday, Oct. 31, when the Republican Party in Wheeling Township presents its "Candidates' Night" at the Prospect High School, 801 W. Foundry Road, Mount Prospect.

According to Raymond H. Stevenson of Mount Prospect, chairman of the event, provisions are being made to accommodate an overflow crowd.

"The high school theatre will hold about 600 persons," Stevenson explained. "In anticipation of up to 1,000 visitors, we have reserved additional space at the school."

THE EVENT IS being sponsored jointly by GOP Committeeman Thomas J. Houser, the Regular Republican Organization, the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Club, the Wheeling Township Women's Republican Club, the Wheeling Township Young Republican Club, and the Wheeling Township Republican Workshops.

In addition to Sen. Dirksen, the following Republican candidates will be present:

Donald Rumsfeld, candidate for Congress in the 13th District; Richard B. Ogilvie, candidate for Cook County Sheriff; Elroy Sandquist Jr., candidate for Cook County Judge; William Scott, candidate for State Treasurer; Ray Page, candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

ALSO, WILLIAM Erickson, candidate for president of the Cook County Board of Commissioners; John W. Carroll and Arthur E. Simmons, candidates for State Representative in the 6th District; Mrs. Faye B. Searcy, candidate for clerk of the Illinois Supreme Court; Archibald Carey Jr., candidate for clerk of the Probate Court, and others.

The Oct. 31 "Candidates' Night" will begin at 8 p.m., with Sen. Dirksen's major address being made at about 8:45 p.m.

The estimated 1½-hour event will be followed by a reception line of candidates and refreshments served in the school cafeteria.

On hand to officially represent Cook County Republicans will be Hayes Robertson, chairman of the GOP Cook County Central Committee, and Richard Cowen, chairman of the Cook County Young Republican Organization. (ACM

Think of Others—It's First Step in Better Citizenship

by BOB SETLIK

How can a person become a better citizen?

Wave the American flag? Vote every election? Fight communism?

"Think in terms of others; that is the first guideline," Dr. George F. Bereday, professor of comparative education, Columbia University, told 600 Palatine-Schaumburg Township teachers Friday.

Dr. Bereday was the afternoon speaker at an teacher's institute sponsored by the Cook County Superintendent of Schools. The institute was held at the new Palatine Township High School.

"Only by learning about others can we get a real insight into ourselves." said Bereday.

"There are two variables in any cross-cultural contacts, ourselves and the people we are trying to know."

ONLY BY knowing all we can about these two factors can we do any good in the world," he remarked.

Bereday said there are "thousands and thousands of trivial things" Americans must learn if they are to carry their message effectively to the world.

He pointed out that in some underdeveloped countries only the rich — and the American officials — have plumbing.

"THUS, OUR fixation over these chromium-plated splendors has unwittingly associated Americans with the rich in these countries," said Bereday.

"Only when you sit down to eat with people will they begin to trust you," he stated.

Bereday believes the educational system is primarily responsible for teaching youngsters how to understand others.

MANY American officials now serving in foreign lands never saw their prejudices attacked in the schools, and therefore commit blunders in their relations with foreigners, he said.

In a panel discussion afterwards, Bereday said suspicion of strangers is the same in all countries.

"But prejudice is a lack of knowledge," he stated, "and in most situations in the world today Americans are the teachers, the others are the students.

"A GOOD teacher always accepts it as his fault if his students don't learn. He will take a closer look at himself, then."

Bereday admitted that prejudices usually are picked up from parents before a child enters schools.

"What effect can education have in such instances where bias is deeply inbred? he was asked. "Shouldn't we work on the adults, instead?

"BY WORKING on the children, you'll teach them to be good adults," Bereday replied.

In answer to another question Bereday said he thought the peace corps could show the idealistic youngster that he has a place in the American system.

"We haven't dramatized our heritage to appeal to them — the people not looking for a $7000 a year job after graduation. The peace corps is a first step."

DR. BEREDAY was born in Poland and became an American citizen in 1955.

He received a B.A. and M.A. in history from the University of Oxford, a B.S. in sociology from the University of London, and a Ph.D in education from Harvard.

He has been on the Columbia faculty since 1955, where he specializes in foreign educational systems.

FEPC to Ask for More State Funds in 1963

(UPI) — The newly-formed Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission indicated it plans to seek a larger appropriation from the 1963 legislature because "we expect more employment discrimination complaints."

Chairman Charles Gray, Prospect Heights, said the commission had "a small case load" because of the infancy of the law creating it. The commission was created during the waning days of the 1961 legislature following a compromise between Republicans and Democrats.

GRAY SAID that of 58 formal charges filed with the commission by Sept. 15, one was the subject of a public hearing and three were dismissed after conciliation "because of fruitful settlement."

The one case concerned Miss Sylvia Taylor, a Negro school teacher who charged the Chicago Board of Education discrimination against her race when it refused to hire her for a post at Amundson Junior College. Gray said a decision in the case is due within two weeks.

The commission currently has an appropriation of $100,000 for its first two years. Gray said the commission will seek an increase because "we expect more complaints of employment discrimination when the public becomes more aware of the existence of the commission."

Under the legislative compromise which produced the commission, it has jurisdiction over all firms in Illinois employing 100 or more persons. Effective Jan. 1, 1963, the figure drops to 75 and Jan. 1, 1964, to 50 persons, thus broadening the jurisdiction of the commission.

GRAY SAID that of the 58 total complaints filed, 44 were properly filed, and 28 were dismissed after investigation.

Of the 28 dismissals, he said, about half were dropped for lack of evidence and about half for lack of jurisdiction.

Of the remaining 16 cases be-Taylor, 15 "are still under investigation by the commission."

Gray said the commission foresees "the necessity" of a Springfield office later this year with two more staff members, bringing the total commission investigative force to four for the entire state.

Gray said the commission itself cannot initiate a complaint, but must wait until a complaint is filed with it.

Gray said he did not yet know how much of an appropriation increase the commission would seek.

Boy Scouts Slate Weekend Camporee

Youthful minds and muscles are slated to get a good workout this weekend when Boy Scounts of the Northwest Suburban Council's Blackhawk District hold their annual Fall Camporee at the Chain O'Lakes State Park, north of Fox Lake on U. S. 12

Theme of the two day outing for almost 700 Scouts and adult leaders is "Brains and Brawn," says A. E. (Gene) Crum, 1412 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, who is general chairman.

Scout troops and explorer posts will be represented from Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Elk Grove Village.

THESE UNITS will start setting up their tents and other equipment tomorrow afternoon, spending the rest of the evening in preparation for a strenuous day of mental and physical workouts.

The Saturday schedule for the Scouts comprises a 16-hour program of patrol competition in the various Scouting skills along with tests of strength and agility. It runs steadily from the six a. m. reveille all the way to the evening campfire and the 10 p.m. taps.

Sunday morning activities will start with Camporee church services. This will be followed by a general meeting where the Scouts will receive their awards and patches. After that, a vigorous clean-up and pack-up will bring the Camporee to a close, with the Scouts heading for home about 11 a.m.

SEVEN ADULT Scouters are assisting Crum in planning and conducting this Camporee.

All members of the Blackhawk District's Activities Committee, they are Ralph Smith, 618 N. Belmont; Peter Rodgers, 102 W. Willow; Don Hodge, 1423 N. Vail; Clyde Foster, 623 Mayfair; Dave Whittier, 542 S. Chestnut; Thomas McAuliffe, 621 N. State, all of Arlington Heights; and Tom Straight, 932 Tower Drive, Mount Prospect.

Series Opener to Feature Travelog

The "opener" of High School District 214's evening adult education Travel and Adventure Series Tuesday night, Oct. 23, will feature photographer-lecturer Karl Robinson and a travelog of the South Seas.

Director W. L. Randle asserts that the first of the 10 films scheduled in the series is one of the best.

KARL ROBINSON

Scheduled for Arlington High School's gymnasium at 8 p.m., the South Seas adventure will feature the Society Islands of Tahiti, Moorea, Bora Bora, and the one bit of the United States in the South Pacific expanse — the islands of American Samoa.

ACCORDING TO the photographer, the film's emphasis is on the peoples of the area and their fascinating island culture.

South Sea Isles is a color-film interpretation of the Central Polynesian peoples who call such places as Papeete and Pago Pago "home."

They are descendants of an ancient migratory force from Asia who, centuries ago, mysteriously found their way across a vast ocean to the tiny volcanic archipelagos and coral atolls.

TICKETS FOR THE series or for individual film-lectures are still available at the adult education office, Arlington High School.

Further information can be secured by calling the adult education office, Cl 3-1700.

To Pass Out Blankets As Thrift Inducement

"It's Blanket Time!" is the slogan at Arlington Heights Federal Savings.

The association has announced that, for a limited time, it will give away blankets to all customers who open new accounts of $200 or more or add similar amounts to present accounts.

"We have acquired a limited supply of Roman Stripe Beacon Blankets and can make this offer only as long as the supply lasts," said Paul E. Collins, association president. "And we must limit this offer to one blanket per customer.".

THE BLANKETS, 72 inches by 90 inches, are 94 per cent rayon and 6 per cent nylon, washable and non-allergenic. They are poly-bagged in a choice of three colors—brown, tangerine, and fire-red.

The association, whose Williamsburg Colonial building at Campbell and Evergreen streets in downtown Arlington Heights is now undergoing expansion, has 16,000 savers, whose savings capital totals $22,000,000.

Savers have received over $2,600,000 in earnings in the nine years since the Federal Savings institution opened its doors, Collins pointed out.

"This 'Blanket Time' thrift inducement is prompted by the desire to bring to the attention of new patrons the many advantages of saving with convenience, friendly service, above-average earnings, and insured safety at Arlington Heights Federal Savings," Collins said. "We'd also like to give our patrons a preview of things to come in our building expansion program." (A

Trustees Go on Record in Favor of Judicial Change

Arlington Heights Village Board adopted a resolution Monday night endorsing the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment.

Voting for the resolution were Trustees William E. Sauer, Eugene Schlickman, and Norval Stephens and Village President John G. Woods. Trustees Justin A. Nelson and Samuel Wit were absent.

Trustee William J. Moore said "Pass" when his name was called.

THE RESOLUTION stated:

"Whereas, the present court system of Illinois, dating back to the 19th century, is inadequate to meet the needs of today;

"Whereas, the Village of Arlington Heights has a direct and substantial interest in the effective administration of justice in our courts;

"Whereas, the proposed Amendment to the Judicial Article of the Illinois Constitution will provide for:

"1. A SIMPLIFIED and unified court system designed to provide speedier and more economical justice;

"2. Business-like court administration, with the Supreme Court at the head of the court system;

"3. Greater security of tenure in office and independence for judges and more efficient machinery for removing unfi judges;

"4. A more equitable apportionment among the voters of the right to select Supreme and Appellate court judges.

"WHEREAS, THE "Blue Ballot" Judicial Amendment has been endorsed by many leading professional and civic organizations, including the Illinois State and Chicago Bar Associations, Illinois State Chamber of Commerce League of Women Voters, and has been unanimously approved by the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois, do hereby endorse the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment as a significant step forward in modernizing our court system and recommend its adoption by the voters of the State of Illinois at the election to be held Nov. 6, 1962." Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall

CLearbrook 5-2936

A measure of fame is being brought to Arlington Acres by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Both, 433 S. Phelps. Their son, Fred, 16, soloed for the first time last month at Palwaukee Airport, and last Sunday their daughter Joanne, 13, took third place, winning a yellow ribbon, in the jumping class at the annual fall horse show at Epsom Stables in Palatine.

The Boths celebrated the event together with their Oct. 12 wedding anniversary Sunday evening at a small party at home. Guests included the Ed Both family of Elmhurst.

Another couple to be congratulated is Mr. and Mrs. Ron Rold, 433 S. Gibbons, who were married 8 years Oct. 15. Dinner at Mangam's on Beverly Lake on Saturday marked the day for them.

Coming of fall brought the resumption of the friendly habit of coffee get-togethers on the 500 block S. Forrest. The first gathering was hosted by Mrs. Stan Merchant, 513 S. Forrest, last Thursday evening to introduce her new next-door neighbor, Mrs. Ron Drews, as well as Mrs. Raymond Westman to the other residents of the block.

WEEKEND HOUSE guests in the John Lynch home, 433 S. Forrest, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerke of Indianapolis. The Gerkes are friends of long standing and the occasion of their visit was to wish godspeed to the Lynches who are moving to New York the end of the month.

Congratulations on their Oct. 11 wedding anniversary go to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Christiansen, 428 S. Waterman. It was their 15th.

Anniversary congratulations are in order also for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hagen, 516 S. Waterman, who were married 10 years Oct. 11. Although no special plans were made to celebrate, the day did not lack excitement as Mr. Hagen was in Oregon at the height of the storm there and arrived home the end of the week with first hand knowledge of the damage done.

Cathy, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanson, 429 S. Prindle, celebrated her Oct. 14 birthday all weekend. Saturday afternoon she was guest of honor at a party. Friends joining in a treasure hunt and playing musical chairs were Michael Finley, Julie Moller, Julie Dombrow and Mark Larsen.

SUNDAY DINNER was a gala affair at which the birthday girl was toasted by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hanson of Lakewood, Ohio, and great aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson of Chicago. The elder Hansons made the trip from Lakewood to be here just for Cathy's big day.

The sympathy of friends and neighbors is extended to the Rold family, 433 S. Gibbons, on the death of Ron's grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Douglas of Park Ridge.

A special birthday took place in the Hubert Mertes household, 529 S. Phelps, last Sunday when Julianne was one-year-old. Although she was too young to do much celebrating herself, a festive dinner will be remembered by grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Fetting and Mrs. Marie Mertes, and great aunt, Mrs. Betty Dettmann, all of Chicago. Swelling the chorus of the birthday song were Julianne's brothers, Bert and Michael.

Since a first birthday deserves more than one party, the merrymaking was resumed Monday evening at a cake and ice cream affair attended by a host of aunts, uncles and cousins.

WHEN SANDRA KUNZ came home from school at lunch time Monday she was greeted by her grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Kunz of Elmwood Park, and great aunt, Mrs. Anna Cherney of Chicago, who had come to help celebrate her ninth birthday. A happy hour followed with a special lunch and a birthday cake. Sandy, daughter of the Robert Kunzes, 505 S. Forrest, was serenaded as she blew out her candles by her sisters and brothers, Pam, Debby, Mark and Scott, before all returned to school.

Congratulations on their seventh wedding anniversary, Oct. 9, go to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Busby, 408 S. Waterman.

Susan Marshall's Oct. 10 birthday was celebrated without a guest of honor by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Marshall, 432 S. Forrest, since the birthday girl is away at school. The dinner which the Marshalls hosted Wednesday evening was a happy affair anyway, since they received a surprise visit that day from a friend of long standing, George Hankey of Owings Mills, Md., who was in Chicago to attend a convention.

Thursday the Marshalls gave a small dinner party for his sister and her husband, the L. P. Burkes of Elmhurst, to celebrate Mrs. Burke's birthday.

Toastmaster Officers Installed

New officers of Arlington Heights Toastmasters were installed last week by Area Governor Harry Eickenberg, a member of the Des Plaines club.

Officers are: president, Ed Dunn; vice president of education, Warren Lattof; vice president of administration, Ed Janos; secretary - treasurer, Bob Stedronsky; assistant secretary-treasurer, Ed Lauing, and sergeant at arms, Don Heine.

Wives were amused at the subject chosen for the 30-second warm-up: "Why My Wife Needs Me."

A HIGHLIGHT of the evening came when the Rev. Roger Kellogg, former charter member of the club, presented the Roger Kellogg Award to Frank Callaghan, outgoing president, for his work during the past year.

Lattof received the Table Topics award, while Dale Galloway was awarded the trophy for the best speech. Herb Baumgartner and Anthony Willow were the other speakers.

Guests are welcome at regular meetings of the Toastmasters, which are held at 8 p.m. on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month on the lower level of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Assn. building. (A

Local Residents to Go to Conference

First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights will be represented at the fourth quadrennial National Methodist Conference on Family Life by Dr. and Mrs. Hughes B. Morris, the Rev. and Mrs. Gerald Robinson, the Rev. and Mrs. Ewing Wayland, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bonnell and Judy Frobel.

The meeting will be held Oct. 19-21 at the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

At least 3,000 delegates are expected, most of them parents and church workers.

THE PROGRAM will include worship, addresses, work groups, dramatic productions, and other features.

General theme of the conference is "Jesus Christ, Lord of the Family."

Addresses will be given by Bishop Hazen G. Werner, Columbus, Ohio, chairman of the General Committee on Family Life of The Methodist Church; Dr. Dan W. Dodson, head of the department of sociology of New York University; the Rev. Dr. Neis F. S. Ferre, a professor at Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Center, Mass.; Bob (the Rev. Robert E.) Richards, two-time Olympic pole vault champion and now director of the Wheaties Sports Foundation, and M thodist Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy, Los Angeles.

TELEVISION personality Ralph Edwards of Hollywood will be the narrator for one of the dramatic productions.

The "Methodist Family of the Year" to be chosen by "Together," Methodist family magazine, will be honored at a reception. (A

Rev. Kellogg to Be Installed Sunday

The Rev. Roger Kellogg, former Arlington Heights resident and ex-business man who left here in 1955 to enter Princeton Theological Seminary, returned this month as associate minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights.

At the time of his decision to leave the business field and enter the ministry, Kellogg, then 41 years old, had been with the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Co. of New York for 19 years.

He came here from New York with his family in 1949 when the company opened executive offices in Chicago and he was made claims manager of the Midwest division.

FOR THE SIX years that the Kelloggs lived here they were active members of the church.

Mr. Kellogg will now serve as director of Christian education. During his affiliation with the local church he was a church school teacher, then superintendent of the junior high department. At the time of his decision to enter the ministry he was attending evening classes at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago.

Holding a bachelor of arts degree from Princeton University where he was graduated in 1936, Kellogg began the three year course of study for the ministry in 1955 and received his bachelor of divinity degree in June, 1958.

HE IMMEDIATELY accepted a call to the historic Forks of the Brandywine Church, founded in 1735, in a rural-suburban area near Glen Moore, Pa. He was chairman of evangelism in the Presbytery of Donegal in Pennsylvania until this month.

Mrs. Kellogg arrived from the east this week to join her husband and their son, Michael, who has been at the home of local friends and attending sophomore classes in Arlington High School.

Another son, Larry, is in his senior year at Pennsylvania State College and their daughter, Leslie, is a freshman at Wooster College.

MR. KELLOGG

KELLOGG'S installation as associate minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights will take place in that church Sunday, Oct. 21, at a 4 p.m. service.

Among the participants will be the Rev. James Shiflet, vice-moderator of the Presbytery of Chicago and pastor of St. Andrew's Church in Chicago; the Rev. Dr. William Jones, pastor of Southminster Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights; the Rev. Walter Owensby, pastor of the Barrington Presbyterian Church and the Rev. Dr. Victor Brown, former pastor of the church here and now serving the First Presbyterian Church of Gary, Ind.

Dr. Brown will preach and has chosen as his topic, "Anvil or Hammer?"

ALSO TAKING part in the service will be ruling elders, William Willy of the Palatine church and Thomas Thourson, chairman of Christian education of the host church.

Assisting in the service and welcoming the Rev. Mr. Kellogg to the church staff will be the Rev. George Kincheloe, associate minister, and the Rev. Dr. Paul Louis Stumpf.

Kellogg replaces the Rev. Eldon McKie, who served the local church from November 1959 until his call Oct. 1 to LaDue Chapel in suburban St. Louis, Mo. (A

Rep. Carroll Praises Work Of 'Blue Ballot' Committee

A member of the Illinois General Assembly hailed last week's formation of the Arlington Heights Committee for Modern Courts as a "significant step in achieving court reform in Illinois."

John W. "Bill" Carroll, state representative from Park Ridge, stated: "I voted for judicial reform in the legislature. I'm for it 100 per cent and I hope the Illinois voters approve the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment on Tuesday, Nov. 6."

Following the Blue Ballot's close defeat in 1958, alleged by some to have been caused by too many voters incorrectly marking their ballots with a "Yes," instead of an "X," the General Assembly proceeded with legislative changes to correct some of the deficiencies in the present judicial system, the committee stated.

HOWEVER, ITS statement continued, "The really basic deficiencies require correction by a change in the judicial article of the State Constitution. Amending the constitution necessitates extra-ordinary majorities of both the Senate and House of the General Assembly, and of the voters, also."

Honorary co-chairmen of the Arlington Heights Committee for Modern Courts are Village President John G. Woods and Wheeling Township Republican Committeeman Thomas J. Houser and Democratic Committeeman James Stavros. Since last week, the committee has swelled its ranks with the addition of ne wmembers.

SIGNING the village board resolution urging Arlington Heights voters to support the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment is Village President John G. Woods. (A

ALSO FRED R. Ainslie, 106 E. Rockwell; Joseph Schneller, 22 S. Dryden; Bill Cook, Euclid & Northwest Highway, and Edmund M. Shanahan, 527 S. Fernandez.

As a part of its program the local Committee for Modern Courts is working with the Northwest Suburban Bar Association in providing speakers to interested civic groups. Among those scheduled are the Arlington Heights Junior Chamber of Commerce, St. James Women's Guild, and Wheeling Township Republican Women's Club.

Anyone interested in information and materials on the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment are invited to call the Committee's co-chairmen, John F. White, CL 5-5596, or Eugene F. Schlickman, CL 5-5596. Arrangements for speakers may be made through Mrs. Robert J. Blizzard, CL 5-6660. (A

Drug Representative Explains 'Progress'

New drugs and pharmaceutical progress was the topic of the second community-wide nurses' "refresher" meeting, sponsored by Northwest Community Hospital Monday.

Main speaker at the nurses' meeting was Roy K. Jernberg, local representative of Smith Kline & French Laboratories, Philadelphia.

Nearly five million lives have been saved in America during the past 30 years as a result of a medical revolution which has increased the life span by 10 years, Jernberg said.

CITING THE role of the pharmaceutical industry in these achievements, Jernberg pointed to the sulfa drugs, penicillin, terramycin and tranquilizers as signs of medical progress during the past 20 years.

The nurses' meetings are planned on a monthly basis throughout the year except during the summer vacation period.

Registered nurses from local communities, area nurses' clubs and nurses of the hospital staff are invited to the meetings. Main purpose of the programs is to bring nurses information on the latest developments in medicine and to stimulate continued interest in the profession by nurses who have "retired" to raise families.

POINTING TO tranquilizers, Jernberg credited such drugs as "a vital factor in turning the tide against mental illness." Before development of tranquilizers half the hospital beds in America were occupied by mental patients, he said.

In 1956, for the first time in history, the number of hospitalized mental patients was reduced, he stressed.

Drug advances are made through research, according to Jernberg, who noted in 1961 the pharmaceutical industry spent $200 million for research. Because of rapid research advances the life of a new drug today has been estimated to be only from two to five years.

ACCORDING TO Department of Commerce studies, the average American spent a total of $11.23 for prescriptions in 1960. A survey by "American Druggist" magazine indicates the average prescription cost is now $3.25.

ROY K. JERNBERG

"By helping patients to get back on their feet in a hurry," prescription costs actually can "reduce the cost of illness," Jernberg said.

The nurses' meetings are planned by Mrs. Martha Loss, director of nursing at the hospital. (ACM

Laymen's Service Slated At St. John Church Sunday

St. John United Church of Christ, Evergreen at St. James, Arlington Heights, will take part in the National Council of Churches' annual Laymen's Sunday at each of the services, 9:15 and 10:45 a.m., on Sunday, Oct. 21.

Laymen will deliver the sermon and conduct the worship.

A unique feature this year will be a father and son preaching at each service. Arnold Koriath Sr., will deliver the message at the 9:15 service, where liturgy will be conducted by Jeffry Huebner.

Arnold Koriath Jr. will deliver the message at the 10:45 worship service and the liturgy will be conducted by Harold Moeller.

KORIATH SR., of 823 N. Kennicott, is on the official board of St. John's, and is financial secretary. His son, a junior at Arlington High School, is on the football team there and an officer in the youth work of the church.

Jeffry Huebner, of 1546 N. State Rd., is also a sophomore at Arlington High School and is president of the youth organization of the church.

Harold Moeller, of 1524 N. Fernandez Place, is a church school teacher and active in the work of the church.

These men and the congregation invite all to join them at either service on Laymen's Sunday. (A

LaGrange Gains Two Wins Over Cards' Harriers

Two powerful LaGrange cross country teams rolled to effortless victories over Arlington High School last Friday afternoon in West Suburban Conference meets.

The Lions' varsity harriers wrapped up a 16-48 decision, and the hosts' frosh-sophs registered a 17-48 win.

The loss was Arlington's fifth straight on a varsity level since an opening victory over Notre Dame. Coach Frank Bohac's frosh-sophs now stand 4-2.

SOPHOMORE John Brunner once again was Arlington's top varsity finisher with a fifth. Backing Brunner were Gary Brodnan in ninth, Chuck Close in 10th, Witt in 11th, and Greg Busczynski in 13th.

Tom Jasper came home fifth, one notch ahead of teammate Bob Yeazil, for the frosh-sophs' top position. Also scoring for Arlington were Bob Fredrickson in 10th, Jerry Pattock in 13th, and Paul Fiegen in 14th.

Arlington's varsity and frosh-soph cross country teams were slated to host powerful Glenbard West yesterday (Wednesday) and will hook up in the West Suburban Conference meet this Saturday at Downers Grove. Competition will begin at 10 a.m.

The Cards will journey to Riverside-Brookfield next Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 24. (

Squad Wins Third, 40-6

Led by Rick Lytle who scampered 40 yards on the first play from scrimmage, Prsopect's soph football squad picked up their third win in five starts Saturday, trouncing Deerfield, 40-6.

Lytle added two more touchdowns on short runs. Bill Henry picked up another on a 15 yarder, and quarterbacks Bill Phillips and Jack Bley added the final scores on a pair of sneaks. Ron Seegers kicked four of six extra point attempts.

Deerfield's lone touchdown came late in the game.

The sophs play Glenbrook South at home Saturday. Kickoff is 9:30 a.m.

Cardinal Jayvees Beaten

Scoring single touchdowns in each half, LaGrange's junior-varsity football team bumped visiting Arlington Monday afternoon, 12-6.

The host Lions scored in the second and third periods in handing Arlington its third loss in five games this fall.

The Cardinals, coached by Guy Vena and John Busch, will host Glenbard West next Monday, Oct. 22, at four o'clock.

LaGrange marched 75 yards in seven plays for its first touchdown Monday with a seven-yard end sweep picking up the six points. A pass picked up the second tally in the third period.

Arlington scored its only touchdown in the second half on a 16-yard pitch from Steve Martin to Pete Vaughn that climaxed an impressive drive.

Arlington threatened toward the end of the first half when Mike Fitzpatrick scampered 40 yards to the Lions' 23-yard line, but time ran out.

Knights Win And Lose In Interim

Joe Wanner's Prospect soph squad was swamped, 19-40, by Willowbrook Tuesday after squeezing by East Leyden, 26-29, last Friday in two Interim cross country meets.

Jack Pollard led the field in the East Leyden win. Rick Carr was third; Steve Stock, sixth; Mike Duda, seventh; and Roy Harnish, ninth.

Pollard, who finished second, put in the best showing against Willowbrook. Carr was seventh; Stock, eighth; Duda, 10th; and Harnish, 13th.

The Knights are 1-4 in Interim competition.

Knights Tie Deerfield

Dick Bertoglio salvaged a 6-6 tie for the Prospect frosh "A" team Saturday when he blocked an extra point attempt with one minute to go against Deerfield.

The Knights had a 6-0 lead on a first quarter score but couldn't hang on. Ken Traverson scored the touchdown on a quarterback sneak with the game 1:20 old.

Coach Don Williams team is now 2-1-2 for the season. They host Glenbrook South at 9:30 a.m., Saturday.

Arlington—Elk Grove Artery

Roadway Widening May Face New Delay

Tollway Exit Hopes Killed

By CLIFF HARRIS

The long-awaited modernization of the 2.9 miles linking Arlington Heights and Elk Grove Village now faces the possibility of another delay.

Only a month ago Cook County Highway Department said the heavily-traveled stretch of Arlington Heights Road (State Road) would be repaved and widened in the spring of 1963.

But now William J. Mortimer, county superintendent of highways, has informed Paddock Publications that difficulty has arisen in acquiring right-of-way for the proposed $1,000,000 project.

"It is hoped that the acquisition of the rights of way can be completed so that a contract can be awarded and construction begun early in 1963," Mortimer said.

Mortimer added:

"The acquisition of these rights of way could not be consummated by agreement, and therefore, it has been necessary to refer this matter to the state's attorney's office for condemnation proceedings.

"UPON COMPLETION of the acquisition by the state's attorney's office this department will be in a position to recommend the award of a contract for the improvement.

"This department has long been cognizant of the need for improvement of this road."

MORTIMER'S reply to Paddock Publications was prompted by a letter written to Seymour Simon, president of the county board. He was asked for a statement.

Instead, he referred the letter to Mortimer.

Improvement of the road has been proposed by the county highway department several times in the past five years but has always been pushed aside.

Even if the right-of-way acquisition is completed during the fall and winter, the proposal still would have to clear the board president's level where political pressures are at their greatest.

IN THE MEANTIME, the present winding two-lane road has been resurfaced with asphalt to put it in shape until the proposed four-lane $1,000,000 improvement can be made.

The growth of Elk Grove Village in the past few years has made this 2.9 stretch of road one of the busiest in the Arlington Heights section. And, oddly enough, it is one of the last narrow roads left.

Traffic to the tollway and to O'Hare Airport also has increased the load of traffic the road carries.

At the same time that Paddock Publications wrote Simon, another letter was sent to Gov. Otto Kerner inquiring about the advisability of constructing a connection with the tollway at the time Arlington Heights Road was being rebuilt.

A REPLY WAS received immediately from Kerner's administrative assistant advising that the tollway commission chairman had been asked to prepare a statement.

In the statement, the tollway chairman, Charles M. Burgess, said, in effect, there was no chance of building the tollway connection.

Burgess said the matter had received careful study on several occasions. These studies resulted from various requests, one of which was a petition submitted by the Arlington Heights village trustees.

IN HIS RECENT reply the chairman of the tollway commission included a copy of the resolution sent to the village board on Sept. 21, 1961.

In essence, the commission said funds were lacking for such an interchange. It also pointed out that Arlington Heights is now served by the interchange at Elmhurst Road and the Arlington Park race track is served by the interchange south of Palatine on Route 53.

It added that the Elmhurst interchange was not an unreasonable distance (6 miles) from Arlington Heights. The delay that occurs on Elmhurst Road, the report said, could be largely eliminated by improving the intersection of Elmhurst Road and Oakton St.

(This intersection still has not been improved.)

IN HIS LETTER to Paddock Publications, the tollway chairman added:

"Almost from the date of the opening of the tollway, numerous requests have been received for additional connections, some at existing interchanges and others at locations where no interchange presently exists.

"It has been necessary to deny most of these requests for a variety of reasons, principally lack of funds. Subsequent to a review of all such requests, the commission decided that first consideration should be given to a new interchange at Willow Road and the Tri-State Tollway, providing for traffic movements to and from the south only. Acquisition of right-of-way for such an interchange has been authorized.

"Construction must be preceded by a cost-revenue comparison that would indicate economic feasibility."

BURGESS ADDED:

"The tollway's only source of funds for such purposes would be either its construction account or the general reserve account. The construction account has been fully obligated for some time and funds from the general reserve account will not be available for this purpose for many years to come under terms of the bond resolution."

Lacking a better connection with the tollway and no prospects of ever getting one, dozens of motorists from this area are looking forward to the completion of the junior expressway on Palatine Road on which traffic will flow to Edens, thence southeast to the Northwest Expressway and into the city. This route would bypass the tollway entirely.

Prospect TPA Sets Meeting on Oct. 23

Prospect High School is planning for a capacity turnout Tuesday evening, Oct. 23, at the first Teacher-Parent Council meeting, an open house for parents.

Following a short business meeting at 7:15 p.m., parents will follow their students' regular daily schedules through a series of abbreviated class periods, to familiarize themselves with teachers and teaching methods. Class periods will run from 7:40 to 9:40 p.m.

The meeting is one of three planned for the year, according to president Fredric A. Holderman, Mount Prospect.

Other officers are M. Edward Smith, Arlington Heights; Richard L. Airey, Mount Prospect; and Mrs. Gilbert Liebenow, Mount Prospect.

CLASS CHAIRMEN are Mrs. Phillip Domres, Prospect Heights; Mrs. Robert Chyrchel, Prospect Heights; Mrs. Budd G. Brown, Arlington Heights; and Mrs. William T. Brazelton, Prospect Heights.

Committee heads include Mrs. Jack Reinsma, Prospect Heights; Mrs. E. M. Coulter, Prospect Heights; and L. W. Bredehoft, Arlington Heights.

Following Tuesday night's "daily schedule" parents and teachers will adjourn to the cafeteria for refreshments and informal conferences. Teachers will be seated in special sections, divided according to subjects, to permit parents to easily locate their child's instructors.

During the business session of the open house, guidance personnel and counsellors will discuss their work for parents.

Forest View News

Parents are reminded that Forest View Elementary and Dempster Junior High will be dismissed at noon, Oct. 24, for an in-service meeting for area teachers.

Forest View Elementary School is happy to report that the multipurpose room has been completed and is now being used by the bus students for lunches.

A dual family birthday dinner for Mary Lou Larson and her cousin, Carla Larson of Chicago, was given by the Roy Larsons, S. Busse Road, on Sunday.

Weekend guest of the Henry Rossbergs, W. Golf Road, was Lorraine's sister, Mrs. Viola Weiss of Chicago. On Sunday they all enjoyed a smorgasbord at St. John Lutheran Church.

Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen and Randy, W. Golf Road, were supper guests in Naperville at the Paul Brummel farm, where Randy had been a weekend visitor. Sunday guest of the Hansens were the George Landorf family of Glen Ellyn.

MR. AND MRS. Fred Wolf, and Sandy, Patton Avenue, drove to Northwestern Military Academy at Lake Geneva on Sunday to visit Randy. He returned home with them for a few hours, during which they attended the smorgasbord at St. John's.

Sunday dinner guest of the Bernard Olsons, Elk Grove Road, was Pvt. John Klinge of Kalamazoo who is stationed at the Arlington base.

Guests of the Robert Olsons, Council Trail, last week were Bob's parents, the C. M. Olsons of Fosston, Minn.

Guest of Grant Ahlstrom, Council Trail, for the past week was Donald Melvin of Menlo Park, Calif. a former resident of Council Trail. He was here for the General Telephone Company Convention. In honor of Donald's visit, Grant entertained at a fish fry in the Des Plaines Elks Club. Guests were the Robert Hutchins, Joseph Sproules, James Homers, Elmer Dreilings, Robert Palmers, Mrs. June Turner, Mrs. George Mailfold, Larry Doolittle and the Robert Olsons, all of the Council Trail area, the C. M. Olsons of Fosston, Minn, Heinz Ehlerts and Mrs. Ida Giranio of Chicago and the Hubert Goves of Arlington Heights.

MR. AND MRS. Al Wangles, S. Douglas, were Sunday dinner guests of the Arlo Andersons in Rockford.

Anniversary greetings this week go to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oberg.

ELK RIDGE VILLA

The second annual general membership meeting of the Elk Ridge Villa Home Owners Association was held Oct. 10 at Dempster Junior High School. Officers and directors elected for the coming year are: president, Merle Betterman; vice president, Claran Stecker; secretary, Evelyn Heinz; treasurer, Irv Pryble; directors, Hugh Carlson, Frank Dunn, Ken Nelson and Rose Schneider.

Joe and Carol Kus celebrated Jamie's third birthday last weekend with dinner for the grandparents. It was also Scott's 6-month birthday and the second anniversary of being in their home on Robert Drive.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William Mallian, Robert Drive, entertained the William Roberts family of Des Plaines.

MR. AND MRS. Vito Caliendo, Robert Drive, recently welcomed back Mrs. Caliendo's father from a 6-month vacation in Naples, Italy. The family was thrilled with the gifts he brought back.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kiolbassa, Robert Drive, enjoyed dining at the Morton House in Morton Grove with four other couples celebrating the fourth anniversary of their club.

Their fifth wedding anniversary was celebrated by the Robert Hartjes, Robert Drive, with dinner at George Diamonds on Saturday. Helping them celebrate were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barnes of Antioch, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Genslicki and daughter, Carole, and her fiance, Richard Growe of Norridge.

Guests at a first birthday party of Johnny Oberg, 1115 Fern Drive, were Jimmy Kuntz, Johnny and Cathy Guarisco, Karen and Barbara Hale, Susan Newfeldt, Mark Thompson, Linda, Shelly and Biff Johnson, Anthony Bartolo and Debbie Olberg. Sunday's party was for Johnny's relatives from Deerfield and Chicago, the John Olbergs, the Rudolph Birings and Miss Evelyn and Miss Nancy Biring.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Steinbart, 1603 Palm Drive, had as guests for a week Mr. and Mrs. Max Steinbart and son, Hugo, of Omaha. Oct. 9 the family celebrated Max Steinbart's 82nd birthday.

Helen and George Armstrong, 1636 E. Jonquil, had quite a celebration for their daughter, Leslie Ann, who was 11 Oct. 3. Her grandparents and an aunt, all from Pittsburgh, timed their week's visit so they could be here for her party. Helen had eight neighborhood youngsters for lunch and then treated the entire group to a movie at Golf-Mill.

Katie and John Freismuth, 1937 N. Evergreen, had two successive weekend visits from John's mother, Mrs. L. J. Freismuth, Wheeling, W. Va. She was en route to Gary the first week to stay with John's sister. Having had such a delightful two days the first visit, she stopped back on her way home.

Belated birthday greetings go to Steven Bacon and Tommy Weinberg.

FISHING and sightseeing at Key West, Fla., was an exciting vacation for the Joseph Lagorios, 1726 E. Jonquil. Michael Krulik accompanied them on the trip and while there they viewed some land they recently purchased at Vero Beach.

Dull knives are the "order of the day" for Myrtle and Edward Weinberg, 1624 E. Rosehill. Working hastily to get things shipshape for their housewarming held last Saturday, Edward cut his finger to the tune of nine stitches. Myrtle, a firm believer in "Togetherness," took over his chores and is now sporting an assortment of Band-aids. In spite of their mishaps, the party was a huge success.

Linda Thomas, 1924 E. Jonquil and a few of her homeroom friends at Prospect High, were thrilled to receive second place honors for their float in the homecoming parade last Saturday.

En route to Phoenix from Cleveland, the E. L. Peters, parents of Ralph Peters, 1714 E. Rosehill, stopped over for the weekend. Other guests this past weekend were the Wesley Richersons, Round Lake. (AG

Republican Effort

Candidates' Caravan Sponsored by Women

For three days next week, Oct. 24, 25 and 26, members of the Women's Republican Club of the 13th Congressional District will sponsor a "candidates' caravan" which will make stops throughout the District to let voters meet Republican nominees.

When the caravan arrives in Arlington Heights late Thursday afternoon, it will be greeted at the Republican headquarters, 6 N. Dryden (Arlington Market) by members of the Wheeling Township Republican Women's Club.

The local club members will have refreshments for the candidates and others riding in the caravan, as well as for voters who have come out to Arlington Market for the occasion.

LEADING OFF the parade will be U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, who is running for his third term from Illinois.

Other candidates participating in the three-day trek are Donald Rumsfeld, Congressional candidate from the 13th District; Richard B. Ogilvie, nominee for County Sheriff, and Elroy Sandquist, nominee for County Judge.

Republicans seeking re-election on Nov. 6 include Mrs. Earle B. Searcy, Clerk of the Supreme Court; Rep. Arthur E. Simmons and John W. Carroll (6th Dist.); and Charles Chaplin and William N. Erickson, members of the Board of County Commissioners. Erickson is seeking election to the presidency of the County Board.

OTHER CANDIDATES in the caravan, and the offices they seek, include William J. Scott, State Treasurer; Ray Page, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Walter McCarron, County Assessor; Edward B. Simon, County Superintendent of Schools; Archibald Carey Jr., Probate Judge.

Board members from Wheeling Township for the 13th District Women's Club include Mrs. Leo Hunter, Mrs. C. S. Hansen, and Mrs. George Goewy, all of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Goewy also serve as the 13th District Representatives on the Board of the Wheeling Township Republican Women's Club; they have been coordinating the two groups in arrangements for the caravan.

MEMBERS OF the Wheeling Township club who will be responsible for the refreshments at the Arlington Market stop include Mrs. A. J. Baugous of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Bert Jordan, Mount Prospect.

The club hopes that all voters in the area will make an effort to be at the Arlington Market headquarters around 4 p.m. on the afternoon of Thursday, Oct. 25. (ACM

Slate Pancake Day Saturday at YMCA

Aunt Jemima Pancake Day is slated for Saturday at Northwest Suburban YMCA, to be sponsored by the 'Y' Women's Auxiliary. Serving will begin at 8:30 a.m. and continue all day until 5 p.m. in the 'Y' all-purpose room.

Pancakes, "all you can eat," sausages, coffee and milk make up the simple, but filling menu. All families in the northwest suburbs are welcome to stop in for breakfast, brunch, lunch or an afternoon snack on this "feasting for fun" day.

THE WOMEN'S Auxiliary has planned the Pancake Day for its one and only money-raising event for the year. To help make the event a success, members of the YMCA Board of Directors will act as chefs, "flipping the flapjacks" in assembly line fashion for speedy serving.

Mrs. Earl Ogier of Arlington Heights, ways and means chairman of the auxiliary, is chairman of Pancake Day.

Panel Discussion to Head Churchwomen's Program

A panel discussion, "A Day in Juvenile Court," will head the program Oct. 24 when the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights holds its monthly meeting at 12:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

The panel, presented by Mrs. Clarence Monroe, Mrs. Clarence Willard, Mrs. Robert Larson and Mrs. Donald Badgley of First Presbyterian Church, Oak Park, has been presenting this discussion to other groups in the city. It will trace the origin and historical background of the Juvenile Court, the reason for it, and branch into the selection of judges, their terms of office and responsibilities their position entails.

THE AUDY HOME will be discussed as the destination of delinquents before they go to court and the panel will tell area women of the home's inadequacies. The panel will also conduct a question and answer period and as a follow-up to the program, 25 women from the local church will visit the Audy Home and Juvenile Court Oct. 25. "Their interest in juvenile court is an outgrowth of a 3-year study of "Youth in a Troubled World," in which Presbyterian women all over the world, have been concentrating," commented a spokesman.

The meeting will begin with luncheon served by Circle 5, under the direction of Mrs. M. E. Baughman and Mrs. H. K. Curtis. Mrs. R. E. Landes will present devotions with scripture and prayer. A business meeting will follow the luncheon with the main items being the election of officers for the coming 2-year period, and the presentation of the budget for that period.

MRS. ROBERT Tindall, director of the new theatre group in the church, will give a short talk on the group's play, "Family Portrait," which is the story of Jesus' family, to be presented Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. She will also discuss the reason for the formation of the group, the reason for presenting the play "in the round" and the reason for presenting this particular play.

Complaints On Sellers Received

Complaints about salesmen representing so-called "civil service schools" have been received from persons living in the Arlington Heights area, according to Joseph A. Connor, regional director of the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

He said exaggerated claims have been made by salesmen about job opportunities, and some salesmen have given the impression they are connected with the government.

Connor invited anyone contemplating taking a so-called "civil service" course to check with civil service representatives about employment opportunities and job requirements before signing a contract or paying their money. (A

Democratic Candidates Here Sunday

Democratic candidates in the Nov. 6 General Election will be guests of honor Sunday at a cocktail party in the VFW Hall, 601 N. Main St., Mount Prospect.

The public is invited to attend the affair from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Hosts for the informal gathering will include Walter P. Dahl, candidate for judge of the Superior Court of Cook County; John A. Kennedy, candidate for Congress, 13th District; David V. Tarr, candidate for State Representative, 6th District; Bernard Peskin, candidate for re-election as State Representative, 6th District; and James Stavros, Wheeling Township Democratic Committeeman. Grace Church Plans 'Laymen's Sunday'

Sunday, Oct. 21 will be observed as Laymen's Sunday by Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church (corner of Euclid and Wolf Roads) at both the 9:30 and the 11 a.m. Worship Services. Eight Laymen of the area will participate as leaders in this observance.

At the 9:30 service, William Poling, of Mount Prospect will bring the morning message, and C. Paul Carlstedt and Harry Boyle will read the Scripture Lessons. During the 11 a.m. service, Michael Dorosh of Mount Prospect will preach, and Ed Maclennan and Earl Thompson will read the lessons from the Bible.

THE SPECIAL ushering program for the day will be under the direction of Harry Kidd, assisted by men of the Church. Stan Harrison of Des Plaines will direct a men's chorus which will provide special music for the service. A special offering will be received for the work of the Augustana Lutheran Churchmen.

The Augustana Lutheran Churchmen, of which Grace is a part, is involved with the Boy's Camping Program of the church, Boy Scout work, and sponsors many service programs and projects to assist local congregations in their impact upon individual communities. The Churchmen meet regularly on the third Friday of each month, September through June. (ACM

PTA Conference Set At Club on Oct. 30

The 41st annual fall conference of PTA District 21 will be held at the Old Orchard Country Club, 209 Schoenbeck Rd., Prospect Heights, on Tuesday, Oct. 30.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m., with the call to order at 9:45 a.m. by Mrs. Arnold LoMar, Evanston, district director.

The theme for the Fall Conference is "Will Today's PTA's Meet the Challenge of Tomorrow?" "All Signals Are Go," according to Mrs. Norman Phillips, Evanston, Program Asst. District 21, who will present the morning's program.

DR. MILTON Litterst, first vice president, Illinois Congress Parents and Teachers, will speak to the group on how "Communications Are Established."

"Reception Is Clear" is the topic of the address to be delivered by Dr. John M. Vayhinger, Evanston.

Dr. Litterst will be the featured speaker of the afternoon. His statements will set the stage for the remainder of the program when he replies to the challenge of the theme by defining the power and potential of PTA.

The afternoon session will include a report of the discussion workshops with remaining time alloted to individual questions from the entire assembly.

THE PURPOSE of the conference is threefold: (1) to afford the opportunity for PTA officers, chairmen, teachers and administrators to re-examine past accomplishments of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers which are now incorporated in its historical records; (2) to evaluate present Congress activities at the local, state and national levels; (3) to establish broad guide line for the immediate future in order to meet the needs of our times.

Luncheon reservations, which are limited to 525, may be made by sending a check for $2 made payable to Skokie Valley Council of PTAs, to Mrs. Edward Gordon, 8140 Kildare, Skokie, by Oct. 20. (A

Forest View Sophs Split

Forest View's soph harriers split two Interim meets this week, whipping Niles West Friday, 21-36, and dropping a close 25-30 decision to second place Deerfield Tuesday.

Jim Hurin, Bob Prucha, Terry Hayden, and Jim Nolan finished second through fifth respectively to insure victory over Niles West. Dick Kotlarz, a newcomer, came in seventh.

Prucha, finishing third, led his teammates against Deerfield. Nolan was fifth; Hurin, sixth; Hayden, seventh; and Kotlarz, ninth.

The Falcons are 1-4 in conference standings.

Exhibit Is Coming Here

"Illinois in the Civil War" is the title of a colorful History-mobile exhibit being brought to Arlington Heights by the Arlington Heights Historical Society Oct. 29 to Nov. 3.

Admission to the traveling museum of history is free. It is sponsored by the Illinois State Historical Society.

While it is in Arlington Heights it will be parked on the east side of S. Dunton Avenue north of Sigwalt Street. Hours of viewing will be announced later.

The exhibit tells its story by the use of picture, posters, diaries, letters, maps, newspapers, weapons, and other military equipment displayed in 18 cases along the sides of the traveling museum.

The historical material for the exhibit is from the collections of the Illinois State Historical Library in Springfield.

Prospect Harriers Among Interim Front-Runners

Prospect's high-flying Knights picked up two more wins in Interim cross country action this week.

Dick Calisch's runners bombed East Leyden Friday, 20-41, and came back Tuesday to whip previously unbeaten Willowbrook, 23-36.

The Knights, although undefeated, are now in second place with four wins and one tie. Niles West and Proviso West (both 4-0) are tied for first place.

Gary York picked up two firsts, leading the pack in both meets. George Schneider finished second at Willowbrook and third against East Leyden.

Other pointgetters at Willowbrook were Dave Thomas, fifth; Gust Filantres, seventh; Ed Schuppenhauer, eighth; Ed Schneider, ninth; and Bob Carr, 10th.

Thomas finished fourth at East Leyden. Filantres was fifth, and Schuppenhauer, seventh.

Scout Troop 7 Acclaimed As Top Unit

Troop 7 of the Boy Scouts of America was acclaimed the most aggressive unit in the Northwest Suburban Council at the campfire court of honor held this month in the spacious back yard of Otis Johnson, scoutmaster.

The scouts, Douglas Chidley and James Smith were raised to Eagle Scouts in grand ceremony.

There was also a total of 79 merit badges awarded to both the troop and its Explorer Post.

THE FOLLOWING boys were advanced to higher ranks: Life Scout, Sam Cullison; Star scout, John Shelley, Paul Thompson, Jay Needleman, Alan Johnson; First Class, Peter Metz; Second Class, David Kougat, Peter Shuart; Tenderfoot, Robert Hutchins and Charles Leuecke.

The troop is planning its annual earning project, the Pancake Supper, to be held in the all-purpose room at Miner Junior High from 5 to 8 p.m., Monday, Nov. 12. Tickets may be purchased from all Troop 7 Boy Scouts. (A

Advance Babysitting Plan for ADC Mothers

A plan whereby Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) mothers can work for the relief checks they are paid while providing the opportunity for other ADC mothers to seek employment has been advanced by a veteran state lawmaker.

Rep. John W. Carroll, R-Park Ridge, and chairman of the Public Aid Advisory Committee, suggested the program this week as a substitute for a day care center project which failed to develop.

Carroll' scommittee directed Harold O. Swank, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, to institute a program of using competent and responsible ADC mothers to care for groups of eight children in their homes—if suitable—or in available space in public housing developments.

CARROLL NOTED that this would give ADC mothers an opportunity to earn part or all of the relief payments they receive under the supervision of a trained case worker.

An added bonus, he observed, would be that it would free other ADC mothers from the responsibilities of home to allow them to look for work while their children were cared for in the group.

The plan was a more modest version of one recommended by the Welfare Council of Greater Chicago in which three day care centers were to be established to provide for ADC children while their mothers worked.

THE STATE legislature last year appropriated $250,000 for the project during the 1961 session, but the first center was not opened until April 9 of this year.

Only 31 children from 20 ADC families were enrolled in the day center ,although a center was to have accommodated 75 children and would be operated by a staff consisting of a director, six teachers, one clerical worker, a cook ,assistant cook and janitor.

The public Aid Commission was to provide money for staff salaries while the welfare council was to make provision for buildings, equipment, food and teaching materials.

"THE LEGISLATURE appropriated the $250,000 as a pilot program to cut ADC costs," Carroll commented, "but it appears to have worked just the opposite.

He added: "My mind is open to any reasonable expenditure that will help the public aid rolls and ultimately reduce the more than five hundred million dollars we are appropriating for this program."

Lecturer to Talk For Churchwomen

"Mission in our Backyards" will be theme of Alfred E. Rath's presentation to the Women's Association of the Southminster Presbyterian Church at its meeting Wednesday evening, Oct. 24.

The group will meet at the church's parish center at 906 E. Central Road, at 8 p.m.

Rath, head resident of Association House, at 2150 W. North Ave., Chicago, has had long experience in many phases of Neighborhood House work.

IN ADDITION to his direction of one of the Presbytery of Chicago's largest setlement houses, Rath is a lecturer in the field of church and community at McCormick Theological Seminary, and has been a member of the White House Conference for Youth for the State of Illinois.

He is an active Presbyterian layman, was honored by the Presbytery of Chicago by being elected its vice-moderator two years ago, and last year was the president of the Presbyterian National Health and Welfare Conference.

The Southminster Church recently chose Association House as one of the city's neighborhood houses that it will support in its mission outreach.

IN ADDITION to its general neighborhood services, Association House has gained wide recognition through its program for retarded children and its present emphasis on "detached youth" services.

The president of Southminster Church's Women's Association is Mrs. Carl H. Bowen, 115 W. Central Rd.

Mrs. W. Lorne Box, 838 S. Evergreen Ave., is the prgoram chairman.

The evening's refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. Carl W. Hilton, 436 S. Beverly Lane.

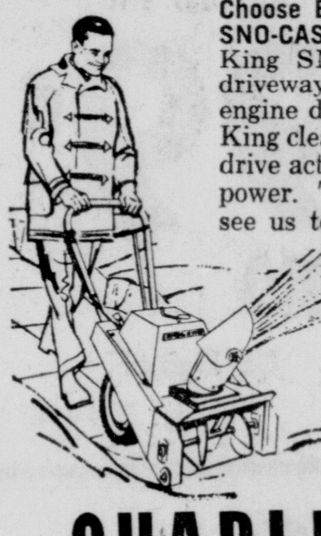
SAME OLD PROBLEM ...TWO NEW ANSWERS

Even if your snow problem is man-size, a BOLENS tractor with the 32-inch SNO-CASTER attachment can turn it into child's play.

BOLENS tractors breeze through snow to clear large areas quickly and easily. The positive-grip tire treads bite into the snow to keep you plowing ahead. The SNO-CASTER blades dig into snowbanks and throw snow out and away from walks and drives... no banks to cause more drifting. Say goodbye to backaches with a BOLENS tractor. Use it for snow casting this winter... mowing and tilling in summer.



Choose BOLENS Power Propelled WinterKing SNO-CASTER. Simply guide your WinterKing SNO-CASTER over sidewalks and driveways. A sturdy 3-hp Briggs & Stratton engine does the work for you. The WinterKing clears an 18-inch swath. Positive, chain-drive action means no slipping and no loss of power. Throw away your snow shovel... see us today.

Propose New 'Walks' For School Children

On County Roads 3 24 Ital Propose new walks 3 48 Bd

Cook County Superintendent of Highways William J. Mortimer has come up with a new solution for protecting school children who have to walk along the side of busy highways.

Mortimer told the county board of commissioners Tuesday of a new substance which combines limestone, fly-ash and a residue of burnt coal and coke, has the hardness and durability of cement but is much cheaper.

He proposed providing eight-foot shoulders along 40 miles of county roads each year with the material which bears a trade name of "Posopac."

The commissioners took his suggestion under advisement, differing as to where funds for such an undertaking could be acquired.

MORTIMER SAID such a plan was necessary with the increasing urbanization of formerly rural areas. "The state advised us we couldn't spend motor fuel taxes for sidewalks along roads unless it was a major improvement. Then we tried to loan money to school districts to install their own sidewalks, and the State's Attorney's office said this was illegal."

Mortimer said that homeowners lacking sidewalk improvements often ask the county to provide gravel shoulders, but that experience had proved gravel to be too dusty and dirty.

He pointed out that four inches of the new substance he was recommending amounted to 12 inches of gravel in compactness.

Not only could school children avail themselves of the shoulders but disabled cars could use them as well, Mortimer added.

The highway superintendent asked for $200,000 a year to begin providing the eight-foot shoulders for the 670 miles of county roads. "Where the shoulders would first be installed would be determined on the basis of the number of school children and cars using the road and the number of homes in the area," he explained.

Mortimer recommended that the money comes from county highway taxes which net $8 million a year.

BUT CHARLES R. Hodgman, deputy controller and budget director, suggested that the money be drawn from the county's share of state motor fuel taxes instead.

Mortimer said it was a board decision to make as to where the money would come from, but that he doubted if the state would approve the use of motor fuel taxes for such a purpose.

Seymour Simon, county board president, moved that the matter be considered by the board's finance committee. "We have to realize the delicacy of the corporate fund," Simon said in reference to the board's decision to try to hold the county's 1963 budget to its 1962 level of spending.

Mortimer said the "posopac" substance is a gray color and sets to the hardness of concrete. (B8

Fall Fish Season Under Way Here

After an unexpected week delay because of varying water conditions, The Arlington Heights Park District's Fall Fishing Season is under way.

Opening last weekend at Pioneer and Recreation Park pools, the season will continue through Oct. 28. On Saturday and Sundays the pools are open from 1 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday fishing may be enjoyed from 7 to 9 p.m.

DURING the first three days, 1,148 people fished and 180 fish were caught. The pools will be restocked regularly during the season with rainbow and brook trout.

Anglers may bring their own equipment or use the Park District cane poles that are equipped with dry flies.

Throughout the course of the season the biggest catches will be weighed and recorded for prizes to be given to the winners at the end of the program. Fishing prizes have been donated by Pro Sports Shop and Cunningham & Reilly Sporting Goods. (A

WHEELING-BUFFALO GROVE — Officials of School District 21 expressed deep concern about the effect of a proposed 967-acre annexation to Buffalo Grove. Plans are to construct about 3,000 dwelling units in the area. Details in Wheeling Herald.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE — A village delegation has given Centex Construction Company 30 days to agree on an offer for the purchase of the Elk Grove Sewer and Water Company. For details, see the Elk Grove Herald.

ROLLING MEADOWS — A plan for more orderly development of the northwest suburban area is being proposed by Mayor John J. Woods, who this week invited heads of the villages of Arlington Heights, Palatine, Elk Grove, Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg to meet with him to consider arriving at mutual agreement of future expansion plans.

Approaching the annexation question on another front, Mayor Woods has officially advised five property owners between the Tollway and Algonquin Road of the city's current negotiations with owners of land south of the Tollway and north of Golf toward annexation. Details in Rolling Meadows Herald.

HOFFMAN ESTATES — Ground was broken Tuesday morning for the long awaited shopping center west of Roselle Road in the village. Officials from National Tea, W. T. Grant, F and S Construction Company and the 3,000th family to purchase a home in the village were on hand to turn a shovel of dirt. Details in Hoffman Herald.

SCHAUMBURG — A Walgreen Drug store will be located in the shopping center being developed by Erwin M. Hurt on the property between Golf and Higgins Roads. An A & P store is under construction in the Hurt center now. For details, see Hoffman Herald.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — Village board adopts criteria for stop signs at intersections and orders engineering department to begin study of stop sign installations in village. Details in Arlington Heights Herald.

MOUNT PROSPECT — The village will hire a municipal finance consultant to prepare bond issue ordinances for the forthcoming water revenue issue, other future issues which may be needed and possibly incorporate old issues now outstanding. The consultant will attempt to obtain an "A" Moody rating for the village. Details in Mount Prospect Herald. (B8

How much do you know about Money?

This little True-False test might prove profitable—try it

1. "Never keep your savings and checking accounts in one place."
True ☐ False ☐
2. "Never get too confidential with a banker. Your finances are your business."
True ☐ False ☐
3. "You're better off never borrowing any money."
True ☐ False ☐

The Answers?

As you've guessed, they're all FALSE. Here's why: If you spread your accounts all over town, you're not as likely to become an important customer at any one place. By concentrating your banking business, you have the edge when you need a major loan later on. The more your bank knows about you, the more it can help you through counsel, credit references, and — most important — loans.

Get started with a Full Service Bank soon

If there's any secret to "knowing about money," it's to get to know your banker before you need him and then use him for all he's worth. A firm friendship with a Full Service commercial bank (such as ours) is probably the best financial and personal reference anyone can have.

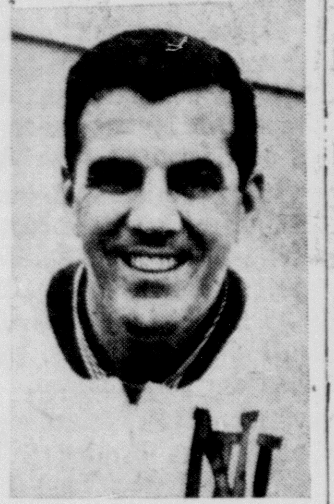
KICKIN' IT AROUND

BY BOB FRISK

THE WHOLE TOWN'S TALKING about that Northwestern team.

We watched the Wildcats massacre a pitifully poor Illinois team two weeks ago and went away favorably impressed with the hosts from Evanston, despite the weak opposition.

Tom Myers is as good as billed. Although we've only seen him play one game and he didn't play much in that one, it didn't take long to discover that this boy has all the tools needed by a great quarterback.



ARA PARSEGHIAN

Myers' great potential as a passer at Northwestern wasn't the only reason Ara Parseghian decided in the spring to change his offense to one emphasizing passing. In football a pitcher is no better than his catchers.

Paul Flatley, a somewhat nondescript halfback-fullback for two seasons who filled in here and there in the Wildcat backfield, came into his own in spring as a receiver. His catching ability was the convincer for Parseghian.

As a junior Flatley carried the football 50 times for 156 yards and caught six passes for 75 yards. In the opener against South Carolina this fall Paul snagged eight of Myers' aerials for 103 yards.

Parseghian switched to a pro-type formation, mistakenly described as a "slot offense," with the emergence of Myers and Flatly. It's not a slot since Flatley, the chief target, is stationed well outside the end rather than in a slot between end and tackle. He's a flanker in the true sense of the word and Parseghian's formation is most accurately described as a flanker-T.

Regardless of title, Flatley is enjoying an exceptional season. He doesn't have the height of some other top receivers in the Big Ten at only 6-foot-1, but he makes up for it with tremendous spring. He also has fine hands and that receiving sixth sense which sets him apart from the ordinary pass-catcher.

Nearly all great aerial acts involve two people, and this combination of Myers and Flatley certainly should rank with the best in Big Ten gridiron history.

Ohio State is in for a king-sized package of trouble Saturday when it faces the Northwestern Wildcats. Ohio's pass defense against Illinois was nothing to brag about.

Woody Hayes recognizes the danger. Ohio State is going to gain against Northwestern, no doubt of that, but if it falls behind the Cats' quick-striking attack the Bucks may be forced into a long-gain type of game which Hayes dislikes.

Northwestern's Parseghian always shoots hard for Ohio since he is an Ohioan and so do a lot of his players, who also are Ohioans. You can be sure Myers, who is from Troy, Ohio — 60 miles from Columbus — will be especially eager to shine against the Buckeyes and Hayes.

AS AN ILLINOIS GRADUATE who certainly is interested in the progress (if you can call it that) of the Fighting Illini in football, we're more than just curious in the prospects on the freshmen level. There obviously isn't much hope with the current varsity so we better look at the future and hope for the best.

A pleasant surprise at quarterback for the Illini frosh has been Fred Custardo of Proviso East who apparently is the best passer on the roster. Carbondale's Ron Acks, a prep All-American, is doing well at quarterback also. His top forte is as a ball-carrier.

Acks is a good enough ball-carrier that if the quarterback corps is over-loaded next spring he could be a strong candidate at halfback.

Fullbacks Don Hansen of Evansville, Ind. and Tony Parola of Hillsboro have been backfield bright spots. Dee Rutherford of Mt. Vernon, shifted from full to halfback, looks good as a 190-pound ball carrier.

Top linemen to date in the practices are Bill Farrell, 225-pound from Olympia Fields; Dale Greco, 260-pound tackle from Fenton in Bensenville; Dick Fitzgerald, 240-pound guard from Calumet City; Kai Anderson, 220-pound center from Moline; and Jim Unrath, 205-pound guard from Glenbard West.

Bob Beightol, the bright guard prospect from Downers Grove. will play no more football this fall and may be handicapped next spring as well. He received a knee injury last week which bars further play. Beightol is one of a half-dozen frosh linemen who have earned the label of "hard nose," and with a designation of a good college future. The 205-pounder likes it rough.

One touted fullback, Jeff Lundeen of Moline, has dropped out of football with the announced intention of concentrating on track. He was second to Palatine's Andy Merutka in the stage shot put last spring.

This current Illinois freshman team is considered the school's best since World War II. Nineteen All-Staters are on the roster.

Let's hope the future holds some promise.

The present certainly is nothing to talk about.

Prospect Jayvees End Cliffhangers; Win 45-0

Prospect's Jayvee football squad ended its "cliffhanger" era Saturday with a stunning 45-0 win over Deerfield.

The Knights take their undefeated record (4-0) to Niles West (1-3) at noon, Saturday. Prospect is tied for the Interim Jayvee lead with Morton West and Glenbrook North.

Dick Mudge's crew rolled up 496 yards from scrimmage, including 143 in the air, in dumping the hapless Warriors.

DAVE WHITE and Grant Gentry scored twice each to lead the Knights. The versatile White tallied on a five yard off tackle slant for the first score of the game from a halfback possession, and picked up the final touchdown of the game on a 28 yard rollout while playing quarterback in the fourth quarter.

Gentry went up the middle for 84 yards and scored his second touchdown on a 61 yard pass from Quarterback Mike Phillips.

Fullback Wayne Kuklinski ran 18 yards for another touchdown, and Ron Wesley, who had a 45 yard scoring run called back for clipping, later tallied on a two yard plunge.

LARRY BOGART scored the other touchdown on a 76 yard scamper in the fourth quarter.

Rich Beverly kicked two extra points, and ran a third over from 15 yards out after a fumbled pass from center prevented a kick.

Mudge had praise for his offensive line.

"They did a great job," he said. "We couldn't have scored without them."

The second string defensive unit also turned in a good job, said Mudge.

Crucial Game For Prospect

by BILL HALLS

The Time for fun and frivolity is over on the fading green practice fields of Prospect High.

A hundred pair of cleats have worn a bare spot at midfield. The days are getting shorter, and so are the tempers of J. O. Jackson and his assistants, George Gattas and Chuck Aldrich.

The blue chips are down, and its up to the Knights to pick them up.

Prospect has only two games left, Saturday at Niles West, and the season finale at home against Glenbrook North; both contenders for the Interim title. Both sport 3-1 records.

AT LEAST three other squads have a shot at the title, but all have lost at least once.

Prospect must win if they hope to claim the crown outright. A loss to either team would most likely mean a tie, and perhaps second place.

The best the Knights can do is win six games. Both Niles West and Glenbrook North play seven game schedules. This means a 6-1 record could beat out the Knights if they lose one game.

NILES WEST has two tough games after the Prospect tilt Saturday. They still must get by Proviso West, and Maine West, which upset Glenbrook North last weekend.

Glenbrook plays Deerfield and West Leyden (both 0-4) before meeting the Knights.

In a way, Prospect has an advantage in playing only six league games. With no game scheduled for Oct. 27, Jackson will have two weeks before meeting Glenbrook North.

This is time enough to rest or replace injured players, and provides a chance for extra contact work.

The time will be needed.

NILES WEST, whose only defeat was at the hands of Glenbrook North, is defending Interim champion, and Mike Basrak's Indians have power in the backfield and a strong defensive line.

An early season injury forced a promising fullback, Howie Clark, to the sidelines. He has yet to see game action.

His place was taken by Dennis Smith, a sophomore. Don Deck, a pile-driving halfback, has scored eight touchdowns to lead the league, and is filling the shoes of all-league halfback Tom (20-point) Perri, last year's sensational scorer, who has left the team for personal reasons.

Elliott Davidow is at the other halfback, and Ken Altschuler, a competent quarterback, will call the plays.

THE DEFENSIVE line is anchored by 230-pound Chuck Giovannelli, Steve Horwitz, Arnie Glassberg, Steve Brown, and Dennis Rossi.

Glassberg, Brown, Horwitz, Deck and Altschuler made honorable mention on all-conference team last year.

Jackson plans to go with the lineup which beat Deerfield, 27-13, last week, but may make some last minute changes.

The Knights got good performances from the defensive line, and halfbacks Dan Johnson, Wayne Zaehler and Wayne Deeke.

JOHNSON PICKED up 100 yards for the second week in a row, while Zaehler added 78 in three tries, and Deeke, 61 in 11 carries.

Fullback Mike Dawson, who

St. Viator Tackles Maryville Saturday

Griff MacDonald is looking for a lineup.

It's not that the St. Viator High School football coach has anything against the one he's been using, but an unexpected development has created some personnel problems in the Lions' camp.

Ineligibility has shelved several regulars for Saturday's road encounter with Maryville Academy in Des Plaines, and MacDonald had no idea at the outset of the week what alignment he would use against the Terriers.

MacDONALD learned Monday that the scholastic axe had fallen on some of his regulars and immediately set out to fill the gaps. The boys, in most cases, won't be lost for the entire season, but the problem is finding some immediate replacements.

Action at the Des Plaines school Saturday will begin at 2 p.m.

According to MacDonald, Maryville's attack is "quite unorthodox" with quarterback Johnny Abraham a key figure in its development. Abraham, a leading scorer for two seasons in the Metropolitan Catholic division, is fast and an accurate passer.

ST. VIATOR will be seeking its fourth victory in five outings this Saturday. The Lions picked up three straight wins before falling to St. Edward of Elgin and then bumped visiting St. Patrick's of Chicago last Thursday.

St. Viator tallied one touchdown in the first half and added their final two six-pointers in the third and fourth stanzas as they dumped St. Pat's, 19-14.

The locals penetrated to the visitors' one yard line in the first period, but fumbled. Jeff Haiduke counted the first touchdown in the second period on a three-yard run.

FUMBLES MARRED the first half action although St. Viator controlled the football. The game opened up in the final half with 27 points.

St. Viator's soph halfback Don Knudson scored for the Lions in the third period on a 13-yard end run. St. Pat's closed the gap on Bob Prosi's 22-yard sprint and extra point, but the locals counted again thanks to Knudson.

GRIFF MacDONALD

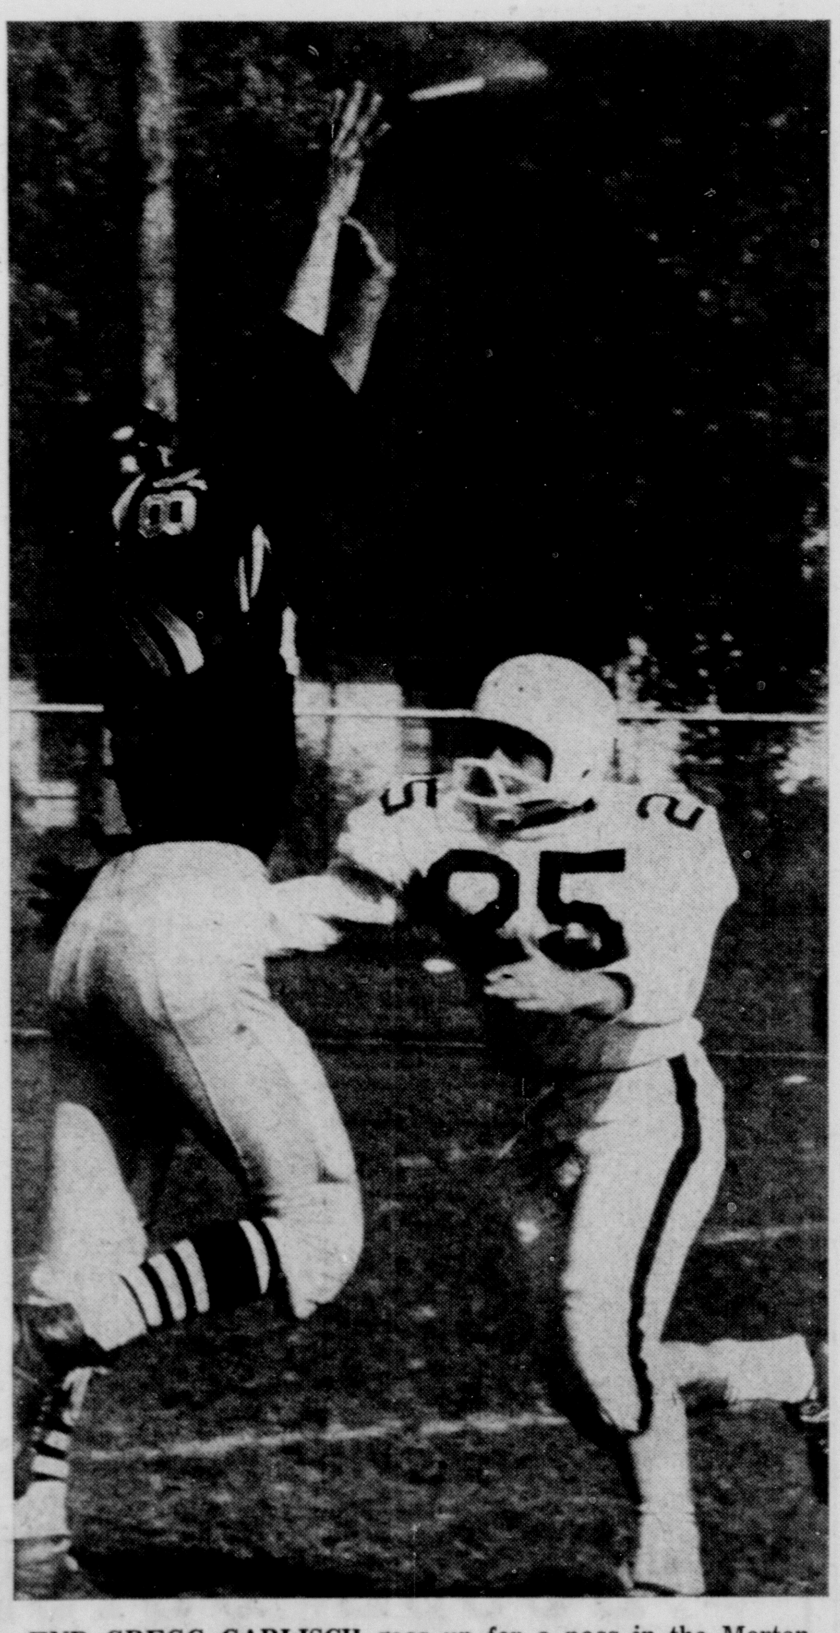
The swift halfback added his second touchdown of the afternoon when he took in a 20-yard pass from Bill Roche. Doug Frait kicked the extra point.

ST. PAT'S came roaring back at this point and tallied on a 60-yard pass play to Ken Pylko, and Gene Belmont added his second conversion.

Following Saturday's battle in Des Plaines, MacDonald's varsity crew will return home (to Prospect's field) to host De La Salle on Saturday, Oct. 27, at 2:30 p.m.

The Lions will travel to DeKalb on Saturday, Nov. 3, and will terminate the 1962 campaign on Sunday, Nov. 11, with a home contest against Boylan Central of Rockford.

Score by quarters:
St. Viator .... 0 6 6 7—19
St. Pat's .... 0 0 0 14—14



END GREGG GARLISCH goes up for a pass in the Morton East game. The Falcons won, 41-0. Quarterbacks Mike Griesman and Russ Barger completed eight of 16 passes, good for 67 yards and one touchdown.

Barrington Tops Lions' Harriers

Barrington's varsity and frosh-soph cross country teams rolled to easy victories over St. Viator last week.

The Bronchos of the North Suburban Conference captured the varsity competition, 18-63, and posted an 18-50 win in the frosh-soph division.

Winning points toward varsity letters for Coach Jim Berger's Lions were Mike Jones of Wauconda in fourth; Mike Rompala and Jerry Blandford of Mount Prospect in eighth and 16th; James Kiefer of Des Plaines in 17th; and Kevin Mahoney of Arlington Heights in 18th.

Scoring for the St. Viator frosh-sophs were Paul Larson in fourth, Bob Packard in sixth, Paul Scheetz in ninth, Scott Morrison in 13th, and Ed Roth in 18th.

St. Viator's varsity and frosh-soph harriers are slated to hook up in a triangular with Ridgewood and Immaculate Conception this Friday, Oct. 19. The Lions will journey to Fenton on Thursday, Oct. 25.

Homecoming At Arlington

by BOB FRISK

Those mysterious Cardinals from Arlington High School, baffling everyone with a highly unpredictable brand of football this fall, will try again Friday evening for that first conference victory.

Squared off with Glenbard West of Glen Ellyn, Arlington is faced with either winning or tying or assuming sole occupancy of the West Suburban Conference cellar, an unenviable position it held in 1960 and avoided by two games last season.

Both Arlington and Glenbard have stumbled to four straight losses in league warfare in 1962 although in all justice to the Cardinals, it should be noted that their setbacks were inflicted by the four first division teams.

The worst should be over.

FRIDAY'S encounter on the Arlington High field will be for the grads with the league tussle a highlight of another Homecoming week. The varsity festivities will be preceded by a frosh-soph game at six o'clock.

There will be a 30-minute intermission between the two games for a float parade and presentation of the homecoming queen and her court.

It doesn't take much to get a team "up" for its Homecoming game and when last place is staring you in the face there should be an even bigger incentive for a crowd-pleasing performance.

Arlington gave the grads a lot to talk about last fall when it stunned favored LaGrange, 14-13, in the annual headliner.

THAT DEMONSTRATION in LaGrange last Saturday is best forgotten by the Cardinals. In suffering a one-sided 41-7 setback Arlington experienced what could be the low point of a frustrating season.

Head Coach "Bus" Ormsbee plans several changes in his alignments with five offensive positions listed as "open" at the outset of the week.

EITHER JERRY Totzke or Joe Wertheimer will get the first call at left half with Tom Fagerson or Ken Layden at the slot back. Ken has been switched from the left halfback berth.

Despite Glenbard's five straight losses this season Arlington knows better than to underestimate those Hilltoppers from Glen Ellyn.

Glenbard was also winless in league play last fall when it battled an Arlington team that had stunned LaGrange by one point, and the Bards still managed to post a ridiculously easy 28-6 triumph.

GLENBARD'S CHIEF ground gainer in that rout is back this season, and he'll be a boy to watch Friday. Gary Anderson, 160-pound fullback, picked up 120 yards in 30 carries against the Cardinals in 1961 for a pair of touchdowns.

Joining Anderson in the Bards' backfield will be quarterback Dick Vanderlinde and halfbacks Larry Black and Dick Follett. Black is a returning letterman, but both Vanderlinde and Follett are juniors.

After an opening 20-6 loss to non-league foe Wheaton the Hilltoppers proceeded to drop four straight West Suburban games. They were blanked by Maine East (14-0) and also decisioned by Downers Grove (31-12), LaGrange (21-7), and York (21-12).

Both Arlington and Glenbard West are getting desperate now. They're desperate for that first league victory.

Something's gotta give Friday evening.

Arlington Frosh Whip LaGrange

Rolling up a 20-0 halftime lead, Arlington High's frosh "A" football team coasted to a 27-13 victory over LaGrange Monday afternoon.

Coach Jim Hoffmann's plebes turned in their finest performance of the season in posting their second victory. The young Cardinals have tied a pair and lost one.

On the first play from scrimmage Buddy Bencic scampered 78 yards for a touchdown. Tom Douglas gathered in an eight-yard pass from Tom LeStarge for the second score, and LeStarge hit Mickey Whalen on a 30-yard effort to conclude the first half explosion.

Jim Theroux and Douglas picked up the extra points in the first two periods.

Arlington's final touchdown came on a 35-yard pass from LeStarge to Whalen, Bencic added the PAT.

Arlington's frosh "As" will journey to Glenbard West next Monday afternoon for a contest at four o'clock. A game with Riverside on Oct. 29 will terminate the 1962 season.

Lions, Packers Gain Little League Titles

With only one Saturday of play remaining in the Arlington Heights Little League football program the Lions and Packers have clinched championships in their respective divisions.

The Lions, unbeaten in five games, dumped the high-scoring 49ers last Saturday, 13-7, with both touchdowns in the first half.

49ers	3	2	0
Browns	2	3	0
Rams	0	5	0

Giants	1	1	2
Bears	1	2	1
Cardinals	0	4	0

After stopping the 49ers on their five yard line the Lions struck quickly in the first period with Jimmy Swanezy scampering 50 yards on an end sweep. Swanezy also scored the second touchdown on a 30 yard sweep, and Steve Conley added the extra point.

Conley was a standout as an offensive blocker and sparked the defense with Lowell Christy.

Doug Fink scored the loser's touchdown on a four-yard smash. Mickey Wadzita picked up the extra point. Defensive standouts for the 49ers were Fink, Kevin O'Connell, and Mike Grant.

Score by quarters:

Lions	6	7	0	0—13
49ers	0	0	7	0— 7

IN OTHER SENIOR League action the Browns of Bill Gunnison turned on the power and shelled the Rams, 39-7.

Jimmy Gumz scored two touchdowns on passes from Pat Martin. Pat had an exceptional game through the air with eight completions in 13 attempts.

Ron Horker also scored a pair of touchdowns on runs of 65 and eight yards. Jim Wiederholt tallied on a 25 yard end sweep, and Bruce Weber counted on a 10-yard smash.

Weber and Mike Murphy were defensive standouts for the winners.

Bob DeStefanis scored the Ram's touchdown on a quarterback sneak.

Score by quarters:

Browns	0	14	13	12—39
Rams	7	0	0	0— 7

IN JUNIOR League competition the Packers remained unbeaten and clinched the title with a 19-7 win over the Colts. Charlie Ewart's club scored all of its points in the second period with Steve Stratton counting on runs of eight and 18 yards and Scott Larson on a 42-yard scamper.

With less than a minute to play in the first half Dean Schmelzer took a pass from Paul Harth to score a touchdown for the Colts on a 52-yard maneuver.

Defensive standouts for the Colts were Rick Ericson, Larry Wert, and Foreman.

For the Packers the entire team played its best game of the season, both on offense and defense. Starters were Todd Somers and Jim Berlin at the ends, Tim Shannon and Bryce Knorr at tackle, Dave Larson and Bob West at guards, and Jay Harris at center.

Dave Ewart directed the Packers at quarterback with Chris Buttenob and Steve Stratton at the halfbacks and Scott Larson at fullback.

Score by quarters:

Packers	0	19	0	0—19
Colts	0	7	0	0— 7

IN OTHER Junior League play the Giants leveled the Cardinals 21-7 with single touchdowns in each of the first three periods.

Denny Meacham was the offensive star, scoring all three touchdowns and extra points for the winners. Gary Drake tallied the Cardinal marker on an off-tackle smash with Scott McKay picking up the conversion.

Score by quarters:

Giants	7	7	7	0—21
Cardinals	0	0	0	7— 7

COACH MARV Schuler's Eagles had little trouble blanking the Bears, 19-0, with single touchdowns in the first, second, and fourth stanzas.

David Kallman counted the first on a 35-yard reverse, and a Gary Korte to Rick Saduski pass covering 40 yards picked up the second. Noni Santos tallied the third on a 10-yard plunge.

Score by quarters:

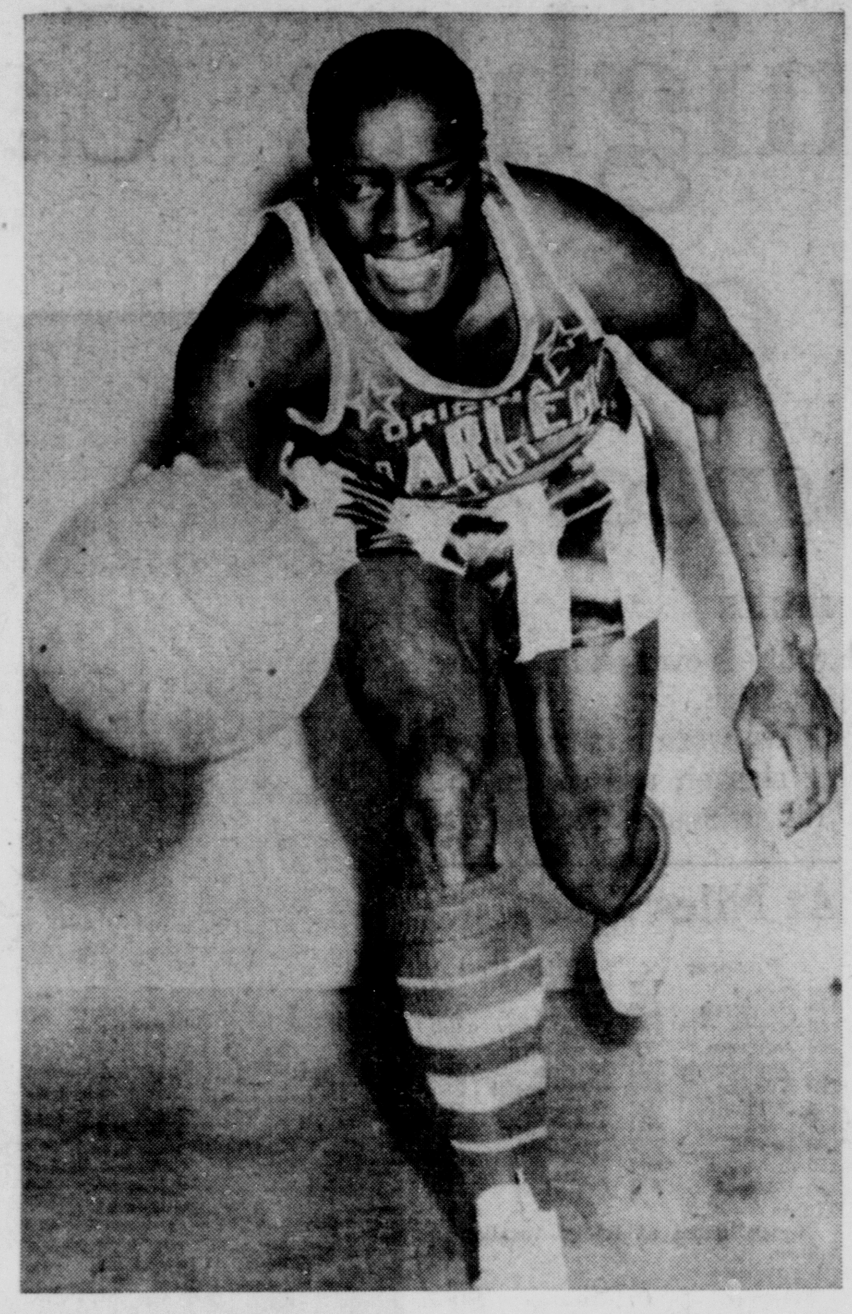
Eagles	6	6	0	7—19



THE WORLD-FAMOUS Harlem Globetrotters, including J. C. Down Deerfield, 27-13

Up and Down Knights Stumble to Victory

by BILL HALLS

Sometimes playing brilliantly, sometimes like grandmother with her foot in the milk bucket, Prospect's Knights held off a belated Deerfield rally to post a 27-13 win before a capacity homecoming crowd Saturday.

The victory, combined with Maine West's 21-14 win over Glenbrook North, left the unbeaten Knights all alone in the tough Interim League's top slot.

Prospect struck quickly on occasion, scoring on the first play from scrimmage, and requiring only 12 plays for two other touchdowns, but muffed at least six other scoring opportunities with fumbles and unnecessary penalties.

"I feel worse about winning a game like this than I do about losing," grumbled an unhappy J. O. Jackson.

THE KNIGHTS lost the ball four times on fumbles and penalties kept them out of the Deerfield end zone on two other occasions, once on a 14-yard touchdown run by Halfback Wayne Deeke in the fourth quarter.

But things weren't that bad all day. The first time Quarterback Ken Groh got his hands on the ball, he lofted a long aerial to End Jim Hogarty who hauled it in on the Warrior 20-yard stripe and scampered untouched into the end zone. Ron Koepke converted and the Knights led, 7-0.

Three plays later, End Dennis Mitchell recovered a stray football on the Deerfield 21, but four plays and two penalties later, the Knights found themselves at the Warrior 35 with no more downs.

Another Prospect opportunity was missed when Deeke fumbled on a first down play at the Deerfield 43. The defense held and the Warriors punted to the Prospect 30.

HALFBACK Wayne Zaehler, who made some key tackles, intercepted a pass, and picked up 78 yards in three trips, took off on a 55-yard romp to the Warrior 15. The run was wasted, however, when Halfback Bob Gerrard fumbled on the Deerfield 11.

Fullback Mike Dawson salvaged this debacle four plays later. He intercepted one of Paul Hess' passes on the Warrior 23 and scored. Koepke's kick was wide and Prospect went out in front, 13-0.

Groh took command a couple of minutes later and drove his team 62 yards in six plays for their third score, on good runs by Dawson and Deeke.

From eight yards out, Groh faked beautifully into the line, and lobbed another scoring toss to Hogarty who was all alone at the goal line. Koepke converted and the score was 20-0 with 7:14 left in the first half.

END JIM Anderson stopped Deerfield's deepest penetration in the first half when he recovered a fumble on his own 37.

Deeke, Dawson, Zaehler and Gerrard carried the ball to the 26, but second string Quarterback Bill Mutert failed to take it over on three pass plays.

It might be said that the Knights missed the best part of the game at halftime. The Prospect marching band, 112 strong, and fortified by 37 rhythmettes and pom pon girls, put on a flawless performance.

The capacity crowd gave them a standing ovation which was acknowledged with wide smiles by Band Director Edward W. Volz, and Drum Major Wayne Karge.

THE KNIGHTS must have got wind of it because they opened the second half like a first place ball club. It took Groh six calls to move his club 80 yards for the score.

Halfback Dan Johnson, who picked up 105 yards in 15 carries, seemed to know what it was all about. He accounted for 65 of the yards personally, including a 33-yard sprint for the touchdown. Koepke again converted, and that was it for the day, 27-0.

The Knights went back to their rag-tag ways a little later when Dennis Reindl presented another scoring opportunity by picking off another Warrior bobble at the enemy 26.

Three plays later, End Dennis Mitchell took a Groh pass, ran 16 yards from the Deerfield 43 (another penalty) to the 27, and promptly gave the ball back to the opposition.

BUT DEERFIELD was obliging and gave the ball back on a punt. This time the Knights, behind the star-crossed Mutert, drove from the Warrior 43 to the 17. A third down pass was incomplete, and Koepke missed a field goal from the 25.

Zaehler halted a Deerfield drive, when he intercepted another Hess pass at midfield and carried to the enemy 38.

But Mutert, experiencing his worst afternoon, had a pass tipped by a lineman three plays later. It was grabbed off by Dick Nychay at the Deerfield 30 and ran to the Knight eight-yard line before the swift Zaehler brought him down.

JERRY CHRISTY carried it over from the eight, and Frank Checchin ran the extra point. The give-away continued 51 seconds later when Groh fired a beauty straight at Art Newbrough who went all the way. A Hess pass for the point failed, but Deerfield was back in the ball game, 27-13, with 8:30 left on the clock.

The Knights took the next kickoff, and with Groh at the helm, managed to make the Warrior 14-yard line in 11 plays. At this point Deeke scampered to paydirt, but was recalled on an illegal procedure violation.

Groh gave the ball to Deeke three straight times from the 19. He got to the 12, and Deerfield took over on downs.

Hess got to his own 30 with passes. With time running out, Hogarty intercepted a Nychay pass, and ran around long enough to run out the clock.

Mount Prospect Action

Cardinals Roll On; Blank Colts, 13-0

The Cardinals are still unbeaten and unscored on in the Mount Prospect Midget Football Association.

Latest victim of the Senior Division steam-roller was the Colts who suffered a 13-0 setback. Bob Arnold scored a pair of touchdowns for the Cardinals on runs of three and 17 yards. Tom Marshall picked up the extra point.

Backfield standouts for the winners were Pete Smith, Bill Garlock, and Bob Arnold. John Shanley, Dave Kaspari, Butch Leonard, Tim Moore, and Jerry Ward sparkled in the line. John Phillips and Larry Snyder were the standouts for the losers.

THE BEARS dumped the Packers 18-6 with Robinson, Lietzen, and Beck scoring the victor's touchdowns. Beck, Gersting, and Dorcak were line standouts for the Bears.

Nehbor passed to Simoni for the Packers' only touchdown. Tom Grafton, Jim Simoni, and Rog Anderson sparkled up front.

In Junior Division A competition the Sunset eleven dumped Fairview 13-6 with Ed Crosson and Mike Cunningham scoring the touchdowns. Cunningham added the extra point.

DORR, DOOLEY, Carroll, Demeret, and Mark Walinski were given plaudits for their line play for the Sunset team.

Ray Clow tallied for Fairview on a beautiful 70-yard run. Bob Snyder, Greg Hahn, and Mike Herod starred on defense.

Lincoln blanked Prospect 21-0 with Urban tallying a pair of touchdowns. Anderson added the third on a 10-yard end run. Bersted, Gaffney, Morris, Peterson, Brauchle, and Van Kampen, were credited with outstanding defensive games.

EMERSON GOT by Central 13-6 with Paul Waldo flipping scoring aerials to Rich Burger and Greg Gripentrog. Greg Heiden and Dane Cleven were line standouts.

Emerson scored in the final 12 seconds on Waldo's 50-yard pass to Gripentrog.

Rod Ayres tallied for Central on a 50-yard run. Bob Kotowski, Robin Render, Pete Peterson, and Ed Klingberg threw key blocks in Rod's 50-yard scamper.

UNDEFEATED Lions, champs of the Junior A league, walloped lowly Owens 31-7 with Mike Croke, Scott Crawford, and Bob Youle doing the scoring. Gary Ross, Craig Mundt, and Tom Tangney played terrific games in the line.

In Junior Division B competition Sunset and Fairview battled to a 6-6 tie. Mickey Gebert scored for Fairview on a one-yard plunge, and Steve Hexel's seven-yard dash counted for Sunset. Pat Daly set up Fairview's only score with a 40-yard run.

Line standouts for Fairview were Young, Mike O'Connell, and Szala. Mike Brady, Paul Paluzzi, Mike Peters, and Ron Cherwin gave Sunset some solid play up front.

EMERSON SCORED a one-touchdown, 14-7 win over Central with Bill Grady and Steve Bruce tallying for the winners. Tom Schmidt, Steve Blake, and John Griffin were line standouts.

Jimmy Packard collected Central's only touchdown with a 38-yard run. Credited with outstanding line games were Rich Scheffers and Ken Peterson.

With Bob Carroll scoring a pair of touchdowns Lincoln raced past Prospect 19-7. Moore also tallied on a 20-yard pass from Bob Broeren. Ross, Gaffney, Smith, Wilk, and McGinnis were the top linemen for the winners.

Don Divito raced 50 yards on a kickoff for Prospect's lone score. Carl McWherter was a standout on defense as an end.

In final action of the week the Lions blanked Owens 13-0 with Mundt scoring on end runs of 18 and 23 yards. Pat McDonough, McKenen, Leo Karlovitz, Echenbrecht, and Tim Williams gave the Lions some solid games in the line.

Knights

scored once on a pass interception, picked up 43 yards in four carries.

Bob Gerrard and Jim McMillan added more useful yardage, and Quarterback Ken Groh hit on four of six passes for 98 yards and two more touchdowns.

Groh now has completed 23 passes in 40 attempts, good for 420 yards and eight touchdowns.

Johnson passed Dawson as the leading runner. He has 350 yards in 55 trips for a 6.3 per carry average. Dawson, working less this week, has 313 yards in 61 shots for a 5.1 average.

Jackson will need all he can muster at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Niles West field. The Indians are big, rough, and ready.

Hole-in-One

Frank Harris of Plum Grove Estates recorded the first hole-in-one of the season at Palatine Golf Club on the 200 yard eighth hole.

Harris had a 32 for the nine holes.

West Suburban Meet Slated At Downers

Defending champions Glenbard West and York are favored for title repeats in the varsity and frosh-soph divisions of the West Suburban Conference cross country meet scheduled for Saturday morning at Downers Grove.

Competition is slated to get under way at 10 a.m. Final team rankings in cross country are determined on both the dual meets and the conference run.

Glenbard West edged LaGrange by two points in the battle for varsity honors last fall in the meet held at Arlington High School. York finished third, and it's likely these same three schools will battle it out for the varsity crown again in 1962.

JIM ISAACSON heads a brilliant Glenbard team with Isaacson the individual champion as a junior. Jim was fifth in the state half mile run last spring and set up a new conference record in the 880.

Of the top ten varsity finishers in the 1961 meet, four will return for another crack at individual honors. In addition to Isaacson, John Jaeger of Hinsdale (5), George Hosso of Riverside-Brookfield (8), and Mike Harville of LaGrange (10) will be in the competition Saturday.

Based on performance thus far in 1962, Arlington's top runner in the conference action should be sophomore John Brunner. Brunner, who has been improving rapidly, has been the Cards' top finisher in several varsity meets this fall but could run in the frosh-soph division Saturday.

IN THE FROSH-SOPH meet York is a heavy favorite for a repeat of its 1961 championship. The Barons have the individual winner back in soph sensation John Woods and several other talented runners.

Woods was clocked in 9:10 as a freshman over the Arlington High course, nipping Larry Kraut of Downers Grove by three seconds.

York scored an unbelievably low total of 29 points in winning that '61 crown. Adding to the belief that the Barons will repeat Saturday is their unbeaten record in league duals and easy victory in a recent frosh-soph invitational.

Arlington finished fourth in the varsity run and sixth in the frosh-soph action in last fall's meet. The Cards' varsity has yet to win a dual in league competition in 1962 while the frosh-sophs carried a 2-2 WSC mark into action Wednesday against Glenbard West.

Rockford Guilford Next

Falcons Demolish Morton East, 41-0

Forest View's Falcons finally unleashed an all out ground and air attack and demolished Morton East, 41-0, for its best offensive showing of the year Saturday.

Ralph Kaspari led the touchdown parade with three scores on runs of one, four and 10 yards. Others were added on runs by Jack McRae (10 yards) and Fullback Fred Colovos (24 yards).

Griesman, who was named "back-of-the-week" by Falcon coaches, accounted for the other touchdown on a five-yard pass to End Kevin Hawk.

JOE MUELLER made good on five of six extra point attempts to round out the point production.

"Lineman-of-the-week" honors were shared by Gregg Garlisch and Guy Perna.

Colovos, Kaspari and Ron Destories turned in some fine running and Griesman and Russ Barger completed eight of 16 passes between them.

Colovos picked up 77 yards in 11 carries for a seven-yard average. Kaspari added 65 yards in 13 runs, and Destories had 41 in seven opportunities.

GRIESMAN HIT on three of seven passes, good for 30 yards and one touchdown, and Barger, who sprained both ankles and may not see action this week, hit on five of nine passes for 37 yards.

The victory was especially refreshing to Head Coach Bob Scott and his assistants, Dick Oohl, and Hal Henson, who have been nursing their young team along all season.

"One of these days we'll jell," observed Scott early in the year when defense kept the Falcons on the winning side of the ledger.

He was obviously pleased this week, but continued to work his boys hard in preparation for Rockford Guilford, a new school which also plays Jayvee ball.

Kickoff is 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 20. Scott expects to stick with the lineup he used against Morton East.

Knight Harriers Among Interim Meet Contenders

Prospect's Knights are listed among the favorites in the annual Interim League cross country meet tomorrow (Friday) at Glenbard East High School.

The unbeaten Knights are second in the league standings behind Niles West and Proviso West. All three teams are unbeaten but Prospect has a 28-28 tie with Maine West on its record. Willowbrook is another favorite although whipped by the Knights Tuesday.

Forest View's Falcons, newest league entry, have lost five straight dual meets and are not exected to perform well as a team. However, Coach Dick Rees' squad has some individual hopefuls.

KNIGHT HEAD Coach Dick Calisch has his hopes pinned on three boys: Gary York, George Schneider and Dave Thomas.

Thomas and York finished second and third respectively in the Interim frosh-soph meet last year, but Thomas has fallen off form this fall.

"I think they all three have a chance to place in the conference meet," said Calisch. "But Thomas has been coming along more slowly than the others."

Although Rees' Falcons are experiencing a dismal season, they have two individual hopefuls in George Sladek and Phil Valentino.

A PROMISING sophomore, Jerry Potter, is expected to run with Rees' soph squad.

Neither Prospect nor Forest View is expected to make a strong team showing on the soph level, but both squads have strong individual performers.

The Knights, under Joe Wanner, and the Falcons, coached by Rees, are both 1-4 in the conference.

Along with Potter, Rees' best bets are Jim Hurin, Bob Prucha, Terry Hayden and Jim Nolan.

WANNER PICKS freshmen Jack Pollard and Rick Carr to place in the top 10.

The meet will begin at 4:30 p. m. at Sunset Knoll (Finley) Park which is one-half mile west of Glenbard East High in Lombard.

SOMEWHAT MISLEADING IS this picture of George Bork (right) of Mount Prospect handing off to Gary Stearns of Freeport during a recent Northern Illinois University workout. Bork and Stearns have been an effective combination this fall for the football Huskies but not in the rushing department. Stearns has been George's favorite receiver as the 6-foot-1 junior has passed his way into national prominence. George already has established Interstate Conference records for attempts and completions, an NIU season completion record, and is within 34 of the NCAA season completion record. George has completed 126 of 177 passes this fall for 1154 yards and eight touchdowns. Northern will play Western Illinois University this Saturday, Oct. 13, at Macomb.

'Best Passer in Nation'

Pro Career Doubtful For Northern's Bork

by GEORGE LANGFORD
United Press International

DeKALB, ILL., (UPI) — He's the best passer in the nation," said Northern Illinois University Football Coach Howard Fletcher, "but, he may not make it as a pro."

Northern's poker-faced George Bork, a slim, crew-cut blond, is closing in on all all-time American collegiate passing record. He has already completed a whopping 126 passes in five games this season.

Fletcher expressed hope that Bork, who intends to coach and teach, could become a professional quarterback. But he admitted "He may be a step too slow and a little too light to be a pro."

"HIS ABILITY to pick out his receivers is uncanny," said Fletcher, who has installed a "shotgun" or "spread" formation especially to utilize Bork's aerial talents.

"He's a fine punter, too," Fletcher boasted, with good reason. Last Saturday Bork booted a 74 yard punt to establish a new Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference record.

Bork, a 170 pound six-footer, handles a basketball just as adroitly. He led the Huskies' scoring as a sophomore last season, averaging 21.5 points a game playing both guard and forward. He scored 44 points in one contest.

"BORK IS an accurate long passer as well as a pin-point short passer," Fletcher said. "He can throw a bullet pass or lob a soft one, as the situation dictates. He's got ice water in his veins . . . always calm."

Fletcher said he lets his star do the signal calling for the undefeated Huskies. Suprisingly enough, Bork has called almost as many running as passing plays, but never runs himself.

"I don't want him to run," said Fletcher emphatically. "He's our bread and butter and I don't want to risk getting him hurt."

BORK HAS thrown 177 times this season, completing 126, 33 short of the all-time record of 159 completions in a season set by Don Klosterman of Loyola (Calif.) in 1952. He has netted 1,154 yards for eight TD's through the air. Two weeks ago against Omaha, he hit on a record 37 passes in 47 attempts, the most ever made in a single game.

Bork's favorite targets are halfback Gary Stearns and end Hugh Rohrschneider, like Bork, both juniors. They are first and second in the small college ranks, with 40 and 33 receptions respectively.

A B-plus student in Physical Education, Bork prepped at Arlington High School and lives in Mount Prospect, Ill.

"He's a quiet kid and rarely smiles," said Fletcher. "All this publicity hasn't fazed him. He just goes about his business. He's a fine all-around boy."

Dix Paces 41-7 Win

Lions Rock Cards in West Suburban Clash

by BOB FRISK

Based on the only game with a common opponent, Arlington and LaGrange were expected to put on quite a show last Saturday afternoon in a West Suburban Conference headliner.

After all, Downers Grove had whipped LaGrange by seven points and Arlington by four in league outings, and with this in mind the "odd-makers" were inclined to forecast a toss-up when the Lions and Cardinals bumped heads.

But such was not the case on an unseasonably warm Saturday in LaGrange.

THE HOST Lions experienced their finest hour of the 1962 season as they crushed Arlington's Cards, 41-7, handing the stunned visitors their fourth straight league setback.

Halfback Bill Dix, a doubtful performer because of an injury, must have startled even his own doctor with a three-touchdown effort that included scoring dashes of 72 and three yards and a nifty payoff catch of a Fred Barofsky aerial that covered 54 yards.

Dix ripped through the Cardinals' defense for 124 yards in 13 carries, the second best offensive performance against Arlington this fall. Hinsdale's Herb Feris has top honors with a 126-yard effort.

WHEREAS DIX gave the Lions their chief weapon on the ground, the hosts also exhibited a capable passing game thanks to the accurate arm of Barofsky.

An all-league selection as a junior, Fred took to the aerial lanes only four times Saturday but three of those pitches found the mark and covered 111 yards.

On the last play of the first half Barofsky lofted a high toss to Dix, and the LaGrange halfback, surrounded by three Arlington defenders, still managed to pull in the football and cover the remaining distance on a shocking 54-yard maneuver.

OF SMALL consolation to Arlington is the fact that it registered its first touchdown of conference competition in 1962. Unable to push across a six-pointer in its first three league affairs, the Cards finally struck with 5:58 remaining in the third period.

A jarring tackle by end Bob Clark forced a LaGrange fumble and Dan Meyer recovered on the Lions' 38 yard line to start things rolling.

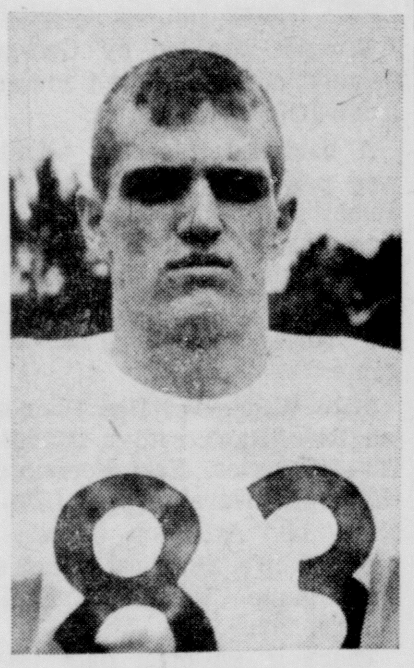
Junior Jim Ewart, who attempted 18 passes during the game and hit on seven for 94 yards, touched off the scoring drive with a nine-yard pitch to Phil O'Connell.

EWART AND halfback Ken Layden then teamed up on a nifty 24-yard maneuver with Layden halted on the LaGrange five and forced out of action for the remainder of the game with an ankle injury.

Rog Lindstrom bolted to the three, but Ewart was nailed for a three-yard loss back to the six. On a third down play Jim found junior Dan Sherman in the end zone, and Arlington had its first touchdown in four West Suburban games.

Given little chance to work on his conversions in actual competition, senior Joe Wertheimer connected this time for the Cards' seventh point. It was Wertheimer's accurate toe that gave Arlington a 14-13 Homecoming victory over LaGrange last fall.

LAGRANGE COUNTED its first touchdown with 47 seconds remaining in the first period when Dix capped a 70-yard drive with a three-yard plunge. Don Guide carried in from the nine midway in the second quarter, and Dix was at it again three minutes later on a 72-yard sprint.



DAN SHERMAN

Apparently checked in their own territory with time running out in the first half, the Lions scored again on the Barofsky to Dix aerial that shocked everyone, including the LaGrange followers and coaches. Dix appeared to be hemmed in by the Arlington defenders, but he still picked off the pass and carried in for the six points.

Held in check in the third period, LaGrange scored twice in the final stanza on a four-yard plunge by Ricco and 55-yard scamper with a pass interception by Galaty.

Jim Stotz converted after five of LaGrange's six conversions and now has 11 in league play.

Forest View Frosh Lose On Fumbles

A pair of costly fumbles by Rudy Perez gave Glenbard East two touchdowns before the game was three minutes old, and Forest View's frosh went on to lose their third game in five starts, 25-6.

Steve Mueller picked up the lone Falcon score on a seven yard quarterback sneak in the third quarter.

But the statistics show the Falcons weren't as bad as the final score indicates. The Falcons rolled up 214 yards in total offense to 254 for Glenbard East.

The Falcons travel to Proviso West for a 9:30 a.m. tilt Saturday.

Falcons Sophs Lose

Forest View's soph football team dropped its fourth straight game without a win Saturday, losing 18-0 to Glenbard East.

The Rams scored once on a pass interception, again on a long pass, and in the last quarter against the second string.

Coach Paul Jordan is spending time with the offensive unit.

"Our defense is pretty good," said Jordan. "The offense needs more work. We miss the speed."

Obedience Club

Registrations Accepted for 3-Mo. Course

Registrations are now being accepted for the next 3-month beginners' training course conducted by Northwest Obedience Club, Inc. Beginning Nov. 7, the class will be held from 8 to 9 p.m. in the basement of the Palatine Jewel Tea Building and all AKC-registered dogs over 6 months old are eligible.

Taught by experienced trainers, dogs will learn basic obedience including heeling, sits, downs, figure eights, recalls and long sits and downs. The first session of the course deals with explanations of the course, demonstrations and questions and answers. The 13-week course concludes with graduation exercises judged by an AKC-licensed judge and the awarding of diplomas.

One of the better-known training clubs in the Chicago area, NOCI is in its 10th year of training area dogs of all breeds in both basic and advanced obedience work.

"OBEDIENCE training is a must for every dog," commented the club's president, Larry Sebastian of Arlington Heights, "for it makes him a better pet and enables him to better fit into family living. It also gives the owner a better understanding of the capabilities and limitations of his pet."

An innovation of the club is a conformation class in which dogs to be entered in conformation shows may become acquainted with ring routine and also become used to working with other dogs.

Dog owners wishing to enroll their pets in either the obedience or conformation classes are invited to visit the training hall any Wednesday evening between 8 and 10 p.m. The fee for courses is nominal and those wishing further information about the training or the club may call evenings: Leo Smolinski, CL 5-1944, Bob Moriarty, LA 9-7108, or Eleanor Starkeson, FL 8-0157.

LaGrange's Sophs Rout Cards, 27-0

One of the biggest frosh-soph football teams ever to play in the West Suburban Conference handled visiting Arlington High School with ease last Saturday afternoon in a game that matched the loop's only two unbeaten teams.

Boasting a defensive line that averages 230 pounds, LaGrange had little trouble checking the Card's usually effective offense en route to a convincing 27-0 decision.

LaGrange has yet to be scored on it league play this fall and Arlington's deepest penetration was to the young Lions' 26 as the game ended. So limited was the Cards' attack that of the 64 yards gained 48 came on that final drive.

MIKE ANDERSON, carrying a fancy 12 yard per carry average heading into the contest, was unable to even make plus yardage against LaGrange. Mike carried eight times for a minus one yard, and his longest effort was a six-yarder.

The one bright light on offense for Arlington was 195-pound Dennis Werkau who did chip in with runs of 11, 12, and 14 yards in his first extensive duty at fullback.

LaGrange capitalized on an Arlington fumble to score its first touchdown in the opening period. Anderson's bobble was recovered on the Arlington 38, and the hosts scored with 1:50 remaining on a three-yard run by Posmer.

IT WAS 14-0 midway in the second period when a five-yard run by Woodlock capped an impressive 64-yard march. Touchdown number three came on a three-yard run by Richmond midway in the third stanza, and Posmer carried in from the 21 with four minutes left in the game.

Arlington's frosh-sophs will host Glenbard West this Friday evening at six o'clock in the Homecoming affair. The Cards now stand 3-1-1 for the season.

Score by quarters:

Highland Five Takes Classic Loop Lead

Highland Motors took a one-point lead in the Paddock Classic Traveling League this week with a four-point sweep over Morton Pontiac while James Stavros took three of four points from Pioneer Lanes.

Meanwhile, Lieber's Bowlers Shop moved into a second place tie with Pioneer on the strength of a three-point win from Moyle Construction.

River-Rand hung onto seventh place (by two points) by coming back to take the last game and total pins in a 2-2 split with Stan's Standard.

ED DUFF OF Niles fired a 169-233-225—627 series of the hapless Morton outfit but it was not enough to overcome the balanced Highland attack, led by Bill Radunz of Arlington Heights who rolled a 579 series, including a 212 game.

Teammates Al Jordan of Roselle (557); Ron Fogarett of Palatine (575); Dave Catherwood of Arlington Heights (556); and Tom Kouros of Palatine (557) all chipped in.

Hec Healey of Northbrook paced the Stavros win over Pioneer with a blistering 211-210-210—631 series, individual high for the night. Teammate Chuck Gibson of Bensenville had a 248 game, another individual high, to go with a 587 series.

STAVROS ALSO took high team game (989) and series (2827) honors for the evening.

Pioneer was led by George Schmidt of Addison who bowled a 208-211-189—608 series.

A balanced Lieber's attack was paced by Lee Adams of Mount Prospect whose 573 series included a 215 game. Moyle was led by Daren Sommervold of Great Lakes with a 568 series, including a 222 game.

Mike Wagner of Des Plaines led River-Rand with a 208-208-173—589 series. Earl Fenimore (578), and Warren Olson (576), both of Arlington Heights, paced Stan's Standard. Olson's high game was 223; Fenimore's, 232.

There is an open date this week. Action resumes with a position round at Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights Oct. 27. Host is Morton Pontiac.

St. Viator Sophs Win 4th Straight; Blank St. Pat's

Still unbeaten and with a perfect record on defense, St. Viator's sophomore football team blanked St. Patrick of Chicago Monday afternoon, 19-0.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Arlington Heights school and it also marked its fourth straight shutout. Little Flower, St. Edward of Elgin, St. George, and St. Pat's all have fallen by shutouts.

The Lions took a 13-0 lead at halftime and coasted in with the victory. Denny Wilkinson tallied a pair of touchdowns on runs of 50 and five yards, and Mike Massey added the third when he returned an intercepted pass 60 yards.

STANDOUTS for the victors on offense were quarterback Jim Vidt, Wilkinson, Don Knudson, and Tim Walinski. Tim was back in action after being sidelined with a sprained ankle.

Defensive stalwarts for St. Viator were Mike Graczyk, John Kidd, Tom Nitch, and Paul Carroll.

St. Viator's sophomore football team will meet St. Mel of Chicago next Monday, Oct. 22, in search of its fifth straight victory of 1962.

Aerial Artistry

Len Dawson and Erich Barnes of Purdue teamed up on the longest forward pass play in Big Ten football history with a 95-yard effort in 1955 against Northwestern.

Women's Classic Play

Morton Pontiac May Be Making Its Move

There was some rumbling last Saturday evening in the basement of the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling league.

Cellar dweller Morton Pontiac, the defending loop champion, showed some definite signs of emerging from a month-long slump.

With Pat Proebstle back in action and flipping a neat 614 series Morton dumped former co-leader Moyle Construction 2-1 with a 944 middle effort tying for the evening's top honors.

ALTHOUGH Morton gave its followers something to cheer about for a change, Tommy Thomas' Casablanca continued to turn in the most impressive performances. Casablanca, now 11-7 for the season, turned back River - Rand 2 - 1 and had the top three-game set with a fine 2743.

Casablanca is now one full game on top of Moyle Construction and Steve's Restaurant. Steve's climbed from fifth into a contending position with a three - game sweep over Ridge Motors.

But Morton's revival has everyone worried now as the women's race begins to take shape.

INCLUDED in that 614 series for Pat Proebstle of Arlington Heights was a 259 middle game that fell nine pins shy of the season high of 268 by Fran Altergott of Moyle Construction.

Giving Pat some assistance for Morton was Joan Lindahl of Arlington with a 569 and gradual improvement in games of 184, 190, and 195. Alice Nichols of Arlington had a 548 series with a 198 high.

Bonnie Kuhn of Mundelein was tops for Moyle with a 591 series that included games of 211 and 219. Bonnie slipped in that second effort and slumped to a 161 that hurt an otherwise outstanding series.

FOUR OF THE five gals topped 500 as Steve's Restaurant dumped Ridge Motors 3 - 0. Leading the parade was Sis Jennings of Highland Park with a 561 and 210 high game. Janice Crovetti of Highland fashioned a 534.

Edith Wayne of Des Plaines was the only gal from Ridge Motors able to crack 500. She opened with a sub-par 145 but closed strong at 199 and 180 and finished with a 524.

In final action Saturday at Country Lanes in Lake Zurich Casablanca continued to set a torrid pace with a 2-1 victory over River - Rand.

ARLEEN Rein of Palatine and Marie Kropp of Palatine staged a tight battle for individual honors on the victors with Arleen edging her teammate by one pin at 581. She had a pair of 200 games in that series. Marie opened with a 223.

Winnie Lohse of Palatine was close behind with a 568 series that included a 202.

Hazel Steiger of Palatine paced losing River-Rand with a 595 series. She had a 224 for her middle game to top both teams. Fran Leschke of Elgin chipped in with a 555.

There will be no competition this week with an open date on the schedule. Action will resume on Saturday, Oct. 27, at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling.

Saturday Evening

Fabulous Magicians At Palatine

Fans who have watched the fabulous Harlem Magicians in previous seasons know they shouldn't leave their seats until the gun pops ending the final quarter.

The Magicians, under the fantastic hand of owner Marques Haynes, considered by most competent observers to be the finest dribbler and ball handler in the history of professional basketball, will play a group of local coaches at the Palatine High gymnasium this Saturday night, Oct .20.

And they pack 40 minutes of consummate court skill into a comedy and crowd-pleasing routine that makes the last minute of their performance as entertaining as the opening moments of their games.

THE ADMONITION to stay around until the final bell is worth heeding because Sam "Boom" Wheeler might elect to bounce the ball through the hoop at the buzzer; or Josh Grider, famed set-shot star might hit one of his 'home runs' from the middle of the court.

The club Haynes has assembled this year will be his best in the eight seasons the Magicians have been in operation.

There's no shot the squad can't make. The ball-handling and play formations, both on the offense and defense looks simple in the hands of standouts like Haynes, Grider, Wheeler, Norris Sharp, Paul Martin, Sid Dawson and Kenneth Scott.

THE MAGICIANS are working on a current record of 1,750 wins against 8 losses as of Oct. 15.

Tickets for the basketball spectacular that begins at 8 p.m. are $1 for students and $1.50 for adults. They may be purchased at Paul's Barber Shop, Pat's and Warren's Barber Shop, and Bob's Palatine Tavern in Palatine or at Cunningham-Reilly Sporting Goods in Arlington Heights.

The contest will be played at the old Palatine High School on Wood Street. It is sponsored by the Palatine Square and Compass Club under the direction of Billie J. Kohler.

An Ordinance

AMENDING THE BUILDING ORDINANCE OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

SECTION ONE: Paragraph 2 of Subsection (b) of Section 21.107 of Chapter 21, Municipal Code of Arlington Heights entitled "Buildings" is hereby amended to read as follows:

"2. The Architectural Committee shall examine the application for building permits for compliance with zoning ordinances, and to determine whether the exterior architectural appeal and functional plan of the proposed structure will, when erected, not be so at variance with either the exterior architectural appeal and function plan of the structures already constructed, or in the course of construction in the immediate neighborhood as to cause a substantial depreciation in the property values of said neighborhood."

SECTION TWO: The first two sentences of Paragraph (a) of Section 21.124 of Chapter 21, Municipal Code of Arlington Heights entitled "Buildings" are hereby amended to read as follows:

"(a) For the purpose of preventing deterioration of property values in the immediate neighborhood of proposed buildings and to preserve the taxable value of property within the Village of Arlington Heights and to prevent the deterioration of conditions or considerations of health, sanitation, safety, and public welfare in such neighborhoods by poor planning, indiscriminate and unregulated buildings and the erection of inferior and unsuitable buildings, all new buildings shall be of an architectural design which is compatible to the existing buildings in the immediate neighborhood and is not of an architectural design which is manifestly inferior or so radically different as to impair marketability or property values of existing buildings in the same immediate vicinity. No permit shall be issued for any new building or for an improvement to an existing building which by reason of the exterior architectural appeal and functional plan of the proposed structure will, when erected, be so at variance with either the exterior architectural appeal and functional plan of the structures already constructed or in the course of construction in the immediate neighborhood as to cause a substantial depreciation in the property values of said neighborhood."

SECTION THREE: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication in the manner provided by law.

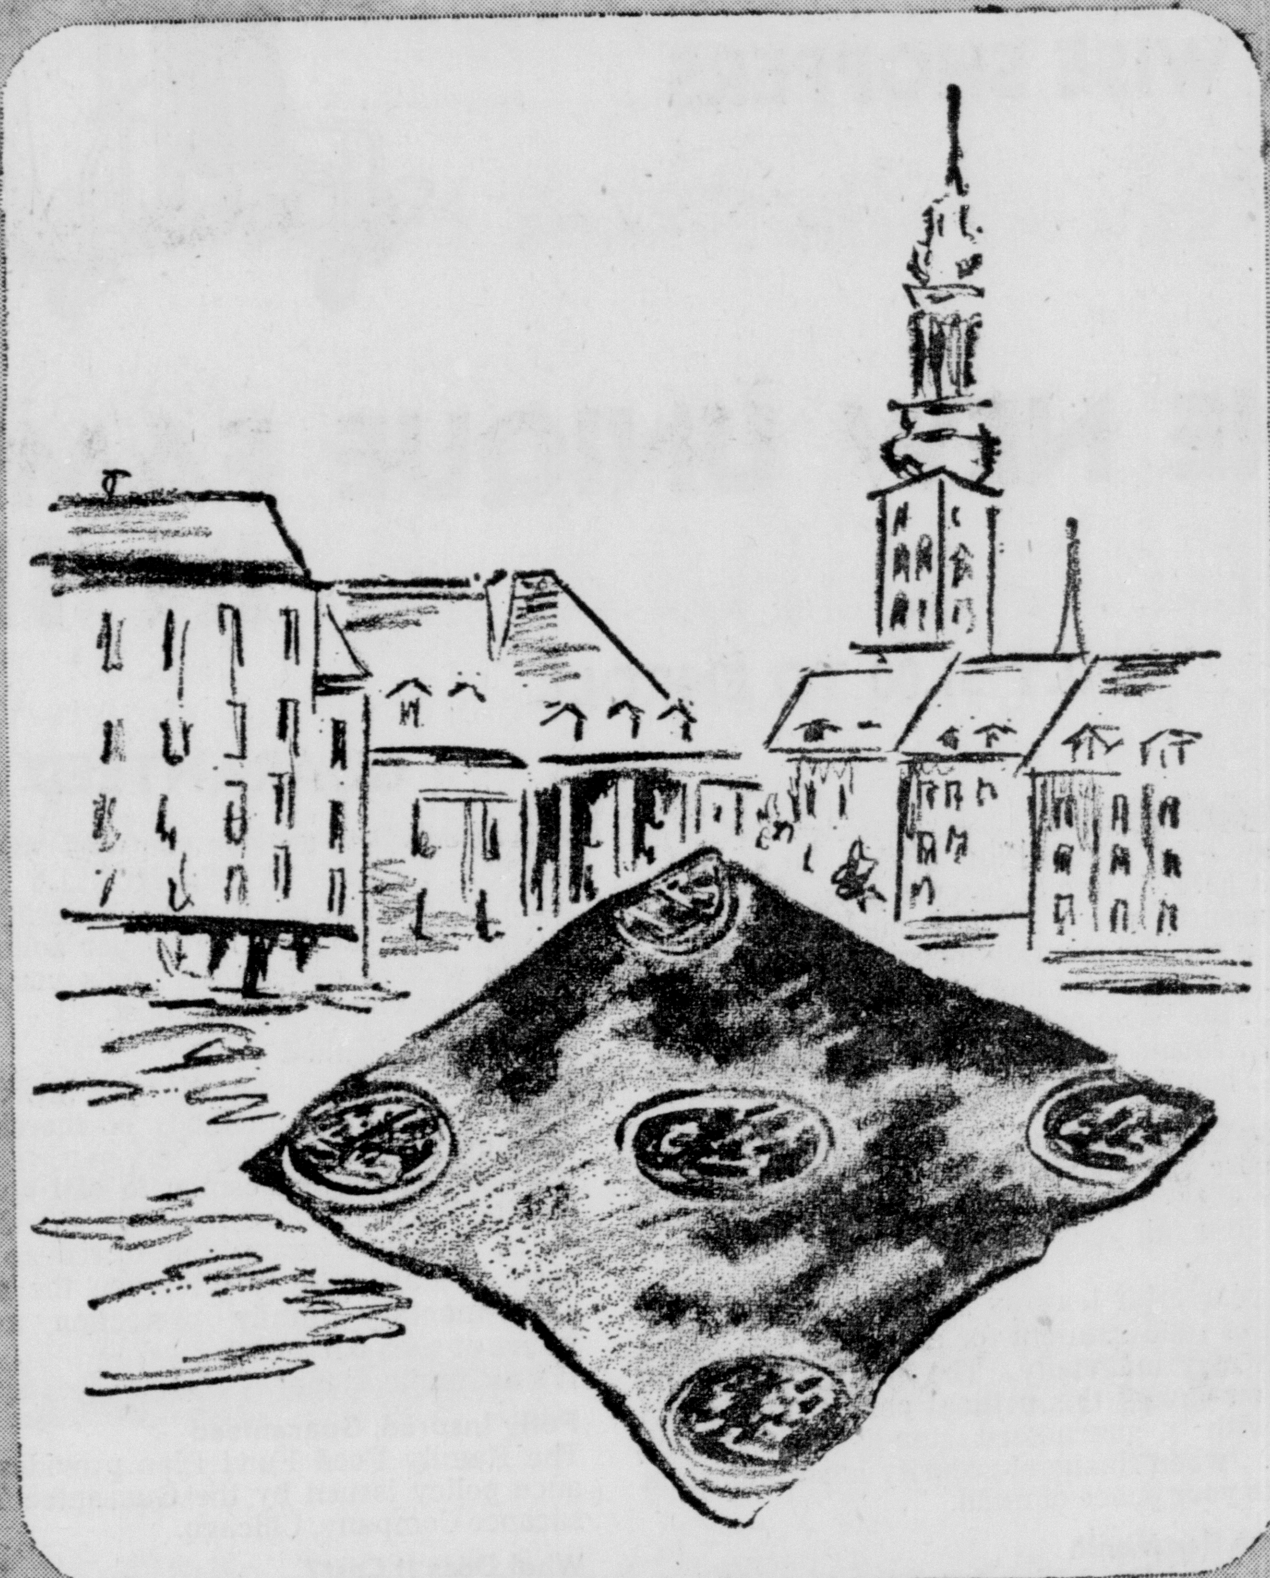
Strange Moneys of the World!
Presented by FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS of Des Plaines



How Queen Christina Saved the Day (and Sweden) with the Copper Daler!

In the middle of the 17th century, Sweden lost a war to Denmark and was forced to pay a heavy indemnity in silver money . . . eventually draining the treasury.

Sweden was in serious trouble. In desperation Queen Christina took advantage of Sweden's great copper mines and ordered that large plates of copper be struck as plate-money. One of these plates was the 8-daler piece, shown above, weighing over 32 pounds.

With these great copper plates as a ponderous but sound base, Sweden's money problems were soon solved. Smaller plates were issued for everyday use . . . confidence returned and Sweden prospered.

Many queens of today are saving a DALER A DAY at First Federal Savings and Loan of Des Plaines. Use our convenient SAVE BY MAIL service and your small daily saving plus our big earnings will soon become a sizeable amount.

THIS RARE COLLECTION OF "STRANGE MONEYS OF THE WORLD" WILL BE ON DISPLAY AT FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS . . . WATCH FOR THE DATE!

When You Can Have 12 Monthly Checks For Food When Your Need Is Greatest?

GUARANTEED

MONTHLY INCOME

FOR WISE SHOPPERS

THE NEW UNIQUE FAMILY FOOD PLAN CAN HELP YOU IN TIME OF NEED

ONLY $1.00 TO ENROLL

YOU GET

GUARANTEED MONTHLY INCOME PROTECTION

ONLY $1.00 TO ENROLL

Monthly Checks for Food
The Family Food Fund Plan offers you a BOLD NEW CONCEPT in family income protection . . . a plan that assures you . . . your children . . . your family . . . a regular monthly income for ONE FULL YEAR . . . one check a month for 12 full months . . . for food . . . the basic necessities of life or any other purpose . . . should tragedy strike the family breadwinner . . . benefits paid in cash monthly.

Help During Critical Period
You and those you love can have 12 GUARANTEED MONTHLY CHECKS when the need is greatest . . . during the first full year after the family has lost its provider.

That first year after tragedy strikes is a most difficult period of readjustment for any family . . . both emotionally and financially. The Family Food Fund can help you during this critical period financially, at least, with a guaranteed steady cash income monthly . . . when financial security is so important to you . . . to your peace of mind.

More Income Per Month
The Family Food Fund Plan is intended as valuable supplemental protection . . . rather than a substitute for your present or future insurance programs.

It is designed to provide you with MORE PROTECTION . . . MORE ECONOMICALLY . . . to supplement your standard insurance coverage . . . but with MORE BENEFITS TO YOU per dollar . . . MORE in the way of emergency funds you know will be there when you need them most.

The Modern Method
Family Food Fund can offer you MORE because we apply the modern methods of merchandising and handling to reduce costs.

We don't employ salesmen to call on you, and we use the latest business methods of reducing clerical costs. Because we are able to reduce the operating costs, we are able to offer you the most valuable supplementary family protection available anywhere at such a low cost.

It's as simple as that.

Fully Insured, Guaranteed
The Family Food Fund Plan provides a life insurance policy issued by the Guarantee Trust Life Insurance Company, Chicago.

What Does It Cost?
It costs just $1.00 to enroll the family breadwinner in the Family Food Fund Plan . . . and this $1.00 includes complete protection for the first month . . . the first monthly premium. After your policy has been issued, less than 50 cents a week . . . only $2.00 a month . . . maintains continued and complete participation in the Plan.

We Show You How
BUT EQUALLY AS IMPORTANT . . . WE SHOW YOU HOW TO MAINTAIN PARTICIPATION . . . THROUGH OUR CONFIDENTIAL CONSUMER ADVISORY REPORTS TO YOU . . . INFORMING YOU CONSTANTLY ABOUT PRICE TRENDS IN THE FOOD FIELD . . . SO YOU CAN PLAN AHEAD FOR BARGAINS . . . SO YOU CAN BUDGET YOUR FOOD DOLLARS MORE WISELY . . . SO YOU CAN TAKE ADVANTAGE OF OPPORTUNITIES FOR SAVINGS.

No Physical Examination
No physical examination is required. This saves the breadwinner time. There is no red tape. Just an honest description of physical condition will do. Don't be hesitant about this because many persons who have been rejected for standard insurance coverages may still qualify for Family Food Fund benefits.

Ages 15 Through 64
Anyone . . . male or female . . . ages 15 through 64 . . . is eligible for enrollment. Perhaps YOU are the family breadwinner . . . possibly circumstances have thrust this responsibility upon a young son or daughter.

No matter who is to be insured, there is the same low rate for all . . . no higher rate because you are older . . . no higher rate because of special occupational hazards.

No Gimmicks, No Small Print
You can be assured FULL PROTECTION for every circumstance except deliberate self-destruction. Coverage remains in force whether at home . . . at work . . . at play . . . even while traveling. And all modes of transportation are included whether auto . . . bus . . . taxi . . . boat . . . canoe . . . scheduled and non-scheduled airlines.

In other words, there is NO SMALL PRINT to cancel out what the big print provides. Your policy remains in force EVEN IN TIME OF WAR.

Masten Bearings Acquires Minneapolis Brass Works

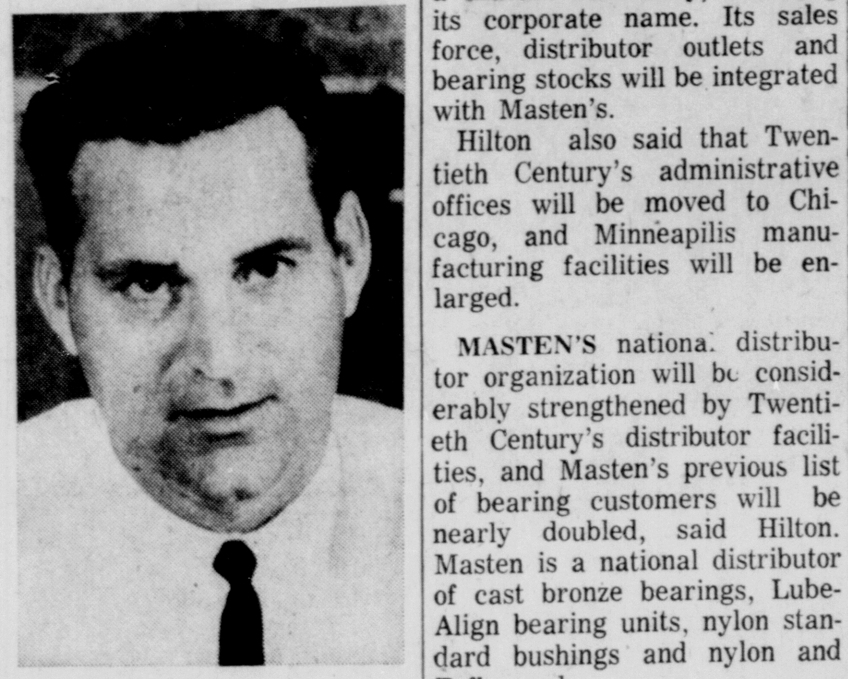
A bearings company founded only seven years ago has purchased a 66-year-old bearing company larger than itself.

Masten Bearing Sales Inc., a major Midwest bearing distributor with headquarters at 3555 W. Addison St., Chicago, has acquired Twentieth Century Brass Works, Inc., Minneapolis, manufacturer and national distributor of cast bronze bearings and special parts.

Announcing the acquisition, which was made through an outright stock purchase was Carl Hilton, 436 Beverly Lane, Arlington Heights, Masten president.

HE SAID THE addition of Twentieth Century's machining,-foundry, and warehousing facilities will make Masten one of the nation's major manufacturers as well as warehousers and distributors, of bronze sleeve bearings.

For some time, Masten has carried the country's largest stock of standard cast bronze bearing sizes, according to Hilton.



CARL HILTON

This acquisition, he added, marks Masten's second step into the bearing manufacturing industry. Bronze Bearings Inc., a subsidiary formed in 1961, is the developer and manufacturer of a self-lubricating, self-aligning bearing unit called Lube-Align, which Masten distributes internationally.

Twentieth Century Brass Works Inc. will be operated as a Masten subsidiary, retaining its corporate name. Its sales force, distributor outlets and bearing stocks will be integrated with Masten's.

Hilton also said that Twentieth Century's administrative offices will be moved to Chicago, and Minneapilis manufacturing facilities will be enlarged.

MASTEN'S national distributor organization will be considerably strengthened by Twentieth Century's distributor facilities, and Masten's previous list of bearing customers will be nearly doubled, said Hilton. Masten is a national distributor of cast bronze bearings, Lube-Align bearing units, nylon standard bushings and nylon and Teflon rod.

Masten Bearings Sales Inc., Hilton said, will also continue as the exclusive central states distributor of Oilite porous bronze bearings and bearing materials.

Hilton will serve as president of Twentieth Century. Thomas Strass, vice president of Masten Bearing Sales, will be the administrative vice president. Gene Pray, Twentieth Century's vice president in charge of manufacturing, will remain in that capacity under the new Masten management. Other officials have not been named. (BB

Petrie Presides At Electrical Meet

Joseph N. Petrie, 150 Town Acres Lane, Roselle, chief transmission engineer at Automatic Electric Co., served as presiding officer at a technical session of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers convention, Thursday, Oct. 11, at the Pick-Congress Hotel, Chicago.

Petrie has been chairman of the wire communication committee of the AIEE since 1960. He joined Automatic Electric in 1945, when he moved to Chicago from Omaha, Neb.

A RESIDENT of Denver, Colo., most of his life, Petrie received a B.S. degree in electrical engineering at the University of Denver. For several years after graduation, he continued studies in evening courses, specializing in the field of radio.

Petrie is president of the Board of Education, district 108, and was a member of the Elmwood Park Board of Education, District 88 prior to moving to Roselle.

He is a member of the Roselle Zoning Board, the Board of Trustees of Roselle Methodist Church, and the Elmwood Park Masonic Lodge 1163.

HE IS ALSO a member of the Independent Telephone Pioneers, Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Association, and the National Rifle Association.

His hobbies include shooting, electronics and photography, and is a member of the Strowger Gun Club, an employe organization of Automatic Electric.

Petrie is married to the former Violet Nelson of Omaha. Neb., and has two daughters, Mrs. Eileen Ladendorf and Sandra, a freshman at Lake Park High School. (BB

Acoustical Ceiling Can Reduce Noise

Acoustical ceiling tiles are the most effective single anti-noise measure you can take in your home. They soak up noise like a sponge soaks up water, and absorb 75 to 85 per cent of the sound that would otherwise bounce back into the room.

These tiles are natural home do-it-yourself materials. They can be installed easily by the homeowner if he follows the instructions carefully (each manufacturer provides special instructions for his own materials).

THE THREE main ways of installing sound conditioning materials are cementing, nailing, or stapling and by means of mechanical suspension systems. The method you use will depend upon the ceiling you have.

If your ceiling is of smooth, strong plaster or plaster-board, cementing the acoustical tiles to the surface by means of a special adhesive is best. Make sure the surface is clean, dry, and in good condition, and the paint is sound.

First thing to do in cementing is to make a center-line down the length of the room, and another at right angles to it across the room. Placement of the first tile is important, so that the border tiles will have equal widths.

A PUTTY KNIFE or a small trowel is the only tool you need for applying the cement to the back of the tile. After the adhesive is applied, the tile is pressed into place. Cement spots should be the size of a walnut and should be back about one inch from the tile edges.

If there are too many bumps in the ceiling, furring strips will have to be nailed to it and the acoustical tile attached to them. Nailing or stapling are generally the best methods of attaching acoustical materials to a solid wood backing or to wood strips.

Some perforated materials come with shallow holes in the corners for nailing. Both perforated and many other kinds of tiles come with tongue-and-groove joints, and with a wide flange through which either nails or staples are driven. Stapling with a staple gun is particularly quick and easy with this type of tile. (BB

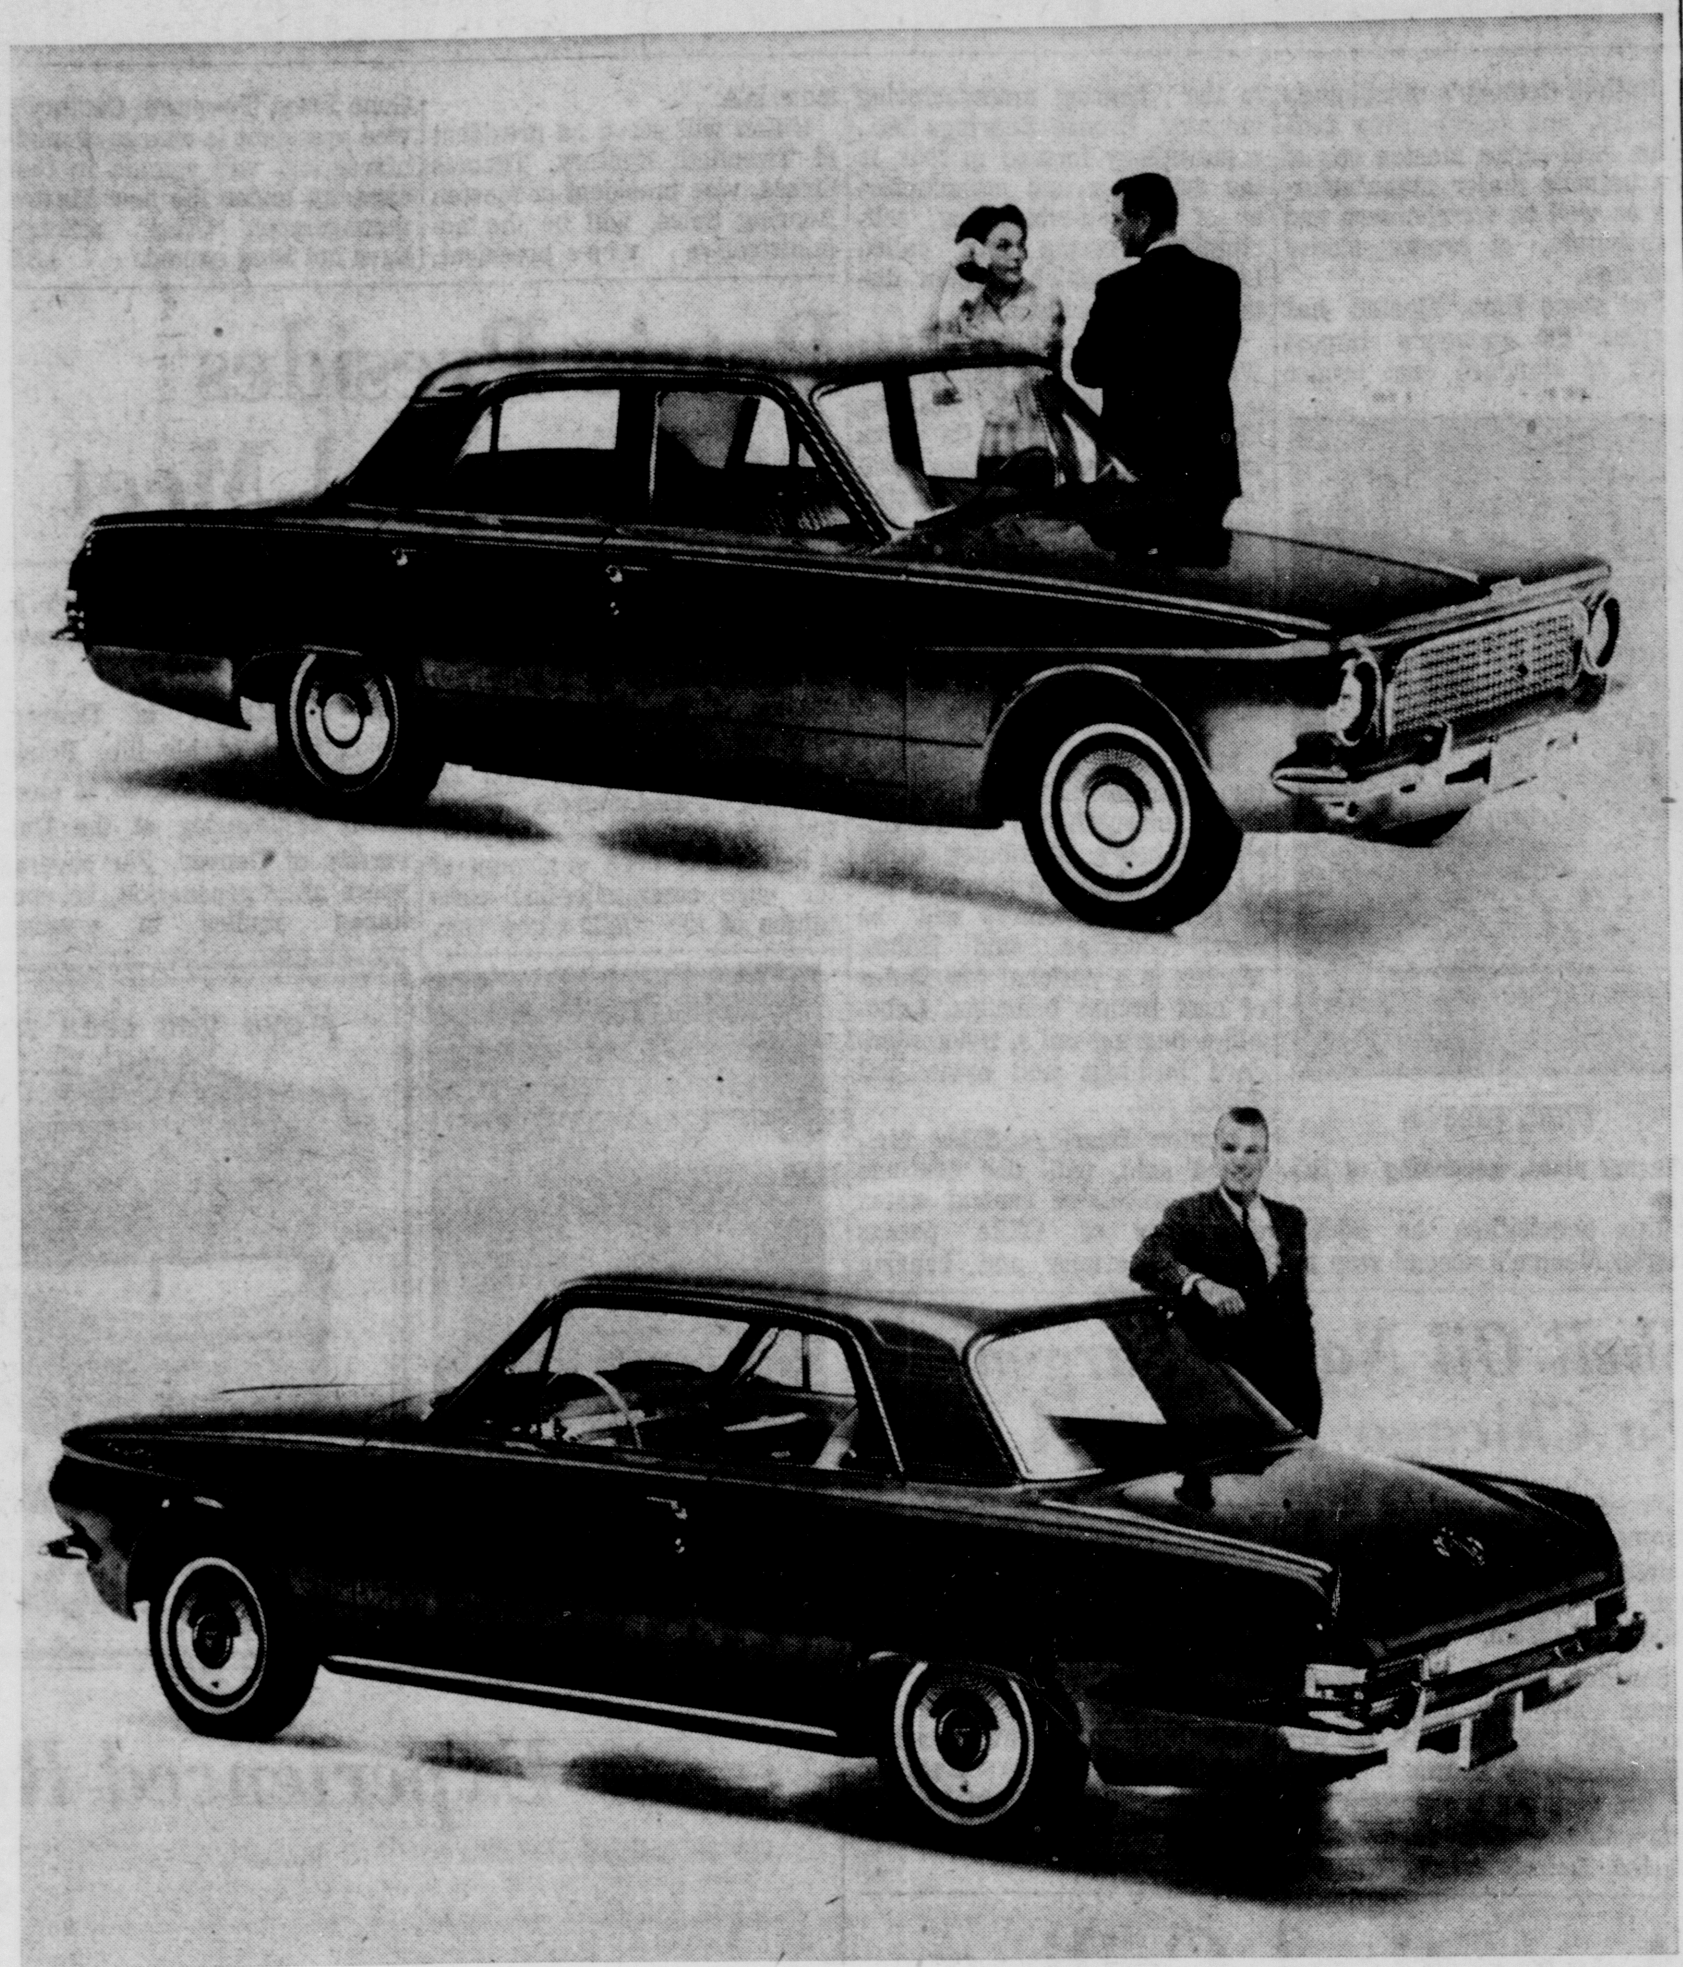
Valiant Is at Mark Motors



THE VALIANT, CHRYSLER Corporation's economy compact, is fully new for 1962 and on display at Mark Motors, 2020 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights. It has undergone its first major styling change since its introduction in the fall of 1959. Above is the V-200 4-door sedan; below, the Signet 200 two-door hardtop. (BB

Now on display at Mark Motors, 2020 East Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, is the completely restyled Valiant, Chrysler Corporation's Plymouth Division "compact."

It is the first major styling change in the compact field since the Valiant was originally introduced three years ago. (Included in the new line are two additional models in convertibles, soon to be in production.)

Nine models and body styles make the 1963 line the most complete Valaint has developed. The 5-year or 50,000 mile warranty includes the major "power-train" components, including engine, transmission, propeller shaft, universal joint, and rear axle.

THE ENGINE choice includes the standard 170-cu.in., or optional 225-cu.in. power plant, of inclined six-cylinder design.

The new Valiant is slighlty The new Valiant is slightly longer than earlier models, and its new "look" is highlighted by a broad front-end treatment, with improved bumper design. The new amber lenses are used on front turn signals adjacent to the bumper. Improved full-unitized construction, and new heater design, is used in the new Valiant. Closed crankcase ventilation, improved choke and starter systems, new windshield wiper design, and other improvements have been developed for the new model.

The 1963 line of models includes two-door and four-door sedans, "Signet" hardtop, convertibles in two series, and 4-door station wagons in two series. (BB

Klebenow Retires

Cowboy Bids Farewell To Pals at U.S. Gypsum

Little did John H. Klebenow think, as he rode herd on prime Montana cattle back in 1919, that he would some day spend four decades supervising Accounts Receivable at United States Gypsum Co.

JOHN H. KLEBENOW

Yet, that is exactly what Klebenow, 110 E. Lake-Cook road, Barrington, who recently retired after 41 years with the Chicago building materials manufacturer, did.

Looking back on those days, Klebenow said, "After serving in the United States Army in World War I, and learning to train pigeons for the Signal Corps, I felt like getting out into the clean, open air of the Montana plains. It was a challenging, manly life for a youngster, who wanted to see a lot of the world before settling down.

"I recommend a cowboy's life for the unsettled youth of today. The disciplines of living in the open, and the responsibilities of caring for cattle and crops, promote self - reliance, self - confidence, healthy bodies, and clean minds." Following his stint in the West Klebenow returned to Chicago to marry the former Florence Dropp. He joined United States Gypsum Co. in 1921, and was promoted to successively responsible jobs in the fiscal organization, before becoming accounts receivable supervisor.

How does a former cowboy plan to spend his retirement years? Klebenow said, "I intend to remain active in the out-of-doors. Fishing and gardening have always been my hobbies and I intend to enjoy them thoroughly now that I have the time."

Mr. and Mrs. Klebenow have four children. "What time I don't spend with my hobbies, I will spend visiting with my 10 grandchildren." (BB

Many Ways to Finance Your Home Improvements

Never before have there been more ways to finance home-improvements than today. President Kennedy's new multi-billion-dollar housing program includes substantial sums to insure home-improvement financing.

So now you may be able to get a brand-new kind of government-insured housing loan. It provides for FHA insurance on amounts up to $10,000 for as long as 20 years!

Here is a brief run-down on the six main ways to finance home-improvements today.

ONE: FHA Long-Term Loan —Under Section 203K of President Kennedy's new program, you may be able to borrow up to $10,000 for as long as 20 years. But you must use the loan to make major structural changes like adding a new wing to your house or enclosing a carport to make another room. Also your home must be at least 10 years old. You must borrow at least $2,500. Interest runs around six per cent a year.

TWO: Title I Loan — You can borrow up to $3,500 with five years to repay under this short-term loan insured by the Federal Housing Administration. You can use this loan to modernize kitchens and bathrooms as well as make many other minor improvements. But you cannot borrow for projects not considered "essential" to a home like a swimming pool or a greenhouse.

Interest usually runs about $5 discount per $100 a year on loans up to $2,500. Over that amount, the interest drops to $4 discount per $100 a year. "Discount" means the full charges are deducted from the amount of the loan at the very start.

THREE: Bank Home-Improvement Loan — At first glance, it will look almost the same to you as a Title I loan. You can borrow up to $3,500 and take five years to repay. But interest varies from $5 to $7 discount per $100 a year. They cost slightly more, but they are more flexible. Banks make these loans entirely on their own. Thus, they are not subject to FHA regulations. For example, you can use the money for many improvements considered non-essential and thus not approved under Title 1.

FOUR: Open End Mortgage Loan — Take a look at the mortgage paper on your home. Does it contain an "open-end" provision? Then you may be able to borrow more money. But usually, you must have already paid in a substantial equity. And then you will only be able to borrow an amount equal to what you've already paid off. To handle the added debt, your monthly payments may be increased slightly, or the time of repayment simply extended.

FIVE: Refinancing Present Mortgage — If you have a conventional mortgage without an open-end mortgage clause, see if you can retire your existing mortgage. Then, get a new one in a larger amount to include the money for improvements.

SIX: Personal Bank Loan — Consider a personal bank loan if your home - improvement projects are small — like installing a new front door. (BB

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell, Associate Farm Advisor

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL DAILY 392-3060

Early fall is considered the best time to plant one of the most popular garden perennials, peonies. These plants are familiar and appreciated by almost everyone. They are one of the most showy and most easily grown of all garden flowers.

Most of our peony varieties originated from two species, Paeonae albiflora and Paeonae chinensis. The species are almost never planted, but the centuries of crossing have resulted in the many varieties and types which are so beautiful in our gardens in late spring.

Peony flowers are classified as to the amount of doubleness. Singles have five petals and a multitude of yellow, pollen bearing stamens. The transformation of these stamens into petal-like structures is what produces doubleness.

JAPANESE TYPES have two to three rows of petals and strap like stamens. In fully double peonies the stamens are completely transformed into petals. The American Peony Society lists other intermediate types but the three general categories are usually enough for accurate classification.

Double peonies are sterile, and cannot be reproduced from seeds. The single and Japanese varieties are hybrids, and even though they may produce seeds, the resultant plants may be quite unlike their parents.

Peonies are almost always propagated by division of the large storage roots called tubers. The divisions should be divided into sections containing three to five eyes. Plant the sections so that the top eye is about two inches below the surface of the soil.

TOO DEEP OR too shallow planting is usually the cause of failure to bloom. Large clumps cannot be moved. When it is necessary to move a plant, it must be divided and the small pieces planted. Peonies will not bloom the year following division. If a bud is formed, it should be picked off. The third year after planting, satisfactory

Peonies make large plants so allow plenty of room for them to expand. Once established they do not like to be disturbed. Few diseases or insects attack peonies. Ants, often prolific on peonies, cause much undue concern. They do not hurt the plants, but remove the sweet material secreted by the buds.

Architects To Meet in Springfield

"How To Give Clients More and Better Service" is the theme of the forthcoming Illinois Regional Conference of the American Institute of Architects according to Charles Catlin, Arlington Heights, president of the Architects Association of Illinois.

Scheduled for Nov. 8, 9 and 10 at the Leland Hotel in Springfield, Ill., the conference will cover architectural legislative problems on Friday and details of more comprehensive services on Saturday.

CHARLES Luckman, head of his own architectural firm in Los Angeles and former president of Lever Brothers American companies will highlight the session on comprehensive services.

Luckman's firm is one of five largest architectural firms in the world. (BB

In Many Homes

Idle Space Can Be Made into Rooms

If you are like the average homeowner who has lived in the same house for a number of years, you may well be faced with the growing space needs of an expanding family.

Rather than give up your present home and moving to a larger house, possibly in a different neighborhood why not consider creating additional living space in the home you now occupy?

ALMOST every home has unused space that could be converted into livable extra rooms. In many instances, such space can be found in an unused attic, a section of the basement, a porch, an attached garage or carport. Or perhaps you could add on to the back or side of your house by knocking out a wall and expanding one of the existing rooms, or adding an entirely new room.

Often the least expensive way to get an extra room is to finish off the attic. Roof and subflooring are already there. The "expansion attic" house, the Cape Cod or many of the other high gabled types usually can be "stretched" simply by finishing floors and adding walls, heat, light and insulation.

Old or new, a house with a basement has built-in room for improvement, presenting practical possibilities for conversion into a recreation room, hobby room, family room, any of which may provide extra guest sleeping quarters.

FINISHING this space for better appearance and greater function can be done with a modest expenditure for materials, such as hardboard or one of the Western Pine region woods.

It isn't necessary to start in the attic or basement in order to end up with a remodeled room. Porch or patio can be enclosed and finished with paneling and built-ins.

Remodeled patios and porches, particularly where adjacent to the kitchen, make wonderful family style dining-living rooms.

ANOTHER practical way to create extra living space is to build a carport or extra garage for the car, and convert an attached garage into the extra room you need.

Sliding storm and screen picture windows can be installed where the garage door once hung and side - wall broken through the smaller windows.

If you can't go up, down or sideways to find space or conversion into extra rooms, consider adding the necessary living facilities by building onto your house.

YOU WILL need expert help for at least part of this job. First, have your land surveyed to locate exact property lines. Next check with your building inspector to find out how far out you can go and still stay within bounds set by the zoning code.

Basic to any remodeling project is careful planning and the advice of experts when and where expert advice is called for. Even if you plan a do-it-yourself remodeling project, you might well decide to have part of the work done by a building contractor. Also, when it comes to the choice of material, your local lumber dealer is your best authority. (BB

Herbert A. Glabe Gets Civil Defense Lessons

Herbert A. Glabe, staff supervisor for plant security for Illinois Bell Telephone Co., has just completed a special civil defense course at the Department of Defense, Office of Civil Defense, Staff College in Battle Creek, Mich.

Glabe, who lives at 717 N. Wren Ave., Palatine, took a 5-day course for shelter management instructors from Oct. 1 through 5, along with 20 other local and state civil defense officials from various parts of the country.

AS PART OF the national civil defense program, millions of fallout shelter spaces found in existing buildings throughout the country and which meet certain standards will be marked by the Federal government and stocked with food, water, sanitation, medical and radiological detection supplies and equipment.

Personnel must be trained to manage the people who may occupy these shelters.

The shelter management instructor course conducted at OCD Staff College provides training in fallout shelter management to those persons who will return to their communities and train others to serve as shelter managers in case of emergency.

THE DUTIES and responsibilities of the manager are taught, together with the special staffing, skills and techniques that would be needed in community fallout shelters.

Included in the one-week course is a period of actual shelter living, which provides practical experience to the instructors. (BB

Baldwin Company Marking Its 100th Anniversary

As the representative of Baldwin for the northwest suburban area, Rov Baumann Music Studios, 24 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights, is celebrating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Baldwin company.

The Baldwin Piano Company was founded in the fall of 1862 in Cincinnati by Dwight Hamilton Baldwin.

With $2,000 carefully saved, Baldwin began selling pianos and reed organs, called melodeons. He was 41 years old, but as he had no children to support he could afford to be daring.

EARLIER he had conducted "singing schools" in small towns on both sides of the Ohio River and in 1857 had been appointed one of four teachers of music in the Cincinnati public schools at a salary of $1,200 a year.

In 1866 20-year-old Lucien Wulsin joined Baldwin as bookkeeper. A Civil War veteran who had come up from New Orleans in 1852, Wulsin was made a junior partner seven years later.

From the $2,000 he used to start his little store, Baldwin had saved enough to furnish $50,000 in stocks and assets as his share in the partnership. Wulsin contributed $10,000.

SOON afterwards, the company began to expand to include local dealers in country towns around Cincinnati and five years later, the partners opened retail stores in Louisville and Indianapolis. In 1884 three more partners were added.

The Baldwin Company was 27 years old when the firm began to build its own products. The first was the Hamilton Organ, a reed organ of the type popular at the end of the last century. The next year the company decided to try building pianos, but only if they could be better than any on the market.

The secret behind the perfection of the first Baldwin pianos was a group of famous tuners. In those days, the tuners not only did tuning but were also thoroughly qualified in all arts of piano making. The Baldwin was so popular that the company decided to build a moderately priced upright also; the Ellington Piano began production in 1893.

IN 1900, Baldwin entered the Paris Exposition for the first time and won the Grand Prix, the first American piano so honored, making Baldwin internationally known.

In 1927 Baldwin began a research program with the physics department of the University of Cincinnati to study the creation of musical tones by electronics. As a result of the research, Baldwin began production of electronic organs shortly after World War II.

This year Lucien Wulsin Jr., grandson of the first Mr. Wulsin, became president of the Baldwin company, builders of Baldwin grand pianos, acrosonic vertical pianos, Hamilton studio pianos and Howard spinet pianos, and the Baldwin and Orga-sonic electronic organs. (BB

Families Aim at Modern Bathrooms

One of the most common problems in home improvement concerns the bathroom in the older house. With outdated fixtures, and a bad layout, this bathroom can seriously inconvenienece the growing family.

Often a family should really have two wash rooms if children and adults are to enjoy the privacy dictated by modern, active living. The answer, of course, is modernization and, where possible, addition of a small bathroom.

BATHROOM modernization can vary from just the essential replacement of old fixtures to a complete change, including wall and floor coverings, lighting, room layout.

In the first instance, there is much improvement to be gained simply by removing old fixtures and installing modern ones.

The old bathtub can be replaced by a modern tub, in color or white, in one of many attractive contemporary styles.

IN CHOOSING a new lavatory there are a wide variety of possibilities. In the pedestal type, one can choose a model with wide ledgeroom on either side of the bowl which is convenient for grooming and placing toiletries.

Another type of lavatory is the cabinet model. No longer does this kind of installation have to be custom-made. Well-known manufacturers offer such units as part of their standard line.

Where bathroom modernization is more extensive, the homeowner has a wealth of possibilities in considering fixtures and accessories. Consultation with a plumbing contractor will give the home owner an idea of how many variations exist.

Tubs can be recessed or corner models; they can be of the luxurious square type, where the tub cavity is on the diagonal and the corners form handy seats.

INSTEAD OF ONE sink, the utility of the bathroom can be upgraded by two pedestal-type sinks, or two drop-in sinks built into a countertop. Another possibility, which presents itself by re-arranging the fixtures, is a much larger sink than was formerly used.

Perhaps, at first review, there seems to be no available space in the older house which could be converted to a second bathroom. Consultation with a plumbing contractor may prove otherwise. Often hall areas can be diverted, transferring wasted space into a bathroom.

Ted Small to Be Panelist Oct. 29, 30

Ted Small, advertising representative for Paddock Publications, Inc., will be among the top advertising agency and mediamen in the country who will participate as panel members Oct. 29 and 30 at the annual promotion conference of the International Council of Shopping Centers, New Orleans.

Small, 44, of 725 W. Busse Ave., Mount Prospect, services the account of the huge Randhurst Shopping Center, among others.

THE CONFERENCE will feature both study clinics and workshop sessions covering every phase of shopping center promotion planning and advertising techniques.

Small will be guest panelist in a clinic for weekly newspapers and shoppers.

A special attraction of the television - radio clinic will be the premiere showing of sample shopping center institution and merchandising commercials. (BB

Suburban Living

Especially for Women

Excitement, Honor Await Homemakers

JEAN KERR'S comedy hit, "Mary, Mary" will climax an exciting night-on-the-town for local winners in Paddock Publications search for Suburban Homemakers of the Year. The hilarious play, featuring Julia Meade and Gale Gladstone (above), is only one of the exciting events awaiting the homemaker winners. Deadline for entering the contest, with a grand prize of $5,000 cash for the national winner, is Saturday midnight.

Deadline Set For Nominees

Excitement, glamor, and national recognition await northwest area winners in Paddock Publications' search for local "Suburban Homemakers of the Year."

Awaiting these deserving women are:

—$100 savings bonds, honor and recognition in their local communities, and an opportunity to win the national award and $5,000 cash;

—participation in the National Suburban Homemaker Conference with all expenses paid, including overnight accommodations at the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel, Chicago;

—national and regional attention by press, radio, and TV;

—attendance at the national award ceremony with actress Peggy Wood announcing the National Suburban Homemaker of the Year;

—an all-expense paid "night on the town," including dinner and theatre; and —attendance at the Nov. 16 broadcast of the Don McNeil "Breakfast Club" radio show.

DEADLINE FOR entering the Suburban Homemaker of the Year search is Saturday midnight.

Winners from communities served by Paddock Publications newspapers will be determined by a panel of local judges. Local winners automatically become entered in the national contest, sponsored by the Suburban Press Foundation, Inc.

Simple entry forms are available at selected stores throughout northwest suburbs. They are to be submitted with a short note listing the reasons why the nominee is deserving of this recognition.

The woman chosen "National Suburban Homemaker of the Year" will receive that award on Nov. 15 in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel, Chicago, from the hands of Peggy Wood, the noted actress whose television role of "Mama" delighted viewers for eight consecutive years.

While Miss Wood may be best known to the TV audience of "Mama," her career was firmly rooted in the theatre, both here and abroad. Most recently, she starred as Naomi in the 20th-Century Fox film, "The Story of Ruth."

ALTHOUGH ACTING is her first love, Miss Wood has also turned to writing and has to her credit a series of articles in the Saturday Evening Post, a novel, an autobiography, and is currently working on a sequel to the latter.

One of her strongest interests is the American National Theatre and Academy, of which she is currently president. She is also a member of the Advisory Committee on the Arts for the proposed National Cultural Center in Washington, D. C.

All these activities, however, take second place to being a wife, mother, and devoted grandmother of three, adds the popular actress.

THE DAY-LONG National Suburban Homemaker Conference will open at 10 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 15 with a panel interview session in which experts will question winning suburban homemakers from throughout the nation on "Practices and Problems in the Suburban Home."

The panel of probers will include representatives of the media, a nutritional expert, and an authority on suburban family living.

A luncheon will feature an address by a nationally-known personality and authority in the suburban family living field. Honored guests will include representatives of communications media, major women's organizations, civic and welfare organizations, professional and educational groups, government, business and industrial groups.

The award ceremony is scheduled for the afternoon.

BOTH THE conference and national award are sponsored by the Suburban Press Foundation, Inc. Selection of the national winner will be made by a panel of outstanding national authorities on home and family living, community life, and suburban development.

In the evening, finalists in the homemaker search — including winners from northwest suburbs—will be guests for dinner in the Mayfair Room of the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel and a performance of the hit comedy play, "Mary, Mary."

On Friday morning, they will be special guests of the Don McNeill "Breakfast Club" radio broadcast.

Honor Homemakers

Simple Letters Tell Heartwarming Stories

by MELDA LYNN

Throughout the Northwest suburban communities represented by Paddock Publications, letters from husbands . . . from children . . . from neighbors . . . from friends and organizations . . . are telling the stories of suburban women who merit the title, "Suburban Homemaker of the Year."

The letters, written in simple language, tell heartwarming stories of the varied and important roles our American suburban homemakers are filling.

HERE ARE excerpts from some of those letters:

Two neighbors in Rolling Meadows wrote of their favorite homemaker; "She is a true example of all we housewives would like to be.

"Her spiritual strength is revealed by her steady attendance at church, her teaching of Sunday School and her membership in many committees of the church."

The mother-in-law of a Palatine woman says the wife of her son, "is just wonderful! She always has time to help in the extra curricular school and church activities with her five children and still keeps a neat and clean house. She has even helped build their home working right alongside her husband and the children to construct it."

In Wheeling a neighbor writes about the woman she has nominated — "She is a a wonderful mother to her children, keeps her home neat and clean, sees that the family has well balanced meals and has always been able to keep the respect of her family."

A HUSBAND in Addison who entered his wife is very proud of the fact that their mixed marriage has been so successful and mentions it in his letter of nomination.

"Having a family of eight is not an easy task for any woman, especially if the faiths differ between the mother and father. Her belief in God is reflected through the children. Two of the children go to the Catholic Church and four to the Lutheran Church. She shows no partiality to any one church. She believes in all faiths."

A group of 20 friends of an Arlington Heights woman wan the nomination of their ideal homemaker to be a complete surprise to her. They got together after discussing the contest and jotted down the qualifications, numbering them according to the suggestions on the entry blank. They did not attempt to write the information in a wordy, complicated journalistic fashion, but in plain language listed the qualifications.

For instance, in listing the No. 8 item on the judging standard asking how she creates an atmosphere of love, respect and affection for family living, they jotted down: "Constantly does things with and for family, creating close unity. Shows pride and interest in family accomplishments; helps each to appreciate the others. All attend special family organizational activities. Teaches respect for privacy, possession. Christian emphasis in all realms of family life."

A 12-YEAR-OLD girl who nominated her mother wrote; "If you come to our house any time of the day, our house is always neat and clean. My mother is a good cook and my daddy says she is the best in managing money.

"When I come home from school she asks how I made out in school that day and we discuss everything. Our family is close 'cause mom and dad never fight."

And so the letters come in, each one adding to the mounting evidence of the fine jobs being done by our suburban homemakers. The satisfaction which the letter writers find in the opportunity to pay tribute to our "unsung" heroines is evident.

The time to enter the favorite homemaker of each resident in the area is growing short—only two more days until deadline, Saturday, Oct. 20.

Dance Class To Feature Latest Step

The new 7-week dance courses, beginning Monday, Oct. 29, at the Northwest Suburban YMCA, 300 E. Northwest Highway, Des Plaines, will feature the latest ballroom dance.

Grace V. Hansen, instructor, takes pride in bringing the latest in ballroom dance to students.

TO QUOTE Miss Hansen: "Dancers will love the 'Wheeling,' It swings, and can also be danced to cha-cha rhythm."

New courses will be offered for junior high, high school students and adults, and are open to everyone, 'Y' members and non-members.

Miss Hansen is the director of the dance department for the Metropolitan YMCA's of Chicago, co-chairman of the ballroom department for the Chicago National Association of Dance Masters, and has a masters degree in Dance.

Newest in the marketplace—an electric hairbrush, no doubt inspired by the success of its predecessor, the electric toothbrush.

Arlington Juniors Welcome Newcomers

Highlight of the Oct. 9 meeting of the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club was a reception and installation of 36 new members. A candlelight ceremony officiated by President Mrs. Henry Wieditz and Membership Chairman Mrs. James Davis welcomed Mesdames R. Averill, Walter Busch, Richard Carleton, Roger Carlson, William Cook, John Croghan, Walter Dahm, Byram Dickes, Roger Ericson, James Fizzell, K. Frandsen, Roger Gosling, Howard Haire, William Harner, Donald Heine, Peter Helferich, Roy Henning, Thomas Houser, John Johnston.

Also Mesdames Richard Kozakiewicz, Al Lane, G. William Lebsock, Richard Mackinnon, Thomas McShane, William Narup, Kenneth Otto, G. William Paine, Robert Reininga, James Sanders, Alfred Steffens, Donald Sweeney, Donnell Wagner, Harold Whitacre, Davis Whittier, Garry Williams, and Chet Woolsey.

A special award was made by the Arlington Juniors to one of the club members, Mrs. Myron Hartley, who is State Junior Director of the Illinois Federation. The presentation of 24 points for the next two club years is more than deserved by Mrs. Hartley, who will fulfill her obligations to her home club during this period by serving the state in her official capacity. The club requires that each active member earn 12 points per year to retain membership in good standing.

Youth Program Chairman Mrs. Donald Carrara announced that plans are being finalized for a meeting of interested groups in the village who wish to consider forming of a teen center. The organizations will meet Tuesday in Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan building at 8:15 p.m.

Why Do 'Opposites' Attract in Marriage

By DR. GERARD G. NEUMAN

Dear Dr. Neuman,

As an engineer, I place great value on logic and order, so I can't understand myself now. I find myself greatly attracted to a girl who is the opposite of all the things I believe in. I'm even thinking of marriage, although my mind tells me it couldn't work out. She is frivolous, thoroughly illogical, and seems to live in constant confusion. I'm always wanting to find fault with her, but instead I just fall more deeply in love.

What chance is there that this marriage could work out?

Mr. O.

Sociological studies show that there is a greater chance for a happy marriage, the more nearly alike the husband wife are in their backgrounds, their tastes, and their aspirations. Still there is the traditional belief that opposites attract. In fact, many marriages seem to be based on the attraction of opposites, rather than on the similarity of the couple. Some of these marriages are as happy as any marriage could be, others are under constant conflict and strain.

DR. NEUMAN

All of this may seem paradoxical but an understanding of the reasons why people behave as they do provides clues to what is happening—why opposites attract, why some of the marriages work out, and why others don't.

WE HAVE learned that where people have very strong feelings about a certain way of behaving, it often covers up the hidden wish to do the opposite. For example, people who are compulsive about cleanliness are often using this method, to fight the unconscious wish to be very messy. People who are very polite and overly "nice" are often people who are angry and who almost hate everyone they meet.

There is naturally a fascination of seeing someone else do what you would like to be doing yourself. Marriages between opposites are based on just this kind of attraction. The husband or wife gets the vicarious pleasure of sharing in behavior they could never allow themselves, while remaining free of guilt. The guilt and responsibility are carried by the other party.

Where the feelings against the hidden wish are not too strong, a very happy marital relationship can develop. The man who talks about how much he likes to spend his evenings at home with a good book may let himself be dragged to all kinds of social affairs by a gregarious wife, protesting, but still managing to have a fairly good time.

HOWEVER, where the feelings are so strong that they are practically a taboo, we have the basis for marriages that seem a bitter round of accusations and criticism, and with neither partner able to change, because the relationship requires them to go on exactly as they have started.

This is one of the situations where we can see more clearly how marriage counseling helps. By bringing the hidden wish out into the open, a change is introduced into the situation. Either the "taboos" are seen as irrational, easing the tension and allowing pleasure to come in, or the problem behaviour is seen as really unacceptable, freeing the "bad" partner to change without upsetting the marriage itself.

Bargain Mart

BARRINGTON WSCS

A semi-annual rummage sale sponsored by the Barrington Methodist Church Woman's Society will be held Friday, Oct. 26, from 9 to 5 p.m. and Saturday, Oct. 27 from 9 to noon, in the lower lounge of the church. Proceeds will be used to support the work of Peek Home, Marcy Center, Newberry Avenue Center in Chicago and Methodist schools and hospitals.

Coffee and donuts will be served Friday afternoon. Sitter service will be available Friday morning. Highlight of the sale is a specialty shop of quality merchandise.

ST. PETER CHURCH

Friday, Oct. 26, is the date set by the Ladies Aid Society of St. Peter Lutheran Church, Schaumburg, for an annual bazaar, bake sale and luncheon.

Lunch will be served from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., with bazaar items on sale from 11 a.m. to 8 in the evening.

Location is the old school building on Schaumburg Road, just east of Roselle Road. Tickets are available at the door.

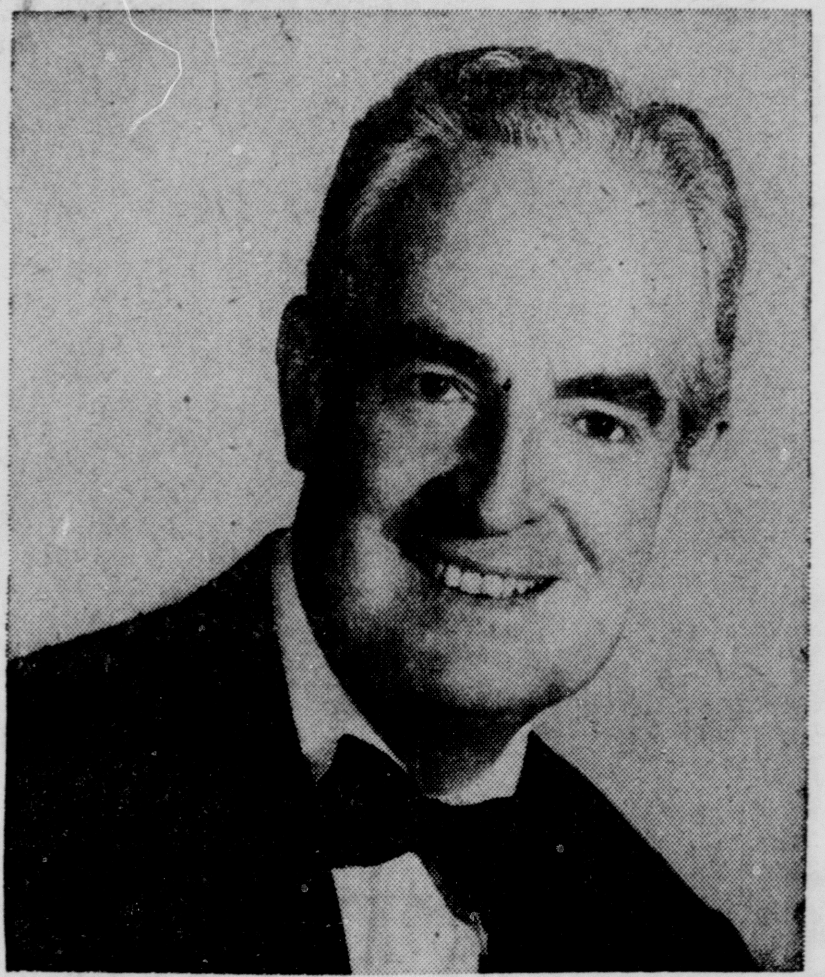
Easily Worked

Hardly a man or boy but has worked with wood during his life and all know the great ease with which wood can be cut, sawn, chiseled and shaped. Wood is truly a friendly material and during National Forest Products Week, it will be saluted across the nation on October 21-27.

Safety Measure

Some 4½ million automobiles are now equipped with safety belts, almost double the number a year ago.

Hospital Benefit



COMMITTEE MEMBERS of the Service League of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, met with members of the Women's Auxiliary of Lutheran Deaconess Hospital, Chicago, recently for luncheon to coordinate their plans for a joint benefit performance of Fred Waring's "Wonderful World of Music." The performance at Arie Crown Theater in McCormick Place, on Nov. 24 will be Fred Waring's only appearance in the Chicago area this season. Tickets are available by mail from both hospitals, or by applying in person after Oct. 22 at a ticket office set up in each hospital. Office hours will be 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., Monday through Friday. For additional information, or inquiries about tickets, call Mrs. Harold Hansen, 1709 E. Campbell, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Lester Eastman, 276 Oxford Road, Des Plaines; or Mrs. Clifford Cooper, 209 S. George St., Mount Prospect.

Quite Contrary by Mary

The Main Event . . .

A girl about to get married is one likely to drive her poor Mother over the hill to the funny farm. She is a bundle of energy. All of this energy is directed at Ma in an attempt to get her moving. I konw. I'm going through it.

MARY

When it was finally decided that she was going to get married, having several months before the ceremony, I didn't just pop off to line up clergymen, organists and the like. I mean, I didn't want to be overtrained for the event. This served to drive her into a frenzy. Every day when she come home from work, she didn't even bother with the amenities like saying "Hello" or even, "Boy, did I have a hard day at the office." She just went down the list of what had to be done before a girl was properly launched on the sea of matrimony.

As I had also read both Emily Post and Amy Vanderbilt I had a vague notion of what was going to take place. So I would laugh gaily and say that we had plenty of time. I have discovered the hard way that a girl about to get married is a girl absolutely devoid of a sense of humor. She raved and ranted with waving arms and cracking voice. Bernhardt couldn't have done it any better.

So finally one day when she was just getting warmed up on her favorite subject like my lack of enthusiasm over the whole project, I started wringing my hands in mock humility and trotted around the house asking the future bride plaintively what should I do now, right this minute. Anything, anything at all to bring tears of joy to her big brown eyes. So she asked me if I thought I was funny. When I said that I thought the whole thing was mildly amusing, she humphed and steamed out of the room.

And so it has gone. Everything seems to be under control. I made the necessary arrangements. She smiled at me once about a week ago. Of course, when I was supposed to go to City Hall to sign the license one bright and sunny morning, I didn't get there until one dim and late afternoon. Old efficiency Sue and Wee Willie Winkie had forgotten to get their blood tests signed by a physician. Boy, did I laugh. But, out of fear for my health, quietly and to myself.

Senne-Kesel Nuptials Unite Arlington Pair

Two Arlington Heights families were united in the Sept. 8 wedding of Judy Ann Senne and Leslie Robert Kesel. The couple, both employed in the area, will be making their home at 108 S. Highland, Arlington Heights.

Both are graduates of Arlington High School, the bride now working in the local Illinois Bell Telephone accounting office and the groom in Morton Grove for Conveyors Systems.

THE BRIDE IS the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Senne, 416 W. Willow, and chose St. Peter Lutheran Church for her 4 o'clock wedding ceremony. Rev. R. Bartz united the couple in candlelight rites with Donald Hermann at the organ. Marlene Becker sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The bridegroom's parents are the Leslie J. Kesels of 1316 W. Sigwalt.

FOR THE DOUBLE ring nuptials the bride wore a silk organza and chantilly lace gown which ended in a chapel train. The bodice of lace was adorned at the demure neckline with iridescent sequins and pearls. The very full skirt was trimmed with appliques of the lace, accented with the sequin and pearl iridescents.

Aurora borealis crystals and teardrops formed the crown headpiece which held the bride's 2-tiered bouffant veil in place. Her bouquet was fashioned in a crescent of white roses and light blue stephanotis.

ALL OF THE bridal attendants were gowned alike in white dresses with royal blue accents. The silk organza dresses had very full skirts, cap sleeves and simple necklines. Each girl wore a royal blue Swiss braid crown in her hair to hold a circular veil in place. Each wore matching shoes, gloves and crystal necklace and carried matching floral bouquets.

Mrs. Neil Walter of Lodi, Wis., was matron of honor. Lois Boyer of Minneapolis, Dixie Senne of Arlington Heights and Karen Frueh of Chicago were bridesmaids, along with Bonne Senne of Arlington Heights as junior bridesmaid.

Serving as flower girl was 3-year-old Kathy Senne of Spencer, Iowa, who came down the aisle with 3-year-old Glen Frueh of Chicago as ring bearer.

The groom had Steven Holst of Arlington Heights as his best man. Ushers were Jackie Frueh, Richard Beuthin and Robert and Ronald Victor, all of Chicago, and Kenneth Kesel of Arlington. Jimmy Senne of Spencer was a junior usher.

AN EVENING reception was hosted by the bride's parents in Arlington Heights VFW Hall for 300 guests. Previous to that they entertained 214 guests at a buffet dinner.

For the festivities Mrs. Senne wore a brown chiffon dress accented with orange and brown accessories and a corsage of orange roses. The groom's mother wore a beige brocade sheath dress with matching jacket, navy blue accessories and had a pink rose corsage.

The newlyweds spent a 2-week honeymoon in Miami Beach before arriving home to settle in Arlington. (Jenart (S

Festive Christmas Show Arrives in Area October 22

Arlington Heights Garden Club is presenting "Once Upon A Holiday" on Monday, Oct. 22 at 8 p.m. in Pioneer Park Field House, 500 S. Fernandez, Arlington Heights.

Ethel Elise Zeller of Geneva, Ill. will present her program in a farthingale costume, designed and tailored at Williamsburg. Traditional Christmas decorations will be made by Mrs. Zeller, plus the showing of colored slides featuring Williamsburg, indoors and outdoors, with many festive Christmas ideas.

DURING YULETIDE, Williamsburg is a nostalgic Christmas card "come to life." Christmas decorations were true works of art in the 18th century. Simple or elaborate, colonial "Christmas decking" is as festive now as in George Washington's day.

Invitations are being extended to local residents; RoseMarie Wolf, Cl 5-3068, may be contacted for reservations.

New officers are: president, Mrs. John Miller; vice president, Mrs. Robert Wolf; treasurer George Westby; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank Stewart; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Galandak; civics, Mrs. James J. Bruscato; program, Mrs. Charles Moser; publicity, Mrs. Donald Florence; horticulture, Howard Mehn; artistic, Mrs. George De Briae; social, Mrs. Lillian Thompson; and ways & means, Mrs. Max Ullrich. A. R. Herbert Is Speaker Oct. 23

Antiano Rago Herbert, candidate for trustee of the Sanitary District for the suburban areas, will be guest speaker at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 23, when Wheeling Township Women's Democratic Organization holds its monthly meeting in the organization headquarters at 111 E. Davis, Arlington Heights.

Mr. Herbert is expected to bring out many points of interest to women of the area and all women of the community are invited. (S

TEEN PAT CRONIN, 415 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, gives an approving look as Mrs. Ben Mammina, 403 W. Miner, prepares for the coming season in the new winter fashion. The two are from a group of 20 models, members of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Woman's Club, and their teenage daughters, who will show a line of winter and holiday clothing from Crawford's Department Store, Rolling Meadows. The club's show, "Fashion Holiday," will be held Wednesday evening at 8, in the parish hall in Arlington Heights. (S

College Sweethearts Back To Class as Mr. and Mrs.

Carol Ann Bayne of Mount Prospect and Dennis R. Gaul of Arlington Heights have returned to the campus of Southern Illinois University as newlyweds since their marriage on Sept. 8. The couple will reside at 112 N. Poplar St. in Carbondale, while the bride completes her junior year and the groom his senior year.

Rev. E. Zeile united the pair in St. Paul Lutheran Church of Mount Prospect in an evening ceremony by candlelight before family and friends.

THE BRIDE IS the daughter of the Robert C. Baynes, 7 N. Emerson, Mount Prospect, and the groom's mother is Mrs. Bernice Gaul, 914 Fernandez, Arlington Heights.

Meeting the groom at the altar, which was decorated with bouquets of white mums and gladioli, the bride wore traditional white attire. Her gown had a chantilly lace bodice trimmed at the scalloped neckline with seed pearls and a peau de soie full skirt which ended in a chapel train. Lace panels were inserted on the skirt, falling from the waist to the hemline.

The bride chose a fingertip veil of illusion and a seed pearl crown to hold it in place. Her bouquet was of white roses and trailing ivy.

MATRON OF HONOR for the double ring rites was Mrs. Carl Sandine of Wadsworth. Bridesmaids were Janet Hasz and Shari Mitchell, both of Mount Prospect, and Starine Thomas of Schaumburg. All were gowned alike in moss green satin brocade dresses with circlet headpieces fashioned of coral pink gladioli petals and ivy. Each carried a bouquet of coral pink glamelias and ivy.

Tony Thomas of Arlington Heights was best man, and ushers were James Elgas and Gary Snell, both of Arlington, and Carl Sandine of Wadsworth.

Singing appropriate wedding songs was Robert Parsons, a friend of the groom's family, and he was accompanied at the organ by Elmer Jackish.

FOLLOWING THE ceremony, a reception took place in Mount Prospect Country Club for 135 guests. For the day's activities the bride's mother wore an off-white sheath dress with a carmel paisley print. Matching accessories and a brown cymbidium corsage completed her attire.

Mrs. Gaul chose a gray and beige print sheath with metallic thread, olive green accessories and also had a cymbidium corsage, in a green shade.

The newlyweds spent a few days' honeymoon at Lake Geneva before departing for Carbondale and their classes. Both are graduates of Arlington High School. (Jenart (S

Attendants All Relatives In Schmidt-Brumm Wedding

The Sept. 8 marriage of Sandra Lynn Schmidt of Wheeling and Claude G. Brumm of Arlington Heights was strictly a "family affair," all of the attendants being relatives of the pair with the exception of the best man who is the groom's best friend. The rites were performed in St. Peter Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights, at 2 p.m. with Rev. Robert Bartz officiating.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. White, 187 E. Norman Lane, Wheeling, chose a gown of nylon tulle over taffeta, with sabrina neckline, long sleeves and tiered skirt. Chantilly lace edged the neckline and the ruffles which formed the full skirt. The hemline dipped into a chapel train.

THE BRIDE'S fingertip veil was 2-tiered imported silk illusion held by a high double crown of seed pearls and aurora borealis crystals.

For her bouquet she chose a mixture of white roses and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Nancy Schmidt, and bridesmaids were Donna Miller of Wheeling, Janice Schmidt of Elmwood Park and Mrs. Michael Corns of Evanston, all cousins of the bride.

All were gowned alike in powder blue nylon sheer over taffeta dresses with accordion pleated bertha collars and very full pleated skirts. Their veils matched their dresses and were held by Swiss Braid crowns. The maid of honor had a nosegay bouquet of white mums with pink edging and ribbons, the bridesmaids' were of pink mums with white edging.

THREE-YEAR-OLD Debbie Brumm of Arlington Heights, the groom's niece, was flower girl, wearing a white nylon and lace dress with a light blue cummerbund and carrying a blue basket with pink and white carnations.

Ring bearer was 6-year-old Jackie Miller of Evanston, the bride's cousin.

THE BRIDEGROOM'S parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Brumm, 6th and Strong Streets. Wheeling. His brothers all served him as ushers, while David McManaway of Wheeling was his best man. The brothers are Larry Brumm of Arlington Heights, Wayne Brumm of Rolling Meadows and Don Brumm of Wheeling.

For the double ring ceremony and evening reception, held in the Palatine Fire House for 400 guests, the bride's mother wore a pale blue brocade dress with three-quarter length coat. She had a matching hat, white gloves and a white carnation corsage. The groom's mother chose a beige dress with matching accessories and had a white carnation corsage.

Also witnessing the nuptials were the bride's grandparents, the Reinhardt Schmidts of Niles, Mrs. Alvina Miller of Wheeling. The grandmothers all wore white mum corsages.

NOW AT HOME in Lake Zurich, the couple honeymooned in Brainerd, Minn.

The bride attended Evnaston High School and is now employed in Mount Prospect by Culligan Water Conditioning. The groom attended Arlington High School and works for Simmons Engineering Co. (S

World Fair, Weather Hurt Tourist Trade

MADISON, WIS., (UPI) The double-barrelled impact of the Seattle World's Fair and cool, damp weather was blamed this week for a large share of a 10 per cent decline in the Wisconsin tourist industry.

L. G. Monthey, tourist industry specialist of the University of Wisconsin Extension Division, said that many people "took the fair as an excuse to make a western trip" instead of spending their vacations in Wisconsin.

Minnesota's tourist business was also down about 10 per cent, while 5 to 10 per cent increases were noted in Ontario, Canada and in Michigan. Monthey said that part of the reason for Michigan's increase was due to an "exceptionally poor season" in 1961.

MONTHEY, WHO spent much of the summer studying tourist conditions, said the larger, modernized American or European plan resorts with more intensive operations had the best business. But, he added, this was not an answer for the whole resort industry.

"These places are for the carriage trade, the wealthier tourists, as the rates range up to $25 per person a day, including meals," he said. "Relatively few families can afford this."

Monthey said the biggest single problem is the extremely short season of 10 to 12 weeks and "the fact that so many resorts are operated by part-time or retired people who have little or no incentive to modernize or expand their accommodations."

HE SAID THE resort buildings built 40 years ago primarily as fishing camps "aren't good enough any more." Where new cottages have been built with rates up to $90 or $100 a week, compared to $50 or $60 a week for old cottages, the new ones are booked up first and longest, he said.

The average resort operator with six or seven cottages has a gross income of about $600 per cottage and is lucky if he takes in $5,000 to $6,000 a season from all sources.

"Few of them are getting $1,000 per cottage per season," said Monthey, "And that should be their objective—$80 to $100 a week per cottage for a 10 to 12 week season."

"IN ORDER TO raise the gross income, they've got to furnish more of what the vacationers want, besides just accommodations.

"This means food service, or at least a snack bar or some groceries, a beverage service, boats, motors, games, playgrounds and so on. That's the way you'll find the progressive housekeeping resort operators going." (T

WELCOME WAGON

Rely on Your Travel Agent

by JEANNE WELCH

Once upon a time there was something called "The Grand Tour of Europe." It followed a rigid pattern and most of those Americans making the grand tour fell into stereotyped categories, too. The dowager and her spinster companion, the college professor and her entourage of debutantes, the bluff, crude millionaire and his dowdy wife . . . these furnished material for many a novelist, both American and European.

A novelist today would have difficulty limning the "typical American tourist in Europe" for they come in all sizes, shapes and income brackets.

TODAY, TOO, there are so many routes to Europe that one is hard pressed to make a choice. You can fly directly to Europe from Chicago; you can stop off in New York first, then fly to the European city of your choice; you can fly from Canada, or from Miami.

By ship there is the luxury liner, the small, medium priced ship and the freighter with again a variety of embarkation ports from which to choose.

For a first trip to Europe I unhesitatingly recommend that you put yourself in the hands of an experienced travel agent. For most of us a European trip is a long term dream come true and time, even more than money, is what we want to conserve. How frustrating to waste even a few minutes arguing with a Parisian taxi driver or a German railroad porter, or walking the streets of London searching for a moderately priced hotel.

Don't keep any secrets from your travel agent, though. Let him know your tastes, your special interests, how much in time and money you can spend. If you are gregarious a group tour may be entirely your dish of tea. If, however, browsing through bookshops and flea markets is more to your taste you might be unhappy on a scheduled tour.

MANY PEOPLE still believe that only conducted tours, on a rigid schedule, are available through travel agents. Actually, there are tours to suit every taste, every interest. All the travel agent does (if you prefer an independent tour) is recommend, usually on the basis of personal experience, hotels, modes of transportation, etc. After you have sketched out for him the kind of trip you want he handles all of the time-consuming details, the writing of letters for reservations, arrangements for baggage transfer and all of the mundane and time-consuming things with which you do not want to be bothered, particularly in a foreign country where customs and routines are unfamiliar.

A travel agent's services are not expensive. In many cases they may save you actual money or secure better accommodations for you than you could secure for yourself. It's quite logical that a hotel manager, for instance, will be anxious to accommodate a travel agent who sends the hotel hundreds of guests during a year. A travel agent often can secure accommodations which are not available on an individual basis.

Next week we'll get specific and talk about special events going on in Europe this fall and winter—the period which once was called the "off-season" but is now very much the "in-season." (T

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

An Antique Venture

Dear Peg:

Saturday was simply too nice a day to stay in, so, before offering my promised help in the leaf-raking department, I sneaked off in the car all by myself. For some time, I've been wanting to run out and see how the Ballenger's antique shop was coming along, but herding children through rooms of antique glass and delicate furniture is not my idea of good sport — so I've been waiting for just the right time. And Saturday was it. Daddy kept the children occupied, while Mama made her getaway.

I saw the beginning of this antique venture when they first purchased the old fashioned house, on Waukegan Road between Lake and Willow and I watched the transformation, as they painted walls, put up curtains and began assembling their antiques. Again, I revisited the shop about a year and a half ago and bought one of my favorite little pieces — a white bisque figure of a little girl holding a narrow vase which is just perfect for pink rosebuds. But I was totally unprepared for what I found last Saturday. Besides the antique shop, there are three other very attractive little shops beyond the sign "Gaslight Square" (a couple of real gaslights burn outside the antique shop).

Next door to the antique shop, on one side, is Segno's — a building of contemporary design housing everything from cards to handwoven rugs to Scandinavian furniture in the best of modern design. Everything in this lovely glass and brick room is so attractive it's enough to make an old antiquer go modern!

On the other side of the antique shop is a colorful little workshop-market called "Design Unlimited." One may take lessons in ceramics, art, crafts and weaving, or if a person just wants a creative atmosphere in which to do his own work, this is available too. Exhibits of various artists' work are being planned and there are always original items of apparel and accessories available for sale.

The loveliest in homespun draperies, slipcovers, bedspreads, sportswear etc. can be found in "Homespun House" — the last of the shops in this unusual group. You've seen their ads in the "Home" magazines. The material is 10 feet wide and only costs about $2.98 a yard. (Material this wide can give you a lot of drapery for a relatively small price).

And, of course, the Ballenger's antique shop is a mecca for any browser (or purchaser). I don't think they are missing anything in glassware, furniture, clocks, old prints or even penny candy. And a pleasant surprise might be to have cheerful little Carmelita Pope Ballenger wait on you.

All this is to be found in "Gaslight Square" — and you don't even need a key!

My love,
Patty

Palatine Juniors Plan Nov. 3 Dance

Final plans for the Monte Carlo Dance to be given Saturday, Nov. 3, by the Junior Woman's Club of Palatine are now being made, according to Mrs. Samuel La Susa, ways and means chairman of the club. The affair will be held in Vernon Hills Country Club, Route 45.

Decorations, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Herbert Wheeler, will be reminiscent of the "Flapper Era" and many of those attending will be wearing costumes of the '20s to add to the gaiety of the event.

PLANS ARE being made for games, dancing, entertainment and a free snack bar. Mrs. La Susa reported that ticket sales are going fast and anyone wishing tickets may call the ticket chairman, Mrs. Walter Honigman at FL 8-4474.

Other members of the decorating committee are Mrs. Robert Hanlon, Mrs. Richard Lawrenz, Mrs. Clyde Fahrion and Mrs. C. R. Carlson. Mrs. A. J. Leitz and Mrs. Wayne McDaniel are in charge of prizes and publicity is handled by Mrs. Robert Hewitt. (S

Moms, Dads Night For Area's Bethel

Oct. 10 was Mom's and Dad's Night and initiation at Bethel 103 International Order of Jobs Daughters, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Neil Livington, 1429 St. James Place, Arlington Heights, and Don E. Gephardt, 315 N. Prospect Manor, Mount Prospect, were introduced as the honored guests for the evening.

The five following girls were initiated into Jobs Daughters: Leslie Renee O'Dor, 636 S. Chestnut; Ridgely Janet Jackson, 645 S. Belmont; Christy Ann Schumacher, 741 S. Chestnut; Linda Kay Bruning, 103 S. Windsor; and Virginia Ann Hengl, 1208 E. Northwest Hwy., all of Arlington Heights.

AN ICE CREAM social was enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

Oct. 11, girls of Bethel 102 were guests of Arlington Heights Chapter 992, Order of the Eastern Star. After the close of the Eastern Star meeting, Jobs Daughters officers presented a ceremony with the Twenty Third Psalm as its main point. Miss Rebecca Moulton, 729 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, senior custodian, was the narrator.

As each girl was introduced and her duties explained, she lighted a candle and took her place. The girls then knelt in the form of the cross, and sang, 'Nearer My God To Thee."

Bethel 103 will observe Friends Night Wednesday, Oct. 24.

A hayride is planned for Friday, Nov. 16. (S

Sorority Activities

ALPHA PHI

Alpha Phi alumnae will hold a theater benefit work party today, Thursday, in the Mount Prospect home of Mrs. Donald Williams. Preparations will be made for the annual benefit movie slated for Nov. 23. Proceeds from the movie will go to Clearbrook School for Retarded Children.

All area Alpha Phis are welcome to attend.

ALPHA DELTA PI

A "Boutique Bargain" sale of handmade articles will be the highlight of the Oct. 23 meeting of Alpha Delta Pi Chicago Countryside Alumnae Association. Mrs. William Laystrom will open her Barrington home for the evening meeting, with Mrs. George Beltz of Arlington Heights as co-hostess.

"Boutique Bargains" is an annual event for ADPi alums at which members' handmade items are auctioned, and the proceeds are donated to the sorority's 1851 Memorial Fellowship Fund. The fellowship is a financial grant of one year's tuition and dormitory fees to a female graduate student, sorority or independent.

1962-63 fellowship recipients include grad students at Colorado State College and the Universities of Nebraska and Maryland. Most outstanding is Miss Rosemary Rau, now a senior medical student at women's Medical College, Philadelphia. She is majoring in psychiatry, and the expensive pull of med school is being abetted by the years' tuition and dorm costs to which her ADPi fellowship entitles her.

ADPi alums in the Paddock area, active or associate members, who are interested in attending the Barrington meeting may call Mrs. Joe Meyer, CL 3-4993, for more information.

PANHELLENIC

Northwest Suburban Panhellenic Association is giving its third annual card benefit party Tuesday, Oct. 23, at 8 p.m. in West Park Field House, Des Plaines.

All donations received from this annual project are used for the growing scholarship fund, and to perpetuate the annual Spring Information Tea given for High School Senior girls with college plans.

ALL SORORITY women in the northwest area are urged to attend the card party and to bring their friends and neighbors. Refreshments will be served, according to chairman, Mrs. Ralph Reynolds.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Richard C. Cooper, 255-1465, Mount Prospect. (S

Homemakers Will Meet October 25

For the next three months, Arlington Heights Homemakers Extension Unit will meet in the Farm Bureau Building, N. Dunton Street, Arlington Heights, at 1 p.m.

Hostesses for the October meeting will be Mrs. John Allen, Mrs. E. P. Jannusch and Mrs. Donald Peters. Mrs. G. F. Sidor, hostess chairman, will assist in serving.

PROGRAM, OCT. 25 will be on "Holiday Crafts." "Tact in Everyday Life," which was scheduled for the October meeting, will be given at a later date.

Oct. 18, the unit and friends will tour the Croydon China Co. in Skokie. Mrs. Gus Anderson was hostess for the Oct. 11 craft day at which time piggy banks were made from bleach bottles.

Any woman interested in the group is invited to attend the meetings which are held the fourth Thursday of each month.

Pope Cooking Tickets on Sale

Tickets are now on sale for "Holiday Entertaining" the program to be presented Nov. 15 by Robert Pope of TV's Creative Cookery. Sponsored by the Women's Club of Hatlen Heights, tickets are available from Mrs. Doris Grunlée, HE 7-4148. (S

Cosmetics Make It 'Tolerable'

by BETTY AINSLIE

When you look at your face in a mirror the first thing in the morning, what do you see?

The female face past the first bloom of youth and minus the helping hand of makeup is a thing of sags, tiny laugh and scowl lines, crow's feet and a remarkable pallor. I know because I looked once and had to take an aspirin and go back to bed.

Marge

Must be that the continual use of lipstick does something to the natural lip color, so that lips minus a dashing color coat look almost bloodless. Hair has to be fussed and brushed and coaxed into becoming waves and curls or it retains that look of having met up with an egg beater.

Daughter Di has a new hair style, something that must have strained international relations between the Greeks and Italians. It has to be back combed (a new name for ratted).

ONCE THIS occupation which requires about twenty minutes is completed, she looks as if her fingers had just come in contact with a live electrical outlet that sent the shock waves to the ends of her hair. Once patted and smoothed, pushed and pulled, moistened and sprayed into this tower of every-hair-in-place perfection it does stay that way all day.

Nothing short of a hurricane can disarrange this monument of a coiffure. But I like the simpler hairdo which requires a lot less time and patience.

According to a newspaper article I just read, figured out scientifically women take about a half hour longer than men to don their gladrags for an evening out.

BET IT'S the fancy hairdo that has raised the female average. Then there are all the new products that are constantly being invented to make us more glamorous.

What with eye shadow, eye liner, eyelash curlers, mascara, eyebrow pencil, tweezers, oils and drops we can use up that half hour on just the eyes alone.

And you've only hit the surface wait until you see all the powder bases, coverups, liquid skin cleaners and bracers, creams, paste and cake rouge and lipsticks of all rainbow hues and textures.

POP JUST has to take a quick shower and shave. Choose between this or that suit, run a fingernail file quickly under his nails, comb through his hair, adjust his tie and he's all set. While I have these major decisions of whether to match my lipstick to my nails or whether to be exotic or sweet in my perfume.

Besides I still have the meal to cook for the kids so there's the decision about putting on the nailpolish now and risking chips around the edges; or to apply it in the car and arrive still blowing on my fingernails.

Did you ever happen to glance into the box in which your daughter keeps all the little goodies for her hair? There are assorted size hair curlers (the metal ones are all passe now). There are various soft, squashy types, from the very small to giant size.

I'M TOLD it is possible to sleep on these—but not the kind with the prickly roller brush in the inside or some wire that would make the Chinese water torture a breeze to endure compared to a nights sleep in those.

The box will also have spray net for all types of hair, shampoo with or without egg or tint, bobby pins also in assorted sizes, nets and ribbons—no wonder the girls that arrive for a visit or a slumber party come equipped with king sized train cases all loaded with glamour goods for the hair.

Of course we of the married set can do most of this hair setting during the day so our marriage won't fade, fade away when hubby sees us with a head bristling with curlers.

ONE JUDGE in granting a divorce to a man declared. "No man should have to put up with trying to keep romance alive through a constant barrier of face cream and hair curlers." So see men don't even know all the trouble we go through to look glamorous.

Don't believe men get too impatient if they do have to wait for us to get ready for an evening out with them when we emerge like the butterfly from the ugly little old cocoon that is face cream and hair curlers.

Anyway I've discovered in a personal type survey that most women are ready and waiting for hubby to finish dressing. Isn't it always a last inning to watch on the TV, or a final touchdown, or that golf game that lasted a little long which delays getting under the shower.

IT MAY ONLY take them ten or fifteen minutes to get ready but the problem is getting them out of the old and dusty and into the new and clean.

Must be all those statistics about girls always making the fellow wait were gathered from all the courting fellows who had the nerve to arrive to pick up the girlfriend on time. (Soc

Secretaries Plan Autumn Card Party

For the fifth consecutive year, the Park-Plaines Chapter of National Secretaries Association (International) is sponsoring an autumn card party on Thursday evening, Oct. 25, at 8 in West Park Field House, Western and Garden Street, Park Ridge.

Proceeds will enable a deserving high school girl graduate to attend Secretarial School through the means of the Park-Plaines Chapter Scholarship Award, to be presented next spring.

Tickets for the party may be obtained locally by calling Jerletta Smith at 255-3671 (residence) or 827-6111 (business).

Announce Marriage

Mrs. Gladys Leicht, 824 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, is announcing the marriage of her son, Douglas, to Gail Jayne Tregembo of Hibbing, Minn. The wedding took place in Hibbing on Oct. 6 in Wesley Methodist Church with a reception following immediately in Mesabe Country Club.

The bridal couple are honeymooning in the Smoky Mountains and upon their return will reside in Arlington Heights. (S

Rolling Meadows Bride Now Makes Home in Des Plaines

A candlelight ceremony Sept. 14 in the Meadows Baptist Church of Rolling Meadows united Miss Katherine Ann Ritzenthaler and Ronald Owen Albertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marriott Albertson, residents of Des Plaines.

For her evening rites the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Ritzenthaler of 2610 Park St., Rolling Meadows, was attired in a gown made by Mrs. Marilyn Kinnaw, sister of the groom.

Fashioned in lace, the floor-length gown was complemented with a fingertip veil, pillbox headpiece and a cascade bouquet of ivory roses. Miss Ritzenthaler was accompanied to the altar on the arm of her father.

IN A SETTING of candelabra and baskets of flowers, she and her groom exchanged vows before Rev. Michael Green at 8 p.m. Music by Mrs. Devore Walterman, organist, and Mrs. Richard Jacobson, soloist, included "Saviour Like a Shepherd Lead Them" and "At This Altar."

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Kerry Ritzenthaler. Bridesmaids were Misses Joan Albertson, the groom's sister; Jan Hipp, Arlington Heights; and Judy Lund of Des Plaines.

They wore brown tone dresses with lace bodices, satin skirts and completed their outfits with sprays of pink mums for subtle accent. Wearing a soft pink dress with matching headpiece, veil and pillbox was another sister of the bride, 4-year-old Rachel, who carried a pink basket of petals for her role as flower girl.

RING BEARER was another 4-year-old, Clayton Lund of Des Plaines. Two other residents of that town, Brian Hughes and Paul Walterman, were best man and groomsman. Other ushers were Bud and Tom Smith of Rolling Meadows.

After the wedding service 250 guests gathered in the church basement for a buffet supper. Mrs. Ritzenthaler received in a royal blue sheath with pink mum corsage, while the groom's mother selected a wine colored suit dress and white mums.

Out-of-town guests were the groom's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Drake of Portland, Ore. (S Portland, Ore.

THE NEWLYWEDS, following a honeymoon at Wisconsin Dells, made their first home in Des Plaines. The bride, graduated from Arlington High School, is emplyed at Illinois Bell Telephone Company.

Having completed studies at Maine West, the groom is attending DeVry Technical School and working part time at the National Tea Company in Des Plaines.

Archaic Legislation Is AAUW Topic Tonite

Northwest Suburban Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold a general meeting tonight, Thursday Oct 18 at 8:15 in South Park Field House, Des Plaines. Owen Rall will consider archaic Illinois legislation in a program entitled, "Horse and Buggy on Route 66." The judicial amendment, revenue and reapportionment will be stressed by the speaker.

RALL WAS graduated from Coe College in 1921 and from Northwestern University School of Law in 1924. He was a member of the Board of Managers of the Chicago Bar Association for four years, a member at large of the Board of Governors of the Illinois State Bar Association for three years and on June 30 of this year retired as President of the Illinois State Bar Association.

Mrs. Padma Mallampally, an International Fellow from India, will speak on "India Today," a consideration of the status of women, at a Fellowship coffee, Saturday, Oct. 20, 10:30 a.m., in the Park Ridge home of Mrs. W. H. Schoneberger, Mrs. Mallampally is the 1961-63 AAUW International Fellow and is attending the University of Chicago.

THE FELLOWSHIP Committee has held several special parties in an effort to increase the Fellowship Fund. From this fund, AAUW awards fellowships to enable women students to pursue graduate work in their fields.

Members and guests are invited to attend this coffee and may contact Mrs. E. V. Carlson in Mount Prospect or Mrs. B. C. Graham in Arlington Heights for reservations. (S

Lutheran Rites Unite Sandra Nelson, Groom

In a waltz-length gown of white chiffon and lace, Miss Sandra Nelson became the bride of Dale Johnson in a home town ceremony Sept. 29 in the Lutheran Church of the Holy Spirit, Elk Grove Village.

Pastor Martin Marty officiated the double ring rites at 2 p.m., uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson of Elk Grove Village and the son of the Bernard Johnsons, Hoffman Estates residents.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar on the arm of her father. Her gown was designed with a white chiffon skirt, lace bodice, and long sleeves. Holding the long veil in place was a pearled crown, in princess style.

Flowers were white carnations.

In contrast to the bride's all-white ensemble were the blue brocade dresses worn by Misses Arlene Cieszynski of Elk Grove Village, maid of honor; and the groom's sister, Susan Johnson.

THEY WERE fashioned with bell shaped skirts; lilac colored pompons with blue and lilac ribbon formed their bouquets.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Nelson was dressed in a gold brocade two-piece suit and yellow mum corsage. Choice of the groom's mother was a turquoise sheath and the same flowers in white.

BEST MAN was Robert Decker of Hoffman Estates and Allen Below of Oak Lawn served as groomsman. Climax to the fall wedding was a buffet dinner for 115 guests in the church parlors.

Honeymoon destination was Denver for five days, after which the new Mr. and Mrs. Johnson established residence in Des Plaines. The bride completed studies at Prospect High School and is employed by Methode Manufacturing Corp.

Her groom, a graduate of Palatine High School, is with United Air Lines. (S

Spicy Fruit Sauce Makes Pancake Hit

Breakfast or brunch becomes an occasion when "Pancakes with Hot Spiced Fruit" are on the docket.

Dainty thin pancakes made with pancake mix are rolled and served with a hot canned fruit cocktail sauce spicy with cinnamon, cloves and lemon slices. Sausage patties and coffee complete the meal.

PANCAKES, HOT SPICED FRUIT

Packaged pancake mix
1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 stick cinnamon
6 whole cloves
1 lemon, thinly-sliced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons honey

Prepare 16 thin pancakes as package directs. Roll and keep warm. Drain fruit cocktail, combining 2 tablespoons syrup with cornstarch. Simmer remaining syrup with cinnamon, cloves and lemon slices 10 minutes.

Remove spices and lemon slices. Add cornstarch mixture, butter and honey. Cook and stir until clear and thickened. Add fruit cocktail and heat through. Spoon over warm rolled pancakes.

Makes 8 servings (about 3½ cups sauce). (SH

Tree Farming

Back in 1940 a group of lumbermen in Oregon and Washington launched the tree farm program which was to encourage private forest land owners to apply sound, scientific forest management to their taxpaying forest lands. Today, the Tree Farm program has spread nationwide and nearly 60 million acres of private lands are enrolled in this great conservation plan.

Glue It

Structural beams of dramatic shape and enormous size can be created by gluing together thin layers of Douglas fir lumber.

Favored Ceiling

Architects favor wood decking for exposed ceilings in homes, churches, schools and commercial buildings. Wood offers excellent insulation value, strength and beauty.

Deep Dish Peach Pie Tops Early Autumn Picnic Menu

Now that it is early autumn, some of the best picnic days of the year are here. The warm sun shines through a few cool breezes, the leaves fall, the out-of-doors offers the wonder of a new season.

IT'S ALSO THE time when fresh peaches are ripe and just right for baking into individual deep-dish pies to pack for your picnic dessert. For ease and convenience, you can bake these little pies in deep-dish pans you've fashioned out of foil. In this way, the pies will travel well, and they'll be easy to eat at the picnic.

You simply mold heavy-duty quilted foil in the shape of an ovenware custard cup, and bake in it an almond-lemon peach pie. After the pies have baked and cooled, you top each with a foil lid and take the pies to the picnic sealed in their foil packets. Once there, take the lids off and eat the pies right out of their foil pans. Later, the foil dish is disposable.

DEEP-DISH ALMOND PEACH PIES

Pastry based on 2 cups flour or prepared pastry mix for 2-crust pie
4 cups peeled and sliced fresh peaches
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1/3 cup toasted diced almonds
1 tablespoon butter

TOPPING EARLY AUTUMN picnic menus are deep dish peach pies, enhanced with the addition of toasted almonds. They will travel well from the oven to the out-of-doors site, baked in individual molds made with heavy-duty quilted foil. (SH

"Quilted" Kaiser Cooking Foil (Broiling)

Cut foil into four double-thickness 9-inch squares. Use a square of foil to line each of 4 large (10 ounce size) ovenware custard cups. Press foil firmly into cups, making it smooth. With scissors, trim foil edges about ¾ inch beyond the cup edge.

Bend out the foil overhang. On a lightly floured board, roll out pastry thin. Line each foil pan with pastry, allowing pastry to overhang edges.

MIX PEACHES lightly with combined sugar, flour, lemon peel, and nutmeg. Arrange in pastry cups. Sprinkle almonds over peaches. Dot with butter. Roll out and cut a round pastry lid for each pie, cut a decorative slit, and place on pie.

Fold overhanging pastry over moistened edges of pastry lid. Seal well. Bake pies in a very hot oven (450 degrees) for 10 minutes. Reduce oven heat to moderate (350 degrees), and bake pies 45 minutes longer or until crust is brown. Cool on rack. Cover each pie with a circle cut of foil.

Fold overhanging foil over edge of foil lid. Remove pies from ovenware cups to take to picnic. Makes 4 individual pies.

Many Uses

There are at least 2,000 uses for lumber ranging from construction lumber for housing to wooden pipe, cabinets, sporting goods, tools, heels, matches, ladders, radios, to mention only a few. It is by far the most versatile of all natural substances.

Lumber Takes On New Look With 'Scientific' Methods

Imagine buying lumber in bright colored wrappers like oversize packages of chewing gum.

That isn't as strange as it might seem. Packaged lumber being marketed today ranges all the way from house siding to 200-foot-long glue laminated beams. Bright-colored wrappings on glu-lam beams requiring three freight cars to haul can be seen any day on the railroads.

As the nation gets ready to salute the tree on National Forest Products Week, October 21-27, it is well to take a look at all the new and interesting things that are happening to lumber before it is sold to the customer.

More and more lumber manufacturers are wrapping finish lumber in heavy paper to protect the smooth surfaces from grime and scratches until it is actually put in place.

The packaging trend goes hand in hand with the push into pre-fabricating, pre-cutting and pre-finishing, and new patterns being designed for homes, churches, schools and commercial structures of today.

PRE-PRIMING OF lumber, particularly cedar siding, has been gaining rapidly. In the West Coast region alone, some 25 plants have installed prefinishing equipment.

The primer coat of paint is baked on in infra-red ovens at some mills, and the siding is sealed against moisture on the back side and edges as well as the facing.

In the completed dwelling, only the final coat of paint is needed, and this can await the most favorable weather.

Pre-primed siding, doors and other items are slip-sheeted and wrapped in protective kraft paper, ready for delivery to lumber dealer or builder. This is one of the services lumber producers take on to continue competitive.

IN THIS FIERCELY competitive building field, pressure is great for cutting costs all along the line.

The trend is toward delivery of finished components to the building site. The purpose is toward more rapid erection and more precise shapes, sizes and quality of all the elements in construction.

The lumber industry is keeping pace with this trend, providing the framing lumber, siding, paneling, doors, window sash and trim to make homes livable, warm and sturdy, as well as freshly modern.

MOST WIDELY adopted component is the shop-made truss. This component is saving untold hours of construction time, while giving designers greater freedom on interior layouts.

In some areas, more than 75 per cent of new homes contain prefabricated trusses.

Another service that is growing is precision trimming of studs, a major West Coast product, to lengths other than the standard eight feet. Some suppliers also predrill studs to facilitate running of electrical lines. (SH

Week's Best Food Buys

Consumers have a couple of things going for them to improve their food purchasing — approaching holidays that always sharpen the retailers promotional pricing, and a gentle downward sloping cost trend of heavy ticket items extending over the next several weeks.

Long term policy of grocers is to hold current retail price levels as long as possible to maintain margins as a reserve for the competitive weeks ahead.

KEY TO consumer food economy is to keep a weather eye out for those ready to change competitive price tags.

The University of Illinois consumer service weekly summary notes this trend developing in the weeks ahead:

Beef — costs trending downward from present levels.

Pork — continues to drop, probably to below year-ago levels.

Lamb — short production keeps prices firm at slightly above year-ago.

Fryers — much cheaper soon, well below year-ago based on big upturn in production from September hatches.

Turkeys — a bit higher than last year's very depressed prices, probably up as much as 6 cents a pound over the 1961 holiday low, based on a net loss of 10 per cent in total available supplies (larger carry over storage stocks help offset a 15 per cent drop in current production).

Eggs — about the same as year-ago, despite a decrease in flock numbers.

Fruit (fresh, canned, frozen) —generally higher on lower production totals. Exceptions could include citrus and cranberries.

Vegetables (canned, frozen) — tomatoes, green beans, sauerkraut, corn, spinach and especially peas less costly on mammoth production.

Vegetables (fresh) — potatoes not as cheap as last year, despite production running well ahead of averages. Cauliflower, peas, beans, onions persist as bargains.

FOR THE PRESENT marketing period ending Oct. 20, the summary shows retail meat prices virtually static as livestock markets make a momentary snap-back recovery from recent cost plunges. Wholesale supplies rated as normal, but some beef quotes run higher while pork and lamb fell. Poultry and eggs are firm.

Fresh Florida citrus fruit increases in volume. New pack of major frozen and canned vegetable lines heavy, costs lower.

The U. of I. Chicago-area consensus food bargains for the week include:

POULTRY — fryers; meats—beef pot roasts and sirloin steaks, pork roasts, hams, bacon, lamb shoulder roasts; groceries—tomato products, corn, sauerkraut, lima beans, spinach, orange juice, applesauce, peaches; produce—beets, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, carrots, tomatoes, grapefruit, pears, grapes, apples.

Good harvest weather produced a sharp decline in cattle marketing, firming live quotes ¾ cents over the week-ago low point. Wholesale beef, reacting to higher replacement cost, noted weak trading in loins and rounds that produce steaks, but heavy demand chucks moved up 3 cents. Carcass beef was firmer ½ cent to 1 cent. Other primal cuts held steady at previous week levels. Retails generally unchanged.

UNEVEN HOG receipts helped to halt market declines, firming the market by an average ½ cent that faded fast by weekend. Early week advances on wholesale pork loins were quickly erased on slow trading, and averages dropped 1½ cents on ribs and ½ cent on butts. Hams and bacon were rated steady. Retail prices unchanged from current promotional levels.

Largest market receipts of lamb in a year dropped live prices 1 cent, and it took a comparable penny drop at wholesale to keep up retail buyer interest. Some packers, however, were moving surplus stocks into storage rather than take any further price beating. Retail prices steady.

Credit eastern buyer demand for boosting fryer prices there and dulling reaction here. Chicago prices remained at the week-ago lows of 35-37 cents for whole birds, 39-41 cents for cut-up, and a persistant 27 cent promotional level.

GOVERNMENT school lunch purchases continue to syphon off supplies of turkeys and maintain the cost floor. Retails show mostly 39-49 cents by sizes, although more local stores are tagging a flat 49 cents onto turkeys regardless of kind or weight, a level not expected to stimulate consumer buying interest.

With prices previously discounted from government legal interest in some wholesale egg market practices, plus light arrivals of consumer grades, wholesale egg increased 1½ cents. The firmer market tone developed buyer resistance.

Chicago retail prices did not respond and quotes hold at a prevailing 57-61 cent range for large grade A. (SH

Karen Drewes Says Vows on October 1

Announcing the recent marriage of their daughter, Miss Karen Drewes, to Army Lt. Charles Messer of Oklahoma City, are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Drewes of 302 S. Walnut St., Arlington Heights.

Setting for their Oct. 1 nuptials was the army chapel at Fort Dix, New Jersey. Chaplain Emil Denkel performed the double ring service at 6,30 p.m. The bride's sister, Mrs. Joyce Juhnke of Elk Grove Village, served as matron of honor.

FOR HER WEDDING and reception which followed in the officers' club, Miss Drewes selected a white wool sheath with matching jacket and brown accessories. Flowers were orchids, placed on a white Bible.

Brother-in-law of the groom, Bobby Halverson of Baltimore, was best man. Out-of-town guests included Mr. Halverson and his wife, the Juhnkes of Elk Grove Village and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Schacht, Chicago residents.

Graduated from Arlington High School, the bride attended Valparaiso University.

It's Door-to-Door Canvassing

Republican Gals Launch Test Project Throughout Illinois

A "women's march" by Republican women has been launched in South Central Illinois under the leadership of Mrs. C. Wayland Brooks, Republican national committeewoman, and Mrs. Audrey Peak, state chairwoman.

The project will test on a large scale — the entire 23rd Congressional District of Illinois — an idea which has been in operation in Wheeling Township since the 1960 election campaign.

At that time, members of the Wheeling Township Republican Women's Club conducted a door-to-door canvassing operation in precincts where extra Republican effort was needed.

The club members had decided, when they organized the group a few months before, that the emphasis would be on productive work for the Republican party rather than on social occasions, although they would have those too.

THEIR EFFORTS were so successful that they decided to continue the work on a year-round basis, concentrating on newly settled areas of the township when no election campaign was actually in progress.

From the traditional Republican appellation "G.O.P.," they derived the title "Girls on Parade"; they selected the slogan "Put a little fun in your politics," and they set out with their Republican welcome wagon.

The women, generally travelling in teams of two, answered questions, reminded voters to register, distributed literature, and recruited volunteer workers in Wheeling, Mount Prospect, and Arlington Heights precincts.

ALMOST always they started out with fear and trepidation; almost always they came back filled with enthusiasm and ready to sign up for more.

The idea has spread to other Republican women's clubs, including that in Northfield Township, where club members style themselves the "Bell-Ringers."

Can the women do it better than the men? Probably not. The fact remains that they did do it, and the men hadn't.

In the present campaign the "Girls on Parade," headed by Mrs. Paul Hembd, Arlington Heights, have undertaken to canvass in at least four precincts. Mrs. Hembd estimates that the teams have already visited more than 1,000 homes since September.

THE CANVASSERS, who include volunteers from outside the club as well as members, include:

Mrs. Stanley Juhl, Mrs. Charles Raths, Mrs. Eugene Schlickman, Mrs. Armand van Haele, Mrs. F. A. Embrey, and Mrs. Karl Shuart from Arlington Heights.

Others from Arlington Heights are Mrs. A. J. Baugous, Mrs. E. J. Gresher, Mrs. William Chambers, Mrs. George Coker, Mrs. B. T. Clark, Mrs. William Naeher, and Mrs. Doaald Hudson.

FROM MOUNT Prospect are Mrs. Walter G. Aagaard and Mrs. Bert Jordan.

More teams will be out weekends until the November 6 election. Anyone interested is asked to call Mrs. Hembd at CL 3-8141.

Women's club members are also functioning in the present campaign in the traditional ways, such as manning Republican headquarters. The headquarters, at 6 N. Dryden, Arlington Market, is open every day from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m., with the exception of Sunday when it is open from 2 to 5 p.m.

The women have volunteered to develop and maintain files and records for the headquarters and for individual precinct captains, to provide typing and mimeographing services for Republican workers, and to conduct a telephone canvass where and when one seems necessary.

THE WOMEN'S club holds regular meetings to which speakers of current interest are invited. These have included U. S. Senatorial candidate William H. Rentschler, and speakers on Communism and anti-Communism.

Chief social functions of the club are the annual Washington's Birthday luncheon, marking the anniversary of the club's founding; and the fall membership tea. The tea honors leaders among Republican women and, in election years, candidates' ladies.

Information on the club may be obtained by calling Mrs. Bert Jordan at CL 9-3089. The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 23, at 8 p.m. in Republican headquarters.

Carol McElhose Goes To Denver as Bride

White gladioli and pompons adorned the altar of the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights for the 4 o'clock wedding on Sept. 15 of Carol McElhose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McElhose, 507 N. Evergreen, and Irvin Eitzen of Denver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Eitzen of Hillsboro, Kan. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Dr. Hughes B. Morris.

The bride's gown was a ballerina length princess style silk taffeta with embroidered appliques on the bodice, a scoop neckline and elbow length sleeves. She wore a sterling pendant with a single pearl, which was a gift from the groom.

Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and pearls, which was borrowed from her cousin, Mrs. David Helfers, at whose wedding Carol was maid of honor. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of white snowdrift pompons and stephanotis.

THE BRIDE was given in marriage by her father, and her brother, Howard McElhose, sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Charles Jenks at the organ.

Sedelia Ashcraft of Arlington Heights was maid of honor, wearing a white embroidered sheer over blue silk dress. She carried a cascade bouquet of white button mums and blue delphiniums.

The groom had Frederick Goetz of Des Plaines as best man, and ushers were James Jirak and David Aldrich, both of Arlington Heights.

THE BRIDE'S mother chose dusty rose silk shantung with a lace bodice and matching jacket for the day's festivities. She wore black accessories and had a corsage of white glamellias. The groom's mother wore teal blue brocade with black accessories and a corsage of coral glamellias.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church Fellowship Hall, where a buffet supper was served by the Woman's Society. Mrs. Arthur Ashcraft and the bride's aunt, Miss Laura McElhose, cut the wedding cake.

After a brief honeymoon in Leutes Artist Glen Resort at Wisconsin Dells, the couple departed for Denver where the groom is employed by United Air Lines.

The bride attended grade and high school in Arlington Heights, her birthplace, and was employed by Zurich Insurance Co. of Chicago. The groom is a graduate of Spartan School of Aeronautical Engineering in Tulsa. (S

'Through the Looking Glass'

A preview of fashions, as seen "Through the Looking Glass," will be presented at 8:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 30, by the Wheeling Junior Woman's Club for their first public event of the season.

The Villa Venice in Northbrook has been selected for their sixth annual fall fashion show, which will again feature holiday and winter apparel.

"To carry out the Lewis Carroll theme, the show will be complete with an 'Alice,' 'March Hare,' 'Mad Hatter,' and 'Queen of Hearts,'" said Mrs. Raymond Spletzer, Ways and Means Chairman. "The fashions will be current, however, and well suited for the urban or suburban woman."

"ENSEMBLES WILL range from casual and sportswear to that all important dress. Walters of Golf-Mill is furnishing clothing, while hair styles will be done by "Grace," continued Mrs. Spletzer.

Sharing the spotlight with the fashions will be the intermission entertainment provided by the mixed chorus, "Music on Stage." The choral group drew rave notices with "Rose Marie" at their initial Wheeling appearance. This year they have selected another popular musical show to present in song, dance and costume.

Assistant Ways and Means Chairman is Mrs. Robert McEstes, while heading departments are Mrs. Charles Hunt, Mrs. Arthur Fassbender, Mrs. Raymond Olson, Mrs. Charles Anderson, and Mrs. McEstes. Mrs. G. L. Duke will do the fashion commentary for the clubmember models, as well as the two teen age guest models.

Inverness Holiday House And Garden Walk Friday

The Garden Club of Inverness will present "Some Call it Autumn — Others Call it God" as the autumn months' theme of its annual flower walk and holiday house gift sale on Friday, Oct. 19 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Four Inverness homes plus Inverness Golf Club and Inverness Field house will be open to the public. Christmas gift items will be offered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell V. Puzey.

Guests may make reservations for luncheon at Inverness Golf Club, FL 8-2340, to be served from 11:30 to 2 p.m. Show tickets only may be purchased at any of the display locations and from the ticket chairman, Mrs. James Burns, 473 N. Cumnock, FL 8-3016.

FLOWER arrangements in the Golf Club will have titles of "Autumn nodding over yellow plain comes jovial on . . ." a line arrangement using dried materials with a minimum of yellow fresh plant material; and "The Melody Lingers On . . ." an interpretive arrangement inspired from the songs "September Song," "Indian Summer," "Over the River and Through the Woods," and "Joy to the World."

THE JUNIOR class exhibits at the Field House will be open to any Inverness child, age 4-14. For the girls the title will be "It's so small a thing to have enjoyed the sun . . ." and for the boys, "When the frost is on the pumpkin . . ."

The four autumn months will be reflected richly in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peterson, Dover Circle (September theme house); Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gillespie, Durham Drive (October house); Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnston, N. Ela Road November house); and Mr. and Mrs. Russell V. Puzey, Blackburn Drive (December Holiday house) and gift sale.

MRS. WILLIAM F. Eich is chairman of the show, with Mrs. Robert E. Evans, assistant chairman.

Mrs. George Guderley is chairman of the hostesses; Mrs. Gordon Hurt and Mrs. S. D. Moorman, Holiday House Gift Center; Mrs. Martin Keller, Field House; Mrs. Lee Mahon and Mrs. Richard Warrington, children's exhibits; Mrs. William G. Karch, horticulture; Mrs. William F. Hein, luncheon; Mrs. James Burns, tickets; Mrs. Kenneth U. Jenks and Mrs. Robert L. Williams, refreshments at Field House; Mrs. Donald Ewald, floor coverings.

Mrs. Fred Nicklas is president, Mrs. Richard Warrington, secretary; Mrs. Malcom R. Sproul, treasurer; Mrs. Russell V. Puzey, publicity chairman.

Clipped Wings In Workshop

Plans for the coming year for Clipped Wings, United Air Lines Stewardess Alumnae, Inc., are getting under way with area meetings scheduled for October.

The northwest area of the Chicago chapter will have a luncheon-workshop meeting today, Thursday, in the Grayslake home of Mrs. Lawrence Rouse, area vice president. Purpose of the workshop is to make and decorate Christmas stockings to be donated to the Christmas bazaar for the benefit of the Austin Special School for the Mentally Retarded. The school is one of the philanthropies of the Clipped Wings.

All former United Air Lines stewardesses living in this area are invited to attend the meeting and may make reservations with Mrs. John R. Murray, Palatine, or Mrs. H. T. Lemmons, Arlington Heights. (S

Saturday Dance Set By Newcomers Club

Plans are now complete for the "Country Fair" being sponsored by Arlington Newcomers Club this Saturday in Salt Creek Country Club. Square dancing will be followed by the music of Dave Faden's combo, and a midnight buffet will complete the evening. Mrs. Dean Sanderson, CL 9-2555, may be called for tickets.

Members of the Newcomers Club are having card parties in their homes for the benefit of the Inter-American Friendship Program. Proceeds will go to the city of Comas in Peru, where it will be used to dig a well.

PARTY HOSTESSES are Mesdames Charles Aldag, Tony Biancardi, Robert Chadderdon, David Hale, Richard Hughes, Laddie Janda, Donald Kennedy, Donald Kjerland and Francis Morgan.

Anyone who would like to attend one of these parties or who is willing to be a hostess is asked to call Mrs. John Cornell, 392-3085.

All Arlington Heights newcomers with less than 18 months residency are invited to attend a luncheon or evening meeting and are then eligible to join the club. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Robert Chadderdon, membership chairman, CL 3-2623. (S

Carousel Club Opens Saturday

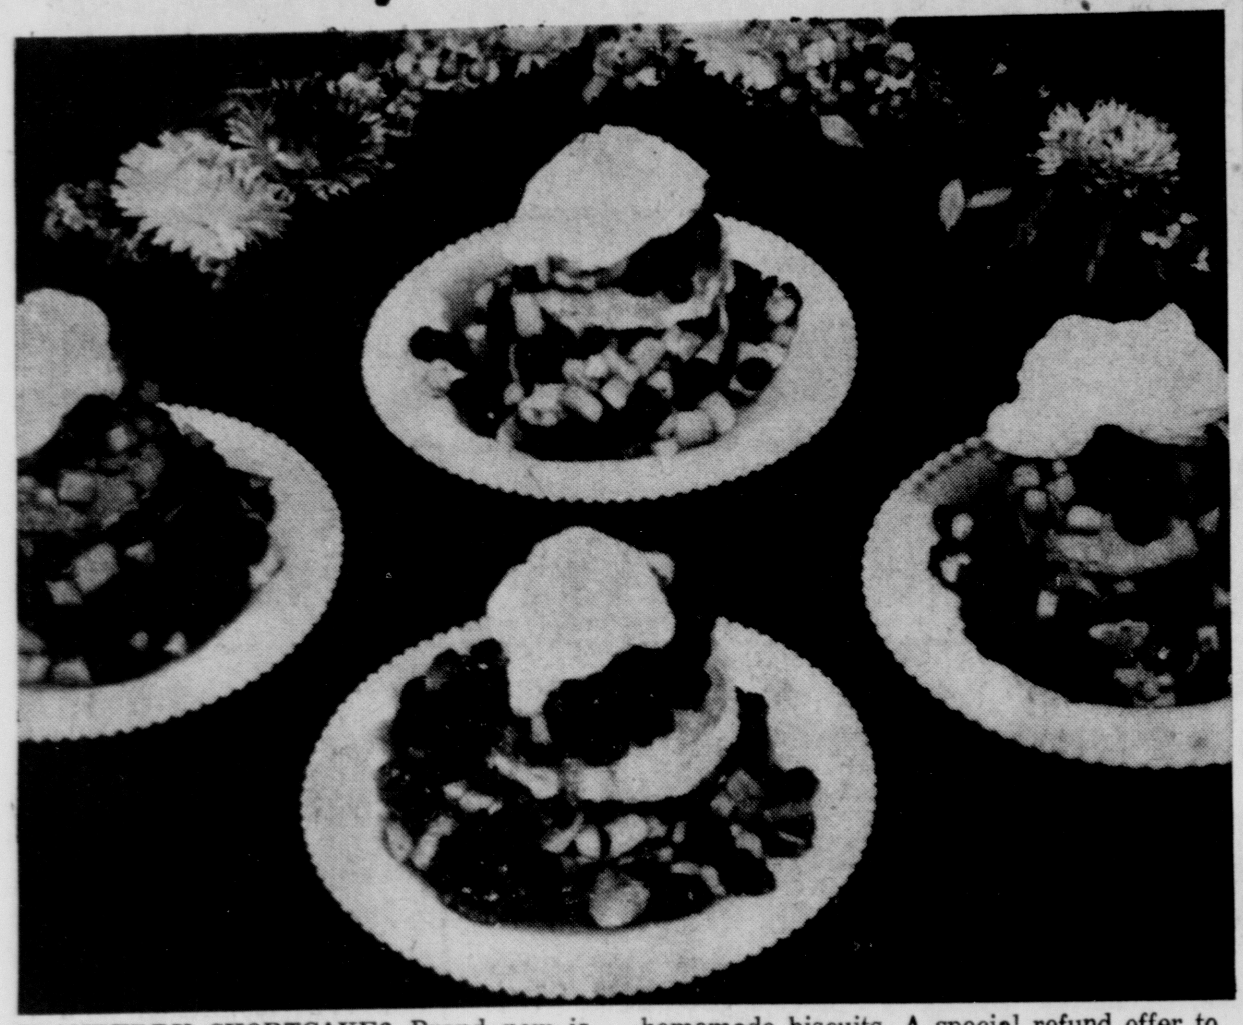
'Never Fail' Cheese Cake is Family's Delight

Cranberry 'Debut' This Week



CRANBERRY SHORTCAKE? Brand new is this dessert idea which teams cranberries and a recipe for shortcake using unbleached flour. Together, they make an unbeatable combination, blending the tangy flavor of seasonal fruit and the delicate, sweet goodness of homemade biscuits. A special refund offer to introduce the exciting shortcake version is currently being made by Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., and Standard Milling Company. The ad, with coupon and recipe, appears elsewhere in this issue. (SH

Proof of Success– St. Colette Award

by LOIS SEILER

Mrs. Robert I. Youman unequivocally guarantees success with the cheese cake recipe we are featuring today.

"You can't possibly do anything wrong with this recipe — it never fails!" Jo Anne Youman exclaimed. And proof of its appeal is the second place award this cake received in the "specialty" category at St. Colette's recent Bake-Off.

Baked in a spring-form pan, this cheese cake contains only four ingredients: cream cheese, egg whites, sugar and vanilla. A sour cream topping is spread over the cake and it is baked for an additional five minutes.

"It should be chilled at least two hours before serving, but I prefer to make it a day ahead," Mrs. Youman said. She has been making this cake for three or four years, and its creamy texture and marvelous taste has kept it on the family's list of favorites.

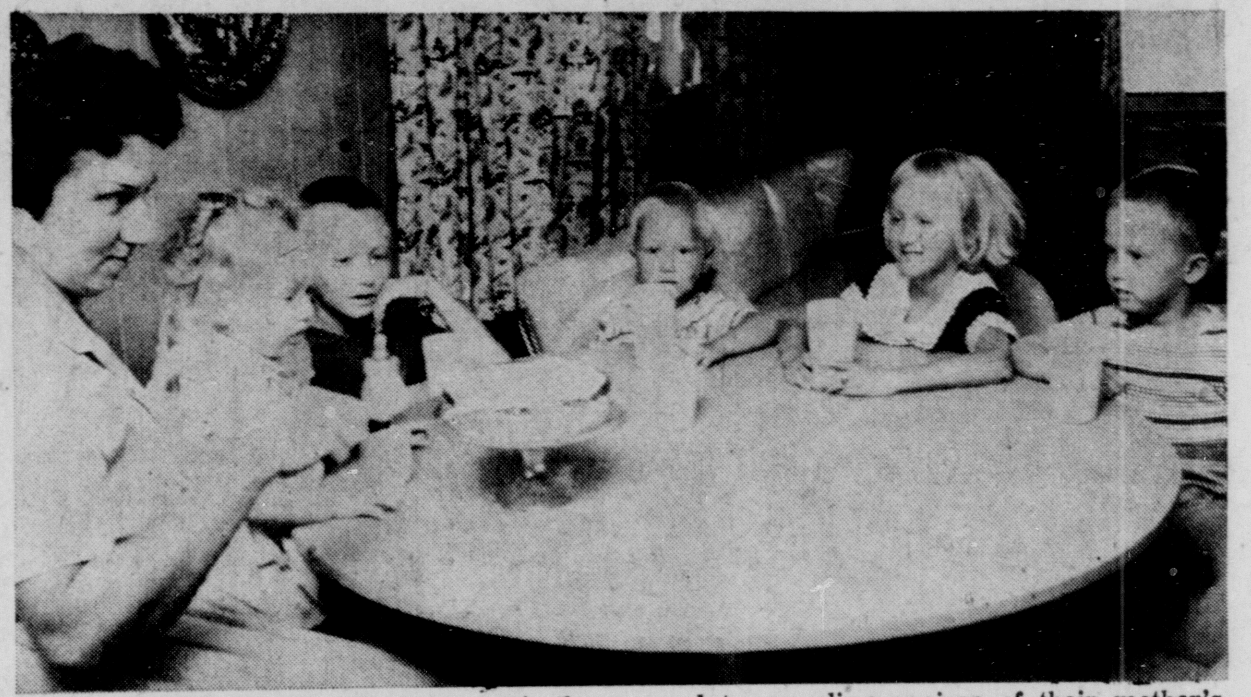
This good cook serves this cake primarily as a bridge dessert, and she always makes it for holidays and special occasions.

A Polish recipe for Kolaczki, which has been handed down in her family for generations, is another of Mrs. Youman's favorite recipes. Cream cheese, butter and margarine are used in the dough for these kolaczki, which are very rich and short.

FILLED WITH apricot, pineapple or raspberry jam (Mrs. Youman prefers apricot), these small and dainty delicacies are delicious for coffee parties or evening gatherings. They are perfect for open houses, too.

The busy mother of five children, Mrs. Youman nonetheless finds time to do lots of baking as her family loves home-baked goods. She is also active in St. Colette Catholic Women's Club, a member of the Countryside Garden Club and enjoys playing bridge for recreation.

The Youmans live at 2205 Theda Lane in Palatine. Their children are: Robbie, 7; Sheryl, 6; Danny, 4; Cary, 3, and Terese, 1½.



ALWAYS CERTAIN TO BE a success is the elegant Cheese Cake being sliced by Mrs. Robert I. Youman of Palatine. Looking forward to sampling a piece of their mother's specialty are the Youman's five children, Terese, Robbie, Cary, Sheryl and Danny. (SH

CHEESE CAKE

3 8-ounce packages cream cheese
4 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2/3 cup Zwieback crumbs

Cream the cheese until soft. Beat egg whites until stiff; and sugar and blend well.

At slow speed on electric mixer combine cheese with egg mixture. Blend in vanilla. Grease an 8-inch spring form pan and dust with Zwieback crumbs. (An 8-inch layer cake tin can be used by building up the sides with brown paper. This should also be greased and dusted with crumbs.) Pour in batter and bake for 25 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Mix together and spread on top:

2 cups thick commercial sour cream
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Return to oven and bake 5 minutes longer at 475 degrees. Remove from oven, cool and chill in refrigerator at least two hours before serving. Serves 12 to 15.

KOLACZKI

1 8-ounce package soft cream cheese
¼ pound butter
¼ pound margarine
2 cups flour
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder

Mix cheese, butter and margarine. Beat in flour, sugar and baking powder. Refrigerate for about 30 minutes.

Roll out on pastry cloth very thin and cut in squares, 2 by 2 inches. Drop ½ teaspoon apricot jam in center and turn up corners. (Circles can also be made, placing jam in center.)

Bake about 15 minutes in 350 degree oven. Sprinkle with powdered sugar before serving. Yield: approximately 4 dozen kolaczki. (SH

Coffee Parfait

"Parfait" comes from the French word for "perfect," and Chocolate Coffee Parfait is truly a perfect dessert. It consists of alternate layers of cocoa-flavored custard and coffee-flavored whipped cream spooned into tall parfait glasses and topped with chocolate sauce.

Impressive as it looks, it couldn't be easier to prepare. The smooth, delicate custard has all the flavor and goodness of old-fashioned, egg-rich custards, but it's made in minutes with a custard-flavor dessert mix.

If parfait glasses are not available, sherbet or other glasses will show off the dessert to advantage.

CHOCOLATE-COFFEE PARFAIT

1 package Royal Custard Flavor Dessert
1 tablespoon cocoa
2¼ cups milk
1 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons instant coffee
Chocolate sauce

Combine packaged mix and cocoa in saucepan. Stir in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a full boil. (Mixture will be thin—it thickens as it cools) Pour in bowl and chill until firm.

BEAT WITH rotary egg beater until smooth. Combine heavy cream, sugar and instant coffee; whip until stiff. Alternate layers of soft custard and coffee-flavored whipped cream into parfait glasses, ending with a spoonful of whipped cream. Refrigerate 30 minutes. Before serving, pour chocolate sauce over each serving. Makes 6 servings. (SH

Chicken Soup 'Mix' Ideal for Thermos

As every mother knows, the rule of thumb for school box lunches is a thermos of hot soup, a hearty sandwich, a shining piece of fresh fruit, several crunchy cookies and a beverage.

For instance, adding diversity to the soup course each day is a simple matter with the numerous varieties of packaged soup mixes: green pea, beef noodle, country-style potato, tomato, cream style chicken, chicken rice, mushroom, and tomato vegetable.

AND, OF COURSE, there is the chicken noodle soup that is a particular favorite of the small fry. Lunch-box planning mothers will be delighted to hear a delicious new chicken soup is now on the market. It is Chicken and Noodle Soup Mix with Diced Chicken Meat. Chunks of all white meat and fine noodles are combined together in a rich tasty chicken broth.

To go with it, here is a recipe for a delicious Deviled Ham and Olive Rollwich. Cream cheese and deviled ham are spread on a hard roll and then garnished with olive slices.

DEVILED HAM AND OLIVE ROLLWICHES

1 3-ounce package cream cheese
1 4½-ounce can deviled ham
4 to 6 hard rolls, split in half lengthwise
Sliced stuffed olives

Combine and thoroughly blend cream cheese and deviled ham. Spread on bottom halves of the rolls. Garnish with olive slices. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

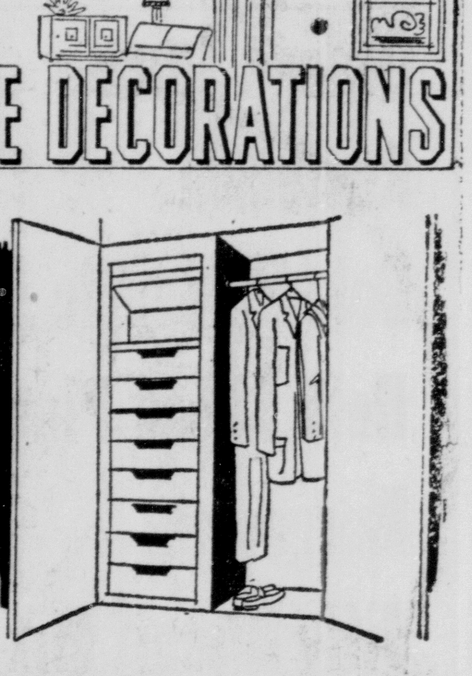
IT'S AN IDEA
HOME DECORATIONS



Many times small bedrooms in modern homes cause a furniture problem in that there is not enough space for chests that provide drawer space.

One method of eliminating this problem is to fit one half of your closet with a set or bank of bright colored drawers.

This will eliminate one piece of furniture and often will give you much more storage space than a chest.

Construction need not be costly since they will be concealed behind the closet door. With simple plans and accurate measurements, most any local carpenter can construct them.

Lady Hillary Is AAUW Speaker for Oct. 25th

What it's like to spend six weeks in the Himalayas in a search for the "Abominable Snowman" will be described Thursday evening, Oct. 25, at Pioneer Park by Lady Louise Hillary, wife of Sir Edmund Hillary, conqueror of Mount Everest.

Her talk, titled, "Walking through Nepal," is sponsored by the Arlington Heights Branch of the American Association of University Women for the AAUW Fellowships program which assists gifted women scholars.

The lecture is open to the public.

LADY HILLARY, who has been living in this area during the past year, was with her husband during a part of the "Snowman" expedition in Nepal. She walked 200 miles to the base camp with a safari of other wives, explorers, Sherpa tribesmen and porters. Tibetan costumes and slides taken during the trip will be used to illustrate her talk.

Her talk will be among the last to be given before the Hillarys and their three children return to their home in Auckland, New Zealand. Further information on this program may be obtained by telephoning Mrs. Lowell E. Wills at 437-4066. (S

At Forest Hospital

Relationship of Mind To Illness Talk Set

Dr. Ralph Gerard, director of Laboratories of the Mental Health Research Institute, University of Michigan, will speak in the Town House auditorium of Forest Hospital in Des Plaines Wednesday, Oct. 24, beginning at 8 p.m.

He will talk on the physiology of the mind in relation to mental illness.

The speaker is chairman of the Central Committee, Survey of Physiology, American Physiological Society, and is the author of 300 research papers and a number of books. His talk, entitled "Neural Models and Mental Performance," will be the second lecture in the present series of monthly scientific discussions offered at the hospital as a professional educational service.

DR. GERARD, who also is professor of neurophysiology in psychiatry and physiology at the university, will speak on the process by which the human mind forms concepts and how attention is directed. Memory, learning, anxiety and stress will be discussed in relation to present scientific knowledge of the brain's physiological performance, it was announced.

Born in Harvey, Ill., the speaker has been the editor of a number of professional journals. He is the author of "Unresting Cells," "The Body Functions" and "Food for Life."

THE PRESENT lecture series, which will extend through June, 1963, is devoted to the clarification of problems of mental illness. New clinical findings and theories of mental function, related to the structure of the mind, will be presented.

The lectures are under the chairmanship of Dr. Clifton Rhead. Dr. Rudolph G. Novick is the medical di tor of the psychiatric treatment center. Morris B. Squire is the administrator. (A14

GOP Blundered on Sales Tax: Meek

(UPI)—The president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association said during the weekend that state Republicans blundered by failing to oppose any sales tax increases in their platform.

"Omission of this major plank is not likely to create wild enthusiasm for the party in the border cities and among low income families throughout the state," Joseph Meek said.

"The Republican party could have become the party of the poor instead of the party of the rich," Meek said. "But they blundered. The sales tax hurts most those who can afford it least."

MEEK, WHO RAN against Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas in 1954, said the Democrats invited him to appear before their platform committee, but the Republicans did not.

"I told the Democrats our position," he said. "They listened. They didn't do anything about the sales tax problem, but they listened."

Meek said Illinois loses millions of dollars a year because merchants along the state's borders cannot compete with stores in neighboring states unencumbered by the Illinois sales tax.

University's Club Sets Annual Meet

Dr. Richard E. Hulet, dean of men at Illinois State Normal University, will be guest speaker for the annual fall dinner meeting of the Chicago ISNU Club in Chicago on Thursday, Nov. 1.

Miss Marlene Hack of 2522 N. Bernard St., Chicago 47, is accepting reservations for the 6:30 p.m. dinner at the George Diamond Steak House, 1133 S. Wabash, Chicago. Reservations may be made by telephone at ALbany 2-6217.

The affair is open to alumni and friends of the university living in Cook, DuPage, Lake, and surrounding counties.

Dr. Hulet will speak on "The Image of the University," discussing new trends and developments on the ISNU campus.

THE ISNU DEAN, a member of the faculty at Normal since 1956, received both bachelor and master degrees as well as his doctorate from the University of Illinois. He has had 18 years of experience in college student personnel work. Prior to joining the ISNU staff, Dr. Hulet had served at the University of Illinois for six years as assistant dean of men.

Miss Karlene Douglass, Villa Park, is serving as program chairman for the Chicago Club ISNU meeting. Richard Nobel of 1825 E. Evergreen St., Wheaton, is in charge of dinner arrangements.

Representing the university at the meeting, in addition to the speaker, will be Francis M. Wade, director of alumni services. (A14

Raps Birch Society For Bill's Failure

LANSING, MICH., (UPI)—State Representative Joseph Gillis D-Detroit, last Friday blamed the legislature's failure to enact the Mental Health Compact Bill this year on the John Birch Society.

Gillis said that although the bill was passed in both the senate and house, Senate Majority Leader Lynn Francis, a Midland Republican and a former member of the John Birch Society, allegedly bottled it up by delaying the appointment of a conference committee to reconcile differences in the two versions of the measures.

Gillis who charged that the Birch element still wields power in the Michigan Republican Party, alleged that Birch members distributed literature to legislators describing the mental health program as a Communist weapon. (A14

State Censors

Only four states — New York, Maryland, Virginia and Kansas — have state censorship boards to approve or disapprove films before they may be shown to the public. Forty cities have some sort of control over films before they are shown locally.

'Blue Ballot' Hurts Local Justice: Assn.

Elimination of one more form of local community government — the police magistrate or justice of the peace—is assured with passage of the "Blue Ballot" Nov. 6, according to the Cook County Justice's and Magistrate's Association, a professional group of suburban judges, attorneys, magistrates and justices.

Elimination of the right to vote for a community's local judge, along with a specified term on the bench, is another "hidden" proposal of the Blue Ballot, the association points out.

James L. Oakey Jr., general counsel of the association pointed out that more expense and more administrative time will be the order if the state constitution's judicial article is amended with this "reform."

"ACTUALLY," said Oakey, a member of both the Chicago and the Illinois State Bar associations, "few people outside of Chicago's city limits are currently for the Blue Ballot amendment. Citizens of suburban Cook County, and other parts of Illinois, are pleased with the local administering of justice—by one of their fellow townsmen."

"Citizens outside Chicago are rarely, if ever, plagued with court scandals, tremendous case backlogs and general political interference. It seems to me, as to a good many other people, that Chicago's politicians are simply conniving their way into spreading some of their court ills to suburban and downstate communities."

"They propose to accomplish this through what has come to be called 'subversion by ballot,' " Oakey added.

"IT IS PURE irony, that while our young men are stationed throughout the globe upholding the principles of democracy that made the United States what it is today, that one of these principles — namely, the right to home rule and self-government — is in danger of being violated here in the nation's heartland," he said.

"I urge every resident of Illinois to examine all the facets behind the Blue Ballot, not just the ones so widely broadcast and publicized by the professional Chicago politicians, but the ones that are sure to directly affect each of us in the community where we live," Oakey requested. (A-14

Geologists Will Hear Simonson

The Des Plaines Valley Geological Society will hold its monthly meeting on Thursday, Oct. 18, at 8 p.m. in the West Park Fieldhouse, 651 Wolf Road, Des Plaines.

Bob Simonson, past president of the society, will speak about his summer field school in the Glacier National Park.

The society welcomes guests at meetings. Minerals are usually exhibited. (A-14

'Spending' Not the Answer

Public Aid Programs Today

Depression-Found Plans Are Archaic

by BRUCE LADD

Today's public assistance programs — most of them conceived in the 1930's — have become archaic and are making no significant contribution to solving the welfare problem.

This opinion, voiced by an award-winning researcher in public welfare, was presented as a part of the "Employment and Welfare Problems Clinic" at the annual meeting of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce held this month in Chicago.

The speaker, Aris A. Mallas of Texas, project director of the Texas Research League, stressed that an attitude of "spending and spending more money" on welfare is not the answer.

"Rehabilitation is what's needed," he said. "We tend to make welfare payments higher than many people could ever earn. Many are therefore content to get onto the welfare rolls and stay there."

HE RECOMMENDED a six-point program for improving the approach to public assistance. It is:

1. Learn the facts.
2. Tighten eligibility rules for those receiving relief payments.
3. Seek strong adult responsibility laws on divorce, child support, desertion, and on other "family" obligations.
4. MAKE RELIEF recipients do constructive work.
5. Place competent executives in charge of welfare programs.
6. Let the 50 states decide independently how their welfare programs can be best carried out.

"It is the role of the federal government to provide technical assistance and leadership to the states," Mallas, the recipient of several federal government awards, pointed out.

"But the federal government does not possess at this time the necessary technical information or the people with adequate leadership abilities.

"THE ATTITUDE of the federal government seems to be to spend its way out of these social problems. It just doesn't work out that way."

Mallas cited specifically the federal government's role in the Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) program. "It's not rehabilitating people," he said.

In Texas, Mallas' study of ADC recipients showed that 80 per cent of the Negro and 75 per cent of the whites had never been self-sustaining.

He said that aid recipients in Texas in 1959 were cut from 105,000 to 80,000 through administrative changes.

IN FURTHER discussion of ADC, Mallas said it "provides a breeding ground for eating up tax monies." He suggested the ADC program is a "built-in accelerator for politicians . . . who want to discourage rehabilitation because they would not be able to promise welfare checks to needy voters."

Mallas concluded: "The problem of public assistance is extremely serious, but not hopeless. The laws and the attitudes of responsible people need changing."

Also participating in the Chamber clinic was Neil W. Chamberlain, professor of economics at Yale University, who spoke on "Job Obsolescence—A Problem and an Opportunity."

CHAMBERLAIN indicated that the rapid development of new technical knowledge and science discoveries is "throwing thousands of people out of work every day."

The labor relations authority noted that this is not only true of the rank and file worker, but also of management personnel.

"The only way to hasten the application of this fastcoming knowledge is to continually upgrade employes throughout their work experience. This does not mean re-training or adult education; nothing so casual.

"MAYBE WE should be returning employes to the classroom for six months every four or five years so they can catch up on new knowledge and discoveries.

"Instead of talking in terms of earlier retirement at age 60, let's sprinkle these five years (60 to 65) through the working years and use them for education."

Chamberlain opined that the present concept of formal education is becoming obsolete.

"Education today cannot end at age 22," he said. "It must continue and keep a man up-to-date. We need an entire new look at the education process."

HE GUESSED that by 1970 there will be a need for a 40 per cent increase in professional and technical manpower. The second greatest demand will be for skilled manpower. The last need will be for semi-skilled and unskilled manpower.

"At the base of the problem right now is the fact that the paces at which we accumulate and assimilate knowledge are different," Chamberlain said.

"After our formal education ends, only trickles of knowledge come to us. This has to be changed." (A-14

Had a Cold This Year? If Not, You're Overdue!

If you haven't had a cold as yet this year, watch out! You are overdue.

Statistics show that every American experiences at least one common cold a year, with October and November (along with January and March) as the most likely months to get them.

What causes colds? No one knows for sure, but it's generally agreed that viruses are the culprits. A virus is a living material so small that it's not even visible through an ordinary microscope; special equipment is required to study it.

AN INSIDIOUS condition, the cold is generally spread via a sneeze, cough or handshake of a victim who has neglected to wash his hands after using his handkerchief.

It's interesting to note that there are actually two stages to the common cold—the virus and later stages. The virus stage lasts only a few hours and produces relatively minor symptoms, such as irritation in the nose and throat. The feeling of "scratchiness" is present. The result is what most of us consider the later stages of a cold—the coughing, sneezing, running nose, and eyes, headache, general aches and pains and a feeling of misery.

THIS, OF COURSE, leads to the so-called later stages of the cold—the coughing, sneezing, running nose and eyes, headache, general aches and pains, and a feeling of misery.

Usually the body overcomes the infection within a few days. If it doesn't, however, complications may result, with bacteria invading sinuses in the facial bones and setting up an acute sinus infection.

Bronchitis, pneumonia and other respiratory infections are also possible complications.

STRANGELY enough, there is no known cure for the common cold. Present treatment by the physician is essentially to relieve symptoms and prevent possible complications. Though certain medications have proved helpful in relieving the misery of the sufferer, these usually require medical supervision because of possible harmful side effects.

If a cold develops, the victim should go to bed immediately for isolation will not only prevent the spread of the conditions to others, but also the development of possible complications.

Call your physician as soon as possible.

Relief Rolls Drop For Sixth Month

(UPI) — A preliminary report of September relief loads given to the Illinois Public Aid Commission last Friday indicated over-all loads declined for the sixth consecutive month.

A preliminary view of September by IPAC Executive Secretary Harold O. Swank reported:

—Old Age Assistance down 307 persons to 65,495.

—Regular Aid to Dependent Children down 2,723 to 213,810.

—AID TO Dependent Children of the Unemployed down 947 to 49,781.

—Blind Assistance down 16 to 2,877.

—General Assistance in Chicago down 2,490 to 37,547.

—Disability Assistance up 21 persons to 27,221. (A14

Earmarking Hit

Solutions to Finance Woes

Two State Representatives—one a Democrat and the other a Republican—espoused similar solutions to Illinois' finance difficulties at the annual Illinois State Chamber of Commerce meeting earlier this month.

Rep. Paul F. Elward, D—Chicago, and Rep. John C. Parkhurst, R—Peoria, each spoke to an audience of some 300 businessmen on the topic, "What I Would Do About Our State's Financial Troubles."

BOTH AGREED that an overhaul of the Illinois Constitution's Revenue Article should be the first order of business in the 1963 session of the State Legislature.

They also announced their joint opposition to a state income tax "in any form" at the present time.

Elward attacked the earmarking (stipulating for special use) of state funds, saying this procedure should be eliminated.

"WE EARMARK 50 cents out of every dollar," he explained. "It's no wonder the general fund is hurting.

"Earmarking stresses the 'frills'—$500,000 for prizes to horses and high school driver education are examples. The theory of taxing for a particular purpose is ridiculous.

"Should we allocate taxes on liquor for the development of better saloons? And the tax on cigarettes for building smoke houses? Certainly not."

ELWARD SAID some of the state's current financial problems were caused by the 1961 Legislature not anticipating the volume of expenditures by the Illinois Public Aid Commission (IPAC).

To correct the under-estimation of needs, he advocates the General Assembly meeting annually rather than every two years.

"The state spends $5 million a day," he said. "This is the biggest business in Illinois and should have more frequent meetings of its board of directors."

PARKHURST SAID he would propose "trimming our standard of living," citing the fact that the state's spending has tripled in 10 years.

"Let's feed the monster (government) some reducing pills before we increase his meat ration (spending)," Parkhurst declared.

He estimated that the state administration could cut $100 million from the state budget "and never miss it." He pointed out too that the public aid burden is leveling off, "believe it or not." (For the past five months the caseload has dropped.)

"I PERSONALLY doubt very much that we'll need a special session of the General Assembly in November," Parkhurst said.

"We can now support a $3 billion budget without strain. We have no real problem with capital improvements. We have plenty of money for roads and institutions.

"If we can begin to live within our means, resist pressure groups, and eliminate unnecessary services, we'll pull out of the financial hole." (A14

Goldwater Lashes at Big Labor

"The payment of a political debt in the currency of freedom cannot be tolerated any longer," declared U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater in a key address at the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce annual meeting.

The Arizona Republican was speaking of the influence of labor unions over President Kennedy.

"When labor speaks, the President listens," Goldwater said. "The President knows the danger of this, but he doesn't dare do anything about it because it would cost him votes."

GOLDWATER CITED the "monolithic power of labor" as a danger to the nation, pointing out that today's union leaders can close down entire vital industries "with the flick of a finger."

He blasted the federal government for "taking it upon itself to decide what is in the national interest" and for setting up "arbitrary guidelines for wages, strikes and prices."

The senator hinted he would introduce legislation to curb union powers in the next session of Congress. (A-14

Gas Rates To Be Cut

(UPI) — The Illinois Commerce Commission last Thursday announced the Northern Illinois Gas Co. has agreed to reduce natural gas rates to 600,000 customers by about $1 million annually.

It was the second reduction this year for customers of the utility. Earlier, the company announced cuts of $200,000 a year for 15,000 customers in the Bloomington-Normal area and a reduction of $250,000 annually for its industrial customers.

Commerce Commission Chairman James W. Karber said the latest cut will lower the heating bill for one family homes $1 to $2.50 a year, depending on house size. The rates will take effect Dec. 1.

Rates will be cut $100,000 a year for small commercial gas users. (A14

Union Leader Breaks Ranks, Gives His Support to Romney

DETROIT, (UPI) — The solid front of United Auto Workers leaders behind Democratic Gov. John Swainson's campaign for re-election cracked last Friday.

Warren Creekmore, president of UAW Local 280, rebelled against what he called International Union dictatorship and announced his support for Republican George Romney. Local 280 represents more than 500 workers at Continental Motors Corp. here.

Creekmore is believed to be the first UAW local president to break ranks.

THE LOCAL president said he anticipated strong reaction from International Union officers. But, he added, "If I'm defeated for any further office in the union because of this, so be it."

He said he believed other local leaders might follow him in supporting Romney.

Creekmore said he was irritated into action by the distribution of two handbills which placed him strongly on Swainson's side. He said they were supplied by the International UAW and circulated by members of the Committee on Political Education, without his authorization.

One of the handbills, carrying the printed signatures of local officers of his union, said the members of the local were all Democrats supporting Swainson. The other charged that Romney would support legislation to bar unemployment compensation for employes made idle by a strike in a supplier plant. The latter handbill, Creekmore said, was put out in his name.

"I DON'T believe that UAW International officers have any right to tell a member how to vote,' he said.

He said he visited a Romney Volunteers office about two months ago to determine what Romney's views were on a number of issues, and that he was satisfied that Romney's position would be good for labor.

Recommend 'Check' With SS Office

Northwest area residents who are nearing retirement age and who already are or will soon be age 62 can speed up receipt of their first social security checks if they get in touch with the social security office early.

"A worker may submit his benefit application up to three months in advance of his planned retirement," explained Julius Berman, northwest district manager of the Social Security Administration.

"Some workers," he added, "particularly those who expect to earn $4,800 this year before they retire, would do well to wait until after that amount has been paid to them before they apply."

TO SAVE TIME and an additional visit to the social security office, applicants should bring with them documentary proof of age. Evidence of age is also required of wives who apply for monthly benefits.

Berman also advised workers who are 62 or older but do not plan to retire to ask for and read leaflet OASI-23c, "You Don't Have to Retire Completely to Get Social Security Benefits."

Considerable earnings may no longer be a bar to receipt of some social security payments, Berman said, and this leaflet explains how much one may earn and still receive some payments after reaching retirement age.

THERE IS NO charge for the leaflet.

The northwest district office is located at 4255 Milwaukee Ave. The telephone number is KI 5-8844. DuPage County readers are served by the district office located at 1124 Westgate Ave., Oak Park. (A-14

Society Will Honor Sen. Dirksen Sat.

U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill., will join the ranks of the country's most honored citizens Saturday evening when he receives the annual "Award of Merit" of the American Coalition of Patriotic Societies, Inc., at a dinner meeting to be attended by an estimated 600 of Chicago's business, labor and political leaders in the Drake Hotel.

Morton Bodfish, chairman of dinner arrangements, said the award is granted each year by the society to reward "exemplary public service" and adherence to American constitutional principles.

He identified the society, which was founded in 1929 and is headquartered in Washington, D.C., as a national voluntary organization of approximately one-hundred patriotic, civic and fraternal societies — and emphasized it is not a political organization.

"AMONG ITS members," he said, "are such groups as the American War Mothers; Better Government Forum; Catholic War Veterans of the U.S.A., Queens Co. Chapter; Daughters of the Revolution; Descendants of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence; Junior Order United American Mechanics, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania; Marine Corps League Auxiliary, Inc.; Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States; The National Huguenot Society; National Society, Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims; Order of Washington; Sons and Daughters of Liberty; Sons of the American Revolution; United States Flag Committee; and the Women of the Army and Navy Legion of Valor, U.S.A."

Bodfish, who founded the First Federal Savings and Loan Ass'n. of Chicago, and who served as its chairman until his recent retirement, said a large number of Chicago's business, professional and civic leaders were expected to view the presentation, as well as some of the top ranking city and state governmental officials of both political parties.

"IN HONORING Sen. Dirksen," he said, "the society is also honoring the State of Illinois and the people which the senator represents. Accordingly, it is fitting that as many of Chicago's leaders be on hand as possible to view the presentation of this special honor to one of our two great Senators."

Some Lose Licenses

Area's Motorists Lose Privileges

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier last week announced revocation of 240 and suspension of 717 drivers licenses, chauffeurs licenses and driving privileges based on local court convictions and police reports.

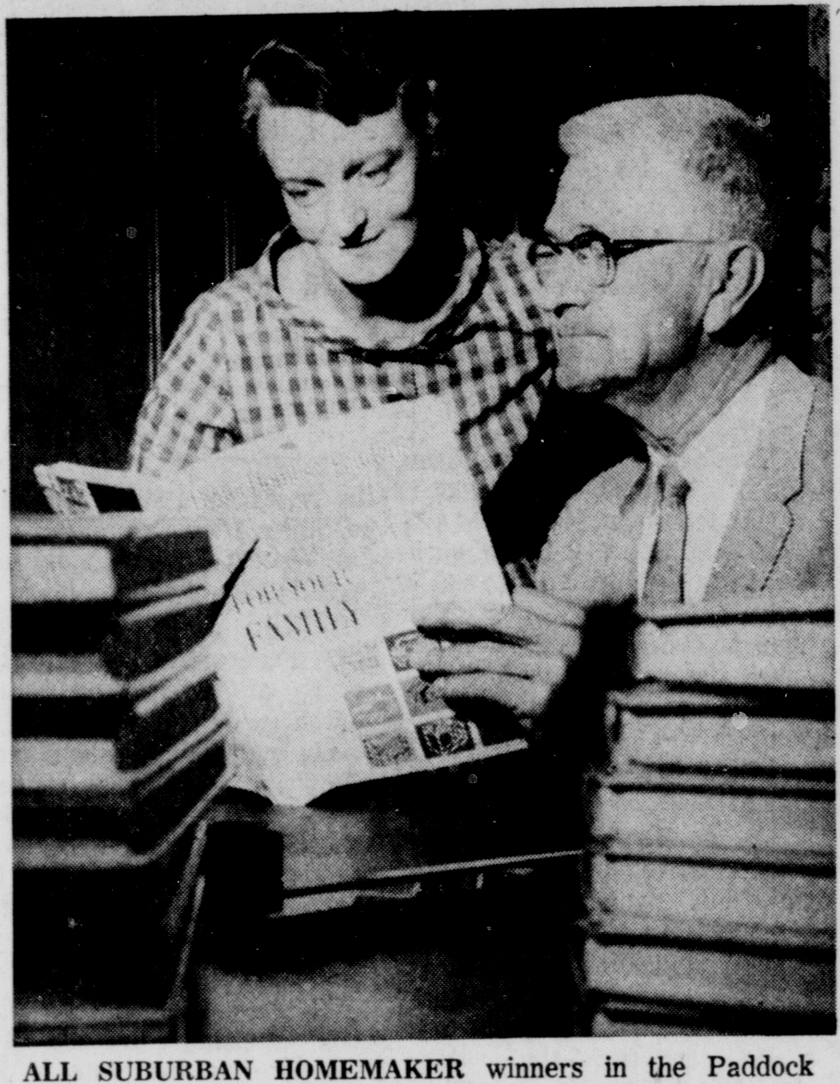
In addition, 324 persons whose licenses were suspended earlier and who did not have more than a total point accumulation of 62 points have been granted probationary permits to drive.

Local revocations for driving while intoxicated include: Joseph Smerch, 414 Grego St., Prospect Heights; Alfred G. Anderson, 55 W. Johnson St., Ramiro Trevino, 136 N. Quentin and Jacinto Zuniga, RR I, Box all of Palatine.

SUSPENSIONS FOR three moving violations include: Patrick J. Gibson, 657 Brantwood, Elk Grove; Betty J. Hall, 6 Ridgewood, Elk Grove Village; John M. Hodor Jr., 1411 W. Sigwalt St., and Morry G. Schalin, 836 N. Dunton Ave., both of Arlington Heights; Gregory A. Keller, 206 Wheeling Road, Prospect Heights.

John B. Powers, 573 S. Milwaukee, Wheeling; Joseph E. Del Longo, 1347 W. Irving Park, Bensenville; Samuel G. Jones, 137 N. Chase Ave., Bartlett; Carmen Scaccio, 101 Byron Ave., and Raymond W. Wheeler, 41 N. Adams, both of Addison.

Probationary permits were issued to Frank M. Kercheval, 704 S. Dryden, Howard F. White, 309 N. Wilshire Lane, and Will H. Wiedmann, 408 S. Mitchell, all of Arlington Heights; William C. Sweeney, 114 Redbush Lane, Prospect Heights; and Karl Larsen, 56 Laurine Drive, Barrington. (A-14



ALL SUBURBAN HOMEMAKER winners in the Paddock Publications' area will receive a copy of the recently published Better Homes & Gardens "Money Management for Your Family." The books will be gifts from Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association. President Paul E. Collins of the Savings & Loan, above, reviews a copy of the book with Paddock Suburban Homemaking Contest Editor Melda Lynn. Mrs. Lynn will present the books to the local winners during a local award ceremony to be held Oct. 31. Each local winner will also receive a silver trophy that night and a variety of gifts from merchants in the areas where they live.

Groups Against the 'Blue Ballot' Grow

"The number of organizations which have placed themselves on record as opposing the forthcoming Blue Ballot election on an amendment to the Judicial Article of the Illinois Constitution continues to grow," said State Sen. Lottie Holman O'-Neill, chairman of Illinois Citizens Opposing the Judicial Amendment, in a prepared statement this week.

"The most recent group of which we know which has voted to oppose the amendment to the Judicial Article is the McHenry County Township Officials Association. The action by this Northern Illinois organization came last week at a regular meeting of the group.

"THIS REFLECTS increasing sentiment against the amendment," said Sen. O'Neill. "Larger numbers of folks are becoming aware of the serious pitfalls into which this amendment will lead us, either unwittingly or otherwise. The proposed amendment is fraught with provisions which omit people's choices.

"Thus a method of checks and balances, fundamental to our American way of life, is rendered virtually useless.

"I am not really surprised at the increased opposition to the amendment," added the veteran lady legislator. "The truth will come out as soon as people learn what the proposed amendment really provides. More people are learning, and the increased opposition to the amendment is the natural result."

Kerner Asks Reform Of Judicial System

(UPI)—Gov. Otto Kerner said Monday Illinois faces "A judicial crisis that is undermining the social and economic life of our commnuities."

Kerner, in a speech prepared for a Chicago Bar Association dinner in support of the judicial amendment, said "We no longer can live with a court system that hampers the administration of justice—a system that was designed to serve a population of 800,000, not the 10 million that we have living in Illinois today."

"WE CANNOT allow the opportunity to adopt a new judicial article to slip by next month," the governor said. "For if we do, we will not have another chance to revise this section of our constitution for four more years."

Opponents of the amendment contend that it contains undesirable features that would take another constitutional amendment to correct. Criticism also is based on a provision that judges run against their record, without opposition.

Many downstate Republicans oppose the amendment on grounds it would make possible a 4-3 Democratic majority on the State Supreme Court, which now is 5-2 Republican. (A14 FLIGHT ENGINEER Richard E. Plum, of 352 Maple Lane, Elk Grove Village, who flies for American Airlines, started making jewelry as a hobby. Now he's taking orders from other flight personnel to personalize cigarette lighters and charm bracelets. With the aid of hand tools, he has completed about 25 lighters and charm bracelets. The insignias which he fastens to the articles are employee silver or gold service pins sometimes set with a diamond, a diamond and ruby or two diamonds. He also affixes obsolete gold fliers wings onto cigarette cases. In addition to his interest in jewelry, he is a photographer, and rifleman. He enjoys target shooting. (BB

First Production of Season Open Oct. 26

On opening night next week of Joseph Hayes "The Desperate Hours," the curtain will part on Village Theatre's first production of the 1962-63 season.

Set-designed by Mauric Geye and stage-managed by Harriet Smith, the play has kept audiences on the edge of their seats since 1955, when it was first presented in New York City.

From the moment in Act 1, Scene 1, when Sheriff Bard (Red Pownall) learns to his horror that three reckless criminals have escaped from the penitentiary to which he had helped send the ringleader, the plot builds to a dramatic climax.

MINUTES later, in Scene 2, the on-the-lam convicts, (Don Baylor, Mel Holden, Don Moses) looking for a hideout, invade the Hilliard home.

By threathening her son (David Ullrich), her daughter (Binki Hawley), and her husband (John Grayson), the three terrify Eleanor Hillard (Lois Drum) into obedient submissiveness.

Alternating between the sheriff's office and the Hilliard home for the remainder of the play, the scenes flash rapidly by, each ending on a higher note of suspense than the one preceding.

Tickets to "The Desperate Hours," which is being presented Oct. 26, 27, and 28 in the Prospect High School Theatre are available for Sunday, Oct. 28, and may be reserved by calling Box-office at CL 9-3200.

IN A TENSE MOMENT from Village Theatre's upcoming production "The Desperate Hours," a grim-faced Dan Hilliard (played by John Grayson at left), accepts a revolver from Sheriff Bard (played by Red Pownall).

BOTH JANET MUNRO and her Zebra steed enjoy their ride in Walt Disney's feature, "Swiss Family Robinson," starring John Mills, Dorothy McGuire and James MacArthur. The production starts Friday, Oct. 19, at the Prospect Theatre in Mount Prospect.

Arlington Concerts

Solution: Ask Beaux Arts Trio Back Here

by DOLORES HRUBY

The Arlington Heights Community Concert group brought the Beaux Arts Trio to our town last Sunday evening and thereby laid to rest the myth that chamber music is too special for a general music audience.

Or perhaps it was merely proved once again that people intuitively respond to real excellence whether it is in a familiar idiom or not.

THE ONENESS of ensemble playing was so superb that I think of these men as the Beaux Arts Trio rather than as Menahem Pressler, piano; Daniel Guilet, violin, and Bernard Greenhouse, cello, despite the fact that each man did perform as a soloist also.

They opened with Beethoven's "Geister (Ghost) Trio in D major, Opus 70," and closed with Dvorak's very melodic "Trio in F Minor, Opus 65." It is a truism that ensemble players are supposed to play, breathe, feel, and think together, and this is what these men did.

I think it was literally true the Pressler, the pianist, did not breathe at the ritards, for instance, until the string players did. Their range of dynamics was impressive; the pianissimo was a whisper, the fortissimo was full-voiced, with countless shadings in between, and always together.

THE PIANIST did an excellent job of matching the piano tone to the strings. The zest and verve with which they played was contagious. They obviously enjoyed what they were doing and so did their audience.

The over-all program was very wisely planned, particularly for those people who would not enjoy a whole evening of chamber music. After the first trio the violinist, Daniel Guilet, performed three well-known works: Kreisler's "Prelude and Allegro," a Brahms waltz, and the Bizet-Sarasate "Carmen Fantasy." Of the three men he was the weakest soloist.

He seemed to have difficulty in tone projection and in keeping the double-stops in tune. The tone projection troubles may have been due in part to the inadequate acoustics of the hall.

PRESSLER followed on the piano with "Scarbo," from "Gaspard de la Nuit," one of Ravel's most difficult piano compositions. It came off very well.

He breezed through Chopin's "Waltz in C Sharp Minor" with a proper, delicate elegance and displayed a secure, bright, clean technique in the Paganini-Liszt "La Campanella." Everything this man did was extremely musical, both in ensemble and solo work, and he achieved a rare, direct communication with his audience.

After intermission Bernard Greenhouse played Lalo's Intermezzo from the "Concerto in D Major" and Davidoff's "At the Fountain." He plays the famous Stradivarius cello, called "Paganini," which is dated 1707.

(REMARKABLE, isn't it, that the kind of instrument we only read about as children, our children can hear in the Arlington High girl's gym!) He did this great instrument justice with his all-embracing technique and generally fine musicianship. The tone was gorgeous.

Now, if only something could be done about the miserable lighting on that stage! Once again the artists looked as though they were wearing death masks. The lighting, plus a few unsupervised children, were the only things which detracted from this fine program.

I'm not sure anything can be done about the lighting, but certainly parents can watch their children so that they are not climbing up and down the bleachers or wandering in and out of the hall during a performance.

For those members of Community Concerts who have for years been wistfully requesting chamber music or solo strings, last Sunday must have been a particular delight. And after the Trio's success, these same people, instead of being satisfied, may be clamoring for more. Happy olution — invite the Beaux Arts Trio again! (Bill

In Hoffman Estates

Friday Opening Night For 'Three Angels'

It's opening night tomorrow, Friday, for the Hoffman Estates Theatre Guild play "My Three Angels."

Two performances of this Sam and Bella Spewack three-act comedy will be offered Friday and Saturday, at Parkside School, 233 E. Maple St., in Roselle.

Burr E. Lee Jr., a Park Ridge resident, directs the group in this story set in French Guiana in the early 1900s.

"THE THREE Angels" of the impractical storekeeper and his family are played by Ernie Wurm, Hank Netter, and Bill Schumacher.

Mike Vogt of Roselle is the storekeeper, Felix Ducotel; Maggie Martin, Hoffman Estates, his wife, Emilie, and Bloomingdale's Joan Holm is their jilted daughter, Marie Louise.

Sid Sicher is cousin Henri Trouchard, with Allen Johnson playing his nephew, Paul.

MICKI GERSTEIN is the spirited Mme. Parole. From Itasca will come Jerry Spurlock as the young Lieutenant.

"My Three Angels" begins the Hoffman Estates Theatre Guild's fifth season. Next on the production schedule will be a children's play, "Greensleeves Magic" slated for mid-February.

In the spring, a farce set in the quiz days of TV, "Grand Prize," will complete the season.

Tickets are still available for both performances. They may be purchased at the door on performance nights.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Holy Name Plans Meeting Monday

St. Thomas of Villanova Holy Name Society will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, Oct. 22, at 8:30 p.m. in St. Viator's High School's cafeteria. Plans for the coming year will be discussed at the meeting. George Connors, Chicago Bear Football radio commentator will be on hand to show movies of the 1961 Bear games, and to offer some inside tips on this year's performance.

Logging by Air

(AP) Giant helicopters will be used to haul logs from inaccessible forests in 1963, according to plans being formulated by a Pacific Northwest logging firm.

The helicopters, costing about $800,000 each, will still represent a saving in production costs over the present system which includes such costs as $100,000 a mile to cut logging roads through solid rock.

The 'copters would hook the logs on a dangling cable to transmit them from the woods to sawmills. Operating costs will run about $400 an hour.

Tryouts Announced For 'Music Man'

Pat Ryan, president of Music-on-Stage, Inc., this week revealed plans for early tryouts for the forthcoming production, "Music Man," and announced the names of two directors for the show.

The organization will hold open auditions Monday, Oct. 22, from 8 to 10:30 p.m. at the Rolling Meadows State Bank. Tryouts will include the two areas of music and dramatics.

In the area of dramatics, material from "Music Man" will be available for readings. In the area of music, each person will be asked to supply the music of his or her choice. An accompanist will be provided.

ANY MAN interested in portraying the fast-talking, charm-packed, fleet-footed River City con-man, Harold Hill, might do well to concentrate on the revival styled pitch called "Ya Got Trouble," Ryan noted.

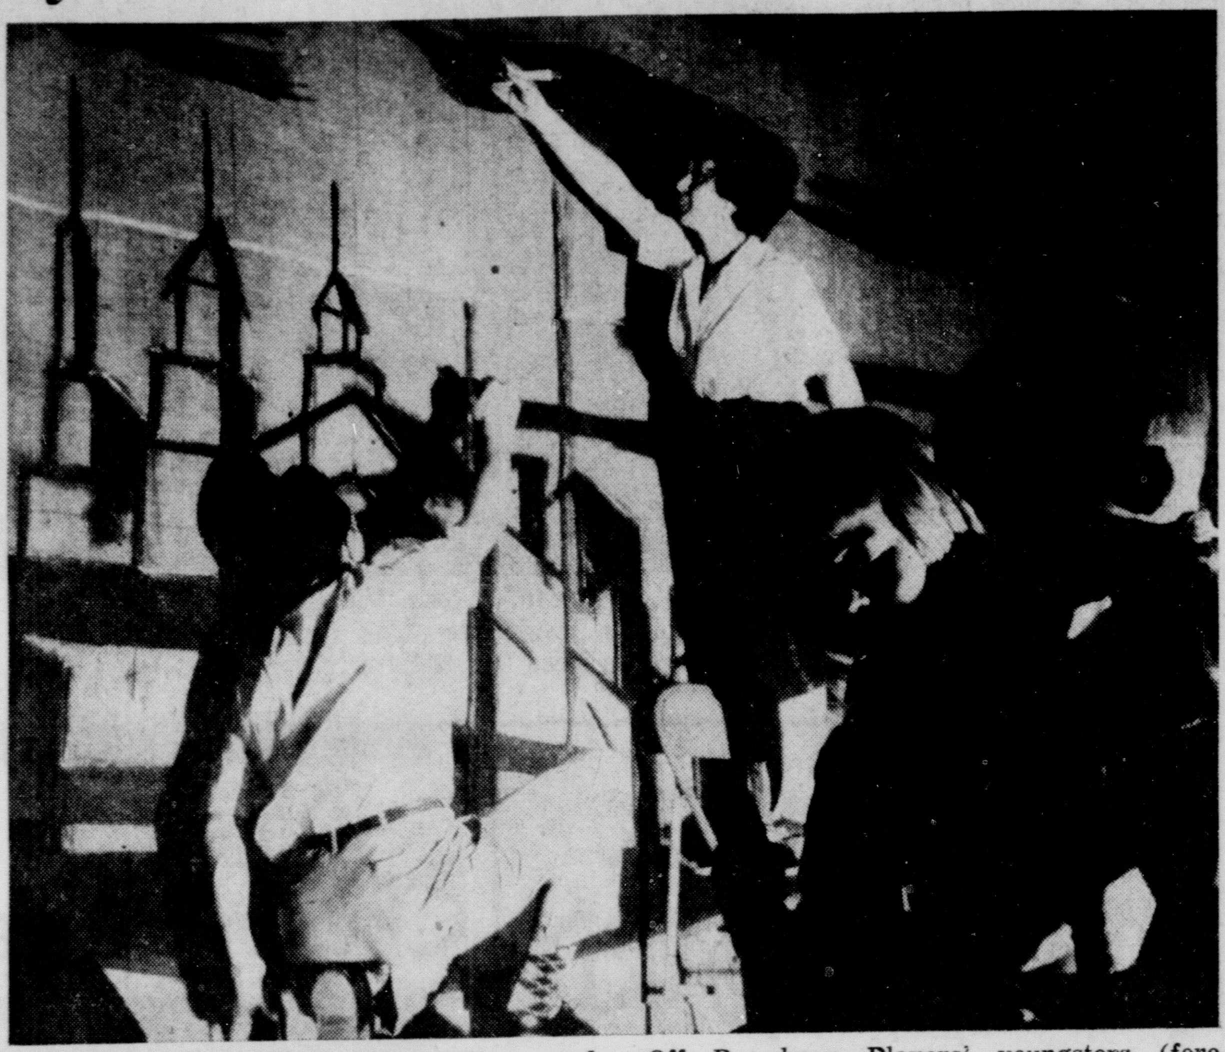
Tom Ventriss of Chicago has been named to head the show as production director. He studied dramatics with Letitia Barnum, one-time coach of the Ziegfield Follies, and also trained in Columbia College (N.Y.) and in the Milton Steifel School of professional drama.

Bill Cotsakis of Arlington Heights returns as musical director. Four years with Music-on-Stage, he has shared the musical spotlight with his wife, Pat, who has served as the piano accompanist in the orchestra.

COTSAKIS studied music and drama in Roosevelt College and in Elmhurst College, and for 17 years he studied violin under George Siefert.

President Ryan remarked, "We are certainly fortunate in having obtained these two men who are so capable in their respective fields. Anyone who earns a part in 'Music Man' will certainly benefit under their direction and combined talents." (Bill

Off Broadway Stuff Brought to Suburbs



MASTER CARPENTER Tom Ellison and Joyce Zeller, scenery designer and stage manager, are getting help from some of the Best Off Broadway Players' youngsters (foreground). (Bill

The Best Off Broadway Players, whose production "Guys and Dolls" will be shown at Barrington High School Auditorium on Nov. 16, 17 and 18, are bringing to the northwest suburbs the best off Broadway musical comedies.

Since their inception in the spring of 1961, the BOB Players have had two productions, and their goal is to establish a permanent musical comedy season to add to the growing northwest suburban cultural program.

Through a trial and error method of testing, the Players now feel they know what to give an audience in the line of entertainment. This is due to the fact that many of the members have had professional experience in show business, including the technical aspects of producing a musical comedy.

BEST OFF Broadway Players have many husband and wife teams, which brings to light the only problem of production not fully solved as yet. This problem is baby-sitting.

Any of the children of the members who are well enough coordinated to participate, however, usually join their parents on whatever phase they may be working.

Tickets for "Guys and Dolls" are available now by calling Burt Neuner, CL 3-6904.

Ada Marcus Song Inspired by Poem

ADA B. MARCUS

The song "Good Hours" by Ada B. Marcus, 129 S. Olive St. Hoffman Estates, will be performed at the concert of the International Society for Contemporary Music to be given Oct. 26 at DePaul Center Theatre, 25 E. Jackson, Chicago.

The concert will be repeated on Oct. 31 at Ganz Hall of Roosevelt University and on Nov. 4 at the Austin Academy of Fine Arts, 631 N. Central Ave., Chicago.

FREE GUEST tickets for any of the performances may be obtained from Mrs. Marcus or from the ISCM, 7232 S. Euclid Ave., Chicago 49, Ill.

The words of the song "Good Hours" were written by Robert Frost, whose poems have inspired a number of Mrs. Marcus' compositions.

Mrs. Marcus is not only a composer — she is also a pianist and has given many concerts and appeared with several major symphony orchestras as soloist.

At present, she is teaching in Roselle. (Bill

'Spook-Tacular' Set for Drive-In

For the first time in movie history, an air show and outdoor spectacular is being combined to create a spine-tingling and laugh-provoking evening, announces Oscar Brotman, owner of the Oasis Drive-In Theatre.

The giant "Spook-Tacular" is planned for Saturday, Oct. 27 at the drive-in near Touhy, Higgins, and Elmhurst Road in Elk Grove Township.

An "invasion from Mars" will take place in which a helicopter will throw out weighted ghosts and 50,000 imitation crickets over the cars. A ground barrage will frighten off the "invaders" and phosphorous painted skeletons on invisible wires tied from the giant screen will slide up and down over the cars.

TWENTY ACTORS dressed as full-grown gorillas, apes, skeletons, and ghosts will try to scare the audience as well as hand each adult a free mask and a free souvenir package of cigarettes. Each child will receive a free pumpkin and mask.

Before the show starts, there will be a costume parade for children with dozens of free prizes. An old-fashioned community sing with screen slides will climax the evening.

The driver of every car with a 13 in the license will be admitted free. All occupants in every car with a black cat will be admitted free.

The feature program will be "The Music Man" and "The Guns of Darkness."

Starts Sunday at Catlow

Lancaster Starring

Burt Lancaster, an Academy Award winner, is the star of "Bird Man of Alcatraz" opening Friday at the Golf Mill Theatre.

Lancaster ages 50 years in the movie, portraying a fantastic man who is killer, scientist, artist, author, scholar, and for over half a century, convict. The film will be shown for one week only.

For the children, the Golf Mill will present a special Kiddie Matinee on Saturday consisting of one hour of cartoons plus the feature "When Comedy Was King" starring Charlie Chaplin, Laurel & Hardy, Ben Turpin and other old time comedy stars.

THE THEATRE will open at 1 p.m. and the prgram starts at 1:20 p.m. ending at 4 p.m.

For the ladies, the theatre presents "Fashion Intrigue" every Tuesday afternoon at 1 p.m. on the theatre stage. Elaine Stern commentates the fashion show with apparel through courtesy of Mr. Marty and Little Miss & Mr. staged with professional models. Free coffee is served during the fashion show and every evening in the TV lounge.

First Production of Season Open Oct. 26

On opening night next week of Joseph Hayes "The Desperate Hours," the curtain will part on Village Theatre's first production of the 1962-63 season.

Set-designed by Mauric Geye and stage-managed by Harriet Smith, the play has kept audiences on the edge of their seats since 1955, when it was first presented in New York City.

From the moment in Act 1, Scene 1, when Sheriff Bard (Red Pownall) learns to his horror that three reckless criminals have escaped from the penitentiary to which he had helped send the ringleader, the plot builds to a dramatic climax.

MINUTES later, in Scene 2, the on-the-lam convicts, (Don Baylor, Mel Holden, Don Moses) looking for a hideout, invade the Hilliard home.

By threathening her son (David Ullrich), her daughter (Binki Hawley), and her husband (John Grayson), the three terrify Eleanor Hillard (Lois Drum) into obedient submissiveness.

Alternating between the sheriff's office and the Hilliard home for the remainder of the play, the scenes flash rapidly by, each ending on a higher note of suspense than the one preceding.

Tickets to "The Desperate Hours," which is being presented Oct. 26, 27, and 28 in the Prospect High School Theatre are available for Sunday, Oct. 28, and may be reserved by calling Box-office at CL 9-3200.

IN A TENSE MOMENT from Village Theatre's upcoming production "The Desperate Hours," a grim-faced Dan Hilliard (played by John Grayson at left), accepts a revolver from Sheriff Bard (played by Red Pownall).

BOTH JANET MUNRO and her Zebra steed enjoy their ride in Walt Disney's feature, "Swiss Family Robinson," starring John Mills, Dorothy McGuire and James MacArthur. The production starts Friday, Oct. 19, at the Prospect Theatre in Mount Prospect.

Solution: Ask Beaux Arts Trio Back Here

by DOLORES HRUBY

The Arlington Heights Community Concert group brought the Beaux Arts Trio to our town last Sunday evening and thereby laid to rest the myth that chamber music is too special for a general music audience.

Or perhaps it was merely proved once again that people intuitively respond to real excellence whether it is in a familiar idiom or not.

THE ONENESS of ensemble playing was so superb that I think of these men as the Beaux Arts Trio rather than as Menahem Pressler, piano; Daniel Guilet, violin, and Bernard Greenhouse, cello, despite the fact that each man did perform as a soloist also.

They opened with Beethoven's "Geister (Ghost) Trio in D major, Opus 70," and closed with Dvorak's very melodic "Trio in F Minor, Opus 65." It is a truism that ensemble players are supposed to play, breathe, feel, and think together, and this is what these men did.

I think it was literally true the Pressler, the pianist, did not breathe at the ritards, for instance, until the string players did. Their range of dynamics was impressive; the pianissimo was a whisper, the fortissimo was full-voiced, with countless shadings in between, and always together.

THE PIANIST did an excellent job of matching the piano tone to the strings. The zest and verve with which they played was contagious. They obviously enjoyed what they were doing and so did their audience.

The over-all program was very wisely planned, particularly for those people who would not enjoy a whole evening of chamber music. After the first trio the violinist, Daniel Guilet, performed three well-known works: Kreisler's "Prelude and Allegro," a Brahms waltz, and the Bizet-Sarasate "Carmen Fantasy." Of the three men he was the weakest soloist.

He seemed to have difficulty in tone projection and in keeping the double-stops in tune. The tone projection troubles may have been due in part to the inadequate acoustics of the hall.

PRESSLER followed on the piano with "Scarbo," from "Gaspard de la Nuit," one of Ravel's most difficult piano compositions. It came off very well.

He breezed through Chopin's "Waltz in C Sharp Minor" with a proper, delicate elegance and displayed a secure, bright, clean technique in the Paganini-Liszt "La Campanella." Everything this man did was extremely musical, both in ensemble and solo work, and he achieved a rare, direct communication with his audience.

After intermission Bernard Greenhouse played Lalo's Intermezzo from the "Concerto in D Major" and Davidoff's "At the Fountain." He plays the famous Stradivarius cello, called "Paganini," which is dated 1707.

(REMARKABLE, isn't it, that the kind of instrument we only read about as children, our children can hear in the Arlington High girl's gym!) He did this great instrument justice with his all-embracing technique and generally fine musicianship. The tone was gorgeous.

Now, if only something could be done about the miserable lighting on that stage! Once again the artists looked as though they were wearing death masks. The lighting, plus a few unsupervised children, were the only things which detracted from this fine program.

I'm not sure anything can be done about the lighting, but certainly parents can watch their children so that they are not climbing up and down the bleachers or wandering in and out of the hall during a performance.

For those members of Community Concerts who have for years been wistfully requesting chamber music or solo strings, last Sunday must have been a particular delight. And after the Trio's success, these same people, instead of being satisfied, may be clamoring for more. Happy olution — invite the Beaux Arts Trio again! (Bill

Friday Opening Night For 'Three Angels'

It's opening night tomorrow, Friday, for the Hoffman Estates Theatre Guild play "My Three Angels."

Two performances of this Sam and Bella Spewack three-act comedy will be offered Friday and Saturday, at Parkside School, 233 E. Maple St., in Roselle.

Burr E. Lee Jr., a Park Ridge resident, directs the group in this story set in French Guiana in the early 1900s.

"THE THREE Angels" of the impractical storekeeper and his family are played by Ernie Wurm, Hank Netter, and Bill Schumacher.

Mike Vogt of Roselle is the storekeeper, Felix Ducotel; Maggie Martin, Hoffman Estates, his wife, Emilie, and Bloomingdale's Joan Holm is their jilted daughter, Marie Louise.

Sid Sicher is cousin Henri Trouchard, with Allen Johnson playing his nephew, Paul.

MICKI GERSTEIN is the spirited Mme. Parole. From Itasca will come Jerry Spurlock as the young Lieutenant.

"My Three Angels" begins the Hoffman Estates Theatre Guild's fifth season. Next on the production schedule will be a children's play, "Greensleeves Magic" slated for mid-February.

In the spring, a farce set in the quiz days of TV, "Grand Prize," will complete the season.

Tickets are still available for both performances. They may be purchased at the door on performance nights.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Holy Name Plans Meeting Monday

St. Thomas of Villanova Holy Name Society will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, Oct. 22, at 8:30 p.m. in St. Viator's High School's cafeteria. Plans for the coming year will be discussed at the meeting. George Connors, Chicago Bear Football radio commentator will be on hand to show movies of the 1961 Bear games, and to offer some inside tips on this year's performance.

Logging by Air

(AP

Giant helicopters will be used to haul logs from inaccessible forests in 1963, according to plans being formulated by a Pacific Northwest logging firm.

The helicopters, costing about $800,000 each, will still represent a saving in production costs over the present system which includes such costs as $100,000 a mile to cut logging roads through solid rock.

The 'copters would hook the logs on a dangling cable to transmit them from the woods to sawmills. Operating costs will run about $400 an hour.

NOT DUCK!
...but Crisp Long Island Duckling with luscious Bigarade Sauce and French Cognac Flambeau

Only plump, meaty Long Island Ducklings of just the right age and temperament meet Master Chef Gerd Huesken's specifications. First they're halved and BONED... not even a splinter is left. Slowly roasted and basted in a puree of orange and lemon juices melded with the duckling's own delicious gravy and mild herbs. Served under thin slices of fresh California orange. And for that "just right" crispness, covered with genuine French cognac dressing and flambeaued at your table by Maitre d' Rodriguez. Accompanied by our own wild rice recipe—not too dry—a perfect complement.

Truly continental cuisine served with old world attentiveness in a rich and luxurious atmosphere.

Extend Deadline In Solo Contest

Deadline for entry into the Contest for Instrumental Soloists sponsored by the Northwest Symphony Orchestra, has been extended to Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Although entries have been coming in at a good rate, some who intended to enter may have missed the Oct. 1 deadline, according to Perry Crafton, conductor.

The contest offers a first prize of $200, and a second prize of $75, each with a solo appearance with the Northwest Symphony. The winner will be presented at the April 28 concert.

THOSE interested may call Mrs. John Schwenke, 824-7727 for information and entry blanks.

The Northwest Symphony Orchestra Association opened its drive for associate and patron members on Oct. 7.

Associate and patron member contributions will remain unchanged: $10.00 for associates and $25 or more for patron members.

Associate members receive two tickets to each of the four concerts by mail before each concert. Patron members receive four tickets. If you wish to become a member please call Mrs. Savena Corsline, 824-1279 or Lawrence Wagner, 825-1038.

"I REMEMBER" BY The Old Timers

From Garnet Hill, Seagoville, Texas: I remember well 'the good old days' when we would fall out of bed at 4:00 A.M. and feed the livestock, eat breakfast and be in the cotton patch before daylight. Then we would sit and wait for daylight to come and sometimes even later for the dew to dry off. To this day, I have never understood why, we had to get to the field so early.

I also remember when it was considered sin for women to smoke cigarettes, although many old women regularly smoked a pipe.

Other things I remember are:

When boys wore BVD's, little girls' bloomers, and girl basketball players togged out in long black bloomers.

When the well-dressed young man wore a striped silk shirt and always carried a silk handkerchief.

Getting out of the car so the filling station man could fill the gas tank under the seat of the old Model T.

The ice man coming every other day, and buying a nickel's worth to use in our tea.

Emptying the drain pan from under the ice box.

Those wonderful meals that were served to the grain threshing crew.

Election returns flashed on the side of a building.

Tossing of turkeys off of tall buildings on Thanksgiving Day.

Watching the big Zeppelins pass over on their cross country flights.

Smoking my first home grown, home made cigar.

Traffic signals that ring a bell when they changed.

Fond memories—but better to be remembered than relived.

GIANT IN THE BACKYARD

Nowhere is the phenomenal growth of industry in the suburbs more apparent than in Centex Industrial Park (pictured above) in Elk Grove Village. Unobtrusive and inoffensive but vital and growing, the existence of this giant in the backyard is unknown to some, and taken for granted by others.

But its presence is a source of extreme satisfaction to Elk Grove Village fathers who see in it a rich lode of tax revenue. Not only will it mitigate the tax bill of individual homeowners, but the industrial park will provide jobs for a growing residential area.

Planned by Centex Construction Company, builders of Elk Grove Village, as an integral part of the community, ground was broken for the first plant five years ago.

The industrial complex started growing on a 740-acre site bounded by Devon Ave. on the south, Elmhurst Road on the east, Landmeier Road on the north and Busse Road on the west. Its acreage has since been doubled to include property between Busse and Tonne roads, making the park the nation's largest industrial installation located in one spot.

Ultimate plans call for 300 plants located in the park, employing about 28,000 people, and as each plant takes its place on the tax rolls, a greater share of the burden of financing local government and schools is assumed by industry.

The impact of an industry locating in the park is also felt in other areas of the economy. According to Marshall Bennett of Bennett and Kahnweiler, exclusive industrial real estate agents for the park, with every 100 new jobs created, an additional 74 workers are needed to serve them in other businesses, four more retail establishments come into being, and an added payroll of $590,000 produces an additional $360,000 in retail sales.

The first building started taking form in the park in October 1957. By the park's first anniversary, 13 other plant sites had been sold. October 1959 witnessed 35 sales; the next year 59 transactions had been completed. A year ago, the total climbed to 75, and now an additional 50 firms have made plans to build plants in the near future.

The logic behind locating the plant where it is stems from close proximity to O'Hare International Airport, the presence of the Northwest Tollway which places the Chicago Loop only 20 minutes driving time away, and the nearby Chicago & North Western Railroad and Milwaukee Road. The railroads brought track extensions into the park with a freight marshalling yard and sidings for every plant that would need them.

It is predicted that the next five years will bring the total value of land and buildings to almost $100 million.

In this special salute to the Centex Industrial Park—the giant in the backyard—we examine the history of the park, its present status, and the direction it can be expected to take in the future.

Industry Is Looking Toward Suburb Sites

Centex Park Model For New Projects

Marshall Bennett, industrial real estate expert, said this week that centex Industrial Park has become the model for expansion of industry into Chicago's northwest quadrant due to thoughtful community planning.

Bennett, whose firm Bennett and Kahnweiler is exclusive agent for the park on the eastern boundary of Elk Grove, said:

MARSHALL BENNETT

"The park has gained this distinction because working with Centex Construction Company we developed a land-use plan geared to the needs of industry and the needs of growing communities like Elk Grove Village.

"BY MEETING these needs we were able to take advantage of factors which initially caused industry to look toward the northwest as a prime plant location."

He pointed out that the major reason for this interest was the results of governmental studies which revealed that by 1980 population concentrations as large as 10,000 persons per square mile would exist in an area extending beyond Waukegan on the north, through the Fox River Valley to the west, into Will County on the south and east of Gary on the basin of Lake Michigan.

"The beginnings of this population boom," he noted, "already have produced the highest income levels in the Chicago metropolitan area, in addition to producing the best labor market and an extensive pool of management skills. These are vital factors considered by industry when confronted with a need or desire to relocate or build a new plant.

"Coupled with this," he went on, "was the completion of the Northwest Expressway network which provided the vital superhighway link needed by industry in order to locate in Chicago's northwest suburbs where extensive rail facilities already were in existence."

AN ADDED factor was O'Hare International Airport which has created a payroll of $150 million a year with 15 to 20 million people annually traveling to and from the northwest quadrant.

"There are even more factors," Bennett pointed out, "which make the area ready-made for industry. One is competition, the heartbeat of industry. Modern business in order to meet competition must modernize, develop more efficient production techniques and speed shipments of its products."

Bennett said Centex Industrial Park is the model of the northwest area's industrial expansion because the one ingredient necessary to draw all these factors together — a land-use program with the best interests of industry and residents in mind — was the guidepost for developments from the inception of the park five years ago.

"Centex studied and planned before launching the industrial park," he explained. "As a result Elk Grove now has an industrial development world-known for its planned streets, modern plants and attractive landscaping. All are important to the industrialist."

PLANNING OF residential streets, for instance, differs from planning streets in an industrial park, Bennett pointed out. A residential street pattern ideally should reduce through traffic in order to protect youngsters at play. An industrial street pattern calls for rapid movement of traffic. Residential streets do not bear heavy loads required of an industrial park street, neither do they have to be wide enough to permit maneuvering by large over-the-highway tractor-trailers.

"One of the reasons Centex Industrial Park is a model industrial community," Bennett said, "is it has streets tailored to industry's needs.

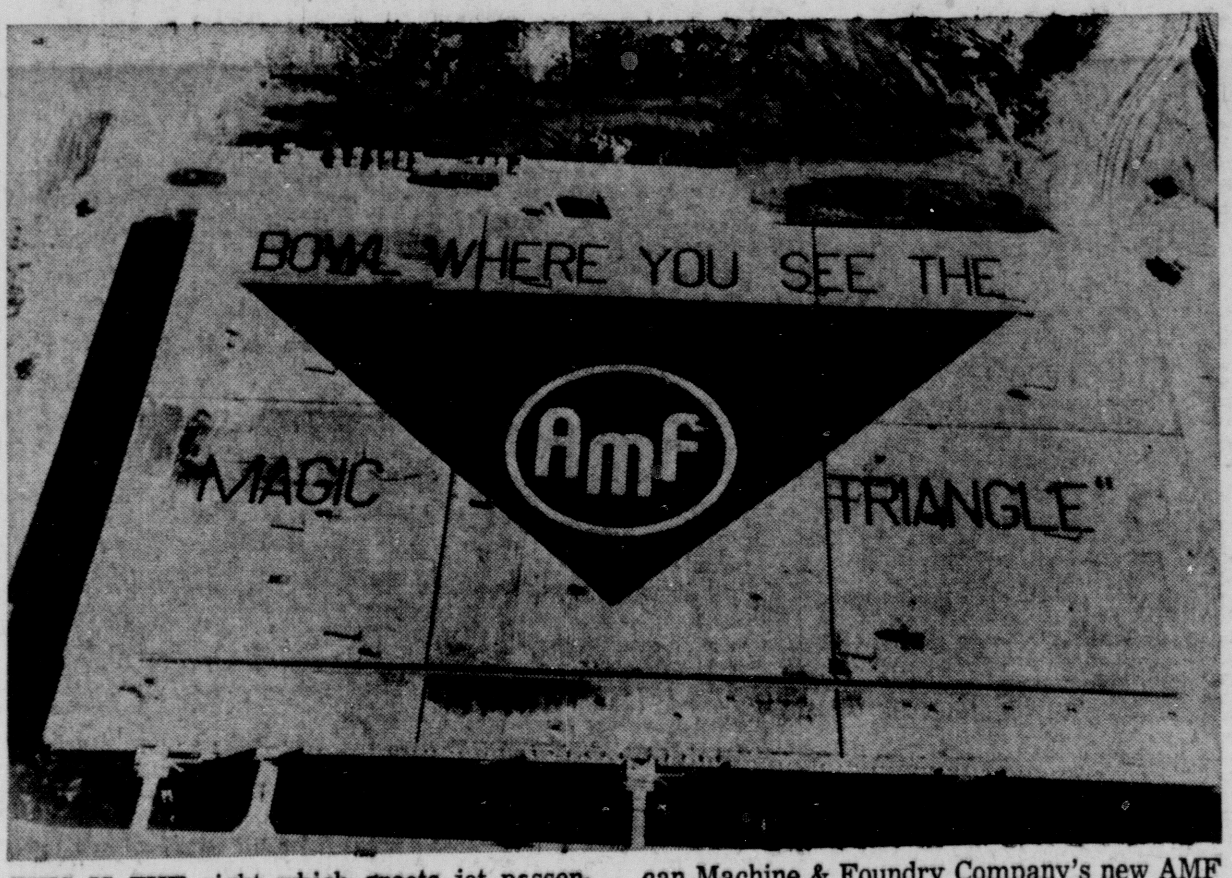
"The park also is located at the edge of Elk Grove close to highways, airport and rail facilities so that it does not interfere with life in the residential area. This gives homeowners privacy and gives industry a community of its own in which to do business without worry about traffic difficulties, parking problems or zoning restrictions commonly experienced when industry is more or less intermingled with housing."

BENNETT ALSO pointed out that Centex Industrial Park meets industry's space needs.

"Modern plants are single-level units because they are more efficient than older multi-storied buildings," he explained. "The desire to modernize is a prime reason for industry's move to the suburbs since World War II. Only there can they economically contruct new modern plants. Only there can they acquire land needed for future expansion at reasonable cost. It was with these considerations in mind that 1700 acres were set aside in Elk Grove Village for Centex Industrial Park. About 125 firms have purchased land to date and there is sufficient room for about 175 more without crowding."

Bennett said Centex's concept of Elk Grove was a balanced community planned so that industry and homeowners each would contribute in some very special way to the enrichment of the other.

"Centex realized the concept would lead to a self-sustained community with residential and industrial elements each mutually supporting the other," he explained. "How successful the concept has been is borne out by the fact that planning has made Centex Industrial Park the yardstick by which other industrial sites are measured."



THIS IS THE sight which greets jet passengers winging into O'Hare International Airport. It's the world's largest "billboard," a 450 by 225-foot sign on the roof of the American Machine & Foundry Company's new AMF Pinspotters Inc. building in the Centex Industrial Park, Elk Grove Village. (SS

Biggest 'Billboard' AFM Firm Mark

AMF Pinspotters, Inc., a subsidiary of American Machine & Foundry Company, occupies a 212,000 square-foot brick building on an 18-acre tract of land in Centex Industrial Park, Elk Grove Village.

The move to this building more than doubled the capacity of the company in the Chicago area.

LOCATED AT the corner of Lunt Ave. and Nicholas Blvd. in the industrial park, the plant is approximately one-half mile from O'Hare Field and is immediately accessible to the Illinois Toll Road.

AMF occupied the building in 1960.

AMF manufactures and distributes the famed AMF Automatic Pinspotters as well as a complete line of bowling equipment and supplies. The company maintains sales, services and training facilities in every section of the U. S. Midwest headquarters are at 6500 North Lincoln Ave., Chicago.

Millions of air travelers flying to and from Chicago's O'Hare International Airport annually get a bird's eye view of the world's largest billboard painted on the roof of AMF's Centex Plant.

The sign is a giant 45 by 225 foot replica of the AMF "Magic Triangle," symbol of the leading manufacturer of bowling supplies and equipment. The sign is in brilliant red on the roof of the warehouse, which serves as national supply warehouse for AMF.

THE CENTEX PLANT has more than 210 square feet where bowling supplies and equipment—from bowling balls to lumber for the lanes—stored in it. The plant is the central distribution point for equipment used in the building of the many modern AMF bowling centers in the United States.

In charge of the huge warehouse is G. L. Peery, vice president and general manager of AMF's Bowling Products Division. Elmer Rosenwinkel is warehouse superintendent.

16 Plants Designed By Firm

Centex Industrial Park is studded with buildings designed by the Chicago architectural firm of Busche & Markson, Inc.

Edward S. Busche, head of the firm, credited speed in design with ability to hold to low budgets, plus a large assist from Elk Grove Village for success in completing the design of 16 of the Park's modern plants.

HE SAID PROBLEMS were eliminated by the Village's building department which has always provided required information and assistance.

Busche stressed the importance of such cooperation because once a manufacturer decides to construct a new plant it must be completed promptly or the firm will lose money and valuable production time.

The 16 plants designed by Busche & Markson include buildings for Breaker Confections; Acme-Wiley Corporation, a sign manufacturer; Cutler Engineering Co., manufacturer of asphalt road-building equipment; and Centex Distribution Center, the Park's truck terminal.

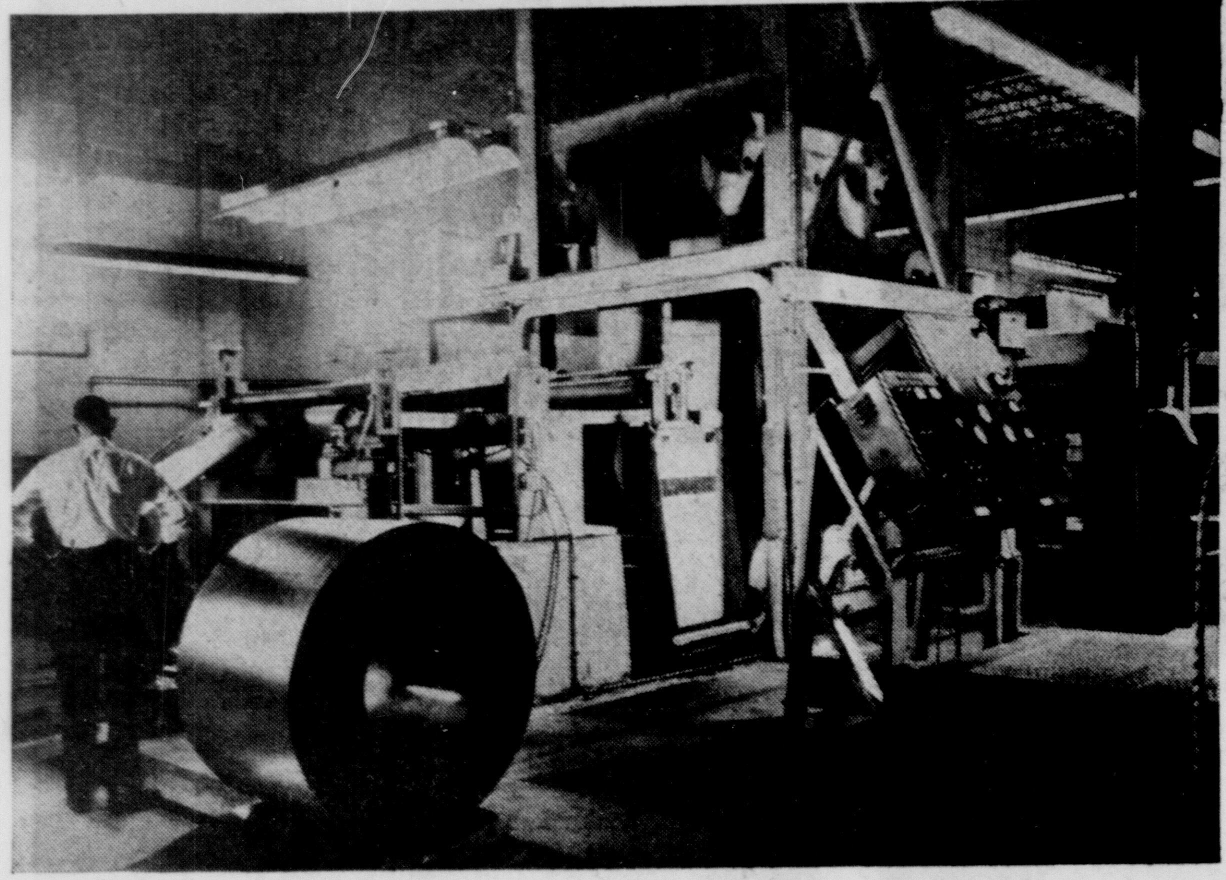
Metalworking Industry Locates in Centex

Jobs Provided for Skilled Workers

Everything in metal but the ore is the boast of the Centex Industrial Park Association when the manufacturers group discusses the metalworking industry that has developed during the past five years in the park.

"The list of plants working with metals is impressive," said Elmer G. Rosenwinkel, secretary of the association. "Included are 22 tool and die makers, machine shops, fabricators, platers, shapers, warehousers and manufacturers."



ONE OF 22 METALWORKING industries in Centex Park is Prefinished Metals, 2111 E. Pratt Blvd., Elk Grove Village. The firms represent a trend in industry today—the desire for plant sites where neighbors are in related businesses, sharing common goals and problems. (SS

They, he added, provide a source of employment for skilled workers living in Elk Grove and adjacent areas and pinpoint Centex Industrial Park as service and supply center for manufacturers throughout the country.

"THE ALUMINUM industry," said Rosenwinkel, "is represented by The Conroth Company which extrudes custom shapes; National Rollex Corporation and Win-Chek Corporation, manufacturers of aluminum building materials; and Royal Aluminum Windows, which makes aluminum storm windows."

The steel industry is represented by three warehouse facilities. Atlantic Steel Company provides basic steel material for a variety of general needs. Uddeholm Company of America distributes specialty steels manufactured in its Swedish plants. Sprague Iron Works specializes in supplying structural steel.

"Probably the largest single group in the park dealing in the metal trades," Rosenwinkel pointed out, "is the machine shops and tool and die makers. They include R. J. Frisby Manufacturing Co., Portage Tool Co., Quali-Tech Machine & Engineering Co., Seko Tool & Engineering Co. and Skild Manufacturing Co.

"Among those manufacturing screw machine products are Bond Precision Products Co. and Vek Screw Machine Products Co."

ROSENWINKEL also explained there are several firms specializing in various aspects of metalworking. As examples, he cited Boltmaster Corporation which makes special fasteners for the construction and related industries; Perfecto Engineering, manufacturing of punch press feeds and associated equipment; and Shaffer Spring Co. which produces all types of springs.

"Clark Brass and Copper Co.," he said, "has the current distinction of being the only firm in the park working solely in brass and copper, but if the pattern of the past continues there will be others.

"It has been the Association's experience that the same inducements which attract any given company to locate in Centex also attract related firms. That's the beauty of an industrial community planned for the needs of industry.

"This was the case of C. A. Dahlin & Co., which fabricates components of metal products for other manufacturers like the working parts of commercial coffee urns, and National Metal Fabricators which plans a building in the park. One firm attracted the other."

IN ADDITION, the park boasts two firms vital to certain segments of the metal products industry. They are Crown Rheostat and Supply Co. and Pre Fininsh Metals Co.

Crown Rheostate makes automated equipment for plating of metal parts. One of its systems is a production line which enables a single man to zinc plate 25,000 electrical terminal boxes in an eight-hour shift.

Pre Finish specializes in the plating and finishing of coil steel and aluminum. It coats metals used in the manufacture of products as diverse as automatic washers and children's toys.

"These 22 firms represent a definite trend in industry today—the desire for plant sites where neighbors are in related businesses, sharing common goals and problems. Centex is an example of how such a trend can be strengthened by providing a choice location planned for the requirements of such industries." (SS

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

INDEFINABLE; incapable of being defined. "She has an indefinable charm."

SOMNOLENT; sleepy; drowsy. "I remember him as a lazy, rather somnolent boy."

INDEFEASIBLE; incapable of being annulled or made void. "His right to the inheritance was indefeasible."

COLLABORATOR; one who labors jointly with another. "His friend was his collaborator in the preparation of the manuscript."

PUNGENT; causing a sharp sensation, as of the taste, smell, or feelings. "A pungent odor filled the room."

Everyone Has Enjoyed Food Prepared in Groen Kettles

There's hardly a person in the country who has not eaten food prepared in stainless steel kettles manufactured in Centex Industrial Park.

Every week a stream of steam-jacketed kettles of all sizes flows from the prize-winning Groen Manufacturing Company plant to all sections of the nation.

The kettles are used by major restaurants, hotels, hospitals and schools. If you have eaten in McCormick Place — the biggest kitchen in Chicago—much of the food was prepared in a Groen kettle.

WHEN YOU AND travelers from all over the world dine in the Carson Pirie Scott and Company restaurant building under construction at O'Hare International Airport your food will be prepared by the finest chefs in Groen kettles.

And if you have stood in a chow line at an Army base or aboard a naval vessel, chances are your food was cooked in a kettle made in the 100,000 square-foot building at 1900 Pratt Boulevard.

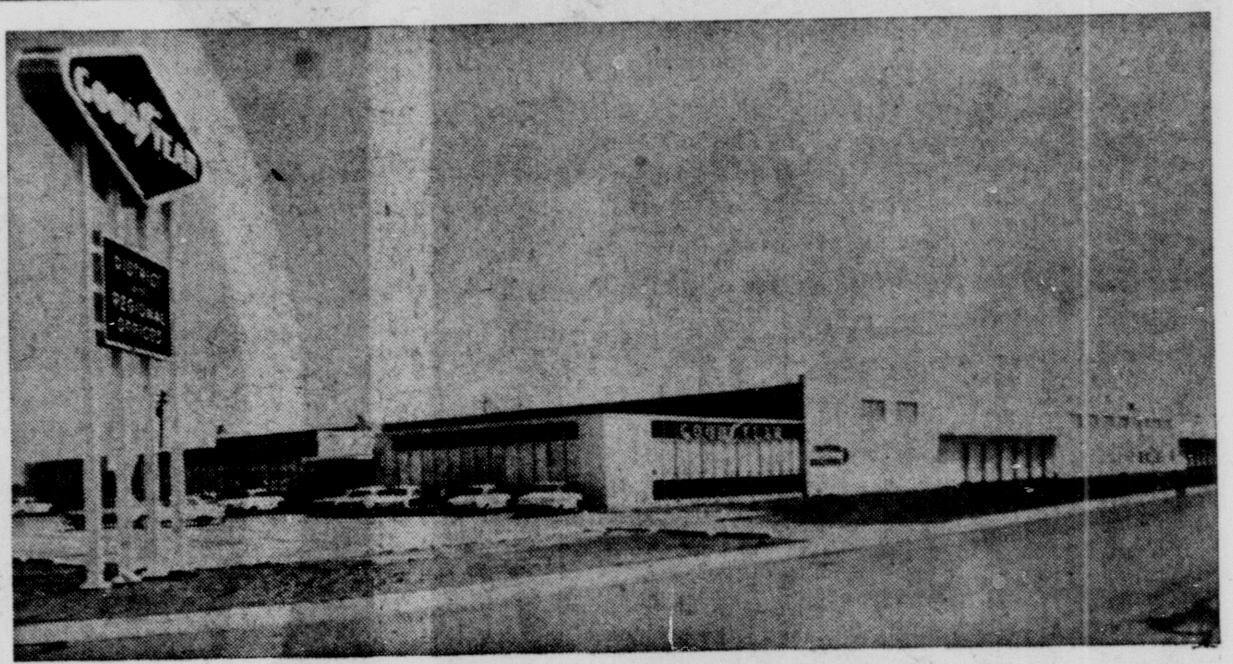
Fred Groen Jr., president, explained the firm was founded in 1907 in a plant on Chicago's West Side. However, in the mid-50's an expanding business decreed a need for larger and more modern facilities.

LIKE SO MANY other firms faced with the same need, Groen moved in 1959 to Centex Industrial Park where the company now employs about 200 people.

"We wanted a pleasant place for our people to work," said Groen. "They are skilled welders, polishers, grinders, pipefitters and machinists who, like most people, work better in pleasant surroundings.

"We have never regretted our decision and have always been happy to recommend Centex Industrial Park as a plant site without qualification. Our decesion to move there was influenced by complete and excellent facilities, and now, after three years, we are pleased to report many plus benefits."

GROEN MANUFACTURING Company, shown above, has won a prize for its architecture. However, Fred Groen, Jr., president, has more pride in the fact that there is hardly a person in the country who at one time or another has not eaten food prepared in a steam-jacketed stainless steel kettle manufactured in the plant. (SS



AMONG THE MORE than 100 firms located or soon to build in Centex Industrial Park is Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company which maintains its Midwest district and regional offices there. (SS

Modern Packaging Is Created in Elk Grove

Centex Plants Share 'Bond'

Centex Industrial Park is attracting a wide diversity of manufacturers to maintain its position as the nation's fastest growing industrial installation.

However, among this diversification is the growth of related industries which find a common bond in Elk Grove's planned industrial area.

"An example of this," explained Howard G. Krafsur, vice president of the park's exclusive agent, Bennett and Kahnweiler, "is the packaging industry."

KRAFSUR POINTED out that at least eight of the firms in the park turn out many of the packages seen every day on supermarket and other store shelves.

"And," he continued, "the park's packaging indusry is really up-to-date. Individual companies make all types of modern packages from squeeze bottles to spray cans."

Continental Can, Krafsur pointed out, recently opened a plant at Higgins and Elmhurst Roads for the manufacture of plastic squeeze bottles which are "the latest thing" for liquid and many powdered products.

"R. C. Can Co.," he added, "manufactures a new fiber oil can that the experts predict will one day completely replace tinplate cans so familiar to every motorist.

"Just as modern a concept as plastic containers and fiber cans is used by Gene Rose Chemicals. The firm manufactures aerosols for such products as paints you can spray directly from the can, shaving creams and other similar products."

STILL ANOTHER new packaging method is made possible by Blo-Mold Plastics, which manufactures plastic liners for containers used in the shipment of chemicals and other liquids that would corrode or attack unprotected metal drums. The firm's 55-gallon liner is the largest approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for transporting chemicals across state lines.

"On the less spectacular side," Krafsur said, "are Field Container Corporation and Rockwell-Barnes Co. which specialize in fiber-bodied and paper containers and packages. Western Kraft Corporation and Chicago Corrugated Box Co. currently have buildings under construction where they will make corrugated boxes in which more fragile packages are shipped.

"Then there is Mosstype Corporation which makes flexible printing plates that enable manufacturers to print and decorate packages no matter how odd the shape.

"And to round out the picture, Chicago Printed String Co. is building a plant to make ribbons, bows and all the other things we use to wrap presents."

Launch Trewax Firm From Kitchen Stove

The phenomenal growth of Elk Grove Village and Centex Industrial Park is matched by more than a few of the industries that have become an integral part of the community in the past five years.

One of these is the Trewax Company located on Scott St. off Higgins Road.

In 1949, the firm was launched on a kitchen stove in Culver City, Cal., when Harry Fox and his family began manufacture of a floor wax of the highest possible quality.

From the beginning the demand for Trewax — named for the carnauba palms which produce its prime ingredient — was overwhelming. It became so great that when the firm moved into its first manufacturing plant in 1950 it was outgrown within a year.

A SECOND factory was outgrown in two years. By 1955, Trewax moved into a new 12,000 square foot building that has been added to twice since. In 1958, Trewax came to the Midwest to absorb and service fast-growing demand there and in the East for Trewax products.

Two years later, the Centex plant was in full production. Drawing on past experience, the facility was constructed with built-in expansion features that will enable the firm to triple its present operation when necessary.

The Centex plant is one of the most highly automated factories of its kind. Modern equipment enables two men to do the work of 17 in turning out 1,000 cases of Trewax products each day.

FOX SAID the secret of the Trewax success story was a belief that a demand existed for a high-quality floor wax even though it would be priced well above competitive items.

At the heart of the Trewax line is 59 per cent base of carnauba — the world's hardest natural wax—blended with pure gum turpentine and other hard waxes from all over the world.

This compound has borne out Fox's original contention in the rapid expansion of the line which includes clear and colored paste wax, liquid waxes and cleaners, tinted concrete waxes, the only practical products for the care and waxing of flagstone, and automobile cleaners and waxes.

"YOUNG AS WE are," said Fox, "the Trewax Company has proved undeniably that quality will sell. It is the same theory that has made Elk Grove Village an outstanding residential community in such a short time and has made Centex Industrial Park the fastest growing project of its kind in the country."

Coffee Shop Is Haven of Hungry

Mr. Edward's Coffee Shop, on Landmeier and Route 83 in Elk Grove Village, is a 24-hour-a-day haven for the man who needs food in a hurry.

According to owner Fred Hamilton, the shop has a capacity of 100. He serves a complete luncheon.

Mr. Edward's was opened June 18 of this year.

Q. I have received an announcement to a wedding, but was not invited to either the wedding or reception. Should I send a gift?

A. This would depend upon circumstances. If the wedding was small and not many guests were invited and if you think a lot of the bride or groom, you might send a gift. If, however, you were omitted from quite a large list of guests, you need not send a gift.

Park Representatives

Bennett, Kahnweiler: Industry Specialists

Marshall Bennett and Louis S. Kahnweiler, exclusive representatives for Centex Industrial Park, organized their firm of Bennett and Kahnweiler in 1946 to specialize in the sale, leasing and development of industrial property.

Since establishing their partnership, they have handled approximately $200 million worth of industrial transactions in the Chicago area and in such communities as San Francisco; Jersey City; Louisville; Elyria, Ohio; Kalamazoo, Owosso, Vassar and Albion, Michigan; and San Rafael, California.

THEIR FIRST multi-million dollar transactions occurred during 1949 in negotiations for Western Electric Company and Carson Pirie Scott and Company, major Chicago department store chain. Since, they have handled similar transactions for such firms as Admiral Corporation, American Can Company, Fruehauf Trailer Company and Montgomery Ward and Company.

In 1951, Bennett and Kahnweiler began to pay greater attention to development of industrial parks in the belief such facilities were not only needed but were vital to the natural growth of industry.

THEIR FIRST major effort in the development of industrial complexes was in the northwestern section of Chicago on Northwest Highway. Over a three-year period, the firm negotiated for the construction of more than 15 buildings for firms like Raybestos-Manhattan, Cutter Laboratories, Sunshine Biscuit, Jenkins Brothers Valve, Bromo-Seltzer, H. L. Porter, Holt, Rinehart and Winston and Skil Corporation.

This was followed by development of a light industrial and commercial warehouse project in Lincolnwood, Illinois, adjacent to Chicago. Bennett and Kahnweiler developed 19 build-to-suit lease programs for such firms as American Machine and Foundry, ANSCO Division of General Aniline and Film, Hills-McCanna, CIBA, McGraw-Hill and Rand-McNally.

THEY SUBSEQUENTLY participated in the development of the O'Hare Industrial Center at River Road and Lawrence Avenue in Schiller Park, Illinois. Some 26 firms were located in this park within three years. They included The Borden Company, A. S. Aloe Division of Brunswick Corporation, Square D Corporation, Chicago Printed String Corporation and Coleman Heating Equipment Company.

In addition, they developed Gateway Industrial Park immediately north of O'Hare Industrial Center and were co-developers of a $3,500,000 restaurant and motor hotel in Lincolnwood which is part of the Hyatt House chain.

In 1957, Bennett and Kahnweiler joined with Centex Construction Company, the nation's largest home construction firm, to become exclusive representatives for Centex Industrial Park.

THE PARK IS part of Elk Grove Village, Illinois, a planned suburb touching the northwestern edge of Chicago. It is being developed under a plan of residential, commercial and industrial areas coordinated to build a community with a sound economic base and geared to meet future requirements of the most rapid growing part of the Chicago metropolitan area.

Since its inception, Centex Industrial Park has grown faster than any other facility of its kind. More than 100 firms had built plants or planned to build by early 1962 when the acquisition of 740 acres of land from General Electric Company made the Park's 1800-acre area the foremost planned industrial complex in the country.

During this period of industrial park development, the Bennett and Kahnweiler organization also grew in the brokerage field, representing such firms as Sharp & Dohme, Phelps Dodge Corporation, Beechnut Packing Company, Socony Mobil Oil Company, Crane Company, Columbia Broadcasting System, Santa Fe Railroad and Proctor and Gamble.

Staff additions needed through the years to handle increased activities have included Sidney Cheresh, outstanding industrial realtor in the brokerage field, and Howard Krafsur who heads a commercial properties division handling shopping centers and other commercial ventures.

Integral Part of Village

Industrial Park Provides Stable Tax Base

Jobs and Revenue Result of Complex

Five years ago this month when Elk Grove Village was only a year old, ground was broken for the first plant in Centex Industrial Park.

Construction of a combination warehouse-office building for Franklin MacVeagh Corporation at the corner of Busse Road and Pratt Blvd. launched a new stage of growth for the community—growth which will have a profound effect on the lives of Elk Grove Village residents for years to come.

"Centex Construction Company planned the park from the beginning as an integral part of the village," explained Marshall Bennett of Bennett and Kahnweiler which is its exclusive industrial real estate agent.

CENTEX wanted," he went on, "to make Elk Grove a complete community with its own industrial complex to provide a source of tax revenue which would contribute to the growth of the community and maintain a stable tax base. It also wanted industry to provide jobs for the growing residential area."

To achieve this goal, Elk Grove's industrial complex was launched on a 740-acre site bounded by Devon Ave. on the south, Elmhurst Road on the east, Landmeier Road on the north and Busse Road on the west. Since then the acreage has been doubled to include the property between Busse and Tonne Roads—making the park the nation's largest industrial installation located in one spot.

"The choice of this part of the village for the industrial park was pure logic," Bennett said. "First there was O'Hare and the expressway with the Elmhurst Interchange only 800 yards north of the park and 20 minutes from Chicago's Loop.

"The Chicago and North Western Railroad—teaming up with the Milwaukee Road — brought track extensions into the area with a freight marshalling yard and sidings for every plant that would need them. It was all there—the land was there, Centex was there, and industry could be there."

BENNETT POINTED out that the comprehensive land-use plan that was developed for Centex Industrial Park incorporated the finest features of industrial parks from all over the country. For instance, a separate area of nine and a half million square feet was developed to the north of Higgins Road to accommodate smaller industries that required as little as half-acre parcels.

"In an industrial park like Centex," he explained, "one acre is as much a VIP as 20, and each VIP—very important parcel—was given every vital utility necessary for the fullest development of the site: power, gas, curbs and gutters, sidewalks and streets, fire protection and unromantic things like sanitary sewers and storm drainage and water pressure."

This careful planning and attention to the needs of industry has paid off.

The first building was begun in the park in October, 1957. By the same time the following year, 13 other plant sites had been sold. October 1959 saw 35 sales; October 1960, 59. A year ago the total climbed to 75; and now an additional 50 firms have made plans to build plants in the near future.

THE REAL IMPACT of what this means to residents of Elk Grove is only just beginning to be felt, according to Bennett.

"Ultimately there will be 300 plants in the park employing about 28,000 people," he explained. "As each plant is placed on the tax rolls, a greater share of the burden of financing local government and running the schools will be taken over by industtry. This means the village board will be able to lower its basic tax rate and still provide the fine services a growing community needs.

"It also means that with every 100 new jobs created in the park, an additional 74 workers are needed to serve them in other businesses, four more retail establishments come into being and an added payroll of $590,000 produces an additional $360,000 in retail sales.

"When the final figures are calculated they will be in the millions bringing growth and prosperity for the future."

The growth of the park has exceeded the most optimistic expectations. During the first eight months of this year, at least 37 plants were completed, started or announced in Centex Industrial Park. This far exceeded the number of new plants established in other industrial installations in the Chicago area.

Bennett said the value of the 94 acres of land combined with construction costs for 27 acres of plant space involved in the 37 facilities exceeded $10,500,000, with additional millions invested in equipment, machinery and furniture.

He revealed the 19 firms which completed facilities since the first of the year in Centex built plants with a total area of 13 acres on 49 acres of land at an estimated total cost of $5,500,000.

THESE FIRMS included Continental Can Co.; General Motors' Euclid Division; Holt, Rinehart and Winston; Uddeholm Company of America; Clark Brass and Copper Co.; Breaker Confections; Charlescraft Corp.; C. A. Dahlin & Co.; Greenfield Co.; Nutri-Bio, Inc.; Portage Tool Co.; Royal Aluminum Windows; Morse Chain Division of Borg-Warner Corp.; Blo-Mold Plastics Co.; Penry Company; Outler Engineering Co.; Trammell Crow, Inc.; Quali-Tech Machine and Engineering Co.; and Bond Precision Products Co.

Facilities ranged from Royal Aluminum's 12,000 square-foot building on 125,000 square feet of land and Holt, Rinehart and Winston's 100,000 square-foot automated book warehouse on a 300,000 square-foot site.

Bennett said the park was a virtual beehive of construction activity with at least 12 large and small firms currently pushing completion of buildings valued at $3,500,000.

These firms are constructing 10 acres of facilities on 26 acres of land. They include the United Parts Division of Echlin Manufacturing Co.'s 110,000 square-foot building, Acme-Willey Corp.'s 35,000, Neptune World-Wide Moving's 10,000, Walter M. Carqueville Co.'s 25,000, Chicago Printed String Company's 20,000, General Bathroom Products Co.'s 50,000, Thorlief Larsen & Son's 10,000, R. J. Frisby's 15,000, H. Lapin's 30,300 and 15,000 and 70,000 square-foot buildings being constructed for leaseback.

THE GROWING LIST of firms moving into the northwestern suburbs will become even larger when seven other companies break ground in the park for new facilities.

E. J. Burke & Co., Blackstone Manufacturing Co., Raco Industrial Corporation, Chicago Corrugated Box Co., Anocut Engineering Co. are among those firms slated to start construction in the near future, in addition to J. R. Gottlieb which plans to build two other leaseback buildings.

In all, the seven buildings will include four acres of plant space on 19 acres of land. Total value of land and construction is estimated at $1,500,000.

The next five years should bring the total number of plants to 250 and the total value of land and buildings to almost $100 million.

Arlington Oil Offers Top Service

Arlington Oil Company, 215 W. Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, offers a number of special services to customers.

These include an automatic "keep-full" service, printed meter receipts, a monthly budget plan, and a 24-hour emergency delivery service. The company also gives redeemable "plaid stamps."

It handles Sinclair Heating Oil.

Owners are William Lussow of Arlington Heights and William Jonas of Des Plaines.

D. J. Velo Is Top Builder of Plants

A firm even younger than Centex Industrial Park has become one of the top builders of plants in Elk Grove's industrial Park.

D. J. Velo & Co., formed only 18 months ago by Donald J. Velo, has in that time constructed 20 plants in the Park.

Velo, former vice president of another well-known general contractoring firm, said the buildings ranged from 10,000 to 110,000 square feet. In all, the 20 plants total 1,100,000 square feet.

ONE OF THE PLANTS for which the firm has been general contractor is the 106,000 square-foot structure at Nicholas Boulevard and Touhy Avenue which houses Holt, Rinehart and Winston's automated book warehouse and Midwest distribution center.

Currently under construction is Echlin Manufacturing Company's United Parts Division plant. The structure, to consist of 108,000 square feet, will be devoted to the manufacture of brake parts, speedometer cables, ignition systems and other automotive components.

Still another plant Velo has under construction is Chicago Printed String Co.'s 20,000 square-foot structure.

The Maitre d' has become one of the favorite gathering places of Centex Industrial Park executives.

William Rose, owner of the restaurant in the Park 'N Shop center at Arlington Heights and Higgins Roads, has served the industrialists breakfast, lunch and dinner and has catered private business parties since his establishment opened about a year ago.

In addition, the Matre d' is the location of several meeetings held each year by the Centex Industrial Park Association, the official organization through which the manufacturers maintain liaison with Elk Grove's government and the developers of the Park.

Plastic Bottle Producer

Continental Can Ushers in 'Glamour' Packaging Field

In its ever-increasing desire to provide the American housewife with the most modern and convenient packaging, an old company has become a major producer of plastic bottles in the new community of Elk Grove Village.

On July 23, 1962, Continental Can Company, Inc., a major producer of containers of all types, opened a new plant in the Centex Industrial Park producing plastic bottles.

Working in its modern, new, blue building, in Elk Grove and utilizing a production area of 120,000 square feet and ultimately employing over 300 people on a seven-day week, 24-hour basis, Continental plans to lead the field in the plastic container industry.

ACCORDING TO Frank U. Mummert, plant manager, the plastic bottle is moving from the "glamour" packaging field into a common household container that every modern housewife would not find herself without.

The development of the polyethylene plastic bottle, says Mummert, was the start of a packaging revolution. First put in use after World War II in a small squeeze bottle, the use of polyethylene plastic has developed on a broad plane.

Polyethylene, the plastic most often used in bottle manufacturing, was first discovered in the early days of World War II and put to use in squeeze bottles in 1947.

Continental Can Company first began its utilization of polyethylene in the manufacture of bottles some six years later. Since that time Continental has become one of the prime users of this type of plastic, producing containers for most heavy duty detergents, household ammonias, fabric softeners, shoe polishes, liquid starches, wax removers, liquid soaps and a vast number of other chemical products.

A new field of products that Continental is pioneering is in the area of food packaging.

Already producing plastic bottles for honey and condiments, Continental through its vast research and development facilities, is working to develop plastic containers for other food items such as milk and other items.

CHARLES F. Lenhard, young general manager of Continental's Plastic Container Division, has guided its growth in the plastic container field. Starting with one small pilot plant on Chicago's northwest side, Lenhard has guided his division in a phenomenal period of growth to plants in Baltimore, Md., Cleveland, Ohio, Houston, Tex., Southgate, Calif., Cincinnati, Ohio, and now Elk Grove Village.

The placing of Continental's new plant in Elk Grove, says Lenhard, was because this area of Chicagoland is like Continental's plastic container division, a growing force, close enough to the big Midwest market, yet in a community that is modern in its outlook, young in development and broad in development possibilities.

Continental Can Company, Inc. expects to contribute and grow in this type of community. "In fact," says Lenhard, "we have already broken ground for expansion to our present building."

White Way Is Designer Of Signs

The white trucks of White Way Electric Sign and Maintenance Co. are a familiar sight to firms in Centex Industrial Park.

White Way is the organization which designed and installed the identification signs for the nation's foremost industrial installation.

To conform to the area's park landscaping, Tom Flannery Jr., head of White Way, and his organization, designed main entrance identification with illuminated year-round planting. And to make Centex Industrial Park "stand out like a jewel" they illuminated the Park's water storage tanks so that they now are landmarks for aircraft in the area.

In Elk Grove

Lowest Rate Of Taxes in State Seen

Centex Industrial Park's future has a direct bearing on the future of Elk Grove Village and its citizens, James R. Gibson, village president, pointed out this Thursday.

Gibson in discussing the fifth anniversary of the park said most suburban communities were out of balance with emphasis on housing creating a need for tax revenue that could be provided by the home owner.

"In Elk Grove," he said "we have the advantage of living in a community with balanced residential and industrial elements. This achieves stability. As the residential section grows, a pool of labor is created which, in turn, attracts more industry. As industry moves into the community it begins to shoulder a share of the taxes."

Gibson said the figures show the advantages of the balanced community. For instance, Elk Grove's current tax rate is $4.805 per $100 of assessed valuation. Of this the village receives $.415.

During 1962-63 the village will receive approximately $126,000 in real estate taxes. Of this, approximately $75,000, or more than half, will come from industry in Centex Industrial Park. Other sources will provide the remaining $121,000 of the $247,000 budget.

"PERHAPS EVEN more important," Gibson continued, "is the fact that firms in Centex Industrial Park also contribute a share of school taxes which make up the biggest single part of the tax dollar. Without the industry in the park, Elk Grove residents probably would either have to pay higher taxes or face the curtailment of services which would impede growth of their community."

Gibson said the concept of a balanced industrial - residential community promised a bright future for home owners in the village.

"Over the years," he pointed out, "as more plants are built, industry will pay a greater share of the taxes. This is bound to be reflected in stability of taxes paid by home owners. If the park grows as anticipated, ultimately we may have the lowest taxe rate in the state."

FIRMS IN CENTEX Industrial Park manufacture all types of packages and packaging materials. R. C. Can Co. (shown above) specializes in the manufacture of fiber-bodied oil cans which the experts expect to ultimately replace tinplate cans familiar to every motorist. (SS

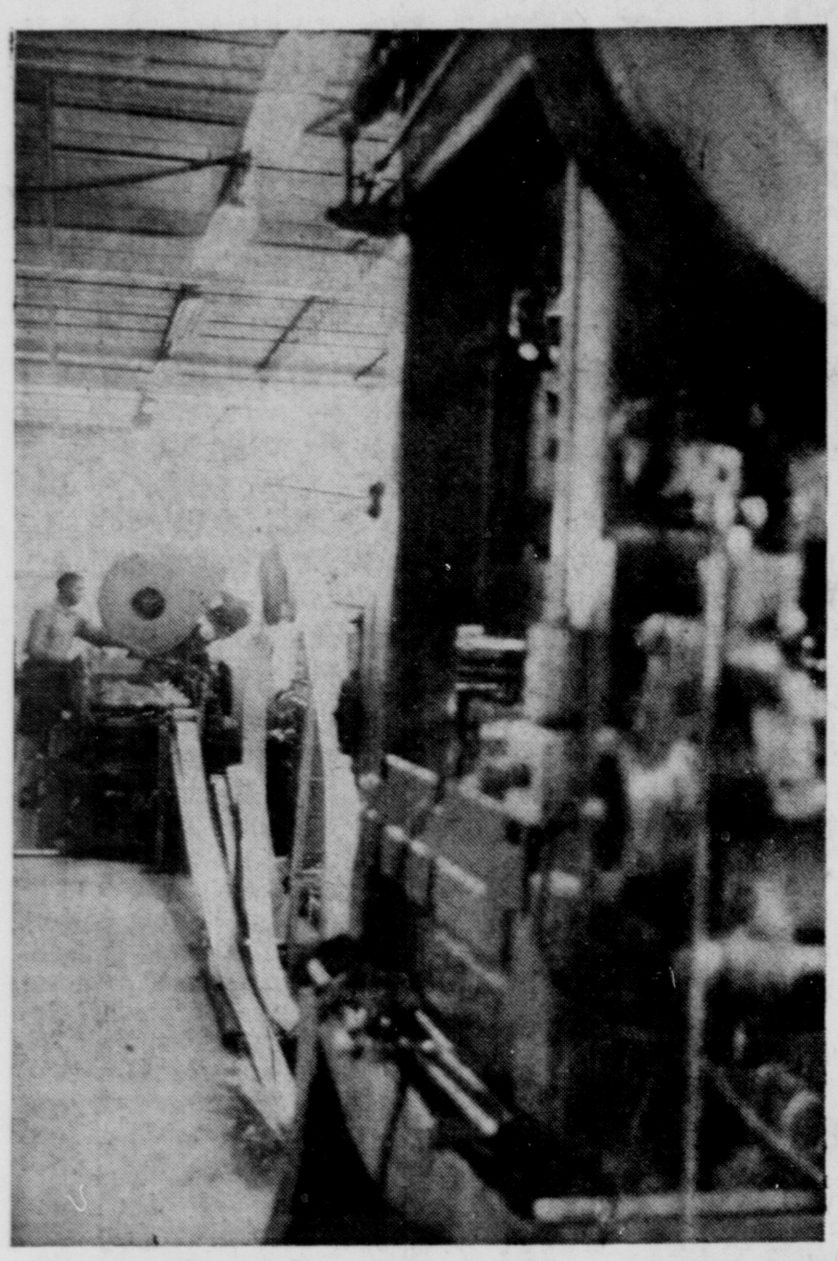
Industrial Park Is 'Miniature Detroit'



CENTEX INDUSTRIAL PARK includes a number of firms which supply the automotive industry, including Sterling Automotive Co., 2140 Lunt, Elk Grove Village. Pictured above is Odis Freeman working on a punch press with the rolling mill operation in the foreground. (SS

Centex Industrial Park cannot be called "Little Detroit" but it is one of the largest suppliers of products for the automotive industry and motorists in the Chicago area.

"I don't know of any other section," explained Louis S. Kahnweiler of Bennett and Kahnweiler, exclusive agent for the park, "where there is gathered in one spot such a large complex of firms serving car makers."

Kahnweiler pointed out that the firms range from Echlin Manufacturing Co.'s United Parts Division, which makes ignition systems, brake and speedometer cables and brake fluids to The Greenfield Company which manufactures safety seat belts.

"INCLUDED in the Centex complex of automotive suppliers are S. K. Wellman Co. and Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., Kahnweiler went on. "Wellman is a prominent manufacturer of metal brake and clutch plates. Goodyear, of course, needs no introduction as one of the largest tire manufacturers in the country."

According to Kahnweiler, the complex will become larger in the near future.

For instance, Blackstone Manufacturing Company, one of the nation's foremost manufacturers of shock absorbers and automotive parts, soon will join the complex with the first unit of what ultimately will be 160,000 square feet of plant and office space.

ANOTHER FIRM planning to become a member of the complex is Standard Unit Parts Co., which is a nationwide distributor of replacement automotive parts.

"Already old-timers in the Park," Kahnweiler pointed out, "are Sachs Automotive Products rebuilder of transmissions and Sterling Automotive Manufacturing Co.

"In addition, Borg-Warner's Morse Chain Division has a facility for distribution and manufacture of mechanical power transmission products used in trucks and other heavy-duty vehicles."

Kahnweiler added that heavy equipment also was represented by the Euclid Division of General Motors Corporation, manufacturer of earthmoving equipment; Howell Tractor and Equipment Co., distributors of earthmoving and other heavy-duty equipment; and Raco Industrial Corporation, rebuilder of heavy-duty automotive equipment.

"But the automotive complex does not stop there," he stressed. "Penray Company manufactures the chemical specialties every motorist needs to keep his car clean and engine in perfect working order. And for those who want to do something about the scratches that somehow cannot be avoided, there is Dupli-Color Products Co., the country's leading producer of automotive touch-up paint."

THE MORSE CHAIN Division of Borg-Warner Corporation handles its Midwest business from this building in Centex Industrial Park. The manufacturer of heavy-duty power drive equipment is one of a sizable group of firms producing products for the automotive industry. (SS

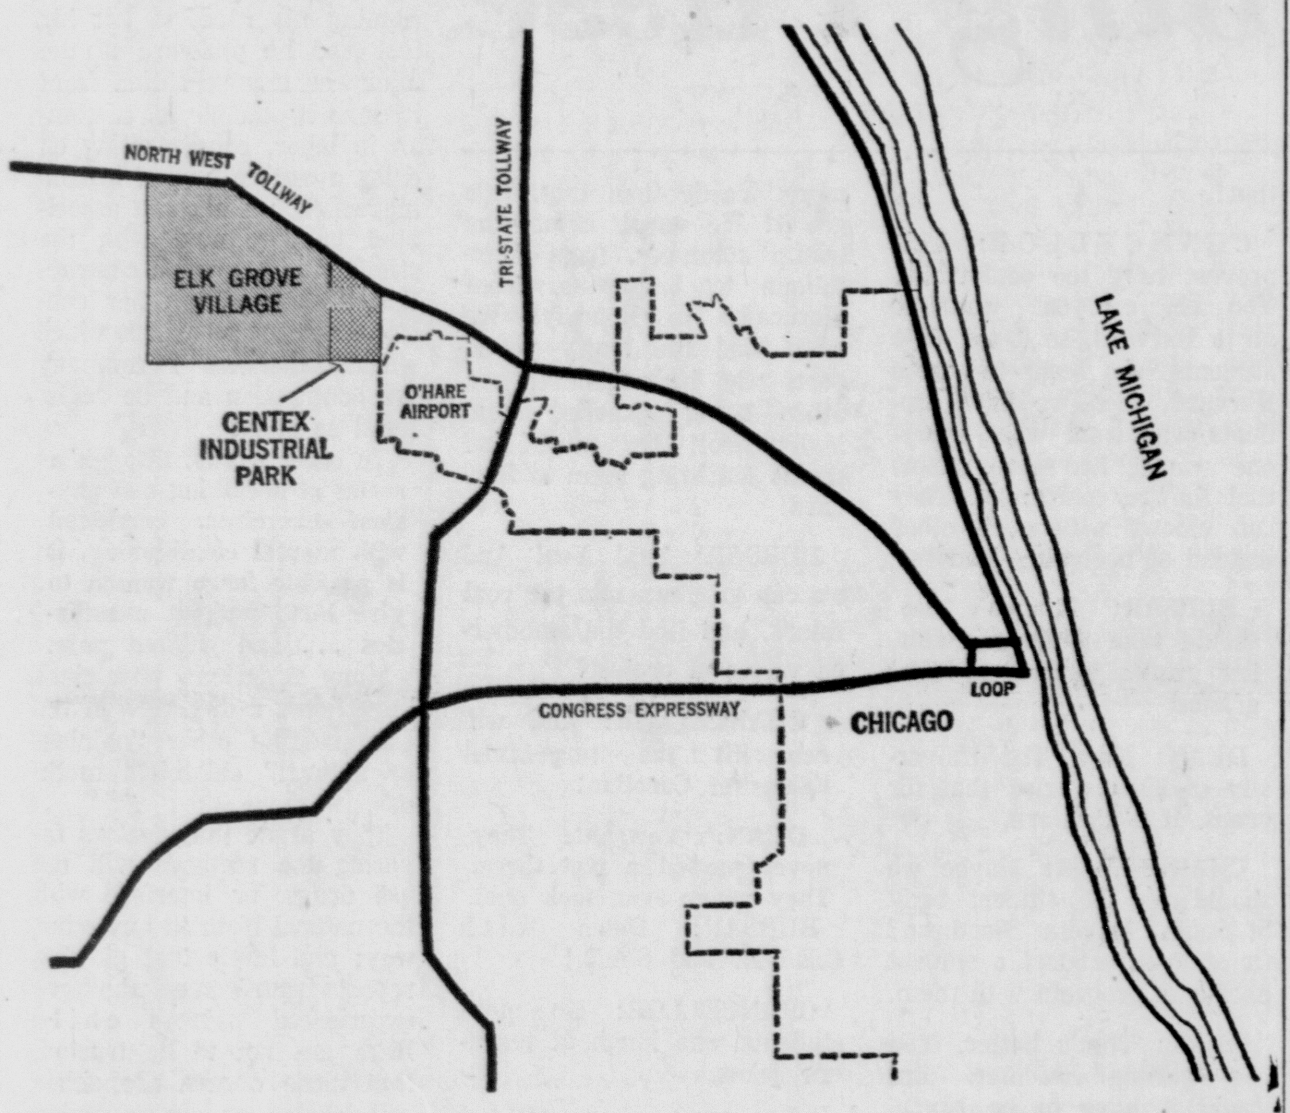
Industrial Park Developers Nation's Top Building Firm



MAP SHOWS the location of Elk Grove Village's Centex Industrial Park in relation to the state tollway system and O'Hare International Airport. This and the availability of rail transport on the Chicago & North Western and Milwaukee Road influenced situating the park in its present location. (SS

Tom Lively established Centex Construction Company in the post-war years on the theory a new kind of construction organization was needed to help house home-hungry Americans and construct facilities for the nation's expanding industry.

The organization had to be geared for large-scale developments, able to adapt its basic skills to any type of construction and ready to move anywhere quickly with financial resources on a scale unthought of before in the building industry.

THESE RESOURCES came from the Murchison interests which were enthusiastic over the contribution a truly nationwide construction company could make toward the country's growth.

Starting in its home city of Dallas, the firm rapidly expanded to launch construction projects in California, Illinois, Idaho, Oklahoma, Indiana, Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Florida, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

By 1960 Centex had started some 25,000 units having a total evaluation in excess of $400 million.

In the mid-50's Centex was working in the Chicago area to establish new and higher standards for effective utilization of real estate by developing raw land into a complete residential and industrial community.

SURVEYS, STUDIES and personal observation had convinced the firm that the northwest suburbs of Chicago near O'Hare International Airport was the proper location for such an undertaking. Besides being close to the airport, the location was near a superhighway network that connected Chicago with the interstate highway system, the Chicago loop and the Lake Michigan terminus of the St. Lawrence Seaway. In the middle of a growing suburban area, there was a working force calculated to reach 3 million by 1975.

Centex opened its first model home in Elk Grove Village in 1956. Now incorporated by the State of Illinois, Elk Grove Village has nearly 14,000 residents and is still growing according to a master plan designed to avert deterioration of property values and weakening of the community's economic base.

In order to provide a strong economic base, Centex planned an industrial park to balance the residential community. Work on Centex Industrial Park began in 1957. Centex, together with its exclusive representative, Bennett and Kahnweiler, incorporated into Centex Industrial Park the best features of other industrial districts throughout the United States and Canada.

MARSHALL Bennett and Louis Kahnweiler made the first sale in Centex Industrial Park in October, 1957. Within a year, 14 firms occupied sites in the Park. By September, 1959, the number climbed to 35 and reached 59 a year later. Three and a half years from its inception, 72 firms were located in Centex Industrial Park. By the spring of 1962, more than 100 firms either purchased land or had buildings constructed in the Park.

May of 1962 saw the acquisition of a 740-acre site from General Electric Company which more than doubled Centex Industrial Park and made it the foremost installation of its kind in the nation.

Within 10 years more than 300 industries are expected to be located in the Park. Accompanied by an anticipated growth in the residential section that will swell its population to an estimated 60,000, Elk Grove Village will be a dynamic example of one of the finest, well balanced industrial, commercial and residential communities anywhere in the world.

Eye-Pleasing Setting For Industrial Park

The harmonious meeting of industrial and residential areas has been one of the attractions of Elk Grove Village.

The Centex Industrial Park, carefully planned and landscaped, is as eye-pleasing as the rest of the community.

Charles Klehm and Son Nursery of Arlington Heights has done the landscaping for many of the plants, including Sachs Automotive, Perfecto Engineering, Treewax, Field Paper Box, and Portage Tool.

IN ADDITION to the outside landscaping, the interiors of many of the plants are decorated with artificial and live greenhouse plants.

The nursery employs several landscape designers specifically for small or large landscaping jobs in the industrial and home residential field, according to owner Carl Klehm.

And, to meet the increasing demand for interior decoration, the nursery has enlarged its greenhouses and gift shop. Klehm's provides both the plants and the service of arranging plants in planters.

"Centex should be commended for their interest in beautifying the industrial area," Klehm commented.

"The employees can't help but take pride in working in such attractive plants. Pride in working conditions encourages better work and improves employee relations," he said.

"I THINK Centex has shown the Midwest what industry can do to integrate their plants with the residential area. Because of proper landscaping, it is no longer objectionable to have manufacturing areas adjacent to residential areas. In fact, they have become a source of community pride," said Klehm.

The Elk Grove Village and Park Boards have engaged Klehm's to plan and plant park and street shrubbery, also.

Klehm said he considered it "a pleasure and challenge" to be working with Centex in developing the community.

The Way We See It

Servant to Truth

"Man may be governed by reason and truth. Our first object should, therefore, be to leave open to him all the avenues to truth. The most effectual hitherto found is the freedom of the press." — Thomas Jefferson.

This is National Newspaper Week, and its theme is "Newspapers make a big difference in peoples' lives." The question, then, is what kind of difference?

If the nation's press is employed to entertain, to gloss over injustice, to manipulate rather than present "all avenues" to truth, then the difference it makes in peoples' lives will be substantial.

It will have the hypnotic effect of lulling people into a smug, self-satisfied and false sense of security; it will leave them apathetic, and ill-prepared to participate in a democracy such as ours. In short, the people will repudiate by inaction and indifference a government of reason and truth.

If the nation's press serves but one master — truth; if it is willing to defend the right of unpopular as well as popular causes; if it encourages debate, and has only one sacred cow — integrity — in its stable, then this will also make a substantial difference in the lives of citizens.

There are, and it is unfortunate, both kinds of newspapers in the United States. The one that bows to advertisers and special interest groups, that collapses from criticism, and uses its news columns to present only a particular point of view does not deserve to be called a newspaper. The newspaper which holds no politician or pressure group sacred, which holds government accountable for its acts, and sets reason and truth as its guiding principles, is seeking to achieve the highest calling of the profession.

A newspaper is more than a business. Unlike most businesses, it is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution. This places it in a category with the other two freedoms of religion and speech embraced by the First Amendment which Congress cannot by law abridge.

This, then, makes newspapers a cornerstone of democracy. It means that publishers, editors, and reporters hold in trust an obligation which transcends the preferences of men of power or the mob.

William O. Douglas, associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, recently pointed out the lack of dialogue and debate that has always characterized our society. "Why," he asked, "has silence overtaken us? Why has the pattern of no discussion reached into atomic testing, disarmament, Berlin, and other issues that involve the problems of survival or extinction?"

He sought to answer the question by noting that a survey of newspapers from coast to coast shows "the low estate of dialogue on domestic as well as foreign issues."

Justice Douglas added: "Money-makers have taken over the press . . . To that fact must be added the further one that the owners are largely conservative. The result is a press which with few exceptions gives no true account of forces at work in the world . . . Ignorance alone is tragedy enough. Further tragedy lies in the fact that the people of the United States — the ones who could, if awakened, take up the challenge of the cold war and win it — are largely immobilized. Fears of communism are subtly transformed into fears of the unorthodox."

To dispel fear, to create debate from which the citizens of this country can make determinations will be required if we are to have our form of government continue to function.

When Jefferson declares men can be governed by reason and truth, he suggests that coercion is not required. This is the difference between this country and the totalitarian regimes which abound. To preserve this difference, the press must be servant only to the truth.

Parental Responsibility

In Roselle, two youths fought with their fists over the weekend and one, a Lake Park High School student, died as a result of it.

In Prospect Heights, a 62-year-old resident is recovering from injuries received when attacked by a youthful assailant.

In Rolling Meadows, six Palatine teens were turned over to juvenile officers following a shop-lifting spree. One girl among them had ranked in the top of her class scholastically until becoming acquainted with this element.

In Des Plaines, there have been repeated instances of vandalism. An 11-year-old Rolling Meadows youngster was found leaving a store with a yo-yo tucked under his sweater; a 13-year-old Palatine youth was apprehended after altering a price tag on a model car kit.

All these incidents indicate that there is something wrong with the way in which these children are being raised. Their lack of respect for the property of others, and their solutions of violence to problems they encounter could suggest that their parents are either remiss in teaching them basic values or indifferent to their needs.

There is a lack of physical facilities in some northwest suburban communities which send youngsters into the street in search of companionship and outlets for youthful energy. Paddock Publications had urged such communities to examine such needs so that they may be met.

But if there is a lack of parental respect and love in the home, it is because parents are shirking their responsibilities, and the presence of recreational facilities will not obviate the situation.

It has been the policy of Paddock Publications not to print the names of youthful offenders unless there were extraordinary circumstances surrounding the offense. But if this is a means by which it can be impressed upon parents that they have responsibilities to their children, the newspapers in the Paddock chain will begin printing the names of apprehended youngsters.

Surprising Appeal

In an article in the Palatine Enterprise of last week, a story appeared concerning a special use zoning request to permit operation of a funeral home. This, in itself, appears to be no more than a routine news story.

What was surprising, however, was that the gentleman who would purchase the property if the zoning is approved is appealing for its passage on the basis that it would cater primarily to Catholics.

He indicated that there is no Catholic undertaker in the village of Palatine.

Specifying religious preference in a commercial enterprise seems to us to be bad taste. It is unusual that the contract purchaser would do so.

In a time when different religions are exhibiting more cooperation and understanding than ever before, to make such a specific pitch to one religion tends to alienate rather than enhance such a business establishment in the eyes of others.

Surely the mortuary business isn't so specialized that it can be subdivided into religious classifications. We would like to think that morticians are resourceful enough to make funeral arrangements for all, regardless of color, creed or religion.

Elbow Rubbing Passe

by BOB CUMMINS

Here it is mid-October, and "Campus Capers" and other reports say that everything is normal on the campus.

High-spirited students at Wisconsin have conducted the season's first panty raid.

James Meredith is attending classes at, if you will pardon the expression, Mississippi.

And the Miami of Ohio football team surprised everyone by defeating Purdue, or to put it more accurately, the Redskins scored a stunning upset over the favored Boilermakers.

CUMMINS

The national magazines have assigned writers to begin work on the 1963 version of "Will Your Son or Daughter Get into College?"

Yes, everything seems normal. But I have disturbing information that this is not so.

Here is the report I received of a conversation of troubled Harvard dignitaries.

CHANCELLOR: Well, the Class of 1966 is in the fold. How do they like it?

DEAN: Several of them appeared on "The Price is Right" and "I've Got a Secret" and they say, "It feels great to be rubbing elbows with the future leaders of the nation."

BURSAR: That is exactly what bugs me. Everyone is so happy to be rubbing elbows that no one is about to be a leader. I think our testing system has popped a gasket.

CHANCELLOR: The trouble with the Harvard student body is that it contains too many students who want to go to Harvard.

DEAN: What's wrong with that?

CHANCELLOR: That proves we're too conformist. You see, everyone wants to go to Harvard, so if we have students who want to go to Harvard, then we have students who want what everyone wants, and that means that they're conformist. They rub elbows with each other instead of becoming leaders.

BURSAR: Maybe we should take students with low grades instead of high grades.

DEAN: Naw. The University of Illinois tried that for years. It don't work.

CHANCELLOR: Maybe we should raid the student body of South Dakota Northern? Or at least conduct a student exchange program with them.

DEAN: That's better. You are getting warmer. But would it have to be Northern?

CHANCELLOR: Well, it could be North Dakota Southern.

DEAN: We need something more drastic than that. I've got it! We must comb the tramp steamers, from Martinique to Singapore, from Maracaibo to Bombay! We must find the angry young poets who have gone to sea after being expelled from high school! We must find them, and bring them to Harvard!

BURSAR: Yes! Yes! And we can go down into the coal mines, and find the smothered voices of protest!

CHANCELLOR: And we can hit the turpentine camps of Carolina!

DEAN: Yowsah! They never passed a test there. They never even took one!

BURSAR: Down with C.E.E.B. and S.A.T.!

CHANCELLOR: No more students who laugh at teachers' jokes.

DEAN: Harvard will be Harvard again. It will take years before they catch up to us. Once again we will turn out the nation's future leaders!

Regional Journalism

Focusing on the Midwest

by MARTIN E. MARTY

Once a month from P.O. Box 3086 in St. Louis a magazine named FOCUS/Midwest reaches my desk. It is one of the more interesting periodicals, so far as I'm concerned. in this age of mass approach to masses.

Its editor, Charles L. Klotzer, has carved out a two-state area (Missouri and Illinois) and called this the Midwest. His interest is in providing area readers with regional journalism.

MARTY

In part the magazine was occasioned by the feeling among its editors that the metropolitan newspapers in the two states (with the exception as a rule of the St. Louis Post - Dispatch) are not doing their job.

If I recommend the magazine, it may look as if a personal plug is involved. If you have a microscope you will find my name listed on the masthead as an editorial advisor. That does not mean much; the masthead is crowded as the Kansas City phone book, and presents a bewildering array of mid-midwestern advisors in the fields of education, medicine, human rights, law, arts, press, etc.

HAVING NO stake in its survival beyond a real concern for regional journalism, journalism with viewpoint and vigor, this "plus" is, I hope, objective. It is occasioned by the chastising Focus readers took on page five of the current issue: "What are you doing for the cause?"

What is Focus/Midwest? This fifth (October) issue you would find a roundup of Midwest senatorial and gubernatorial candidates by Irving Dillard. Curtis Johnson, whose book was torn apart by Chicago newspaper reviewers, replies with some caustic observations about the reviewers. Paul Engle and three other fine Midwest poets help pretty up a page. There are three columns, of varying interest. The book reviews discuss Henry Miller and his dirty books, two books on the American Right Wing and the Ku Klux Klan, and several others.

The three features focus on life in Fulton, Mo. — about which, until you read this, you would never know you cared; a study of "Missouri's Forgotten Don Quixote" and the editor's report on an alarming instance of press censorship in the Midwest.

WHAT IS Focus/Midwest's viewpoint? The editors are united by an interest in their region, by a discontent with the blandness of most organs of opinion in the region, by a desire for stimulation of opinion and free expression. While the political expression leans toward the liberal side (Irving Dilliard is typical), the approach is not doctrinaire.

The Midwest newspapers being what they are, one can hardly complain of this magazine's redress of the balance as being disproportionate.

In the other fields there is less predictability; Klotzer was interested more in people who would stimulate readers than in party-liners.' Whether Focus/Midwest has carved out a big enough region to survive; whether enough people have not dozed under the sway of mass - opinion organs; whether its own quality and intrinsic character will attract a large subscription list — these are factors with which the future will reckon.

FOR NOW, it is a welcome addition to the spoon-feeding journalism too many of us get too much of the time. It is worth looking into, even if here and there an article misses the point or an event of merely local significance is blown out of proportion.

Banned Book Exhibit Has Top Authors

ST. LOUIS, (UPI) — The St. Louis Civil Liberties Committee has placed on exhibit at the downtown public library, books which have been banned from general circulation at some time or place.

The book display includes works of Voltaire, Balzac Rousseau, Savonarola, and Baudelaire.

Also, there are Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn," Shakespeare plays, works by Ernest Hemingway, James Joyce and John Steinbeck, and even Walt Disney's Donald Duck, banned by a group of young communists in Germany, according to the committee.

Critic's Corner

Childbirth Minus Pain?

by BILL HALLS

Is it possible to experience childbirth without pain? The question is fast becoming a heated controversy in American medical circles.

The new painless method of childbirth, called the Pavlov-Lamaze method (or Method of Psychoprophylaxis) was brought to France by the late Dr. Fernard Lamaze in 1951.

The method is based on Pavlovian theories on conditioned reflexes, and has since been applied on a mass scale in Russia and Red China.

HALLS

Dr. Lamaze's version spread through France, Europe and South America before coming to the United States in 1959.

About 10 years ago, Dr. Grantly Dick-Read, an Englishman, developed a natural childbirth method. He is considered a pioneer in the field.

According to the American Society for Psychoprophylaxis in Obstetrics (ASPO), the essential difference between the Read and Lamaze methods is:

"Dr. Read believed that all that is necessary to remove pain is to remove fear and the tension that results from it.

"The Lamaze method recognizes the importance of this (fear), but its main principle is based on the fact, well-known to psychologists, that pain actually exits in our consciousness only as it is interpreted as such by the higher brain centers.

"THESE CENTERS act like an infinitely complicated switchboard; they can handle only a certain number of incoming and outgoing messages at once and therefore must register preferentially the most important message at any given moment and block out all others that would distract or interfere.

"If this were not possible we could not function at all in any purposeful way, Applied to the problem of pain this means that just as it is possible for an athlete, his whole attention focused on running his race, to cut his foot and be unaware of the injury or any sensation from it, so is it possible for a woman in labor, concentrating on doing a certain type of breathing which has become associated in her mind with the stimulus of a uterine contraction, to block from her consciousness the sensations which would otherwise accompany the contraction and be registered as pain."

In other words, through a series of breathing and physical exercises, combined with mental conditioning, it is possible for a woman to give birth without anesthetics . . . and without pain.

Many American physicians have taken a dim view of the Lamaze and other "painless or natural" childbirth methods.

They argue that doctors favoring the methods will not use drugs, or interfere with the natural birth in any other way; and imply that glowing reports from women who have experienced painless child birth are not to be trusted, that these women are either self-deluded or are falsifying because they do not want to admit to failure.

THE ASPO DOES not eliminate drugs, Ceasarean section or the episiotomy (a surgical incision through the muscles to allow the head more room during delivery), if the doctor finds it necessary to use them because of complications during labor, but emphasizes there are statistics to prove labor is normally shortened by use of the Lamaze method.

In addition, the Lamaze Clinic in Paris reports 3,162 of 4,000 cases handled found the method a gratifying experience.

ASPO adherents defend the BIG question, elimination of drugs unless absolutely necessary, by saying that there is some evidence (although inconclusive) that use of drugs can cause harmful after effects on both child and mother.

But the Lamaze proponents do not consider their method the final answer to pain in childbirth. The ASPO declares the Lamaze (or similar methods) are to be regarded "simply as a way of learning how to have a baby as efficiently, as simply, as safely, and as painlessly as possible.

"It is not a gospel which will save womankind; it is not a dramatic production; it is not, above all, an endurance contest or a physical and spiritual test which one passes or fails."

Their claims are comparatively simple:

1. The Lamaze method, successfully applied, results in wide-awake undrugged babies.
2. It gives the mother freedom from fear based on knowledge (a six to eight-week course in the method, including a short explanation of conception and childbirth, precedes the delivery).
3. It gives the mother confidence in her own ability to cope with whatever comes.
4. PROVIDES A sense, in the words of an ex-patient, of

In Defense of Tree Posting

In the heat of a political campaign, it is easy to lose perspective. May I suggest this is what happened to the writer of an editorial appearing in the Hoffman Estates Herald of Sept. 20. This editorial bitterly criticized the posting of campaign signs on trees and posts in the area referring to them as "trash, a crime against nature and the rape of the countryside."

Keeping his role in mind, I should think that an editor's concern for the area he serves should go beyond trees and extend to the welfare of the people who own those trees.

Mr. Editor, the only real rape of the 3rd District is the one that's been going on in Springfield as a result of the legislative and voting record of our incumbent senator, who has completely ignored the interest of this district. Why not write an editorial about exposing his voting record to the people he represents?

WHY NOT WRITE an editorial about the general apathy of the American voter? This is what makes political posters and campaign material necessary. Do you realize what lengths must be gone to to get voters to the polls on election day? The only way to arouse interest in candidates and election issues is to get the people talking ... to continually expose them to the fact that an election is coming up. Even then it is surprising the number of people who "forget" to exercise their constitutional and moral right to vote.

I will admit that at times precinct workers may get overzealous in their work. But why? Because they believe in something and are willing to go out and work for the candidate of their choice. Should they be condemned for this? Isn't an aroused electorate more important than a few harmless staples in a piece of wood? The trees and posts will suffer no ill effects but — think of the damage to this district if qualified men are not elected in November. I love trees and I realize only God can make one, but we need good government too.

Speaking of perspective, it is strange to note that no editorial was written when political billboards twenty times the size of the posters in question were stolen in midnight raids on private property. Which is the greater crime ... to staple political posters temporarily on a tree or to tear down and steal a sign constructed on private property?

Campaign signs are used to stimulate the interest of the American voter just as business today uses advertising. Roads and highways throughout the United States are plastered with every conceivable type of sign advertising every conceivable type of product. Their object ... to get people to buy something ... to spend their hard earned money or time in the manner so desired by the advertiser. Advertising supposedly stimulates the economy. It is generally approved.

YET WHEN political posters are put up in the hope that voters will become interested in the candidates and issues of a coming election, a loud cry of "Rape" comes from the Hoffman Estates Herald. Is the purchase of Pepsi Cola and the like more important to our general welfare than an intelligent vote for state senator on Nov. 6?

Perhaps this editor, whatever his political leanings. lapsed into noble platitudes about the majesty of nature because he is being overwhelmed by a new type of campaigning on the part of David E. Bradshaw, the Democratic candidate for state senator of this district. It is different. It is forceful. It is forthright. For once a candidate is openly facing the problems of this area and the issues of the coming election and is taking this message to the people.

The workers who put up these signs will remove them after the election. They are just as interested in the appearance of the community as they are in the type of representation we receive in Springfield. I for one, say they deserve a pat on the back for taking time out to work for a senatorial candidate they believe in, not a rap on the knuckles for distrubing the supposed tranquillity of the local landscape.

Arlington Heights Dedicated To Convenience of the Auto?

Unfortunately Arlington Heights seems dedicated to the convenience of the automobile rather than the homeowners and the safety of children.

Streets must be widened so that cars will not be slowed down by passing parked cars. Widened streets and narrowed parkways are not conducive to safety for children, but in most cases to greater speeds. Ask the residents of newly widened north Dryden about the speeds on that street.

Prospective home buyers who desire to live on a residential street should make sure they are several miles away from schools, churches or parks—or should buy in Scarsdale or Stonegate where sidewalks are not allowed and children playing in the streets make driving so dangerous that streets will never be widened.

THE POLICE ARE out on the highways every day to catch speeders but I never see them at four-way stop streets where again, the auto is more important than the pedestrian. It does not matter that a pedestrain is half or three-fourths the way across the street ... the majority of drivers start out and the pedestrian has to back off fast.

The other day at Campbell and Vail, three small children were more than half way across Campbell when a man turned left from Vail, narrowly missing them. Why, if the auto is not the most important, is there not more police enforcement for the pedestrian and why must all re-paved streets be widened to 28 feet for the convenience of the auto?

Police Force 'Excellent'

My wife and I have just spent a very pleasant week as house guests of our brother-in-law and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Geils.

I have been a police commissioner at our home town in Minnesota for seven years, after having retired on account of ill health from the U.S. Customs Patrol at Baudette, Minn., on the Canadian border.

Our visit has been made more interesting by my visit to your local (Bensenville) police department, where I was shown every possible courtesy by Lt. (Art) Garcia, Sgt. Larry Bieneman and Officer (Jack) Long.

As a former police school instructor I am in a position to judge efficiency in a police department and I want to assure the good citizens of Bensenville that in my opinion your department is indeed a very excellent one.

AS A PAST Second District commander of the American Legion in Minnesota (over 11,000 members) it was a pleasure to read your excellent editorials of your Oct. 11 issue (of The Register), which in my capacity as Americanism Chairman of Post 33 of the American Legion, St. James, Minn., I especially appreciated.

As long as we have courageous newspaper publishers of integrity and editorial writers as those of your fine publication ... I feel that our country shall not "perish from the earth."

You good folks of Bensenville have indeed a perfect right to be proud of your fine, hospitable community.

Who Enforces Weed Control?

In a recent TV advertisement during the summer months, it was shown Milwaukee has weed control and "Allerest." Palatine, I'm afraid, only has Allerest to depend on.

My property borders on township property that is vacant and has a variety of weeds, some having attained the size of tree saplings. Yes, I know we have weed control and after many calls starting in June and a visit to the township offices Aug. 28, I'm beginning to wonder if our weed control man has hay fever and retreated to an ocean liner.

Property owners of vacant acreage, I believe, have a certain date in which to get their weeds cut, and if they don't a stiff penalty is imposed. This is the law, but who do I get to enforce it?

IT SEEMS to be a battle between the weed owner to see if he can get away with it, till duly notified, or the first snowfall.

This has been going on for seven summers and the weeds have only been cut twice .

Any suggestions "weed control" center of Palatine Township?

"Our best wishes for the continued high achievements of Chicago's free press.

They're Making Engines Wrong!

In your issue of Oct. 11, '62 you announced a speech on "Jets" set for engineers, to be given by Mr. David Reyes-Guerra on that same day, before "The Northwest Suburban Chapter of the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers," of which I was a member for some years.

Since you report that Mr. Reyes-Guerra is Illinois State Director of the Junior Technical Society, it should interest him to know that the undersigned is in a position to prove to the oncoming hopefuls of the profession that the giants of the engine industry have proven themselves to be pygmies because they have been making engines wrong since James Watt made the first one in 1759.

THIS IS indeed a dubious record not matched in many industries and it should concern the reading public who operate some 50 million autos in the U. S., plus planes and sundry other prime movers, because it is costing them a quarter of a billion dollars per annum for fuel, half of which is wasted out the exhaust orifices.

The jet is a worse offender than is the reciprocator because being wide open at both ends, it is of low compression combustion, and noisy.

Any heat engine,—that includes air, steam or gas, that employs exhaust orifices that cannot recoil at exhaust gas velocity under typical loading, is being built wrong. If the orifices are harnessed to the load, instead of the vehicle, sic. gravity, all of the energy (heat, pressure, and velocity) currently wasted at the orifices, can be converted to power by reaction, pin-wheel style.

The auto engine is a reciprocator. It makes power by expansion.

THE JET ENGINE makes power by reaction. Its orifice has plane velocity which cannot be made to become gas velocity.

The latest thing in engines is the high compression Expansion-Reaction Turbine (Turbocyl). It is a spinner, not a reciprocator. The pistons spin on the crankpins while the cylinders spin on the mains. It is light and quiet, roughly three times as efficient as a reciprocator and four to five times as efficient as a jet.

I charge that the "Giants" of the engine industry are knowingly "using" the members of the said, and politically captive engineering society, deceiving said members and the public, for their own heedless and selfish ends. I stake my fortune and my sacred honor that this is the truth.

Government in Elk Grove Tops

I have just obtained the taxi service for Elk Grove Village and wish to tell you what a fine village government you have.

In all my dealings with the board of trustees, at no time were there any suggestions to "see anyone." All meeting and discussions were at public hearing, and were posted in advance.

This is in marked contrast to not a few city or village governments to the east of O'Hare Field.

I wish to thank the president, the board of trustees, and the village attorney for their patience, and for allowing my company the opportunity to serve and grow with Elk Grove Village.

You will continue to have good government as long as, and only as long as, you keep men of this quality representing you in office.

dignity and worth, resulting from being treated as an intelligent human being, capable of understanding and actively participating in the bearing of her own children.

People are often afraid of the new and untried in many areas of life. Perhaps because of an innate fear that it might not work ... and may cause pain.

Lamaze's method is something new in medical science. True, it isn't a weapon of destruction, but maybe we ought to give it a chance anyway.

Liberals Lose In Lampooning

Mr. Charles E. Hayes gambled and lost, when he took it upon himself to lampoon Senator Barry Goldwater. Other liberals, abler and wiser than Mr. Hayes, have tried with the same result.

They lost too.

That the liberal element considers Senator Goldwater to be a threat is a good sign and is encouraging.

To 'cajole' is to deceive. Senator Goldwater did not deceive.

But Mr. Hayes did.

Was it a 'captive' audience or were the 2,500 who cheered Senator Goldwater merely captivated? Were the doors locked, or was it what Senator Goldwater had to say that kept them there.

A 'claque' is a "body of paid applauders." Who paid them? Certainly not the GOP. You didn't mean 'claque' did you Mr. Hayes? It was just an innocent little deception.

That you and your ilk love to practice.

Lack of Teen Facilities Hit

I do not know who I should address this request to, unless it would be to a social advisor.

I have a problem, not serious but perplexing. Whenever I do not know how to solve a problem, I go to someone who can help, or knows how to find the proper answer.

This briefly is my problem—where in this territory (within a reasonable radius of Bensenville) can a young school couple, or group of youngsters go for an evening's entertainment.

1. They would like to go and eat after a school dance.
2. To eat and dance for an evening.
3. Or eat, dance and watch a floor show for an evening.
4. Or just eat and see a floor show.

These must be within an easy price range.

Most places advertised do not have suitable service or shows for high school children. Can you tell me where I can find the answer to my problem?

Industrial Complex

Gas Firm Is 'Proud' Partner in Project

Elk Grove Village, the Centex development, was just fertile farm land not too many years ago. Now it is a booming residential and industrial complex with all necessary services, a well-developed tax base and ample employment opportunities.

It is a striking example of what can be accomplished through thoughtful planning and forceful action. Northern Illinois Gas Company is one of the proud partners in the progress of the community.

CENTEX NOW has more than 70 operating industries and at least 30 more are already committed. Over 90 per cent of the existing industries at Centex use natural gas. More than ten per cent of the industry locating in NI-Gas 11,000 square mile northern Illinois service area during the past seven years went to the Centex development.

NI-Gas serves about 3,000 residential customers in Elk Grove and a total of 770,000 customers in 22 northern Illinois counties.

The utility's interest in the development of residential-industrial complexes actually began several years ago when forces were at work which would eventually create the largest suburbanization movement ever witnessed in the world.

Two of the most important forces in this move to the suburbs were FHA, permitting more ownership of private homes, and the 40-hour work week, allowing more time for travel to and from work. Mass production of the automobile, placing it within the reach of the majority of people, accelerated the trend.

The move to the suburbs brought unique new problems. Cities, for instance, retained the tax base, but the suburbs provided the services. Industry, the major taxpayer, was quite often ready to move with its employes to the suburbs. But communities often did not want the industries. This has changed, as exemplified in the Centex-Elk Grove Village development.

NI-GAS IS involved in and concerned with community development (often called area-industrial development) because the utility's business is tied directly and intricately to the 331 communities it serves. As the communities grow, so does the company—but the reverse also could be true. NI-Gas has invested millions of dollars in plant and thousands of miles of underground natural gas distribution mains.

When a new industry moves to a community, every 100 persons it employs actually bring about 296 people to the community, with a proportionate increase in dwelling units. Dwelling units are the most important part of the company's business; they make up the bulk of its customers.

However, the utility not only has a responsibility to its customers and 108,000 stockholders, but also to the communities it serves as an active, enthusiastic member of the community.

TO ASSIST communities like Elk Grove Village plan for future growth, NI-Gas has an active community development department. It prepared, recently, a set of Community Development Guides, a series of five booklets, "Community Problems," "How and Where to Start," "Surveys and Studies," "What Industry Wants to Know," and "How to Gather Information Industry Wants About Your Community."

The booklets are designed to help all communities help themselves in planning sound community development. They're available from NI-Gas' local district superintendent, Jim Snyder, 1454 Miner Street, Des Plaines.

In addition, NI-Gas maintains a staff of experts in community development, including consultants from the University of Illinois.

Cooperating with Elk Grove Village officials and the Centex developers, NI-Gas has been a partner in the progress of one of northern Illinois' most outstanding communities. (SS

Bernard and many other youngsters from throughout Chicagoland will benefit from DePaul third annual scholarship dinner to be held in May in the Grand Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel. All proceeds from the $100-a-plate, formal affair go to the university's student scholarship fund.

At Indiana

Judith Schmoyer, 445 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, was one of 13 Indiana University juniors and seniors selected this week to serve on the Student Foundation Steering Committee.

Chosen for their outstanding campus records, the students will plan the "Little 500" weekend scholarship fund raising program to be held next spring.

At Cornell

Patrick W. Gross, son of Dr. and Mrs. Eric T. B. Gross, formerly of 210 S. Stratford Road, Arlington Heights, is attending Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., as a freshman.

Since he took the accelerated courses at Arlington High in chemistry, mathematics and physics, as well as additional National Science Foundation Institute courses during his high school years, he is enrolled in a special program which will lead to the regular undergraduate A.B. degree in physics in only three academic years.(CC GROUND HAS BEEN broken for the new Bank of Elk Grove to be located in the Park 'N Shop center at Arlington Heights Road and Higgins Road. Designed to serve the rapidly-expanding industrial area as well as residential community, the new bank is scheduled to be in operation near the first of the year. (SS

Ground Broken

Aim for Bank Opening By First of the Year

Another vital service soon will be available to both industry in Centex Industrial Park and residents of Elk Grove Village.

Ground has been broken for The Bank of Elk Grove which is scheduled to be in operation around the first of the year.

"The bank was organized," explained F. E. Hansen, president, "to meet a need of our growing community. Its operation will be geared to life in a suburban community and the needs of industry."

HANSEN SAID the bank was located in the Park 'N Shop center at Arlington Heights and Higgins Roads because it was the best site from which to serve both industry and residents.

"The center is only minutes away from any part of the Village, so we will be able to serve residents and industry and its workers with no inconvenience at all to them," he pointed out.

The bank was organized by men who have a stake in Elk Grove Village and Centex Industrial Park and who share a belief in the future of the Village.

The board of directors, besides Hansen, includes Fred Groen Jr., president, Groen Manufacturing Co., one of the first firms to locate in the Park. Another is Marshall Bennett, whose firm, Bennett and Kahnweiler, is exclusive agent for Centex Industrial Park. Howard G. Krafsur, a Bennett and Kahnweiler vice president, also is on the board.

OTHERS INCLUDE executives of Centex Construction Company, the original conceivers of Elk Grove as a balanced industrial - residential community. They are Tom Lively, president; Frank Crossen, executive vice president; and Evan Stebbins, resident manager.

Rounding out the board are Robert Fleming, tax consultant who makes his home in Elk Grove, and A. J. DelBianco, Chicago architect, who designed many of the Elk Grove Village homes. (SS

James Salzer Wins Army ROTC Honors

Cadet Capt. James R. Salzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Salzer, 21 N. Linden Ave., Palatine, is among 15 Indiana University seniors selected as distinguished military students in the Army ROTC program.

Named by Col. W. M. Mueller, I. U. Army ROTC director, the cadets were selected for military performance, academic average and leadership ability.

EACH OF THESE students placed in the upper third of his military class, ranked in the upper half of his college class and maintained high standing during summer camp where they received rigorous field training.

During the first semester, these cadet officers will hold top leadership positions in the Cadet Brigade. Upon receiving their degrees from Indiana University next spring, the 15 distinguished military students will be eligible for regular Army commissions.

Salzer has been named company commander. (WUS

The battalion, reinforced with artillery, reconnaissance, anti-tank, tank, amphibious tractors, and medical units, made an amphibious assault on Camp Pendleton's beaches.

Boarding three ships at Long Beach, Calif., the marines stormed ashore 1,000 strong to end the exercise. It was the first of its kind at the base in two years. (WUS

Industries Served By Niedert Trucks

Niedert Motor Service, Inc., 12300 S. Mount Prospect Road, Des Plaines, was started by Conrad W. Niedert in 1925. At that time Niedert had a Model-T Ford truck which operated strictly in local and suburban areas. The freight handled was anything from meat to mushrooms and practically anything that would fit in the truck.

In 1932 he started one run from Des Plaines to Chicago. Until this time, motor transportation was of little significance and most of the hauling was from North Western Railroad at Des Plaines to various points in the suburbs.

IN 1933 WHEN the Motor Act became effective in the Interstate Commerce Commission, Niedert began to interchange freight with various carriers from different cities. This was the beginning of interchanging of freight in the trucking industry in this area for which Niedert was the pioneer. During this period, Niedert Motor Service grew to seven trucks.

During this expansion period, it was necessary to find different locations for the growing fleet. In 1937 Niedert Motor Service operated from 1300 Oakwood, Des Plaines. in 1958 the company built a new terminal in Elk Grove Township at 2300 S. Mount Prospect Road. This was three times the facilities of the terminal in Des Plaines. In 1962 the terminal was expanded to make a total of 42 doors. The fleet has now expanded to 260 pieces of equipment.

Looking back over the many years he was hauling freight in this territory, Niedert remembers serving Elk Grove some 35 years ago when the main and only product was mushrooms.

"While Elk Grove is new to many, this has been an old established area as far as the company is concerned," he said. "Operation has expanded to the point where we have over 125 people employed. We offer service to all 50 states and Canada. Through rates are protected from origin to destination. In recent years expansion has been made in the fields of shipping through the St. Lawrence Seaway, piggyback and with filing of joint rates between rail and truck." (SS presents luxurious 100% Supima Cotton.

Ambassador Blake $5

Rich look, rich feeling . . . Ambassador Blake with permanent stays. Pima is the lustrous cotton broadcloth that looks like a million and starts your day off with that supremely confident feeling. In white with French cuffs; 13½ to 18, 32 to 35 sleeves. Soft Pastels with convertible cuffs; 14 to 17, 32 to 35 sleeves. Ambassador Pima Griptab style also available in white with French cuffs.

Ambassador B. D. $5

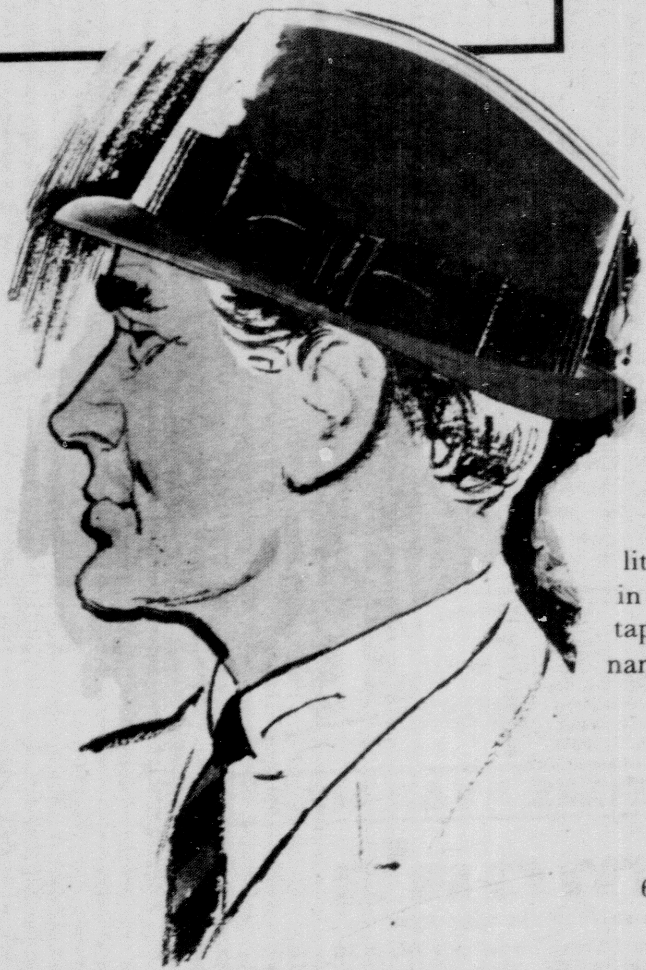
Not Illustrated

Fine Pima oxfordcloth with button-down collar and Mantrim® contour cut body to eliminate that baggy waist look. Available in white only, with convertible cuffs; sizes 14 to 17½; 32 to 35 sleeves.



STETSON

NU-BRIM $11.95

Tops in fashion for the man with a little youth in his soul. Slimly designed in a new silhouette . . . the crown more tapered and lower. Young, alert, stylish narrower brim boasting a feather on the band. This hat for all occasions will mark you as a man of distinction. In dark olive or black.

Karoll's carries Stetsons in sizes 6½ to 8⅛. Also long and wide ovals.
